These forward-looking statements generally can be identified by words or phrases such as “aim”, “anticipate”, “believe”, “expect”, “estimate”, “intend”, “objective”, “plan”, “project”, “shall”, “will”, “will continue”, “will pursue” or other words or phrases of similar import. Similarly, statements that describe our strategies, objectives, plans or goals are also forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions about us that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the relevant statement.

Actual results may differ materially from those suggested by the forward looking statements due to risks or uncertainties associated with our expectations with respect to, but not limited to, regulatory changes pertaining to mining industries and our ability to respond to them, our ability to successfully implement our strategy, our growth and expansion, technological changes, our exposure to market risks, general economic and political conditions which have an impact on our business activities or investments, the monetary and fiscal policies, inflation, deflation, unanticipated turbulence in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices or other rates or prices, the performance of the financial markets in India and globally, changes in domestic laws, regulations and taxes. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our expectations include, but are not limited to, the following:

- our ability to timely acquire the mining leases and land for our mining projects;
- our obtaining the necessary environmental, forest and other approvals in a timely manner;
- risks inherent to coal mining, including geologic conditions or equipment problems;
- law and order problems;
- long-term fuel supply arrangements;
- reduction in the use of coal as a fuel source for power generation;
- the unavailability of materials, equipment (including heavy earthmoving machinery) or other critical supplies such as tyres and explosives, fuel, lubricants and other consumables of the type, quantity and/or size required to meet production expectations;
- our production and transportation capabilities;

- substantial reliance on Government-owned and Government-controlled entities for revenue;
- general economic and business conditions in India and elsewhere and particularly the coal industry in India; and
- changes in the political and social conditions in India and other countries.

For further discussion of factors that could cause our actual results to differ from our expectations, see “Risk Factors”, “Business” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on pages xv, 68 and 177. By their nature, certain market risk disclosures are only estimates and could be materially different from what actually occurs in the future. As a result, actual future gains or losses could materially differ from those that have been estimated. Neither our Company, our Directors, nor any of the Underwriters nor any of their respective affiliates has any obligation to update or otherwise revise any statements reflecting circumstances arising after the date hereof. In accordance with SEBI requirements our Company and the BRLMs will ensure that investors in India are informed of material developments until the time of the grant of listing and trading permission by the Stock Exchanges.

SECTION II – RISK FACTORS

An investment in equity shares involves a high degree of risk. You should consider all the information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, including the risks and uncertainties described below, before making an investment in our Equity Shares. If any of the following risks or any of the other risks and uncertainties discussed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus actually occur, our business, financial condition and results of operations could suffer, the trading price of our Equity Shares could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment. These risks and uncertainties are not the only issues that we face. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently believe to be immaterial may also have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The financial and other related implications of risks concerned, wherever quantifiable, have been disclosed in the risk factors below. However, there are risk factors the potential effect of which are not quantifiable and therefore no quantification has been provided with respect to such risk factors. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of our Company and the terms of this Offer, including the merits and risks involved.

Unless otherwise stated, the financial information of our Company used in this section is derived from our audited consolidated financial statements under Indian GAAP, as restated.

INTERNAL RISKS

Risk Factors relating to our Business and Operations

1. There are certain criminal proceedings against our Company and our Subsidiaries.

There are currently three criminal proceedings pending against our Company, one of which was initiated by Mr. Pradip Kumar Saha before the Calcutta High Court challenging certain transfer orders as arbitrary. The other two criminal proceedings were initiated by the GoI, represented by the Regional Inspector of Mines, Burdwan, West Bengal, before the First Class Judicial Magistrate at Margherita, Assam and relate to certain alleged arbitrary transfer orders and certain alleged contraventions of the Coal Mines Regulations, 1957, as amended, that allegedly resulted in accidents at certain mines.

In addition to the above, there are criminal cases currently pending against certain officers and employees of our Company and our Subsidiaries, including Directors of our Subsidiaries, and any adverse order or direction by the relevant authority, although not quantifiable, could have a material adverse impact on our business and reputation or cause the price of our Equity Shares to decline. For further details in relation to outstanding litigation against our Company and Subsidiaries, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” beginning on page 224.

2. Information relating to our reserve and resource base included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus are estimates, and our actual production, revenues and expenditure with respect to our reserves and resources may differ materially from these estimates.

Our future performance depends on, among other things, the accuracy of our estimates of our reserve and resource base. We base our estimates of our reserve and resource base on geological, engineering and economic data collected and analyzed by our wholly-owned subsidiary CMPDIL and our internal team of geologists and mining engineers. We follow the Indian Standard Procedure guidelines (the “ISP Guidelines”) for coal resource estimation and reporting and our estimates of our coal resources presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus are presented under the classification prescribed by the ISP Guidelines.

In this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, unless otherwise indicated, a reference to our “resource” base information is a reference to our Proved Geological Reserves, Indicated Geological Reserves and Inferred Geological Reserves under the ISP Guidelines and a reference to our “reserve” base is a reference to our “Extractable Coal Reserves” as estimated by us. For further information relating to our reserve and resource base, see “Business – Reserve and Resource Base Information” beginning on page 75.

The methodology followed for coal resource estimation and the resource classification under the ISP Guidelines is different from, and may not be comparable to, that followed under certain international codes such as the 2004 Australasian Code for Reporting of Exploration Results, Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves (the "JORC Code") and the Combined Reserves International Reporting Standards Committee Code (the "CRIRSCO Code"). Accordingly, the degree to which the reserve and resource estimates included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader's level of familiarity with the ISP Guidelines. Any reliance by persons not familiar with the ISP Guidelines on the reserve and resource estimates presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should accordingly be limited. In addition, the reserve and resource information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is not intended to, and may not be in compliance with, the reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Commission of the United States.

In connection with this Offer, SRK Mining Services (India) Private Limited and SRK Consulting (UK) Limited (collectively, "SRK"), independent mining and geological consultancy firms, have reviewed our technical assessment and resource and reserve reporting practices and the integrity of our resource and reserve estimates. The executive summary of the report prepared by SRK in August 2010 (the "SRK ISP Report") is annexed to this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. The SRK ISP Report provides a comparison of the resource classification under the ISP Guidelines with the reserve and resource classification followed under the CRIRSCO Code and the JORC Code. Our reserve and resource estimates presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus have been prepared internally and have not been subjected to an audit by SRK or any third party or expert. For purposes of the SRK ISP Report, SRK has not undertaken an audit of our reserve and resource base nor has it undertaken an independent estimation of the base geological or other data collected by CMPDIL for our reserve and resource estimation.

In connection with this Offer, we intend to procure a JORC equivalent reserve and resource statement and an independent expert report relating to such statement is proposed to be included in the Red Herring Prospectus to be issued in connection with this Offer.

We have historically followed the ISP Guidelines for our resource base estimation, and intend to continue to follow the ISP Guidelines for such reserve base estimation and reporting as a listed company following this Offer. Consequently, your ability to evaluate our reserve and resource base following this Offer will be dependent upon your familiarity with the ISP Guidelines. Additionally, any estimates of reserves and resources that we may prepare following this Offer may not provide you with a basis for comparison of our estimated reserve and resource base with that of other listed mining companies.

There are various factors and assumptions inherent in the estimation of our reserve and resource base and the cost associated with mining such reserves that may materially differ from actual production, revenues and expenditure with respect to our reserves. These factors and assumptions include: interpretation of geological and geophysical data; geological and mining conditions, which may not be fully identified by available exploration data and/or may differ from our experiences in areas where we currently mine; quality of the coal and the percentage of coal ultimately recoverable; the assumed effects of regulation, including the issuance of required permits, and taxes, including royalties, and other payments to governmental agencies; assumptions concerning the timing for the development of the reserves; and assumptions concerning equipment and productivity, future coal prices, operating costs, including for critical supplies such as fuel, tires and explosives, capital expenditures and development and reclamation costs. Many of the factors, assumptions and variables involved in estimation of our reserve and resource base are based on data that are currently available and subject to variations over time. Results of drilling, testing and production subsequent to the date of such estimates may require revisions in our reserve and resource data. In addition, there can be no assurance that all our reserves can be economically exploited.

Reserve and resource base information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus does not include information relating to certain legacy mines that were acquired at the time of nationalization of the coal industry.

No information relating to our reserve and resource base included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should be interpreted as assurance of the economic lives of our coal reserves and resources or the profitability of our future operations. Any material inaccuracy in, or future variations from, our estimates related to our reserves and resources could result in decreased profitability from lower than expected revenues and/or higher than expected costs, which could adversely affect our business prospects, financial condition and the price of our Equity Shares.

3. An inability to successfully exploit existing reserves and acquire and develop additional reserves will adversely affect our growth strategy.

Our existing coal reserves decline as we produce coal. Our continuing growth and success therefore depends on our ability to conduct successful exploration and development activities at our existing mines and to acquire and develop additional reserves. For further information on our reserve and resource base, see “Business – Reserve and Resource Base Information” beginning on page 75. Our coal reserves may not be capable of being mined at costs comparable to our current costs. Additionally, if we encounter geophysical or geological conditions different from that predicted by past exploration activities, sampling and similar examination our reserve estimates may have to be adjusted downward. In the event that the coal mined is of a lower quality than expected, the demand for, and realizable price of, our coal may decrease, thereby affecting our profitability and financial condition.

Our strategy for increasing our coal resources and reserves includes leveraging our exploration capabilities to enhance our reserve and resource base in India, as well as acquisition of strategic coal resources and identification of joint development opportunities outside India. There can be no assurance that our planned development and exploration projects and acquisition initiatives will result in additional reserves or that such reserves will result in profitable mining activities. Exploration activities involve significant cost and we cannot assure you that we will be able to recover such costs. If we fail to acquire or develop additional economically viable reserves on a continuing basis in pace with our production levels, our existing reserves may eventually be depleted in the long term, which would adversely affect our business, results of operation and financial condition.

4. If we are unable to acquire land and associated surface rights to access our coal reserves, we may be unable to mine coal from our reserves which could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We are required to acquire the land and associated surface rights overlying our coal reserves prior to commencing mining activities on such land. We may face difficulties in the acquisition of land in a timely manner, particularly in respect of land owned by private parties and forest land, resulting in delays in some of our projects. In addition, for the land with respect to our underground mines, we do not acquire the entire land below which we have reserves. We may be unable to mine coal from our reserves if we are unable to acquire the relevant land and associated surface rights to access our coal reserves. Such land acquisition is governed by the process stipulated under the Coal Bearing Areas (Acquisition & Development) Act, 1957, as amended (the “CBA Act”) or the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, as amended (the “Land Acquisition Act”), as applicable.

We have in the past experienced significant delays in obtaining relevant statutory and regulatory approvals for the acquisition of land and surface rights to commence mining activities on some of our projects, including delays related to negotiation of rehabilitation packages for existing owners and displaced communities and the implementation of the rehabilitation and resettlement process. We cannot assure you that we will not face such delays in the future.

With respect to forest land to be acquired, we have in the past faced, and may face in the future, significant procedural delays in obtaining the requisite approvals from the Ministry of Environment and Forests (the “MoEF”). There can be no assurance that we will be able to acquire land and associated surface rights for all of our projects or that the land acquisition will be completed in a timely manner, at commercially reasonable terms, including for any relocation and resettlement costs, without opposition, or at all. In circumstances where the GoI and/or relevant State Governments facilitate the acquisition, transfer or lease of, or secure rights of way over, relevant tracts of land, there can be no assurance that all requisite approvals relating to the acquisition or transfer of, or lease of such land or the granting of such right of way over land or the registration of the acquired or leased land, or the transfer of such land, will be completed in a timely manner and on terms that are commercially acceptable to us, if at all. For further information relating to the regulatory approvals required in connection with acquiring land or surface rights in forest areas, see “Regulations and Policies” and “Government and Other Approvals” beginning on pages 111 and 285, respectively. In addition, our ability to acquire land and associated surface rights overlying our coal reserves is adversely affected by infrastructure development and structures built on such land.

In addition, the public may oppose the acquisition or lease of land due to the perceived adverse impact it may have on surrounding communities or the environment. We may face significant opposition to the development of our mines from local communities, non-government organizations and other parties. Such opposition or circumstances is beyond our control and even if we are able to overcome any such opposition, we may be subject to significant expenses arising from the rehabilitation and resettlement of communities affected by our projects. In addition, under our resettlement and rehabilitation policies, in the event more than two acres of land for our operations is acquired from any person, we generally provide employment to such persons. We have incurred in the past and will be required to incur in the future significant expenses towards the rehabilitation and resettlement of affected individuals and families.

In addition, the acquisition of land pursuant to the Land Acquisition Act requires the relevant State Government to issue a formal notification for the entire area of land acquired. With respect to certain parts of coalfields that we have been mining for many years, although we have applied for such formal notification by the relevant State Government under the Land Acquisition Act, formal notification has not yet been issued by the relevant State Government. In the event we are unable to obtain such notification from the State Government, we may be prevented from undertaking mining activities on such area and may be faced with legal proceedings for undertaking mining activities in the absence of such formal notification.

Any inability to acquire land and associated surface rights to access our existing or future coal reserves in a timely manner on commercially acceptable terms or at all could have a material and adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

5. Any shortage in the availability or the reliability of transportation infrastructure and capacities for the offtake of our coal may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We depend primarily on a combination of rail and road transportation to deliver coal to our customers. Although we utilize significant road transportation facilities, rail transportation operated by the Indian Railways is the main transportation mode utilized by us for coal transportation, particularly for long distance supply arrangements. Our sales volumes have in the past been constrained by inadequate transportation capacities, including non-availability of adequate railway infrastructure. We are also dependent on third party road transportation providers, including truckers, for the supply of coal from the mine to the beneficiation facilities and the railway sidings and further for the supply of our coal to customers. Non-availability of adequate road transportation, including in the form of transportation strikes, have had in the past, and could have in the future, an adverse effect on our receipt of materials and offtake arrangements for coal produced by us. In addition, road and rail transportation may be adversely affected as a result of adverse weather conditions, mechanical failures, infrastructure damage, accidents, strikes, insurgency threats in the regions we operate in or other factors beyond our control, which could adversely affect our ability to supply coal and comply with our supply obligations under applicable coal supply arrangements with our customers, resulting in penalties. We have also in the past faced an increase in the shortage of adequate rail transportation facilities for coal supplies during the third and fourth quarters of our fiscal year, when India tends to experience higher freight transportation activities, which may result in our inability to meet fully the typically higher demand for our coal by the power sector during these quarters.

Although we propose to invest in the development of additional railway infrastructure and dedicated berths at strategic ports in India to improve transportation capacities for the offtake of our coal, there can be no assurance that we will be able to develop such infrastructure within time or as planned or that such infrastructure will be adequate for our requirements or that such proposal will not involve significant capital expenditure on our part that will result in the landed cost of our coal commercially non-viable for our customers. For further information, see "Business - Transportation, Infrastructure and Logistics" beginning on page 94.

Inadequate transportation and offtake arrangements may also result in increased inventories. Increased inventories could result in the need for additional land for stocking of coal beyond that contemplated in the applicable mining plan and relevant permits for a particular project which may result in penalties or the revocation of such permits, or result in decreased, non-optimal production from these mines due to lack of adequate coal stocking land and increased production costs. Increased inventories could also result in an increase in loss of stock through fires or pilferage of coal.

There can be no assurance that we will have access to adequate transportation infrastructure and capacities for our expansion projects, and the non-availability of adequate transportation infrastructure may adversely affect our ability to successfully implement our growth strategies. If we are unable to secure adequate rail or road transportation capacities or secure economically viable alternative modes of transportation for the offtake of coal produced by us or any coal imported by us, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.

6. Our operations are subject to various risks inherent to mining activities and we do not maintain insurance coverage in accordance with applicable industry standards.

Our business operations involve significant risks and occupational hazards that are inherent to mining activities and may not be eliminated through the implementation of preventive measures. These risks and hazards could result in personal injury, grievous hurt or even death of our personnel, which could result in additional litigation costs, damage to or destruction of properties, environmental damage, business interruption, legal liability, damage to our business reputation and corporate image and, in severe cases, fatalities. The occurrence of natural disasters including earthquake, fire, severe weather, floods, power outages and the consequences, damages and disruptions resulting from them may adversely affect our business and operations. In addition, natural disasters or accidents can result in unexpected hazards, such as fires, explosions, mining and coal processing equipment failures, casing collapses, discharge of toxic gases, and damage or destruction of mining facilities. We may become subject to liabilities, including liabilities for environmental or industrial accidents or pollution or other hazards, in addition to compensation payable to personnel affected by any such incidents.

We currently maintain very limited insurance coverage, primarily for cash-in-transit and fidelity insurance. We do not maintain insurance coverage for loss of our assets such as our equipment, plant and machinery or buildings. We do not maintain insurance coverage in accordance with applicable industry standards and do not have full coverage for all risks facing our operations and facilities discussed above and any claims against us could have a material and adverse effect on our business, operations, results of operations and financial condition.

Losses and liabilities arising from such risks may involve additional costs relating to mine reclamation, rehabilitation of affected persons, environmental clean-up, disaster recovery and workers' compensation. In addition, any uninsured loss or damage to property, associated legal proceedings or business disruption may cause us to incur substantial costs and the diversion of resources, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. If we were to incur substantial liabilities or if our business operations were interrupted for a substantial period of time, we could incur costs and suffer losses. Even if we decide to obtain insurance for these risks, insurance coverage may not be available at commercially acceptable premiums, or at all. In addition, we may elect not to obtain required insurance if we believe that the cost of available insurance is excessive relative to the perceived risk presented. Any claim against us for which we are not insured could have a material and adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

7. We require various approvals, licenses and permits and must comply with various statutory and regulatory requirements in connection with our business and operations, and any failure to comply with such requirements in a timely manner may adversely affect our operations.

Our exploration and mining activities depend on the grant, renewal or continuance in force of various exploration and mining activities related approvals, licences and permits and must comply with various statutory and regulatory requirements in connection with our business and operations. Bringing mines into operation and maintaining such mines requires obtaining approval of a mining plan, which stipulate extraction limits, as well as applicable forest and environmental approvals in respect of the mine. Our mining leases are typically granted for a period of 20 to 30 years and we cannot assure you we will be able to renew all our leases in a timely manner, or at all, which will have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. In connection with our mining operations, we are required to obtain various regulatory approvals including, but not limited to, Central Government notification under Section 9(1) for identifying the areas and under Section 11(1) to vest mining rights or all rights on such areas in our Company or our Subsidiaries, of the CBA Act; Central Government approval under the Mines and Minerals (Development and Regulation) Act, 1957, as amended (the "MMDR Act") and the Mineral Concession Rules, 1960, as amended (the "MC Rules") to enter into the mining leases following the acquisition of the coal bearing land; MoEF approval for conducting mining operations on forest lands; GoI and MoEF approval for renewal of existing mining leases; and Directorate General of Mines Safety ("DGMS") certifications stipulating various conditions for the operation of a mine. For further information relating to statutory and regulatory approvals relating to our operations, see "Government and Other Approvals" beginning on page 285.

In the past we have faced and expect to face in the future significant delays in obtaining such approvals and permits including renewals for expired approvals and permits. For example, the DGMS has modified the terms and conditions of approvals issued with respect to the working of the Jayant open cast mine, operated by NCL.

Our operations are also subject to continued review and applicable statutory and regulatory requirements may be amended or modified. There can be no assurance that we have in the past obtained or complied with the conditions stipulated in all relevant statutory and regulatory approvals and permits in connection with our operations, including any breach of the extraction limits prescribed by the authorities including those imposed by the DGMS, MoEF and the State Pollution Control Boards. In addition, various applications are pending for consents to operate. Further, our statutory and regulatory approvals and licenses, including environmental approvals, are subject to numerous conditions, some of which are onerous and require us to incur substantial expenditure. There can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain or comply with all necessary licenses, permits and approvals required for our production and exploration activities in a timely manner or at all, which could have a material and adverse effect on our business and operations.

In addition, certain of our contractors and other counterparties are required to obtain approvals, licenses, registrations and permits with respect to the services they provide to us. There can be no assurance that such contractors or counterparties have obtained and will maintain the validity of such approvals, licenses, registrations and permits.

There can be no assurance that the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits issued in our favor will not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. For example, the mining plan approved for a specific mining lease granted by the GoI and the relevant State Government stipulates extraction and production limits, as well as the capacity of the relevant coal mine. Coal extraction and production exceeding such limits may result in a breach of the terms of such mining lease and the relevant approvals from the MoEF. In certain of our current mining projects such as in the Ananta and Samalleshwari mines, we have exceeded coal extraction and production limits specified in the relevant mining leases and environmental clearances. We are also facing various legal proceedings initiated by the state environmental protection boards with regard to the extraction of coal in excess of the limits prescribed under the pollution control approval in the Chirimiri mine. If we fail to comply with any applicable statutory and regulatory requirements or if such statutory and regulatory requirements relating to our business and operations or the implementation thereof are altered, we may incur increased costs, be subject to penalties and suffer a disruption in our operations, any of which could materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations. Any failure to renew the approvals that have expired or apply for and obtain the required approvals, licenses, registrations or permits, or any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits that have been or may be issued to us, may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We have made several applications to the Ministry of Coal, GoI (“MoC”) for the de-notification of certain of our coal mines, i.e. mines that were originally allotted to us but where we do not intend to carry on mining activities. In the absence of any formal de-notification of these mines, we may continue to be liable for any mine reclamation and rehabilitation costs or other potential risks associated with such mines, including expenses relating to provision of security measures to prevent illegal mining and compliance with applicable statutory and regulatory requirements with respect to these mines. NCL has requested for de-notification of land that it acquired pursuant to the CBA Act. However, currently, the CBA Act does not permit for such de-notification. In the absence of a change in regulation or any other scheme introduced by the GoI granting us such de-notification, we will be required to maintain such land for a longer period than desired, which could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

8. Various statutory and regulatory approvals that are material to the conduct of our business and operations have not been received or are pending with various regulatory authorities.

We must obtain statutory and regulatory approvals or permits at various stages in our business. We have applied for, or are in the process of applying for, such approvals. We may not receive such approvals within the time frames anticipated by us or at all, which could adversely affect our business.

For further information relating to statutory and regulatory approvals that are required or pending, see “Government and Other Approvals” beginning on page 287. If we fail to obtain, or experience material delays in obtaining or renewing approvals, our operations could be substantially disrupted, which could have an adverse effect on our business prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

9. Our coal mining operations are subject to various operating risks, which could result in materially increased operating expenses and decreased production levels and could materially and adversely affect our results of operations.

Our coal mining operations are subject to a number of operating risks. These conditions and events include, among others:

- poor mining conditions resulting from geological, hydrologic or other conditions, including variations of coal seam thickness, the amount and type of rock and soil overburden overlying the coal seam and other discrepancies to our geological models;
- adverse weather and natural disasters, such as heavy rains, flooding and other natural events affecting operations, transportation or customers;
- the unavailability of skilled and qualified labor and contractors;
- the unavailability of materials, equipment (including heavy earthmoving machinery) or other critical supplies such as tires and explosives, fuel, lubricants and other consumables of the type, quantity and/or size required to meet production expectations;
- the lack of capacity of, and longer distance from rail transportation facilities and rail transportation delays or interruptions;
- delays, challenges to, and difficulties in acquiring, maintaining or renewing necessary permits, including environmental permits, or mining or surface rights;
- accessibility of project sites;
- delays or difficulties in, the unavailability of, or unexpected increases in the cost of acquiring, developing and permitting new mining reserves and surface rights;
- competition and/or conflicts with other natural resource extraction activities and production within our operating areas;
- a major incident or accident at a mine site, such as slope failures in large open cast mines, that causes all or part of the operations of a mine to cease for some period of time or explosions or inundations in underground mines;
- unexpected equipment failures and maintenance problems;
- law and order problems;
- loss of man days due to industrial labor problems and unauthorized absentees of labor;
- power interruptions; and
- current and future health, safety and environmental regulations or changes in interpretation or implementation of current regulations.

These conditions and events may materially increase our cost of mining operations and delay or disrupt production at particular mines either permanently or for varying lengths of time, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Additionally, our operations involve high fixed costs, and any reduction in our ability to sustain or increase the level of production will have a material adverse effect on our results of operation and financial condition.

10. We may incur material costs to comply with, or suffer material liabilities or other adverse consequences as a result of, environmental laws and regulations.

Our operations are subject to extensive environmental and hazardous waste management laws and regulations in India, including the Environmental Protection Act, 1986, as amended (the “Environment Act”), the Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981, as amended (the “Air Act”), the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974, as amended (the “Water Act”) and other regulations promulgated by the MoEF and various statutory and regulatory authorities and agencies of the relevant States in India. The coal mining industry in particular is subject to increasingly strict regulations with respect to a range of environmental matters including limitations on land use, including forest land; mine permit and licensing requirements; risks of exploration activities; reclamation and restoration of mining properties after mining is completed; management of materials used in mining operations; the storage of coal and associated risks; the storage, treatment and disposal of wastes; remediation of contaminated soil and groundwater; air quality standards; water pollution; protection of human health, plant-life and wildlife and discharge of hazardous materials into the environment. Additionally, the MoEF may adopt a rigorous approach when enforcing applicable laws and regulations and may order the closure of any mine that fails to comply with orders requiring it to correct or cease operations that raise environmental concerns. Further, we may not be successful in receiving environmental and forest clearances from the MoEF and/or State Governments for some of our mines, which may hamper our operations.

Our mining operations involve significant environmental hazards including land degradation resulting in land subsidence and destruction of surface infrastructure, deforestation, generation of coal dust resulting in air pollution, mines fires and resultant land subsidence, damage to the local ecosystem, as well as water pollution and dilapidation of the water table in and around mining areas. For example, our mining operations in the Jharia and Raniganj coalfields suffer from fires and land subsidence from time to time and pose a serious environmental, health and safety risk. We are required to implement a rehabilitation plan, approved by the GoI for dealing with fire, subsidence and rehabilitation and diversion of surface infrastructure in the Jharia and Raniganj coalfields. For further information, see “ - The Jharia and Raniganj coalfields are susceptible to fire and land subsidence and pose a serious environmental, health and safety risk. The implementation of the rehabilitation plan involve significant capital expenditure and resources.” beginning on page xxv.

A significant majority of our coal production is from open cast mines. Open cast mining is inherently more damaging to the environment than underground mining. Open cast mining can result in destruction of landforms and the local environment, may divert waterways and water tables and displace persons and, if not rehabilitated correctly, it may make the reclaimed site unstable, produce siltation problems in local watercourses, and potentially damage the environment. In addition, any adverse change in regulations and policies of the GoI relating to open cast mining may have a material adverse effect of our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The impact of these laws and regulations, or any changes to such laws or regulations, may be significant and may delay the commencement of, or cause interruptions to, our operations. We incur, and expect to continue to incur, significant capital and operating costs to comply with these requirements, including various provisions made for land reclamation and other environmental related expenditure. We may not have complied with all such applicable environmental laws and regulations in the past and in the future may not comply with applicable laws and regulations. In addition, we may incur environmental liabilities in respect of our operations even for environmental damage caused by acts or omissions of our contractors. Failure to comply with these laws and regulations may result in the assessment of administrative, civil and criminal penalties, the imposition of cleanup and site restoration costs and liens, the issuance of injunctions to limit or cease operations, the suspension or revocation of permits and other enforcement measures that could have the effect of limiting production from our operations. We may incur material costs and liabilities resulting from litigation and claims for damage to property or injury to persons arising from our operations. If we are pursued for sanctions, costs and liabilities in respect of these matters, our mining operations and, as a result, our profitability could be materially and adversely affected. In addition, we do not carry any insurance to cover potential liabilities that may arise as a result of environmental damage caused by us or by our contractors and this may result in a material adverse impact on our results of operations.

Further, new legislation or administrative regulations or new judicial interpretations or administrative enforcement of existing environmental laws and regulations, including proposals that would further regulate and tax the coal industry in India and restricting mining operations in certain areas by the MoEF, may also require us to change operations significantly or incur increased costs. Such changes could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

11. We are involved in a number of legal proceedings that, if determined against us, could have a material adverse impact on our financial condition and results of operations.

Our Company and our Subsidiaries are, among others, involved in a number of proceedings including criminal proceedings, public interest litigation, land acquisition and title disputes relating to land, civil cases (including eviction suits), arbitration proceedings, consumer cases, service and employee grievances and labor disputes, royalty and surface rents, consumer proceedings, land acquisition and land title matters, which are related primarily to our ordinary course of business. These proceedings are currently pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts, tribunals, enquiry officers, and appellate tribunals. Should any new developments arise, such as a change in Indian law or rulings against us by appellate courts or tribunals, we may need to make provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and our liabilities. We cannot assure you that these legal proceedings will be decided in our favour. Any adverse decision may have a material adverse effect on our business, reputation, financial condition and results of operations and cash flow. Our outstanding legal proceedings and the amounts claimed in these proceedings have been disclosed to the extent ascertainable in the summary below. For further details on these proceedings, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” beginning on page 224.

12. We face various risks related to our expansion programs; our capital investment projects may exceed our original budgets, may not generate the expected benefits or may not be completed.

We continue to focus on the expansion of our existing mine capacities and the development of new mines, as well as the development of additional coal beneficiation facilities. For further information on our proposed expansion projects, see “Business – Expansion of our Coal Mines” beginning on page 89 and “Business – Coal Production Process – Coal Processing – Beneficiation Facilities” beginning on page 92. We also intend to procure additional mining and mining support equipment and machinery at various mines, and improve our internal transportation infrastructure and loading capacities. The success of these expansion programs and capital investment projects are subject to various risks, including the following:

- we must obtain government permits, licenses and approvals to proceed with our expansion programs and any failure to receive such permits, licenses and approvals within the timeframe we anticipate or at all could delay or prevent our expansion and new projects;
- the equipment and machinery installed in our coal mining operations to increase production may not perform according to specifications or our expectations;
- we may experience difficulties in obtaining machinery, equipment and spare parts, particularly heavy earthmoving machinery, required to increase production, due to capacity and supply constraints and high global demand for equipment and materials;

- unforeseen conditions or developments could arise during our expansion programs that could substantially delay our planned expansion, including adverse weather conditions, land disputes with project affected people, difficulties negotiating resettlement and rehabilitation packages and equipment and machinery malfunctions once operations commence; and
- if we utilize third party mining contractors, such contractors may not be able to fulfill their obligations under their operating agreements.

Our inability to expand our operations and production at our coal mines as planned could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects and there can be no assurances that our expansion plans will achieve the expected levels of increased production.

We have incurred time overruns in relation to some of our projects in the past and may incur time and cost overruns for some of our projects in the future. We cannot assure you that we will be able to implement our expansion and new projects in a timely manner, or at all and any failure to do so, would adversely affect our business and result of operations. Additionally, actual capital expenditures for our capital investment projects may significantly exceed our budgets because of various factors beyond our control. If our actual capital expenditures for expansion programs and capital investment projects significantly exceed our budgets, or even if our budgets were sufficient to cover these projects, we may not be able to achieve the intended economic benefits of these projects, which in turn may materially and adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Even if we complete our expansion projects as planned, we cannot assure that such projects will achieve the expected levels of increased production or be as profitable as expected.

13. The recent proposal of the GoI to demarcate certain coal-bearing forest areas in India into various categories, which is proposed to include a category in which mining activities are prohibited, may adversely affect our business prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

The MoEF is currently in discussion with the MoC regarding a proposal for the demarcation of certain coal bearing forest areas in India based on the permissibility of using such land for mining purposes. The identification of such designated areas where coal mining activities will, or will not, be permitted will be based on mapping of forest and coal reserves as well as field-level studies. Such proposal is currently in a preliminary stage and is expected to be finalized through mutual consultation within the next few months. If such proposal is implemented and forest areas are demarcated where mining activities are restricted, our business prospects and results of operations will be adversely affected. If we are unable to produce coal from such designated areas, estimates of our reserves could be adversely affected. Implementation of such proposal may also affect our future expansion or new projects.

14. Our operations are extensively regulated by the GoI, State Governments and various statutory and regulatory authorities. The compliance costs, liabilities and requirements associated with existing statutory and regulatory requirements and adverse regulatory or policy developments can have a significant impact on our operations.

Our operations are subject to extensive regulation by the GoI, the relevant State Governments within which we operate, and various central, State, provincial and municipal statutory and regulatory authorities and agencies, including without limitation the MoC, MoEF, Ministry of Mines, GoI ("MoM"), the DGMS, the Controller of Coal, Controller of Explosives and State Pollution Control Boards. These authorities and agencies regulate many aspects of India's coal industry, including, among others, the following aspects:

- grant and renewal of coal exploration rights and mining rights;
- acquisition of land and surface rights;
- environmental matters and pollution control, including forest land related approvals;
- grant of mining licences;
- grant of approval for blasting, explosives and depillaring;
- conditions relating to continuing mining operations;
- safety and health standards;
- labor matters;
- distribution of coal produced by us in accordance with applicable GoI policies;
- allocation of coal linkages and coal supply under long-term fuel supply agreements ("FSAs") and under the E-Auction schemes;
- coal export and import; and

- royalty, cess and other duties and taxes payable.

The compliance costs, liabilities and requirements associated with existing and any new policies and statutory and regulatory requirements can have a significant impact on our operations. In addition, there can be no assurance that our results of operations will not be materially adversely affected by any future changes in such regulations and policies. In addition, a significant majority of our total coal production is supplied for use in the thermal power industry in India and historically our most significant customers have all been public sector thermal power generation companies and utilities. Our business, operations and prospects may therefore be affected by various policies and statutory and regulatory requirements and developments that affect the thermal power industry in India in general or public sector power utilities in particular, including those introduced or administered by the Ministry of Power, GoI and the Central Electricity Authority ("CEA").

In addition, the GoI may from time to time, acting through the MoC, require us to renounce certain coal blocks in favor of third parties in relation to certain mines that were granted to us at the time of nationalization of the coal industry and were vested in us pursuant to the Coal Mines (Nationalization) Act, 1973, as amended (the "Coal Nationalization Act"). For example, we renounced our rights to certain mines in the Parvatpur and Brahmani blocks in the Jharia and Rajmahal coalfields, respectively. In the event that we are required to renounce our mining rights with respect to certain coalfields or mines, this may adversely affect our reserve base, production capacities and results of operations.

In addition, the MoC is contemplating that coal blocks where we do not propose to commence operations will be allocated to public and private sector companies through a bidding process. The implementation of the Coal Mines (Nationalization) Bill of 2000, or any proposed legislation with similar effect that contemplate admission of private sector companies in non-captive coal mining operations may result in increased competition and materially and adversely affect our business prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

15. The Jharia and Raniganj coalfields are susceptible to fire and land subsidence and pose a serious environmental, health and safety risk. The implementation of the rehabilitation plan involves significant capital expenditure and resources.

The mining area in the Jharia and Raniganj coalfields, operated by BCCL and ECL, respectively, are susceptible to fire and land subsidence due to non-scientific mining carried out by the mine owners prior to nationalization of the coal industry in India, and pose a serious environmental, health and safety risk. The GoI approved the Master Plan Dealing with Fire, Subsidence and Rehabilitation in the Jharia coalfield ("Jharia Master Plan") and the Master Plan Dealing with Fire, Subsidence and Rehabilitation in the Raniganj coalfield ("Raniganj Master Plan"). Coal fires pose a serious problem due to the hazards to the environment which include toxic fumes, reigniting grass, brush, or forest fires, health and safety issues and the subsidence of surface infrastructure such as roads, pipelines, electric lines, buildings and homes. We inherited approximately 70 mine fires in the Jharia coalfield at the time of nationalization of the coal industry. Currently, there are 67 mine fires in the Jharia coalfield and seven mine fires in the Raniganj coalfield. Extinguishing these mine fires can be dangerous and costly and may not always be economically feasible, and such mine fires are unlikely to be suppressed by rainfall. Their environmental effects of coal fires include pollution of the atmosphere with toxins, and mine fires often leave a landscape devoid of vegetation and make it uninhabitable. In addition, the effects of mine fires on ambient air quality are severe once the fires become surface fires. The interaction of the gases with percolating water causes the change in the characteristic of the water quality of the area. In addition, the Jharia coalfield fire is believed to be responsible for asthma, chronic bronchitis, and lung and skin cancer. There is also a threat of serious land subsidence in several areas in the Raniganj coalfield and the old abandoned mines underlying the populated areas are mostly water logged and unapproachable. We do not maintain any insurance for environmental matters and if we are unable to extinguish such mine fires, or if any of the mine fires should escalate in an environmental catastrophe, or instances of serious land subsidence result in harm to persons or property, it may have a material adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition and results of operations. Losses and liabilities arising from events such as those mentioned above may significantly reduce our earnings or increase our costs (for example, by incurring extra costs on site restoration, disaster recovery and workers' compensation or rehabilitation) and may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, such mine fires have been, and may continue to be, the subject of media attention, which may harm our reputation or attract action from various international or Indian non-governmental organizations.

In addition, we are required to implement a rehabilitation plan approved by the GoI for dealing with fire, subsidence and rehabilitation and diversion of surface infrastructure in the Jharia and Raniganj coalfields. Our scope of work in dealing with the fires at the Jharia and Raniganj Master Plans involves the identification of fire areas, selection of technologies to deal with fires, prioritization for implementation and assessment of fund requirement. Further, the rehabilitation and resettlement scheme of affected people also includes the identification of affected sites, identification of resettlement sites and assessment of fund requirements. Implementation of the rehabilitation of infrastructure and property owned by BCCL and ECL employees is the responsibility of BCCL and ECL, whereas rehabilitation of other affected persons will be the responsibility of the nominated state agencies, namely, the Jharia Rehabilitation & Development Authority ("JRDA") and Asansol Durgapur Development Authority ("ADDA") for the Jharia and Raniganj Master Plans, respectively. We may not be able to effectively implement the rehabilitation plan due to significant opposition from affected/displaced persons and/or other social or political groups. If we are unable to contain the fires and rehabilitate and relocate the affected persons within the stipulated time frame, or at all, we may not be able to access our reserves in the Jharia and Raniganj coalfields, which will affect our production and have an adverse effect on our business, results of operation and financial conditions.

The aggregate expenditure sanctioned by the GoI for the Jharia and Raniganj Master Plans is Rs.97,738.40 million. We are required to contribute Rs.3,500.00 million per annum by allocating Rs.6.00 per ton of coal dispatched by our Subsidiaries (excluding BCCL, ECL and NEC) and the balance is to be funded through a cess charged under the stowing excise duty ("SED") of Rs.10.00 per ton of coal produced by us and other private coal producers in India. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Statutory Levies" on page 178. The funding arrangement for the implementation of the Jharia and Raniganj Master Plans over a period of ten years (in addition to a two year period for the Jharia Master Plan for pre-implementation studies) will be met through our internal resources and collection of SED under the Coal Conservation and Development Act, 1974 (the "CCDA"). Our contributions to these funds are included in the price we charge our customers for the raw coal we sell and are required to be used initially, whereas the SED amount is sent directly to CCDA and are to be applied to the balance of the aggregate sanctioned amounts. Out of our allocated contributions, we have utilized Rs.431.25 million as of March 31, 2010. The total balance in the Jharia and Raniganj Master Plans funds were Rs.9,458.78 million, Rs.12,238.43 million and Rs.14,774.27 million as of March 31, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. If we are unable to implement the Jharia and Raniganj Master Plans within the stipulated time frame or within the approved amounts, we may incur additional costs, and diversion of our resources for the implementation of the Jharia and Raniganj Master Plans may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

16. Certain employees and personnel of our Company, and directors, employees and personnel of our Subsidiaries, face allegations of engaging in corrupt practices, which may adversely impact our business reputation and operations.

Certain employees and personnel of our Company, and certain directors, employees and personnel of our Subsidiaries, face allegations of engaging in corrupt practices including possession of disproportionate assets, cheating, criminal misconduct, misappropriation of funds, demand and acceptance of illegal gratification and pilferage of coal under the Coal India Executives Conduct, Discipline and Appeal Rules, 1978 and the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, as applicable. Investigation proceedings have been initiated against these management executives and personnel, and are presently pending investigation before the CBI, the Central Vigilance Commission, the respective chief vigilance officers of the Company/Subsidiaries and in the MoC. For further information on such proceedings, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" beginning on page 224.

We have in the past experienced several incidents involving our employees and officers relating to various corrupt practices. While we have initiated various internal compliance procedures to address such corrupt practices, there can be no assurance that we will be able to prevent such incidents in the future. Such corrupt activities by officers, directors, employees and personnel of our Company and our Subsidiaries have resulted, and may continue to result in, loss of revenue, resources and property of our Company, as well as disruption in operations, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, operations and financial results. In addition, such corrupt practices have historically attracted and may continue to attract, significant media attention in India, which could harm our reputation.

17. We sell our coal at prices lower than the prices otherwise in the Indian and international coal markets.

Although pricing of coal in India was completely deregulated with effect from January 1, 2000, since the price of coal has significant ramifications on the Indian economy in general and the thermal power sector in particular, we have followed a strategy of focusing on improving cost efficiencies to avoid price increases, particularly for our lower grade coal, and generally consult with the GoI in determining the price of our coal. In determining the price of our coal, we take into consideration general inflation levels, increase in production costs that cannot be offset through efficiency improvements, the need for generating internal resources to ensure viability of projects and, to a lesser extent, the landed cost of comparative imported coal. The price of raw coal sold under our FSAs does not fully reflect market prices for coal in India or in international coal markets. In addition, in the event that our production costs or other costs associated with the purchase of our coal that are payable by our customers, such as transportation cost and statutory levies, were to increase, there can be no assurances that we would be able to increase the price of coal to offset any such increases. For policy or other reasons, we may not price our coal at levels that would adversely impact the power sector or the Indian economy. For further information, see “Business – Pricing of Coal” beginning on page 63.

18. Any significant decline in the demand for our coal in the thermal power industry in India could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Non-coking, or thermal coal used in the thermal power generation industry constitutes most of our coal production. Coal sold to government-owned and controlled power generation companies and utilities contribute a substantial majority of our total sales. Our five largest customers are all public sector power utilities. NTPC, which is a public sector power utility, has historically been our most significant customer. For further information, see “Business – Customers” beginning on page 96. We have entered into long term coal supply arrangements with these customers. See “Business – Distribution of Coal” beginning on page 97. The business policies, capacity expansion and capital expenditure plans as well as procurement strategies of our significant customers have had and will continue to have a significant impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, our business, operations and prospects may be affected by various policies and statutory and regulatory requirements and developments that affect the power industry in India. In the event of a significant decline in the demand for our coal in the thermal power industry in India, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be materially and adversely affected.

19. Significant increases in our employee remuneration and benefits may adversely affect our expenses and may adversely affect our financial condition.

Employee remuneration and benefits represent the largest component of our total expenditure. Employee remuneration and benefits expenses were Rs.126,351.59 million, Rs.197,420.85 million and Rs.166,555.22 million in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively, which constituted 41.4%, 48.9% and 43.2% of our total expenditure in these periods. Salaries, wages and benefits for our non-executive employees is governed by an agreement between the trade unions and us, the National Coal Wage Agreement, which is fixed from time to time for a period of five years. The National Coal Wage Agreement VIII (“NCWA VIII”), which was finalized in January 2009, is effective for a period of five years from July 1, 2006. Salaries, wages and benefits of our executive employees are determined by the GoI and are fixed for a period of ten years. The current compensation level for our executive employees was finalized in May 2009 and is effective for a period of ten years from January 1, 2007 (the “Executive Pay Revision”). For further information, see “Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Expenditure – Employee Remuneration and Benefits” beginning on page 178. In addition, the Pay Committee of the GoI has recommended that all public sector undertakings should formulate an employees' stock option plan (“ESOP”) and that 10.0% to 25.0% of the performance related payment should be paid as ESOPs. The effect of the implementation of such an ESOP scheme by our Company is not presently possible to quantify. Significant increases in our employee remuneration and benefits may adversely affect our expenses and may adversely affect our financial condition.

20. Increase in the cost of fuel, materials and spares used in our mining operations, or the inability to obtain a sufficient quantity of materials and supplies, could increase our operating expenses, disrupt or delay our production and materially and adversely affect profitability.

We use significant quantities of petroleum-based fuel and lubricants, explosives, tires, steel and other materials, as well as spare parts and other consumables in our operations. Consumption of stores and spares represented 14.3%, 12.1% and 12.8% of our total expenditure in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively.

We use significant quantities of high speed diesel for the operation of major equipment for coal mining and processing operations. The cost of diesel represents a significant portion of our operating expenditure. Any significant fluctuation in global oil prices may result in an increase in our expenditure and expose us to fluctuations in our purchase of fuel. We have not historically hedged and currently do not hedge, our fuel price risk.

We require bulk and cartridge explosives and accessories for blasting of overburden and coal. The price of explosives has increased significantly in recent years due to various factors, including consolidation in the industry. If the price for explosives continue to increase, our costs of production could increase.

Spare parts for heavy earthmoving machinery and other spares, most significantly tires, also represent a significant percentage of our consumption of stores and spares. Due to worldwide increases in the price of steel and rubber, prices for spares for our mining equipment and coal handling plant machinery has increased significantly in recent years. A significant increase in the cost of spare parts for mining equipment and machinery may increase our cost of production and adversely affect our profitability.

A limited number of suppliers exist for certain supplies, such as explosives and tires and other spares for certain heavy earthmoving equipment, and any of our suppliers may divert their products to buyers in other mines or industries or divert their raw materials to produce other products that have a higher profit margin. Shortages in materials used in the manufacturing of supplies and mining equipment, which, in some cases, do not have ready substitutes, could limit our ability to obtain such supplies or equipment. In addition, we have in the past faced disruptions in operations at some of our mines as a result of cartelization of certain suppliers, particularly for explosives. Any significant increase in our coal production costs, whether as a result of increases in prices for fuel, spare parts, equipment, machinery or explosives, or otherwise, could have a material adverse effect on our business, and cease, disrupt or delay our operations. For further information, see "Business - Materials, Energy and Water" beginning on page 95 and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Expenditure - Cost of Fuel and Other Materials" beginning on page 178.

21. A portion of our coal production and coal handling operations are conducted through third party contractors which exposes us to fluctuations in contractor costs and risks relating to the quality of their services.

We conduct a part of our coal mining and overburden removal operations through third party contractors. We also engage third party contractors for transportation of coal from pit head to loading points, transportation of materials, loading of coal on wagons and a range of activities ancillary to our mining operations. Under some operating agreements with third party contractors, the contractor is responsible for providing substantially all equipment, labor and management required for coal mining operations from the designated mining pits, including drilling, blasting, excavation, loading and transportation of the coal. We are required to pay the contractors for their services according to specified rates fixed by us.

We are exposed to risks relating to the quality of the services, equipment and supplies provided by contractors necessitating additional investments by us to ensure the adequate performance and delivery of contracted services and to pay for cost overruns. Any failure by our contractors to comply with their obligations under their operating agreements (whether as a result of financial or operational difficulties or otherwise), any termination or breach of our operating agreements by our contractors, any protracted dispute with a contractor, any material labor dispute between our contractors and their employees or any major labor action by those employees against our contractors could materially adversely affect the development or operation of the relevant mines. We have also experienced a gradual increase in the cost of third party contractors in recent years, resulting from, among other factors, increases in the cost of machinery and equipment and fuel costs incurred by these contractors, as well as, in certain instances, cartelization by some of these third party contractors. We may not be able to recover from a contractor any losses that may be suffered by us due to any performance shortfalls of our contractors.

22. Any increase in transportation costs that we are unable to pass on to our customers could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Transportation costs have been steadily increasing in the recent past. Continuing increases in coal transportation costs may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. The cost of transportation of coal from our mines to designated dispatch points (either at rail-head or at road-head) is borne by us for dispatch points located within three kilometers from the pit head. If the dispatch point from our mines is more than three kilometers but within 20 kilometers, the customers bear such transportation cost at specified rates as notified by us from time to time, which may not directly correspond to our costs incurred with respect to such transportation and may result in under-recovery of transportation costs from our customers. In circumstances where the distance from the dispatch point is greater than 20 kilometers from our mines, the customer is responsible for the actual cost of transportation. Our results of operations may, however, be impacted if we are unable to pass on any increase in transportation costs to the customers. In the event that transportation costs increase and we are unable to pass these additional costs to our customers or if the pre-determined rate which is charged to our customers is lower than what we actually incur, we will incur additional expenses, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we have received various claims raised by some customers relating to additional freight paid on account of over-loading and under-loading of coal by us on rail wagons.

23. If we are unable to pass on to our customers any significant increases in the statutory levies paid on the coal we produce, our results of operations could be adversely affected.

Indirect taxes and statutory levies such as royalty, cess and stowing excise duty levied are an important component of the cost of our coal and coal products to our customers. These statutory levies and taxes are paid by our customers. A substantial portion of our royalties are levied on semi ad-valorem basis, a fixed component depending on the grade of coal and a variable component as a percentage (currently 5.0%) of prices as reflected in the invoice. Cess is payable to certain State Governments at rates per ton as stipulated by the respective State Government. In addition, the GoI has recently introduced an environmental cess on coal at Rs.50 per ton of production, with effect from July 1, 2010, which will result in a further increase in our statutory levies in fiscal 2011. For further information, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Statutory Levies” beginning on page 178. If such royalties, cess and stowing excise duty is significantly increased or additional duties and cess such as environment cess is levied and we are unable to pass on such increases to our customers, our results of operations could be adversely affected. In addition, a significant portion of our raw coal is used in the thermal power sector in India and increases in duties and cess may restrict our ability to increase prices, as we try and protect our customers against increases in prices of our raw coal as it has a direct impact on the price of electricity.

24. We depend on key equipment and machinery to conduct our coal mining operations. Acquisition of mining equipment is capital intensive, and if such equipment is not utilized in a productive and efficient manner, we may not realize the benefits we expect from such equipment and our operations and profitability may be adversely affected.

Our coal mining and processing operations depend on various key equipment and heavy earthmoving machinery. A significant part of the equipment which we use in our open cast and underground mines and production facilities is old and requires maintenance, upgradation or replacement. In order for us to develop and operate large open cast mines and develop mechanized underground mining operations we need to invest in additional advanced technologies and higher capacity equipment.

As acquisition of mining equipment is capital intensive, if such equipment cannot be utilized in a productive and efficient manner as a result of various circumstances including difficult geo-mining conditions in the coalfields in which we operate or the unavailability of skilled manpower, we may not fully realize the benefits we expect from such equipment and our operations and profitability may be adversely affected. Further, if there is any potential delay or default on the part of equipment suppliers or if we are unable to acquire advanced technology or equipment in a timely manner or fail to appropriately upgrade existing technology and equipment, we may not be able to fully exploit our reserves, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. In particular, there are a limited number of suppliers for heavy earthmoving machinery, some of which are imported. Moreover, due to the significant expansion of mining investments worldwide, mining equipment prices have increased significantly in recent years. Increase in the cost of mining equipment and spares may increase our cost of production and could adversely affect our profitability.

25. Two of our Subsidiaries, BCCL and ECL have been referred to the Board for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction (“BIFR”). Any disruption in the operation of these two companies could have an adverse affect on our financial condition, results of operation and profitability.

Two of our Subsidiaries, BCCL and ECL were incorporated in 1972 and 1975, respectively, through the nationalization of coking coal mines and non-coking coal mines. BCCL and ECL have been predominantly loss making companies since incorporation due to difficult geo-mining conditions, limited scope to conduct open cast mining, low productive underground mines and excess manpower. These two Subsidiaries have been declared sick under the Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act, 1985 and have been referred to the BIFR in the late 1990s. Under the scheme implemented by the BIFR, these Subsidiaries currently do not have adequate independent decision making powers with respect to its investments and do not have access to financial market. ECL and BCCL contributed 39.3%, 40.1% and 36.4% of our total employees' remuneration and benefits in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively, although raw coal produced from these subsidiaries represented 13.0%, 13.3% and 13.4% of our total raw coal production in these periods. The viability of these two companies is largely dependent upon continuous growth in production of coal, cost control through reduction of manpower and obtaining a remunerative price from coal consumers for the coal produced by them. Both the companies have implemented revival plans approved by BIFR. Any disruption in the operation of these two companies could have an adverse affect on our financial condition, results of operation and profitability.

26. We are subject to stringent labor laws and trade union activity. Labor disputes could lead to lost production and/or increased costs.

India has stringent labor legislation that protects the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for discharge of employees and dispute resolution and imposes financial obligations on employers upon employee layoffs. As a result of such stringent labor regulations, it is difficult for us to maintain flexible human resource policies, discharge employees or downsize, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we have in the past faced, and may in the future face, strikes or work stoppages, which could have an adverse impact on our mining operations, particularly given our dependence on a large workforce.

Our non-executive employees are represented by several labor unions under collective wage settlement agreements. The majority of our non-executive employees are members of several unions including Indian National Trade Union Congress ("INTUC"), the All India Trade Union Congress ("AITUC"), the Hind Mazdoor Sabha ("HMS"), the Bhartiya Mazdoor Sangh ("BMS") and the Confederation of Indian Trade Unions ("CITU"). The National Coal Wage Agreement VIII (NCWA VIII), which was finalized in January 2009, is effective for a period of five years from July 1, 2006. We may not be able to satisfactorily renegotiate our wage settlement agreements when they expire and may face tougher negotiations or higher wage demands from unionized labor than would be the case for non-unionized labor. We have in the past faced various incidents of strikes and work stoppages. In addition, existing labor agreements may not prevent a strike or work stoppage in the future. Such incidents or strikes and work stoppage by our employees could have an adverse effect on our business, financial operation and results of operations.

27. A significant portion of our mining operations are located in geographically remote areas. In addition, some of our coal mining assets are located in politically unstable areas which create security risks that could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Certain of our assets and mining operations are located in areas of India that are exposed to risks of attack by rebel groups, such as in Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh, Orissa and Assam. Such attacks may be directed at our property or personnel, at property belonging to our customers or at transportation infrastructure. These circumstances may adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition, as well as place our assets and personnel at risk.

We have in the past experienced interruptions in our operations as a result of such attacks. In addition, as a result of these disruptions, state-owned railway lines in these areas have been restricted from time to time in the past due to security concerns from possible terrorist activities of Naxalite rebels. Such disruptions have in the past and may affect in the future the availability of adequate transportation capacities for the offtake of our coal, resulting in increased inventory, increased operating costs resulting from inability to complete night-loading schedules due to suspension of night trains or other transportation means at night, as well as increased costs for provision of adequate security personnel in affected areas. Although we have implemented various security measures, including increasing security personnel at affected areas, coordination with the relevant State administration and security forces, and appropriate disaster management systems, there can be no assurance that in the future such incidents will not continue, or even increase, or that security measures implemented by us will prevent such incidents or limit the consequences thereof. These circumstances could materially and adversely affect our mining operations and production in such affected areas and consequently our results of operations and financial condition.

28. We may be unable to produce or import sufficient amounts of coal to fulfill our customers' requirements or otherwise meet our contractual obligations under our FSAs, which could adversely affect our business, results or operations and financial condition.

Under our FSAs we are required to supply an annual contracted quantity ("ACQ") of coal to our customers. For information on certain significant terms of our FSAs, see "Business - Fuel Supply Agreements" beginning on page 98. We are subject to various risks associated with our obligations under our FSAs, including among others, the following:

- We may be required to import coal to fulfill supply obligations under our FSAs and to carry out the mandate established by the Planning Commission of India for the import of coal for power utilities in India. Operational difficulties, changes in demand and other factors could affect the availability, pricing and quality of coal, including imported coal, purchased by us. Although our customers have agreed pursuant to our FSAs to bear any such additional cost relating to coal procured from third-party sources, including imported coal, if we are unable to fill a customer order, we may lose existing customers, and our results of operations could be adversely affected.
- We are liable to pay compensation to our customers for short delivery of coal at rates specified in the respective FSAs. Although we have contractually limited our short delivery compensation liability under the FSAs to certain circumstances, there can be no assurance that we will not be required to make short delivery compensation payments to our customers or that such payments will not be material.
- Our FSAs may be terminated by our customers under various circumstances, including, among other conditions, force majeure events, breach of terms of the relevant FSA, our inability to supply certain minimum percentages of the ACQ as specified in the FSA, or if the customer is prevented by law to use the coal supplied for reasons beyond its control resulting from changes in environmental or statutory requirements. Customers may also temporarily suspend performance under our FSAs for force majeure events. In the event that our FSAs are terminated as a consequence of such events or circumstances or we are required to suspend performance under any of our FSAs, our revenues and profits could be adversely affected.

Our inability to satisfy our contractual obligations and our customers' demands could result in customers initiating claims against us or otherwise harm our relationships with our customers, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

In addition, we have entered into LOAs for the sale of coal that exceed our expected production. If we were to enter into FSAs with respect to all such LOAs, we estimate the shortfall in our ability to supply coal from our production to be approximately 110.00 million tons for fiscal 2011 and 235.00 million tons for fiscal 2012 and to increase in subsequent years to the extent we are unable to increase our production through expansion.

29. Acquisitions or strategic investments that we may undertake in the future involve a number of risks, any of which could cause us not to realize the anticipated benefits.

Our growth strategy includes equity investment in or acquisition of strategic brownfield and greenfield coal mining projects outside India. If we are unable to successfully integrate the businesses or assets we acquire our business, financial condition or results of operations could be negatively affected. Acquisitions or strategic investments that we may undertake in the future may involve various risks, including:

- uncertainties in assessing the reserve and resource base through exploration in prospective international properties;
- uncertainties in assessing the strengths and potential profitability, and the related weaknesses, risks, contingent and other liabilities, of acquisition candidates;
- changes in business, industry, market, or general economic conditions that affect the assumptions underlying our rationale for pursuing the acquisition;
- ownership risks arising out of change in political regime or applicable laws relating to foreign investment in the jurisdiction in which coal assets have been acquired;

- the inability to achieve identified operating and financial synergies anticipated to result from an acquisition;
- the potential loss of key customers, management or employees of an acquired business;
- the nature and composition of the workforce, including the acquisition of a unionized workforce;
- diversion of our management's attention from other business concerns;
- regulatory challenges for completing and operating the acquired business, including opposition from environmental groups or regulatory agencies or any changes in the regulatory framework;
- environmental or geological problems in the acquired properties, including factors that make the coal unsuitable for intended customers due to ash, heat value, moisture or contaminants;
- inability to acquire sufficient surface rights to enable extraction of the coal resources;
- lack of experience in international logistics;
- outstanding permit violations associated with acquired assets;
- any decrease in the import price of coal compared to our estimates could adversely affect our projected returns from the coal asset resulting in decreased returns; and
- risks related to operating in foreign jurisdictions, including increased exposure to foreign government and currency risks with respect to any international operations.

In addition, foreign acquisitions involve risks related to integration of operations across different cultures and languages, currency risks and the particular economic, political and regulatory risks associated with specific countries. We may have to incur substantial expenditures to develop the acquired coal assets or businesses, and the expenditures we incur to develop such coal assets or businesses may exceed our sales from such coal assets or businesses. Moreover, any acquisition opportunities we pursue could materially increase our liquidity and capital resource needs and may require us to incur indebtedness, seek equity capital or both. In addition, future acquisitions could result in our assuming significant long-term liabilities relative to the value of the acquisitions.

30. If the assumptions underlying our reclamation and mine closure obligations are materially inaccurate, our costs could be significantly greater than anticipated.

The GoI establishes operational, reclamation and closure standards for all aspects of surface mining. As of March 31, 2010, we operated 471 mines and we have significant ongoing mine reclamation and rehabilitation obligations. We estimate our total reclamation and mine-closing liabilities based on permit requirements, engineering studies and our engineering expertise related to these requirements. The estimate of ultimate reclamation liability is reviewed periodically by our management and engineers. For further information on provisions relating to mine closure obligations, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Results of Operations” beginning on page 193. The estimated liability can change significantly if actual costs vary from our original assumptions or if governmental regulations change significantly, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

31. If the price of imported coal decreases, or the effective price of our coal to our customers increases, our customers may elect to meet a larger proportion of their coal requirements from imported coal rather than coal sourced from us.

The quality of Indian coal is considered lower in comparison to coal from some other countries, primarily due to its higher ash content and lower GCV. Most of the coal available in India, including our reserves, is lower quality non-coking or thermal coal, used primarily in the power generation sector. If as a result of governmental or environmental regulations, our customers, particularly thermal power generation companies, are required to upgrade their power generation facilities for use of higher value coal with lower ash content and higher GCV values, they may require coal of higher quality for their operations. If the price of imported coal decreases, or effective price of our raw coal to our customers increases as a result of increased production costs or increases in royalties, cess or other duties and taxes payable on coal produced by us or otherwise, our customers may elect to meet a larger proportion of their coal requirements from imported coal rather than coal sourced from us, which may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

32. We have entered into joint ventures with third parties which may not always be successful.

We have entered into joint ventures with certain entities in connection with our business and operations. Investments through joint ventures may, under certain circumstances, involve risks as joint venture partners may fail to meet their financial, commercial or other obligations in respect of the joint venture. In addition, joint venture partners may have business interests or goals that differ from our or our shareholders' business interests or goals. Any disputes that may arise between us and our joint venture partners may cause delays, suspension or abandonment of our projects. Further, under our existing joint venture arrangements, our partners have the right to terminate such joint ventures in the event of breach of any of our contractual obligations.

In addition, as a part of growth strategy, we intend to continue to pursue suitable joint venture and strategic partnership opportunities in India and internationally. We may not be able to identify suitable joint venture or strategic partners or we may not complete transactions on terms commercially acceptable to us, or at all. We cannot assure you that we will be able to successfully form such alliances and ventures or realize the anticipated benefits of such alliances and joint ventures. Any unforeseen costs or losses can adversely affect our business, profitability and financial position.

33. The auditors' report on the restated standalone financial statements of our Company included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains certain qualifications.

The auditors' report on our restated standalone financial statements contain certain qualifications:

- with respect to fiscal 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009, the non-provision for investments in, loans to and other receivables from, our two wholly owned subsidiaries, ECL and BCCL, as they have been declared sick under the Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act, 1985 and were referred to the BIFR;
- with respect to fiscal 2008 and 2009, that the provision made in connection with back filling (included under provision for reclamation of land) was not based on any technical evaluation; and
- with respect to fiscal 2008, the liability for some employee benefits that were not valued on actuarial basis and the impact of the implementation of the National Coal Wage Agreement (NCWA VIII) and the current compensation level for our executive employees finalized in May 2009 (the Executive Pay Revision) were not considered for the valuation of actuarial liabilities of employee benefits.

However, these qualifications did not continue with respect to our restated standalone financial statements in fiscal 2010. For further information, see Annexure VIII of our restated standalone financial statements on page F-7. In addition, the respective auditors' reports on the audited financial statements of several of our Subsidiaries draw attention to certain factual matters emphasized, as exhibited in the notes to accounts forming an integral part of the financial statements of the respective Subsidiaries.

34. If coal produced from underground mines represent a larger proportion of our total coal production in the future, our cost of operations may increase leading to lower margins and profitability.

Most of our historical coal production has been from open cast mines. The cost of production of raw coal from open cast mines is significantly lower than that produced from underground mines. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Unit Cost of Production" beginning on page 178. Underground mines involve higher exploration costs, higher investment in equipment and technology as well as higher operating costs, including employee costs, compared to that involved in open cast mines. As part of our business strategy, we are currently exploring various initiatives to increase production of coal from our underground mines. In the event that we fail to acquire or develop additional reserves that support coal production from open cast mines, or if coal produced from underground mines otherwise represents a larger proportion of our total coal production in the future, our costs of operations may increase which could lead to lower margins and profitability.

35. If we are unable to implement initiatives for further cost reduction and improved realizations from some of our legacy mines, our results or operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

We currently operate a number of loss making mines, a majority of which were vested in us at the time of nationalization of coal assets in India and were vested in us pursuant to the Coal Nationalization Act. These mines have historically contributed to losses in our operating subsidiaries in the absence of scope of mechanization and adverse geo-mining conditions, together with socio-political conditions that make it difficult for us to discontinue operations at these mines. Although we continue to introduce various initiatives to reduce operating costs and increase production and realizations from these mines, there can be no assurance that we will be able to effectively implement such initiatives, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

36. Our coal mining operations have been adversely affected by illegal mining and pilferage of coal from our mines.

Our operations have been adversely affected by illegal mining and pilferage of coal from our mines. Unauthorized extraction and pilferage of coal from our mining areas has increased significantly in recent years primarily due to increases in market prices for coal and increased black-market demand for coal. We have been unable to prevent illegal mining carried out by others at some of our mines (primarily abandoned mines). Such illegal mining affects our reputation, endangers our operations around such mines and poses a security risk to our employees. Our losses from illegal mining include reserve losses and the rehabilitation costs associated with illegally mined areas. We have also been adversely affected by unauthorized removal of coal from our mines or stockpiles, particularly from mines or coalfields that are located in politically unstable areas with law and order problems, where we are unable to effectively monitor and prevent such activities. In addition, we are required to incur significant security costs to prevent such incidents. There can be no assurance that illegal mining activities or pilferage of coal from our mines or stockpiles will not increase in the future. Any significant increase in such activities within any of our mines or coalfields could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

37. We are dependent on our senior management personnel as well as the availability of qualified personnel and our business and operations will be adversely affected if we cannot attract and retain qualified personnel.

We are dependent on our senior management personnel, including members of our Board. If we lose the services of any of our key senior management, employees, it may be difficult to find, relocate and integrate adequate replacement personnel into our operations, which could seriously hamper our operations and the growth of our business. We are also dependent on qualified technical employees such as geologists and mining engineers for our exploration and mining operations.

As a public sector undertaking, the GoI policies regulate and control the emoluments, benefits and perquisites that we pay to our employees, including our key managerial personnel and other employees. We may be unable to compete with private sector companies for qualified personnel because of more competitive salaries and benefits packages provided by them. Additionally, a significant portion of our mining operations are located in remote and politically sensitive areas, with various law and order problems. In addition, as some of our key personnel approach retirement age, we need to have appropriate succession plans in place and to successfully implement such plans. For example, our Chairman and Managing Director, Mr. Bhattacharyya, who has been associated with our Company since 1977, is due to retire in February 2011. If we cannot attract and retain qualified personnel, it could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

38. Extensive governmental regulation relating to employee safety and health impose significant costs. A violation of health and safety requirements and the occurrence of accidents could disrupt our operations and increase operating costs.

Central and State safety and health regulations applicable to the coal mining industry in India consist of a comprehensive regulatory framework for protection of employee safety, and compliance with these requirements imposes significant costs. Moreover, new health and safety legislation and regulations may be introduced that may adversely affect our operations. The DGMS is responsible for the implementation of health and safety laws and regulations applicable to our coal mining operations. Any failure to comply with applicable health and safety laws and regulations could result in temporary shutdowns of all, or a portion of our mines and coal processing and handling facilities, which may disrupt our operations and result in imposition of costly remedial measures. If we fail to comply with the relevant health and safety laws and regulations or fail to pass applicable safety inspections, our business reputation could also be adversely impacted. In addition, we do not make provisions for our workers' compensation liabilities relating to accidents and other hazards, which could adversely affect our future operating results. We do not maintain insurance coverage against various potential risks associated with our operations, including any accidents or other hazards, and there can be no assurance that we will not be required to make significant payouts in this connection in the future.

39. A significant part of our business transactions are with government entities or agencies, which may expose us to various risks, including additional regulatory scrutiny and delayed collection of receivables.

A significant majority of the coal produced by us is sold to public sector thermal power companies and utilities. We may be subject to additional regulatory or other scrutiny associated with commercial transactions with government owned or controlled entities and agencies. In addition, there may be delays associated with collection of receivables from government owned or controlled entities, including from our significant customers that are power utilities. Our operations involve significant working capital requirements and delayed collection of our receivables could adversely affect our liquidity. Contracts with government agencies are subject to various uncertainties, restrictions, and regulations including oversight audits by various government authorities and profit and cost controls. In addition, government contracts are subject to specific procurement regulations and a variety of other socio-economic requirements. We must also comply with various regulations applicable to government companies relating to employment practices, recordkeeping and accounting. These regulations and requirements affect how we transact business with our customers and, in some instances, impose additional costs on our business operations. We are also subject to government audits, investigations, and proceedings. If we violate applicable rules and regulations, fail to comply with contractual or regulatory requirements or do not satisfy an audit, we may be subject to a variety of penalties including monetary penalties and criminal and civil sanctions, which may harm our reputation and could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

40. The distribution of our coal and allocation among customers is administered by the GoI in accordance with the New Coal Distribution Policy which reduces our negotiating power.

The distribution of our coal is made in accordance with the NCDP which was introduced by the GoI in 2007. All new customers are allocated coal through a process of issuance of a letter of assurance ("LOA") under which they are required to meet certain project milestones within a specified period. For Central or State Government power utilities, independent power producers, captive power plants and customers in the fertilizer, cement and sponge iron and steel industries, an LOA is issued by us on the basis of the recommendation of an inter-ministerial Standing Linkage Committee (Long-Term), which take into account various factors in assessing such application, including LOAs or linkages already granted to customers in the relevant sector, as well as existing capacities and proposed capacity additions for such sector. For customers in other industries, LOAs are required to be issued by us on the basis of prevailing norms for such sector and recommendations of the relevant administrative ministry. In certain circumstances, a part of our coal produced is allocated for customers in the thermal power sector and the annual allocation is administered by the Central Electricity Authority. For further information on the distribution of our coal, see "Business - Distribution of Coal" beginning on page 97. This allocation process reduces our negotiating power with respect to the prices of our coal and restricts our ability to respond to market conditions.

41. Underground mining operations are particularly hazardous and subject to unexpected disruptions which could adversely affect our results of operations.

Underground mining activities are inherently risky and hazardous. Specific risks associated with the underground mining operations include underground fires and explosions (including those caused by flammable gas), cave-ins or ground falls, discharge of gases or toxic chemicals, flooding, sinkhole formation and ground subsidence during underground drillings, removal and processing of coal. We cannot assure you that such accidents will not occur in the future, resulting in death, serious injury to our personnel or destruction of property and equipment. Any disruption of our operations due to any of these events or otherwise could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

42. The interests of our Directors may cause conflicts of interest in the ordinary course of our business.

Conflicts may arise in the ordinary course of decision-making by the Board. Some of our non-executive Directors may also be on the board of directors of certain companies engaged in businesses similar to the business of our Company. There is no assurance that our Directors will not provide competitive services or otherwise compete in business lines in which we are already present or will enter into in future.

43. Some of our records relating to forms filed with the Registrar of Companies and other authorities in India are not traceable.

We are unable to trace copies of some prescribed forms filed with the relevant Registrar of Companies in India by our Company, including, inter-alia, in respect of the allotment of equity shares and changes in registered office. While we believe that these forms were duly filed on a timely basis, we have not been able to obtain copies of these documents, including from the Registrar of Companies. In addition, certain other documents such as notifications issued under the CBA Act vesting mining rights or all rights over certain coalfields, are not traceable. We cannot assure you that these form filings will be available in the future or that we will not be subject to any penalty imposed by the competent regulatory authority in this respect.

44. Accounting policies that we follow for overburden removal may differ from international practice and accounting standards.

Accounting policies that we follow for overburden removal may differ from international practice and accounting standards under IFRS or US GAAP. In an opencast mine, overburden is removed for extraction of coal and a standard ratio is fixed in the project report. During the life of the project, the actual ratio of overburden removal varies for a particular year based on the geo-mining conditions. The expenditure incurred for removal of excess/less quantity of overburden for production of coal in a particular year is adjusted against the profit and loss account by creating/utilizing reserves in the financial account. This is done to maintain uniformity of expenditure for production of coal by removing over burden throughout the life of the project. If we discontinue the abovementioned practice as required under IFRS and are required to charge this amount in the same year, it may have a significant impact on our profit and loss account, including tax implications. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" beginning on page 177.

45. Any significant indebtedness in the future could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. We are subject to certain restrictive covenants under our current financing arrangements.

As of March 31, 2010, we had total outstanding indebtedness of Rs. 20,868.51 million. Although we are currently not significantly leveraged, we may incur additional indebtedness in the future. Any significant indebtedness in the future could have several important consequences, including that a portion of our cash flow will be used towards servicing and repayment of our indebtedness, which will reduce the availability of cash flow to fund working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions and other general corporate requirements.

Most of our current financing arrangements are secured by our current assets, including a charge on our equipment. Some of our current financing agreements also include various conditions and covenants that require our Company to obtain lender consents prior to carrying out certain activities and entering into certain transactions, including incurring additional debt, issuance of equity, changing the capital structure, dilution of GoI's shareholding in our Company, increase or modify capital expenditure plans, undertake any expansion, provide additional guarantees, or merge with or acquire other companies, whether or not there is any failure by such entities to comply with the other terms of such agreements. For example, we require consent from various lenders for this Offer and have not until date received consent for this Offer from EDC. Any failure to comply with the requirement to obtain a consent, or other condition or covenant under our financing agreements that is not waived by our lenders or is not otherwise cured by us, may lead to a termination of our credit facilities and/or acceleration of all amounts due under such facilities and may affect our ability to conduct our business and operations or implement our business plans. In addition, under the provisions of our secured financing agreements for overdraft against pledge of term deposits, and certain unsecured loans, our lenders have the right to recall the payments of the amounts due under the loan facility at any time at their discretion. If our lenders recall the payments of the outstanding amounts before they fall due, it may adversely affect our financial condition.

46. We have invited tenders for the implementation of an enterprise resource planning system to manage our operations and an inability to implement such system within the expected time frame or at all could adversely affect our business.

We have invited tenders for the implementation of SAP enterprise resource planning system to cater to various functions of our operations. If we are unable to implement such system within the expected time frame, or at all, it could adversely affect our business and operations.

47. Some of our immovable properties have certain irregularities in title, as a result of which our operations may be impaired.

We possess immovable properties at various locations for the purpose of our business, held either on a freehold or a leasehold basis. We acquire most of our coal bearing land under the CBA Act. Certain of our properties have also been acquired through processes instituted under the Land Acquisition Act, upon payment of compensation as determined through examinations conducted by the Land Acquisition Officer. In some instances, the land acquisition procedures prescribed under the Land Acquisition Act are yet to be completed so as to provide us with a clear and absolute title to the relevant immovable properties. We also purchase some of our land from private owners. Additionally, some of our immovable properties have one or more of the following irregularities in title:

- the conveyance/sale deeds have not been executed;
- the conveyance deeds have not been registered in the land records maintained by the relevant authorities and are insufficiently stamped;
- the process by which changes in beneficial ownership are formally recorded in the land registries in India, i.e. mutations, have not yet been carried out in the records of the local land registries;
- the lease deeds have not been executed;
- the lease deeds have not been registered in the land records maintained by the relevant authorities and are insufficiently stamped;
- certain eviction suits have been filed in relation to premises occupied by our Company and our Subsidiaries; and
- the lease deeds have expired and have not yet been renewed.

Our business may be adversely affected if we are unable to continue to utilize these properties as a result of any irregularity of title or otherwise. For details of such proceedings, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” beginning on page 224.

48. Our Company's financial results depend on the financial performance of our Subsidiaries and their ability to declare and pay dividends.

We are a holding company and conduct most of our business operations through our Subsidiaries. The ability of these Subsidiaries to make dividend payments is subject to applicable laws and regulations in India relating to payment of dividends and the MoUs signed between our Company and our Subsidiaries. In the event of a bankruptcy, liquidation or reorganization of a Subsidiary, our Company's claim in the assets of such Subsidiary as a shareholder remains subordinated to the claims of lenders and other creditors. Lenders to the Subsidiary also typically have a floating charge over all current assets of the Subsidiary, including dividend payments by, and all cash of, these Subsidiaries, effectively providing the lenders to the Subsidiaries a first priority lien over any distribution upon the occurrence of an event of default under the financing arrangements. In addition, two of our subsidiaries, BCCL and ECL are currently subject to financial reconstruction scheme administered by the BIFR.

49. We have certain contingent liabilities that have not been provided for in our accounts, and if such contingent liabilities materialize it may adversely affect our financial condition.

The following table sets forth the principal components of our contingent liabilities as of March 31, 2010:

Contingent Liability	Amount (Rs. in million)
Claims against the Company not acknowledged as debts	6,935.42
Sales tax/levies	34,978.79
Income tax liability	13,284.66
Others	17,972.66
Suits against the Company	9,328.22
Letters of credit	2,674.47
Counter guarantee to GoI in connection with JBIC and IBRD loans
- JBIC loan	7,473.63
- IBRD loan	7,169.34
Guarantees for loans obtained by subsidiaries	1,461.17
Outstanding deferred payment guarantees issued by banks	1.46
Total	101,279.82

For further information relating to our contingent liabilities, see “Management's Discussion and Analysis of our Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Contingent Liabilities and Capital Commitments” beginning on page 216. The contingent liability amounts recorded in our restated consolidated financial statements represent estimates and assumptions of our management based on advice received. There can be no assurance that any or all of these contingent liabilities will not become direct liabilities. In the event any or all of these contingent liabilities and become direct liabilities, it may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

50. Significant differences exist between Indian GAAP used throughout our financial information and other accounting principles, such as US GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to investors' assessments of our financial condition. Our failure to successfully adopt IFRS could have a material adverse effect on the price of our Equity Shares.

Our financial statements, including the restated consolidated financial statements provided in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, are prepared in accordance with Indian GAAP. US GAAP and IFRS differ in significant respects from Indian GAAP.

As a result, our standalone and consolidated financial statements and reported earnings could be different from those which would be reported under IFRS or US GAAP. Such differences may be material. We have not attempted to quantify the impact of US GAAP or IFRS on the financial data included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, nor do we provide a reconciliation of our financial statements to those of US GAAP or IFRS. Accordingly, the degree to which the Indian GAAP financial statements included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader's level of familiarity with Indian accounting practices. Had the financial statements and other financial information been prepared in accordance with IFRS or US GAAP, the results of operations and financial position may have been materially different. Because differences exist between Indian GAAP and IFRS or US GAAP, the financial information in respect of our Company contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus may not be an effective means to compare us with other companies that prepare their financial information in accordance with IFRS or US GAAP. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should accordingly be limited. In making an investment decision, investors must rely upon their own examination of our Company, the terms of this Offer and the financial information relating to our Company. Potential investors should consult their own professional advisers for an understanding of these differences between Indian GAAP and IFRS or US GAAP, and how such differences might affect the financial information contained herein.

The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, the accounting body that regulates the accounting firms in India, has announced a road map for the adoption of and convergence with the IFRS, pursuant to which some public companies in India will be required to prepare their annual and interim financial statements under IFRS beginning with the fiscal period commencing April 1, 2011. Since there is significant lack of clarity on the adoption of and convergence with IFRS and there is not yet a significant body of established practice on which to draw in forming judgments regarding its implementation and application, we have not determined with any degree of certainty the impact that such adoption will have on our financial reporting. There can be no assurance that our financial condition, results of operations, cash flows or changes in shareholders' equity will not appear materially worse under IFRS than under Indian GAAP. As we transition to IFRS reporting, we may encounter difficulties in the ongoing process of implementing and enhancing our management information systems.

Moreover, there is increasing competition for the small number of IFRS-experienced accounting personnel available as more Indian companies begin to prepare IFRS financial statements. There can be no assurance that our adoption of IFRS will not adversely affect our reported results of operations or financial condition and any failure to successfully adopt IFRS by April 1, 2011 could have a material adverse effect on the price of the Equity Shares.

51. Failure to protect our intellectual property rights may adversely affect our business.

Our trademark and logo are not registered. We also do not have registered patents for any of the technological advances we have made in our research and development activities. If we fail to protect our intellectual property rights, including patents, trademarks, trade secrets and copyrights, our business and financial condition may be adversely affected. We have applied for registration of our logo, as appearing on the cover page of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Pending our application for registration, our trademark shall have limited legal protection. For further details on our intellectual property rights, see section titled “Government and Other Approvals” on page 285.

52. Our operations are sensitive to seasonal changes.

Our operations may be adversely affected by difficult working conditions due to high temperatures during summer months and rain during monsoon that restrict our ability to carry on mining activities and fully utilize our resources, particularly during the second quarter of our fiscal year. During periods of curtailed activity due to adverse weather conditions, we may continue to incur operating expenses, but our revenues from operations may be delayed or reduced. Although such adverse weather conditions do not typically have a material impact on our revenue from operations, abnormally hot summer months or rainy monsoon could have a material impact. We have also in the past faced an increase in the shortage of adequate rail transportation facilities for coal supplies during the third and fourth quarters of our fiscal year, when India tends to experience higher freight transportation activities, which may result in our inability to meet fully the typically higher demand for our coal by the power sector during these quarters.

53. Our business and activities will be regulated by the Competition Act, 2002.

The Indian Parliament has enacted the Competition Act, 2002 (the “Competition Act”) for the purpose of preventing business practices that have an appreciable adverse effect on competition in India under the auspices of the Competition Commission of India, which (other than for certain provisions relating to the regulation of combinations) has recently become effective. Under the Competition Act, any arrangement, understanding or action in concert between enterprises, whether or not formal or informal, which causes or is likely to cause an appreciable adverse effect on competition in India is void and attracts substantial monetary penalties. Any agreement which directly or indirectly determines purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, shares the market by way of geographical area or market or number of customers in the market is presumed to have an appreciable adverse effect on competition. Additionally, we have received a notice from the Competition Commission of India (“CCI”) dated May 14, 2010 under Section 36(2), read with Section 41 of the Competition Act, in relation to a complaint filed by one of our explosive suppliers alleging abuse of dominant position by us in relation to the coal sector. For details of such proceedings, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” beginning on page 224.

The effect of the Competition Act and the Competition Commission of India on the business environment in India is as yet unclear. Any application of the Competition Act to us may be unfavorable and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risk Factors Relating to this Offer

54. The GoI will continue to control us post listing of our Equity Shares.

Upon the completion of this Offer, the GoI will hold approximately 5,684,727,360 Equity Shares, or approximately 90.0% of our post-Offer paid up equity share capital. Consequently, the GoI, acting through the MoC, will continue to control us and will have the power to elect and remove our directors and determine the outcome of most proposals for corporate action requiring approval of our Board or shareholders, such as proposed five-year plans, revenue budgets, capital expenditure, dividend policy, transactions with other GoI-controlled companies. Under the Companies Act, this will continue to be a public sector undertaking which is owned and controlled by the Government of India. This may affect the decision making process in certain business and strategic decisions taken by the Company going forward.

55. The interests of the GoI as our controlling shareholder may conflict with your interests as a shareholder.

Under the MoU signed with the MoC and our Articles of Association, the President of India may issue directives with respect to the conduct of our business or our affairs for as long as we remain a government owned Company, as defined under the Companies Act. For instance, under Article 33 of our Articles of Association, the President of India, by virtue of holding a majority of our Equity Share capital, has the power to appoint the non-retiring Directors on our Board, i.e. one-third of the members of the Board, and also has the power to appoint our Chairman and Managing Director and determine the terms and conditions including remuneration and tenure applicable to the appointment. The interests of the GoI may be different from our interests or the interests of our other shareholders. As a result, the GoI may take actions with respect to our business and the businesses of our peers and competitors that may not be in our or our other shareholders' best interests. The GoI could, by exercising its powers of control, delay or defer or initiate a change of control of our Company or a change in our capital structure, delay or defer a merger, consolidation, or discourage a merger with another public sector undertaking.

In particular, given the importance of the coal industry to the economy, the GoI has historically played a key role, and is expected to continue to play a key role, in regulating, reforming and restructuring the Indian coal mining industry. The GoI also exercises substantial control over the growth of the power industry in India which is dependent on the coal we produce and could require us to take actions designed to serve the public interest and not necessarily to maximize our profits.

56. There is no existing market for the Equity Shares and the price of the Equity Shares may be volatile and fluctuate significantly in response to various factors.

There is no existing market for the Equity Shares. An active market for the Equity Shares may not develop or be sustained after this Offer. The market price of our Equity Shares may vary from the Offer Price after this Offer. The market price of our Equity Shares may fluctuate significantly due to factors beyond our control, including, but not limited to: volatility in the Indian and global securities markets; external factors affecting our operating results, including the risks outlined in this section; investor perceptions of our future performance; changes in factors affecting general market valuations of companies in the coal industry, including changes in the price of coal; announcements by us or others of significant technological developments, contracts, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures, or capital commitments; political developments or other governmental action or regulation in India or other countries; and additions or departures of key personnel. In addition, the BSE or the NSE may experience significant price and volume fluctuations, which may have a material adverse effect on the market price of the Equity Shares. There is a risk that you will not be able to sell your Equity Shares at a price at or above the Offer Price.

57. You will not be able to sell immediately any of the Equity Shares you subscribe to in this Offer on an Indian stock exchange.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the BSE and the NSE. Pursuant to Indian regulations certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading may commence. Investors' book entry, or "demat" accounts with Depository Participants in India are expected to be credited within two Business Days of the date on which this Offer and Allotment is approved by the Board. Thereafter, upon receipt of final approval of the Stock Exchanges, trading in the Equity Shares is expected to commence. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares allocated to investors prior to the commencement of trading will be credited to their demat accounts, or that trading will commence, within the time periods specified above.

58. There are restrictions on daily movements in the price of the Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell, or the price at which it can sell, Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

Our Equity Shares will be subject to a daily circuit breaker imposed by all stock exchanges in India which does not allow transactions beyond a certain level of volatility in the price of the Equity Shares. An index based market-wide (equity and equity derivatives) circuit breaker system has been implemented and the circuit breakers are applied to the market for movement by 10.0%, 15.0% and 20.0% for two prescribed market indices: the BSE Sensex for the BSE and the Nifty for the NSE ("NSE Nifty"), whichever is breached earlier. If any of these circuit breaker thresholds are reached, trading in all equity and equity derivatives markets nationwide is halted. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by the SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on our circuit breaker is set by the stock exchanges based on the historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. The stock exchanges may change such limits without our knowledge. This circuit breaker effectively limits upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. As a result of this circuit breaker, there can be no assurance regarding the ability of shareholders to sell the Equity Shares or the price at which shareholders may be able to sell their Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

59. The proceeds from this Offer will not be available to us.

As this Offer is by way of an offer for sale of Equity Shares by the Selling Shareholder, the proceeds from this Offer will be remitted to the Selling Shareholder and our Company will not benefit from such proceeds.

60. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and other factors.

Pursuant to guidelines issued by the Ministry of Finance in September 2004, the minimum amount of dividend required to be declared is the higher of 20.0% of equity or 20.0% of profits after tax. According to this guideline, our minimum payout is 20.0% of profits after tax. See "Dividend Policy" beginning on page 175. We have in the past paid dividends to the GoI. We paid dividends of Rs.17,054.20 million, Rs.17,054.20 million and Rs.22,100.00 million in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. However, the amount of our future dividend payments, if any, is subject to the discretion of the Directors, and will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and other factors. There can be no assurance as to whether our Company will pay a dividend in the future and if so the level of such future dividends. For more information on our dividend policy, see the section titled "Dividend Policy" beginning on page 175.

61. You should read the Red Herring Prospectus carefully and we strongly caution you not to place any reliance on any information contained in press articles, including, in particular, any financial projections, valuations or other forward-looking information. To the extent that any such statements are inconsistent with, or conflict with, the information contained in the Red Herring Prospectus, we disclaim them. Accordingly, you should not rely on any such information.

There has been significant press coverage about us and this Offer that included certain projections, valuations and other forward-looking information. We wish to emphasize to potential investors that we do not accept any responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of such press articles and that such press articles were not prepared or approved by us. We make no representation as to the appropriateness, accuracy, completeness or reliability of any of the projections, valuations or other forward-looking information, or of any assumptions underlying such projections, valuations or other forward-looking information, included in or referred to by the media. Accordingly, you should not rely on any such information.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

62. The use of alternative energy sources for power generation could reduce coal consumption by Indian electric power generators, which could result in lower demand for our coal.

Most of our coal is used in the thermal power industry in India. Raw coal dispatch to customers in the power sector (including to captive power plants in other industries) represented 82.7%, 81.4% and 79.9%, of our total dispatch of raw coal (external sales and internal dispatch) in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. The amount of coal consumed for Indian electric power generation is affected by, among other things:

- the location, availability, quality and price of alternative energy sources for power generation, such as natural gas, fuel oil, nuclear, hydroelectric, wind and solar power; and
- technological developments, including those related to alternative energy sources.

Gas-fired generation has the potential to displace coal-fired generation, particularly from older, less efficient coal-powered generators. The use of natural gas in the energy industry has been gaining significance in the Indian market with its share in the primary energy market. With increased spending on infrastructure in the oil and natural gas sector, oil and natural gas may become easily available to the power generation companies, increasing their use as a alternative energy source. Further, many of the new power plants needed to meet increasing demand for Indian electricity generation may be fired by natural gas because gas-fired plants are cheaper to construct and permits to construct these plants are easier to obtain as natural gas is seen as having a lower environmental impact than coal-fired generators. Additionally, wind power is also becoming increasingly popular as a renewable energy source. In addition, possible advances in technologies and incentives, such as tax credits, to enhance the economics of renewable energy sources could make these sources more competitive with coal.

Any reduction in the amount of coal consumed by power sector in India could reduce the demand and price of coal that we mine and sell, thereby, reducing our revenues and materially and adversely affecting our business and results of operations.

63. We are subject to risks arising from exchange rate fluctuations.

Changes in currency exchange rates may affect our results of operations. Approximately 77.8% of our total indebtedness of Rs.20,868.51 million as of March 31, 2010 was denominated in foreign currencies, most significantly the U.S. dollar and the Japanese Yen, and we expect that a portion of our future indebtedness will continue to be denominated in foreign currencies. We also expect our future capital expenditure in connection with our proposed expansion plans to include expenditure in foreign currencies for imported equipment and machinery. Depreciation of the Indian rupee against the U.S. dollar, the Japanese Yen and other foreign currencies may adversely affect our results of operations by increasing the cost of financing any debt denominated in foreign currency or any proposed capital expenditure in foreign currencies.

Our foreign currency exposure is not significant. We however selectively enter into hedging transactions to minimize our currency exchange risks. There can however be no assurance that such measures will enable us to avoid the effect of any adverse fluctuations in the value of the Indian rupee against the U.S. dollar, the Japanese Yen or other relevant foreign currencies. For further information relating to hedging transactions that we have entered into, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Off Balance Sheet Arrangements” beginning on page 177. In addition, since we enter into transactions in derivative financial instruments that are sensitive to movements in certain interest and currency exchange rates, and changes in the fair values of our derivative financial instruments are recognized in our financial statement at the end of each financial reporting period, any resulting decrease in the fair value of such derivative financial instruments could adversely affect our results of operations.

64. Changes in interest rates could affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Changes in interest rates could affect our cost of borrowings and our results of operations and financial condition. As of March 31, 2010, Rs.14,643.00 million, or 70.2% of our total indebtedness were at floating rates of interest. If the interest rates for our existing or future borrowings increase significantly, our cost of funds will increase. This may adversely impact our results of operations, planned capital expenditures and cash flows. We currently do not enter into any derivative transactions to hedge against our exposure to interest rate risks. Even if we do enter into hedging arrangements against interest rate risks in the future, there can be no assurance that these arrangements will successfully protect us from losses due to fluctuations in interest rates.

65. The regulatory framework in India is evolving, and regulatory changes as and when introduced by the GoI could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Various changes in the regulatory framework governing the coal sector are expected, which can have a bearing on our operations. Among others, the GoI plans to introduce a regulator for the coal sector to regulate the operations of the sector including enforcing standards of performance and operational norms and determine the price of coal. There can be no assurance that the rules, regulations and jurisprudence of the coal regulator will not evolve in a manner which may result in a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations, including through the imposition of different pricing mechanisms for coal mining.

66. There is no guarantee that the Equity Shares will be listed and traded on the BSE and the NSE in a timely manner or at all, and any trading closures at the BSE and the NSE may adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

In accordance with Indian law and practice, permission for listing and trading of Equity Shares will not be granted until after those Equity Shares have been transferred. Approval will require all other relevant documents authorizing the issuing of Equity Shares to be submitted. There could be a failure or delay in listing the Equity Shares on the BSE and the NSE. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval would restrict your ability to dispose of your Equity Shares.

The regulation and monitoring of Indian securities markets and the activities of investors, brokers and other participants differ, in some cases significantly, from those in Europe and the U.S. The BSE and the NSE have in the past experienced problems, including temporary exchange closures, broker defaults, settlements delays and strikes by brokerage firm employees, which, if continuing or recurring, could affect the market price and liquidity of the securities of Indian companies, including the Equity Shares, in both domestic and international markets. A closure of, or trading stoppage on, either of the BSE and the NSE could adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. Historical trading prices, therefore, may not be indicative of the prices at which the Equity Shares will trade in the future.

67. Conditions in the Indian securities market may affect the price or liquidity of the Equity Shares.

The Indian securities markets are less developed and more volatile than securities markets in certain other economies, especially countries which are members of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development ("OECD"). Indian stock exchanges have in the past experienced substantial fluctuations in the prices of listed securities. The Indian stock exchanges (including the BSE and NSE) have also experienced problems that have affected the market price and liquidity of the securities of Indian companies, such as temporary exchange closures, broker defaults, settlement delays and strikes by brokers. In addition, the governing bodies of the Indian stock exchanges have from time to time restricted securities from trading, limited price movements and restricted margin requirements. Further, disputes have occurred on occasions between listed companies and the Indian stock exchanges, and other regulatory bodies that, in some cases, have had a negative effect on market sentiment. If similar problems occur in the future, the market price and liquidity of the Equity Shares could be adversely affected.

68. Global economic conditions have been unprecedented and challenging and have had, and continue to have, an adverse effect on the global and Indian financial markets and the world and Indian economies in general, which has had, and may continue to have, a material adverse effect on our business and financial performance, and may have an impact on the price of our Equity Shares.

Recent global market and economic conditions have been unprecedented and challenging with tighter credit conditions and an economic recession has been witnessed in most major economies in 2009. Continued concerns about the systemic impact of potential long-term and wide-spread economic recession, energy costs, geopolitical issues, the availability and cost of credit, and the global housing and mortgage markets have contributed to increased market volatility and diminished expectations for western and emerging economies. In the second half of 2008, added concerns fuelled by the United States government conservatorship of the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation and the Federal National Mortgage Association, the declared bankruptcy of Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc., the United States government financial assistance to certain financial and other institutions and other federal government interventions in the United States financial system led to increased market uncertainty and instability in both United States and international capital and credit markets. These conditions, combined with volatile oil prices, declining business and consumer confidence and increased unemployment, have contributed to volatility of unprecedented levels.

As a result of these market conditions, the cost and availability of credit has been and may continue to be adversely affected by illiquid credit markets and wider credit spreads. Concern about the stability of the markets generally and the strength of counterparties specifically has led many lenders and institutional investors to reduce, and in some cases, cease to provide credit to businesses and consumers. These factors have led to a decrease in spending by businesses and consumers alike and corresponding decreases in global infrastructure spending and commodity prices. Continued turbulence in the United States and international markets and economies and prolonged declines in business consumer spending may adversely affect our liquidity and financial condition, and the liquidity and financial condition of our customers, including our ability to access the capital markets to meet liquidity needs. These market and economic conditions have had, and continue to have, an adverse effect on the global and Indian financial markets and the global and Indian economy in general, which has had, and may continue to have, a material adverse effect on our business and financial performance, and may have an impact on the price of the Equity Shares.

69. Terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other acts of violence or war involving India and other countries could adversely affect the financial markets and our Company's operations directly, or may result in a more general loss of customer confidence which would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other acts of violence or war involving India or other neighboring countries may adversely affect the Indian markets and the worldwide financial markets. South Asia more generally has experienced instances of civil unrest and hostilities among neighboring countries from time to time. The occurrence of any of these events may result in a loss of business confidence, which could potentially lead to economic recession and generally have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. In addition, any deterioration in international relations may result in investor concern regarding regional stability which could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares. If India were to become engaged in armed hostilities, particularly hostilities that were protracted or involved the threat or use of nuclear weapons, we might not be able to continue our operations. Military activity or terrorist or rebel group attacks in the future could adversely affect the Indian economy by disrupting communications and making travel more difficult or by disrupting our operations directly, including through disruptions to the transportation lines over which we transport our goods, such as domestic railway lines. In particular, certain of our projects may be located in geographically remote areas that may be more prone to vandalism or other attacks by representatives of rebel forces or other political groups. Moreover, our Company's officers and employees may be held hostage by terrorists against the payment of ransom. Any of these conditions could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

70. Any downgrading of India's sovereign debt rating by a credit rating agency may adversely affect our ability to raise financing on terms commercially acceptable to us.

Any adverse revisions to India's sovereign credit ratings for domestic and international debt by credit rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such financing is available. This could have a material adverse effect on our business and future financial performance, our ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures, and the price of the Equity Shares.

SECTION III – INTRODUCTION

SUMMARY OF BUSINESS

Overview

We are the largest coal producing company in the world (Source: CRISIL Research), based on our raw coal production of 431.26 million tons in fiscal 2010. We are also the largest coal reserve holder in the world (Source: CRISIL Research) based on our reserve base as of April 1, 2010. For further information on our reserve and resource base, see “Coal Reserve and Resource Information” beginning on page 75.

India is the world's third largest producer and consumer of coal. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) Coal produced by us accounted for approximately 81.9% of coal production in India in fiscal 2009 (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, the power generation sector in India consumed 77.0% of the total coal produced in fiscal 2009. Further, in fiscal 2009, coal met 52.4%, while oil and natural gas met 41.6%, of the total primary energy requirement of India. (Source: BP Statistics)

As of March 31, 2010, we operated 471 mines in 21 major coalfields across eight states in India, including 163 open cast mines, 273 underground mines and 35 mixed mines (which include both open cast and underground mines). We produce non-coking coal and coking coal of various grades for diverse applications. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, we produced 379.46 million tons, 403.73 million tons and 431.26 million tons, respectively, of raw coal. Non-coking coal represents a substantial majority of our raw coal production, and represented 93.1%, 93.4% and 91.6% of our total coal production in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. Most of our coal production is from open cast mines. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, raw coal produced from open cast mines represented 88.5%, 89.1% and 90.0%, respectively, of our total raw coal production. We continue to expand our raw coal production capacities. As of March 31, 2010, 45 projects (comprising 22 capacity expansion projects for existing mines and 23 new mine projects) had received relevant investment approval (of our Board and the board of directors of relevant Subsidiary companies) and were in various stages of mine planning and development: (i) 25 projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 47.51 million tons per annum were at various stages of implementation and are expected to become operational by the end of fiscal 2012; and (ii) 20 longer gestation projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 33.27 million tons per annum, are expected to become operational during the 12th Five Year Plan period (2013-2018).

Some of the raw coal we produce is used for the production of beneficiated coal. As of March 31, 2010, we operated 17 coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate designed feedstock capacity of 39.40 million tons per annum. In addition, we intend to develop an additional 20 coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate additional proposed feedstock capacity of 111.10 million tons per annum. Further, we also intend that all new open cast mining projects with coal production capacities greater than 2.5 million tons per annum not linked to pit head customers will be equipped with dedicated coal beneficiation facilities.

We sell substantially all of the raw coal we produce in the Indian market. Our customers include large thermal power generation companies, steel and cement producers and other industrial companies in the public and private sector with many of whom we have long-standing relationships. Most of our coal is used in the thermal power sector in India. NTPC, a public sector power generation company and utility, has historically been our most significant customer, and our five largest customers are all public sector power utilities. Following the introduction of the New Coal Distribution Policy ("NCDP") by the GoI in October 2007, we commenced the sale of our raw coal under long-term fuel supply agreements ("FSAs").

Our Company was established in 1973 and is wholly owned by the GoI. Our coal production operations are primarily carried out through seven of our wholly-owned Subsidiaries in India. In addition, another wholly-owned Subsidiary, CMPDIL, carries out exploration activities for our Subsidiaries and provides technical and consultancy services for our operations as well as to third-party clients for coal exploration, mining, processing and related activities. We have also established a wholly-owned subsidiary in Mozambique, Coal India Africana Limitada ("CIAL"), to pursue coal mining opportunities in Mozambique and have acquired prospecting licenses for two coal blocks in Mozambique. We have been conferred the Navratna status by the GoI, which provides us certain operational and financial autonomy. In addition, six of our wholly owned Subsidiaries, including CMPDIL, have also been accorded the Mini Ratna status by the GoI.

We continue to focus on maintaining a safe work environment through the implementation of our safety policies and a structured multidisciplinary safety organization that oversees our operations. We have established and continue to focus on various environmental initiatives including land reclamation and restoration in open cast mines, water harvesting, afforestation and rehabilitation at our mines. We have also implemented satellite surveillance for our land reclamation and restoration and afforestation and rehabilitation initiatives. We have also made significant investments in education, health and community development initiatives.

Our total income increased from Rs.340,087.99 million in fiscal 2006 to Rs.525,922.92 million in fiscal 2010, while our profit after tax, as restated, increased from Rs.61,136.01 million in fiscal 2006 to Rs.98,294.09 million in fiscal 2010. As of March 31, 2010, we had reserves and surplus of Rs.195,289.14 million, and our net worth was Rs.258,437.43 million. As of March 31, 2010, our cash and bank balances were Rs.390,777.60 million while total indebtedness was Rs.20,868.51 million. As of March 31, 2010, we had 397,138 employees, including 15,092 executives, 38,475 supervisors and 343,571 workmen.

SUMMARY OF INDUSTRY

Overview of the Indian economy

With an estimated GDP of approximately US$3.56 trillion in 2009, on a purchasing power parity basis, India is the fifth largest economy in the world after the European Union, the United States, China and Japan (Source: CIA World Factbook). India is also one of the fastest growing economies in the world. Coal is the one of the prime fuels in India and has met 52.4% of India's total energy needs in fiscal 2009 and will continue to be crucial to India's future energy needs. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook).

Global coal industry and reserves

The world coal reserves as per the rate of production in 2009 are estimated to suffice for the next 119 years (Source: BP Statistics). According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, India is the third largest coal producing country in the world after China and United States. Although coal deposits are widely distributed across the world, 80.0% of the world's recoverable reserves are located in five regions: the United States (28.0%), Russia (19.0%), China (14.0%), certain non-OECD countries in Europe and Eurasia (primarily former Soviet countries) (10.0%), and Australia, New Zealand (9.0%) (Source: International Energy Outlook, May 2009 ("IEO 2010)). According to the IEO 2010, India accounted for 6.7% of the world's recoverable reserves.

Global coal production and consumption

China is the largest producer of coal 3,050.0 million tons (44.0% of the total worldwide production in 2009), followed by the United States 973.2 million tons (14.0% of the total worldwide production in 2009. (Source: BP Statistical Review World Energy June 2010) whereas India's coal production was approximately 532.06 million tons, in fiscal 2010 (Source: Annual Plan 2010–11, MoC).

Asia is the biggest market for coal and currently accounts for 65.0% of global coal consumption, owing to China and India, who are the primary consumers. Approximately 29.4% of the world's primary energy needs was met through coal in 2008, and coal was used to generate 41.0% of electricity used throughout the world. Further, about 13.00% of the total hard coal production is used by the steel industry. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). In addition, coal's share of total world energy consumption is projected to increase to 28.0% in 2035 while its share in the power generation sector is projected to be approximately 43.0% in 2035 (Source: IEO 2010).

Indian coal industry and reserves

As of April 2009, the geological resource of Indian coal was 276.81 billion tons (Source: GSI, GoI). In India, coal is the prime fuel used to fire thermal power plants due to its availability and affordability. Coal is the dominant source of energy and met 52.4%, while oil and natural gas met approximately 41.6%, of the total primary energy requirement of India in fiscal 2009 (Source: BP Statistics). As projected by the Planning Commission of the GoI in the Integrated Energy Policy, 2006, coal is projected to meet over 50.0% of the primary commercial energy requirement by fiscal 2032. The coal sector in India is primarily dominated by the PSUs under the central and the state governments, as more than 90.0% of the coal produced in India in fiscal 2009 was by government owned companies (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook).

Coal production and consumption in India

According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, India is the third largest producer of coal in the world. The total coal production in India during fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010 was 457.00 million tons, 492.76 million tons and a projected 532.06 million tons, respectively, representing a growth rate of 6.1%, 7.8% and 8.0%, during the said period.

In addition, India is the third largest consumer of coal in the world. Coal meets 52.4% of the energy needs in India. Approximately 77.0% of the total coal in India was consumed only by the power sector during fiscal 2009, for generation of electricity in the country. In addition coal is also used in other industries such as steel, cement, fertilizers, bricks manufacturing, textiles and chemicals. Demand of coal from captive plants if projected to grow at a high rate, thereby increasing its share in total demand by fiscal 2014 (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). The primary energy consumption in India has grown by approximately 700.0% in the last four decades (Source: MoC, GoI) and is expected to rise to around 450 kgoe/year in 2010 (Source: MoC).

Coal Imports

As per the current import policy, coal is allowed to be freely imported under the Open General License by consumers directly. In fiscal 2010, India imported about 67.74 million tons (provisional) of coal which is 11.69 % of its total coal consumption. However, only 44.28 million tons of non-coking coal was imported during fiscal 2010 (Source: Provisional Coal Statistics 2009-10, Coal Controller's Organization, MoC).

Power, Steel, Cement and Other Sectors

In India, coal is the prime fuel used to fire thermal power plants due to its availability and affordability. As on June, 2010, the total installed power generation capacity in India was 162,366.8 MW and the total installed thermal power generation capacity was 104,423.98 MW, of which coal was 86,003.38 MW i.e. 82.4% of the total thermal power generation capacity. (Source: CEA, "Power Scenario at a Glance," June 2010). CRISIL Research believes that the total capacity addition in the power sector during the next five years (fiscal 2010 to 2014) which is expected to be approximately 66 GW of which coal based capacity additions are expected to be approximately 52 GW. This is expected to take the total capacity of coal based power plants by 2013-14 to approximately 130 GW. Further, more than 90.0% of the capacity additions scheduled to be commissioned by private players is expected to be coal-based. (Source: CRISIL Research). In the steel sector, coking coal is used as a reducing agent, where it is mixed with iron ore to make steel. Coal offtake in the cement industry increased from 13.6 million tons in fiscal 2004 to 15.3 million tons in fiscal 2009, which represented a growth of 3.1%. The offtake from the chemical, bricks and textiles industries during fiscal 2009 was 83.3 million tons, approximately 17.0% of the total offtake of coal. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook)

Pricing and Distribution of Coal

Post the deregulation of the pricing of coal in 2000, coal producing companies were entitled to fix the coal prices on their own and revise the same periodically. The pricing of coal is based on factors such as the type of coal, its net calorific value, the content level of impurities and such price would be revised considering the escalation in input cost, inflation and landed cost of imported coal. The final customer price includes freight and other charges (royalties and sales tax). Coal is typically sold under the long-term fuel supply agreements ("FSAs") or the E-Auction scheme. The New Coal Distribution Policy ("NCDP") has been introduced in 2007, with an objective to meet the demand of coal from consumers of different sectors of the economy, both on short term and long term basis, in an assured, sustained transparent and efficient manner with built-in commercial discipline.

Logistics

Coal is mostly produced in the Central and Eastern parts of India, while it is consumed all over the country; therefore, it has to be transported over long distances. In India, coal is typically transported using rail, road and sea routes of which rail accounts for more than 46.3% of the mode of transportation.

Coal Characteristics/Mining Techniques

Coal is characterized by its use as either "thermal" or "metallurgical coal." Energy content and sulphur content are the most important coal characteristics that help to determine the use and the price of the different types/qualities of coal. There are mainly three types of coal such as coking coal, semi-coking or weakly coking coal and non-coking coal. The mining techniques depend on the depth of the coal seam and there are typically two ways to mine coal, mainly, open cast/surface mining and underground mining. There are certain other coal based technologies such as Coal-to-Liquid, Underground Coal Gasification and Coal-bed-Methane.

In the event of under subscription in the Net Offer, spill over to the extent of under subscription shall be allowed from the Employee Reservation Portion.

Our Company and the Selling Shareholder shall comply with the SEBI Regulations and any other ancillary directions issued by SEBI for this Offer. In this regard, the Selling Shareholder has appointed the Book Running Lead Managers to manage the Offer and procure subscriptions to the Offer.

The process of book building under the SEBI Regulations is subject to change. Investors are advised to make their own judgment about investment through this process prior to submitting a Bid in the Offer.

Steps to be taken by the Bidders for Bidding:

- Check eligibility for making a Bid. For further details, see the section titled “Offer Procedure” on page 311;
- Ensure that you have a PAN and the demat account details are correctly mentioned in the Bid cum Application Form or the ASBA Form, as the case may be;
- Ensure that the Bid cum Application Form or the ASBA Form is duly completed as per the instructions given in the Red Herring Prospectus and in the respective forms;
- Except for bids on behalf of the Central or State Government and the officials appointed by the courts, for Bids of all values ensure that you have mentioned your PAN allotted under the I.T. Act in the Bid cum Application Form and the ASBA Form (see the section titled “Offer Procedure” on page 311). However, Bidders residing in the State of Sikkim are exempted from the mandatory requirement of PAN. The exemption is subject to the Depository Participants’ verifying the veracity of the claim of the investors that they are residents of Sikkim, by collecting sufficient documentary evidence in support of their address;
- Ensure the correctness of your PAN, DPID and Client ID given in the Bid cum Application Form and the ASBA Form. Based on these three parameters, the Registrar to the Offer will obtain details of the Bidders from the Depositories including Bidder’s name, bank account, number etc.
- Bids by QIBs (including Anchor Investors, but excluding ASBA Bidders) will only have to be submitted to the Book Running Lead Managers and their affiliates; and
- Bids by ASBA Bidders will have to be submitted to the Designated Branches. ASBA Bidders should ensure that their bank accounts have adequate credit balance at the time of submission to the SCSB to ensure that the ASBA Form is not rejected.

Illustration of Book Building Process and the Price Discovery Process

(Investors should note that the following is solely for the purpose of illustration and is not specific to the Offer and excludes information pertaining to Bidding by Anchor Investors)

Bidders can bid at any price within the price band. For instance, assuming a price band of Rs. 20 to Rs. 24 per share, an offer size of 3,000 equity shares and receipt of five bids from bidders, details of which are shown in the table below, the illustrative book would be as given below. A graphical representation of the consolidated demand and price would be made available at the bidding centres during the bidding period. The illustrative book as shown below indicates the demand for the shares of the company at various prices and is collated from bids from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Price (Rs.)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the offeror is able to issue the desired number of shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., Rs. 22 in the above example. The offeror, in consultation with the book running lead managers, will finalise the offer price at or below such cutoff, i.e., at or below Rs. 22. All bids at or above this offer price and cut-off bids are valid bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

Withdrawal of the Offer

In accordance with the SEBI Regulations, the Selling Shareholder and our Company, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers, reserve the right not to proceed with the Offer at anytime including after the Offer Opening Date, without assigning the reasons thereof. Provided, if the Selling Shareholder and our Company withdraw the Offer after the Offer Closing Date, the Selling Shareholder will give the reason thereof within two days of the Offer Closing Date by way of a public notice in the same newspapers where the pre-Offer advertisement had appeared. The Stock Exchanges shall also be informed promptly and the Book Running Lead Managers, through the Registrar to the Offer, shall notify the SCSBs to unblock the bank accounts of the ASBA Bidders within one day from the date of receipt of such notification.

In the event the Selling Shareholder and our Company, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers, withdraw the Offer after the Offer Closing Date, a fresh offer document will be filed with the RoC/SEBI in the event we subsequently decide to proceed with the public offering.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Offer is also subject to obtaining (i) the final listing and trading approvals of the Stock Exchanges, which our Company shall apply for after Allotment and (ii) the final RoC approval of the Prospectus.

In terms of the SEBI Regulations, QIBs are not allowed to withdraw their Bids after the Offer Closing Date. Since, the Bidding Period for QIBs may close one day prior to the Offer Closing Date, QIBs will not be able to withdraw their Bids after [●] i.e., one day prior to the Offer Closing Date.

Overview of the Indian Economy

With an estimated GDP of approximately US$3.56 trillion in 2009, on a purchasing power parity ("PPP") basis, India is the fifth largest economy in the world after the European Union, the United States, China and Japan (Source: CIA World Factbook). India is now one of the fastest growing economies in the world. According to the Central Statistical Organization, India's GDP grew at a rate of 7.4% in the fiscal year 2010.

Electricity is a crucial infrastructural sector of a national economy and an essential factor in sustaining economic growth. Providing adequate and affordable electric power is essential for economic development and raising standards of living. Based on the infrastructure investment projections for the 11th Five-Year plan (2007-2012), the power sector is expected to attract 32.4% of the total US$514.04 billion projected investment in infrastructure.

According to CRISIL Coal Outlook (2009-10 to 2013-14), primary energy consumption in India has grown at a CAGR of 4.96% in the last two decades, while coal production has grown at a CAGR of 4.89% during the same period. Further, as of the date of the CRISIL Coal Outlook report, the estimated energy consumption in India is 468.9 mtoe per year. Energy usage in India is expected to surge driven by rising population, expanding economy and the quest for improvement in the quality of life. In India, coal is the prime fuel used to fire thermal power plants due to its availability and affordability. Coal accounted for 52.4% of India's total energy needs in fiscal 2009 and is expected to continue to be crucial to India's future energy needs. In fiscal 2009, coal produced by Coal India Limited accounted for 81.9% of coal production of India (Source: CRISIL Research, Coal Outlook: 2009-2010 to 2013-2014, Annual Review, November 2009 ("CRISIL Coal Outlook"))

Overview of the Global Coal Industry and Reserves

The world coal reserves as per the rate of production in 2009 are estimated to suffice for the next 119 years (Source: BP Statistics). According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, as of the date of the report, coal meets approximately 41.0% of the world's electricity needs. However, in certain countries such as South Africa, coal accounts for approximately 78.0% of their electricity needs, while in China and India, it accounts for 78.0%, and 52.4% of their electricity needs, respectively. India is the third largest coal producing country in the world after China and United States (by million tons). According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, we are the largest coal producing company in the world. The United States has the largest proved coal reserves, followed by Russia, China, Australia and India, respectively. In 2009, the average market price for world thermal coal was $72/ton, a 44.0% decline from $129/ton in 2008 primarily due to bad weather conditions in Australia and an energy crisis in South Africa. Similarly coking coal prices fell from US$269/ton during 2008 to US$153/ton during 2009. However, during the first quarter of 2010, non-coking coal prices rebounded as cold weather conditions in Europe and China raised demand for power. (Source: CRISIL Research)

Global coal reserves in 2009

(Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook)

Although coal deposits are widely distributed across the world, 82.0% of the world's recoverable reserves are located in five regions: the United States (29.0%), Russia (19.0%), China (14.0%), certain non-OECD countries in Europe and Eurasia (primarily former Soviet countries) (10.0%), and Australia and New Zealand (9.0%) (Source: International Energy Outlook, July 2010 ("IEO 2010")). In 2007, the above-mentioned five regions, taken together, produced 4.9 billion tons of coal, representing 71.0% of total world coal production (Source: IEO 2010). According to IEO 2010, India accounted for 6.7% of the world's recoverable reserves. As of April 2010, the geological resource of Indian coal was 276.81 billion tons (Source: Geological Survey of India, GoI ("GSI, GoI")).

Global Coal Production and Consumption

Coal is the most widely available and well distributed fossil fuel in the world (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). China is the largest producer of coal 3,050.0 million tons, or 44.0% of the total worldwide production in calendar year 2009, followed by the United States 973.2 million tons, or 14.0% of the total worldwide production in calendar year 2009. (Source: BP Statistical Review World Energy June 2010 ("BP Statistical Review 2010")) In fiscal 2010, India's coal production was 532.06 million tons (Source: Annual Plan 2010 – 11, MoC). Most of the coal produced in these countries is utilized in their respective domestic markets.

Approximately 3,278.3 mtoe of coal was consumed worldwide in 2009, almost at the same levels as compared to the consumption in 2008 (BP Statistical Review 2010). Most of the countries have a congruent consumption and production pattern, except Australia, which produces much more than its domestic demand. China consumes the maximum amount of coal, while India is the third largest consumer of coal. Asia, the biggest market for coal, currently accounts for 60.0% of global coal consumption, owing to China and India, who are the primary consumers. CRISIL expects the global non-coking coal demand to increase at a CAGR of 3.5% between 2008 and 2013 and believes that China and India are projected to account for more than half of the total non-coking coal demand by 2013. The share of Asia in total coking coal consumption is expected to increase from 70.0% in 2008 to 75.0% in 2013, while Europe's share is expected to decline from 23.0% in 2008 to 19.0% in 2013 (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). The world non-coking coal consumption in 2008 for North America (1,099.1 million tons), South and Central America (16.9 million tons), Middle East (11.9 million tons), Africa (208.2 million tons) and Asia Pacific (3,374.4 million tons) is projected to rise to 1,103.9 million tons, 17.3 million tons, 13.3 million tons, 223.7 million tons and 4,355.5 million tons respectively by 2013 while the non-coking coal consumption for Europe and Eurasia is expected to decline from 1,074.8 million tons to 1,071.8 by 2013. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). Accordingly, the demand for non-coking coal in India is projected to increase from 491 million tons in 2008 to 857 million tons in 2013 (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). Further, the combined share of China and India in total world consumption is expected to increase from 49.0% in 2008 to 55.0% in 2013 (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook).

Approximately 29.4% of the world's primary energy needs was met through coal in 2009, and coal was used to generate 41.0% of electricity used throughout the world. Further, about 13.0% of the total hard coal production is used by the steel industry. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) Generally, growth in coal consumption in developing countries is a result of higher rates of economic growth and increasing rates of electrification. According to the IEO 2010, the world coal consumption is projected to increase by 56.0%, from 132 quadrillion Btu in 2007 to 206 quadrillion Btu in 2035. The growth rate for coal consumption projected to amount to 1.1% per year from 2007 to 2020 and 2.0% per year from 2020 to 2035. (Source: IEO 2010). In addition, coal's share of total world energy consumption is projected to increase to 28.0% in 2035 while its share in the power generation sector is projected to be approximately 43.0% in 2035. (Source: IEO 2010).

Global Coal Exports and Imports

As estimated in calendar year 2007, the major coal exporting countries in the world are Australia (244 million tons), Indonesia (202 million tons), Russia (100 million tons) and South Africa (67 million tons). The major coal importing countries are Japan (182 million tons), Republic of Korea (88 million tons), Taiwan (69 million tons), the United Kingdom (50 million tons) and Germany (46 million tons). (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). In fiscal 2010, India imported about 67.74 million tons of coal. (Source: Provisional Coal Statistics 2009-10, Coal Controller's Organization, GoI)

The lack of indigenous coal resources, the technology to mine coal resources and the need for specific types of coal prompts countries to import coal. Major coal producers such as China, the United States and India also import coal for quality and logistical reasons. India has small reserves of coking coal which are generally of low quality and hence imports coking coal to meet its requirement (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook).

Overview of the Coal Sector in India

Nationalization of the Indian coal industry occurred in the early 1970s with a view to enable investment of large public fund for faster growth in coal sector and to stop wasteful mining, optimize available coal resources, improve mine standards and working conditions. Subsequently, in the context of safety, conservation and scientific development, the GoI acquired all coking coal mines on October 16, 1971 and nationalized them on May 1, 1972. Following the state takeover of non-coking coal mines on January 31, 1973, the Coal Mines Authority Limited was formed in May 1973, leading to the formation of our Company on November 1, 1975.

According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, coal is the dominant source of energy and met 52.4%, while oil and natural gas met approximately 41.6% of the total primary energy requirement of India in fiscal 2009 (Source: BP Statistics). Further, in India, during fiscal 2009, the non-coking coal off-take to the power sector was approximately 77.0% for electricity generation (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). As projected by the Planning Commission of the GoI in the Integrated Energy Policy, 2006, coal is projected to meet over 50.0 % of the primary commercial energy requirement by fiscal 2032. Known coal reserves are projected to last for over 80 years at the 2006 levels of production. (Source: Integrated Energy Policy, Report of the Expert Committee, GoI, Planning Commission, August 2006).

According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, demand for non-coking coal in the power sector is expected to increase at a CAGR of 11.3% between fiscal 2009 and 2014. In addition, according to CRISIL Coal Outlook, it expects that the total capacity addition in the power sector during fiscal 2011 and 2014 will be approximately 66 GW, of which coal based capacity additions are expected to be approximately 52 GW, which will take the total capacity of coal based power plants in India to approximately 130 GW by fiscal 2014. As a result of the high demand for coal in the thermal power and iron and steel industries, demand for non-coking coal in India is expected to increase at a rate of 11.3% from 508 million tons in fiscal 2009 to approximately 868 million tons in fiscal 2014, while the demand for coking coal is likely to increase at the rate of 9.7% in the same period. The low cost of power generation using coal and the availability of huge coal reserves in India are the major incentives for setting up coal-based power plants. Similarly, vast iron ore reserves have encouraged domestic steel players to set up huge steel capacities in India. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook).

The coal sector in India is primarily dominated by the PSUs under the central and the state governments. According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, more than 90.0% of the coal produced in India in fiscal 2009 was by government owned companies, and coal produced by us, accounted for 81.9% of coal production in India in fiscal 2009. Most of the coal produced in India is fit for use in power generation. Of the total proven reserves in India, approximately 87.0% of non-coking coal is fit for use in the power sector and the remaining reserves (coking coal) are fit for steel production. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook)

Overview of Coal Reserves and Resources in India

As of April 2010, the geological resource of Indian coal was 276.81 billion tons (Source: Geological Survey of India, GoI ("GSI, GoI")). Continuous exploration in different coalfields by national and state exploration agencies succeeded in augmenting geological coal resources of India by 9.6 billion tons during fiscal 2010 (Source: GSI, GoI). In addition, to further boost the exploration strategies, the GoI has proposed to enhance the investment from Rs. 1,009.30 million in fiscal 2010 to Rs. 2,300.00 million in fiscal 2011 for regional exploration, detailed drilling, environmental measures and subsidence control and development of transportation infrastructure in coalfields (Source: Annual Plan 2010 - 11, MoC).

Coal Demand and Supply in India

In fiscal 2008, domestic production accounted for 90.0% of the total coal consumed in India, while the rest was imported. During fiscal 2009, there was a shortage of approximately 11.0% of the coal consumption, primarily due to the growth in demand of coal. Coal in India is produced through open cast and underground mining. In India open cast mining has increased from 84.5% in fiscal 2004 to 89.1% in fiscal 2009. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook)

Coal Production and Consumption in India

According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, India is the third largest producer of coal in the world. The total coal production in India during fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010 was 457.00 million tons, 492.76 million tons and a projected 532.06 million tons, respectively, representing a growth rate of 6.1%, 7.8% and 8.0%, during the said period. The Working Group of the 11th Five-Year plan projected a gap between the demand and availability of coal in fiscal 2012 to be 51.0 million tons, which included a shortfall of 41.0 million tons and 10.0 million tons in coking coal and non-coking requirement, respectively. However, the revised projections according to the MTA estimate the shortfall to be 83.3 million tons, of which a shortfall of coking and non-coking coal is expected to be 42.48 million tons and 40.85 million tons, respectively.

Coal meets 52.4% of energy needs in India. India is the third largest consumer of coal in the world and approximately 77.0% of non-coking coal in India was consumed only by the power sector during fiscal 2009, for generation of electricity in the country (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). In addition, other industries such as steel, cement, fertilizers, bricks manufacturing, textiles and chemicals.

Demand of coal from captive plants is projected to grow at a high rate, thereby increasing its share in total demand by fiscal 2014. The following chart depicts the projected share of consumption of the different industries in India during fiscal 2014:

The primary energy consumption in India has grown by approximately 700.0% in the last four decades (Source: MoC). The current per capita commercial primary energy consumption in India is approximately 350 kgoe/year, as a result of factors such as the rising population, expanding economy and a quest for improved quality of life (Source: MoC). Energy usage in India is expected to rise to around 450 kgoe/year in 2010 (Source: MoC). Coal produced by us accounted for approximately 81.9% of coal production in India. Coal Imports

India's appetite for coal imports has grown steadily over the past years due to the constantly widening gap between demand and supply in the coal sector. As per the current import policy, coal is allowed to be freely imported under the Open General License by consumers directly. Coking coal is imported by the steel sector and coke manufacturers. Coal-based power generators and cement producers also import non-coking coal. (Source: Coal of India, 2008-09 - Coal Statistics, MoC). In fiscal 2010, India imported about 67.74 million tons (provisional) of coal which is 11.69 % of its total coal consumption. (Source: Provisional Coal Statistics 2009-10, Coal Controller's Organization, MoC) Due to the poor quality of indigenous non-coking coal, India imports non-coking coal for blending with its domestic production to increase the calorific value of coal. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) However, only 44.28 million tons of non-coking coal was imported during fiscal 2010 (Source: Provisional Coal Statistics 2009-10, Coal Controller's Organization, MoC)

Power Sector

In India, coal is the prime fuel used to fire thermal power plants due to its availability and affordability. As on June, 2010, the total installed power generation capacity in India was 162,366.8 MW. (Source: CEA, "Power Scenario at a Glance," June 2010) Further, as on June 30, 2010, the total installed thermal power generation capacity was 104,423.98 MW (or 64.3% of the total installed power generation capacity), of which coal, gas and diesel based power generation capacity was 86,003.38 MW, 17,220.85 MW and 1,199.75 MW, which accounted for 82.4%, 16.5% and 1.1% of the total thermal power generation capacity. According to GoI, Integrated Energy Policy, Report of the Expert Committee (August 2006), India projected to require 778,000 MW of installed capacity by fiscal 2032 to sustain 8% GDP growth rate.

The total energy deficit and peak power deficit from April 2009 to March 2010 was approximately 10.1% and 13.3% respectively. (Source: CEA, "Power Scenario at a Glance", April, 2010).

CRISIL Research believes that the total capacity addition in the power sector during the next five years (fiscal 2010 to 2014) which is expected to be approximately 66 GW of which coal based capacity additions are expected to be approximately 52 GW. This is expected to take the total capacity of coal based power plants by 2013-14 to approximately 130 GW.

The GoI has recognized the power sector as a key infrastructure sector to be developed to sustain Indian economic growth and has taken various steps to reform the power sector to attract private participation, increase competition and reduce aggregate technical and commercial losses ("AT&C").

Currently, Indian generation uses all available fuel options including conventional, non-conventional and emerging power generation technologies. As of March 31, 2010, thermal power plants powered by coal, gas and diesel accounted for approximately 64.3% of power generated, hydro electric plants accounted for 23.1% of power generated, nuclear power plants accounted for 2.9% of power generated and renewable energy sources accounted for approximately 9.7% of power generated.

Steel, Cement and Other Sectors

Apart from power, coal is also used in industries such as steel, cement, fertilizers and other sectors such as bricks manufacturing, textiles and chemicals. In the steel sector, coking coal is used as a reducing agent, where it is mixed with iron ore to make steel. Coal consumption in the steel sector has increased over the years, however a substantial portion of coking coal comes from imports due to the low quality of coking coal in India. Coal offtake in the cement industry increased from 13.6 million tons in fiscal 2004 to 15.3 million tons in fiscal 2009, which represented a growth of 3.1%. The offtake from the chemical, bricks and textiles industries during fiscal 2009 was 83.3 million tons, approximately 17% of the total offtake of coal. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook)

Pricing of Coal

The pricing of coal was deregulated pursuant to the colliery control order 2000 with effect from January 1, 2000 subsequent to which the coal producing companies were entitled to fix the coal prices on their own and revise the same periodically. The pricing of coal is also based on factors such as the type of coal, its net calorific value, the content level of impurities. The coal price is revised considering the escalation in input cost, inflation and landed cost of imported coal. The final customer price includes freight and other charges (royalties, sales tax and others). In India, coal price is highly competitive at all destinations of the country and rise in price position after deregulation has been less than inflation.

Coal is mostly sold under the long-term fuel supply agreements ("FSAs") that set the price of coal over the term of the contract which is periodically revised and adjusted. In addition, coal is also sold pursuant to the E-Auction scheme introduced in accordance with the New Coal Distribution Policy ("NCDP") issued in 2007.

Distribution and Marketing Policy

A NCDP has been issued on October 18, 2007 with an objective to meet the demand of coal from consumers of different sectors of the economy, both on short term and long term basis, in an assured, sustained transparent and efficient manner with built-in commercial discipline. Salient features of the NCDP are as follows:

- Existing classification of core and non core sector was dispensed with under this new distribution policy. Each sector/consumers would be treated on merit keeping in view regulatory provision applicable thereto and coal will accordingly be supplied through FSAs;
- Power (utilities), including Independent Power Producers ("IPP")/Captive Power Plants ("CPP"), the fertilizer sector, the defense and the railway sector would receive 100% of their normative coal requirement, while the other consumers would receive 75%.
- Supply of coal to steel plants would be based on FSA and pricing would be on import parity pricing.
- Consumers in the small and medium sector, requiring coal less than 4200 tons annually will take coal either from the State Government Notified Agencies or from CIL through FSAs;

- Linkage system will be replaced by FSA;
- New consumers such as power utilities, IPP, CPP, fertiliser and cement manufacturers will be issued with a Letter of Assurance ("LOA"), with a validity of 24 months which can be converted to an FSA on successfully meeting certain criteria;
- The Existing Standing Linkage Committee will continue to recommend LOAs in respect of power utilities, IPP, CPP, cement and steel manufacturers.

For further information, please see "Business – Distribution of Coal" beginning on page 97.

Logistics

Coal is mostly produced in the Central and Eastern parts of India, while it is consumed all over the country. As coal is predominantly used in power, cement and steel sectors and its consumption is distributed throughout India, it needs to be transported over long distances. In India, coal is typically transported using rail, road and sea routes of which rail accounts for 46.3% of the mode of transportation. Coal is also the single largest commodity transported by rail and is governed by a preferential traffic schedule of the Indian Railways. Coal handling at Indian ports was 91.9 million tons during fiscal 2009 and formed approximately 12.0% of the total traffic at major ports in India during that period. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook)

(Source: Provisional Coal Statistics 2009-10, Coal Controller's Organization, MoC)

Currently, passengers and freight are ferried in India on the same railway tracks and trains carrying passengers are given priority over those carrying goods. The railway infrastructure, in terms of line capacity and rolling stock, does not match up with the existing demand for container transportation. Further, there is concern over the expansion plans with regard to the transportation of coal. In India, coal is transported through a single rake system that contain 58 wagons, each carrying a capacity of 58 tons, and a total capacity of 3,364 tons. However, in North America, one rake has 125 wagons and each wagon carries a capacity of 100 tons (total capacity of 12,500 tons), while Australia has an average capacity of 9,600 tons. To improve the rail infrastructure, the annual plan outlay for fiscal 2010 includes an investment of Rs. 407.50 billion. The GoI is planning to acquire 18,000 wagons in fiscal 2010 as compared to 11,000 wagon it acquired in fiscal 2009. Further, new proposals have been introduced for better rail connectivity. In addition, approximately 2,093 kilometers of track is being built to strengthen the connectivity of the four metros of Delhi, Kolkata, Chennai and Mumbai (also known as the golden quadrilateral) at an estimated investment of Rs. 53.4 billion. Railway tracks are also being built connecting the various ports and covering a distance of approximately 2,852 kilometers. Further, the National Maritime Development Programme has formulated plans to improve port capacity, which involves 387 projects with an estimated investment of Rs. 1,003.4 billion on maritime infrastructure. Coal Characteristics

Coal is characterized by its use as either "steam coal" or "metallurgical coal." Steam/thermal coal, is used by electricity generators and by industrial facilities to produce steam, electricity or both. Metallurgical/ coking coal is used to produce coke, which is used as a reluctant in blast furnaces for the production of steel.

There are four types of coal by geological composition: lignite, sub-bituminous, bituminous and anthracite. Energy content and sulphur content are the most important coal characteristics and help to determine the best use of particular types of coal, as well as being used to determine the price of different qualities of coal.

Energy Content

The energy content of coal is commonly measured as the heat released on complete combustion in air or oxygen, expressed as the amount of heat (measured in kilocalories) per unit weight of coal (measured in kilograms) or “kcal/kg.” Bituminous coal is a “soft” black coal with energy content generally higher and moisture content generally lower than sub-bituminous coal and is the type most commonly used for electricity generation. Bituminous coal is used for utility and industrial steam purposes, and includes metallurgical coal, a feedstock for coke, which is used in steel production. Sub-bituminous coal is a black coal most commonly used by electricity generators and some industrial consumers. Generally, coal with higher energy content commands a premium.

Sulphur Content

Coal combustion produces sulphur dioxide, the amount of which varies depending on the chemical composition and the concentration of sulphur in the coal. Low-sulphur coal is coal with a sulphur content of 1.0% or less by weight. Sub-bituminous coal typically has a lower sulphur content than bituminous coal. Coal with lower sulphur content is considered to be of a higher quality as electricity generators worldwide have increasingly become subject to various regulatory restrictions intended to reduce sulphur dioxide emissions.

Other Characteristics

Ash is the inorganic residue remaining after the combustion of coal. Coal with lower ash content is considered to be of a higher quality. The moisture content of coal varies by the type of coal, the region where it is mined and the location of coal within a seam. In general, high moisture content decreases the energy content and increases the weight of the coal, thereby making it more expensive to transport. Moisture content in coal, as sold, can range from approximately 5.0% to 30.0% of the coal’s weight. Coal with lower moisture content is considered to be of a higher quality.

Types of Coal

Coking coal

This type of coal when heated in the absence of oxygen, forms a strong and coherent mass free from volatiles, called coke. Coking coal is primarily used in steel making and metallurgical industries and for manufacturing hard coke.

Semi-coking or weakly coking coal

This type of coal, when heated in the absence of air, forms a coherent mass not strong enough to be directly fed into the blast furnace. Such coal is blended with coking coal in adequate proportion to make coke. This type of coal has comparatively less coking properties than coking coal and is primarily used as blendable coal in steel making, merchant coke manufacturing and other metallurgical industries.

Non-coking coal

This type of coal is without any coking properties and is primarily used as thermal grade coal for power generation, in cement, fertilizer, glass, ceramic, paper, chemical and brick manufacturing industries, and for other heating purposes.

Hard coke

Hard coke is formed from coking or semi-coking coal through the process of carbonization and is primarily used in metallurgical industries and in industrial plants that utilize furnaces.

Coal Beneficiation

Coal washing, technically called coal beneficiation, is a process by which the quality of raw coal is improved by reducing the ash content and extraneous matter that gets extracted along with the mined coal. Such coal is primarily used in manufacturing of hard coke for making steel. Beneficiated and washed non-coking coal is primarily used for power generation and by cement, sponge iron and other industrial plants.

India's coal reserves are primarily low quality coal reserves with high ash and moisture content. The grade of non-coking coal is dependent on the heat value and primarily most of India coal is between Grades D and F. In addition, run-of-mine coal, on average, has ash content between 36-45% and burning coal of higher ash content produces higher emissions of carbon dioxide, sulphur and other particulate matter, all of which contribute to air pollution, which makes coal washing increasingly important. Coal Mining Techniques

The mining technique to be used depends on the depth of the coal seam. If the seam is deep inside the earth, then underground mining needs to be employed. If the seam is the near surface, opencast mining can be used. However, there is no demarcated depth stating when underground or opencast mining should be employed, as the type of soil, overburden (refers to the layer between the coal seams and the surface) ratio and a few other factors also determine the type of mine.

Broadly there are two ways to mine coal: (i) open cast/surface mining; and (ii) underground mining.

Open Cast (Surface) Mining

In OM, the whole portion of land (overburden) is dug from the top until the coal seam is sighted. This is known as surface mining. The ratio of overburden excavated to the amount of coal removed is called the overburden ratio. The productivity of the mine is inversely proportional to the ratio.

Underground Mining

In this type of mining, coal is found deep inside the earth. The depth can vary from a few metres to more than 1,000 metres. Here, a small portion of land is excavated until the coal seam is found. Such mines have to be developed deep inside the earth. This also affects productivity vis-à-vis opencast production. When the coal seam is found, different techniques are applied to extract coal.

There are three types of underground coal mines; (a) shaft mines, (b) slope mines and (c) coal mines. The decision on what type of mine to construct depends on the depth of the coal seam and surrounding terrain.

Other Coal Based Technologies

Coal-to-liquid

Coal-to-liquid technology involves converting coal to a liquid fuel - a process known as liquefaction. The liquid fuel can be refined to produce transport fuels like diesel, gasoline and other oil products, such as plastics and solvents. There are two key methods of liquefaction - direct coal liquefaction and indirect coal liquefaction.

Direct coal liquefaction involves conversion of coal to a liquid by dissolving coal in a solvent at high temperature and pressure. The process is followed by hydrocracking (that is, adding oxygen over a catalyst). Hydrocracking results in further refining of the liquid products to achieve high-grade fuel characteristics.

Indirect liquefaction involves the complete breakdown of the coal structure by gasification with steam. The composition of this synthesis gas, or 'syngas' is adjusted to give the required balance of hydrogen and carbon monoxide. Sulphur compounds are also removed at this stage to prevent poisoning of the reaction catalyst and to provide low sulphur transport fuels. The syngas then reacts with a catalyst at relatively low pressure and temperature. Products vary according to the reaction conditions and catalyst.

Carbon dioxide emissions from the liquefaction process can be reduced through carbon capture and storage ("CCS"). CCS involves capture of carbon dioxide emissions from the source, followed by transportation to and storage in geological formations.

Underground Coal Gasification ("UCG")

UCG is a method of converting unmined coal into combustible syngas - a combination of hydrogen and carbon monoxide. In its simplest form, the UCG process involves drilling two deep boreholes into the coal seam, one for injecting oxidants (water/air or water/oxygen mixtures) and another one for recovering product gas. The boreholes are connected by special linking techniques. The coal is then heated and due to careful regulation of the oxidant flow, it does not burn, but rather separates into the syngas. The syngas is then drawn out of the second well. The gas is used for power generation, industrial heating or as chemical feedstock.

Coal-bed Methane ("CBM")

Coal-bed methane is simply methane found in coal seams. It is produced by non-traditional means. CBM is generated either from a biological process as a result of microbial action, or from a thermal process as a result of increasing heat within the depths of the coal seams. Often, when a coal seam is saturated with water, methane is trapped in the coal due to water pressure. CBM extraction is a method for extracting methane from a coal deposit. To retrieve methane, wells are drilled into the deposit, the seam is dewatered and methane is extracted from the seam. Water pressure in the coal seam is decreased by pumping some of the water through the well. CBM has very low solubility in water and readily separates as pressure decreases, allowing it to be piped out of the well separately from the water. Water flowing from the coal seam to the well bore encourages gas migration towards the well and to the surface. The gas obtained is captured and transported through pipelines to storage facilities or is shipped.

OUR BUSINESS

Overview

We are the largest coal producing company in the world (Source: CRISIL Research), based on our raw coal production of 431.26 million tons in fiscal 2010. We are also the largest coal reserve holder in the world (Source: CRISIL Research) based on our reserve base as of April 1, 2010. For further information on our reserve and resource base, see "Coal Reserve and Resource Information" beginning on page 75.

India is the world's third largest producer and consumer of coal. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) Coal produced by us accounted for approximately 81.9% of coal production in India in fiscal 2009 (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, the power generation sector in India consumed 77.0% of the total coal produced in fiscal 2009. Further, in fiscal 2009, coal met 52.4%, while oil and natural gas met 41.6%, of the total primary energy requirement of India. (Source: BP Statistics)

As of March 31, 2010, we operated 471 mines in 21 major coalfields across eight states in India, including 163 open cast mines, 273 underground mines and 35 mixed mines (which include both open cast and underground mines). We produce non-coking coal and coking coal of various grades for diverse applications. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, we produced 379.46 million tons, 403.73 million tons and 431.26 million tons, respectively, of raw coal. Non-coking coal represents a substantial majority of our raw coal production, and represented 93.1%, 93.4% and 91.6% of our total coal production in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. Most of our coal production is from open cast mines. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, raw coal produced from open cast mines represented 88.5%, 89.1% and 90.0%, respectively, of our total raw coal production. We continue to expand our raw coal production capacities. As of March 31, 2010, 45 projects (comprising 22 capacity expansion projects for existing mines and 23 new mine projects) had received relevant investment approval (of our Board and the board of directors of relevant Subsidiary companies) and were in various stages of mine planning and development: (i) 25 projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 47.51 million tons per annum were at various stages of implementation and are expected to become operational by the end of fiscal 2012; and (ii) 20 longer gestation projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 33.27 million tons per annum, are expected to become operational during the 12th Five Year Plan period (2013-2018).

Some of the raw coal we produce is used for the production of beneficiated coal. As of March 31, 2010, we operated 17 coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate designed feedstock capacity of 39.40 million tons per annum. In addition, we intend to develop an additional 20 coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate additional proposed feedstock capacity of 111.10 million tons per annum. Further, we also intend that all new open cast mining projects with coal production capacities greater than 2.5 million tons per annum not linked to pit head customers will be equipped with dedicated coal beneficiation facilities.

We sell substantially all of the raw coal we produce in the Indian market. Our customers include large thermal power generation companies, steel and cement producers and other industrial companies in the public and private sector with many of whom we have long-standing relationships. Most of our coal is used in the thermal power sector in India. NTPC, a public sector power generation company and utility, has historically been our most significant customer, and our five largest customers are all public sector power utilities. Following the introduction of the New Coal Distribution Policy ("NCDP") by the GoI in October 2007, we commenced the sale of our raw coal under long-term fuel supply agreements ("FSAs").

Our Company was established in 1973 and is wholly owned by the GoI. Our coal production operations are primarily carried out through seven of our wholly-owned Subsidiaries in India. In addition, another wholly-owned Subsidiary, CMPDIL, carries out exploration activities for our Subsidiaries and provides technical and consultancy services for our operations as well as to third-party clients for coal exploration, mining, processing and related activities. We have also established a wholly-owned subsidiary in Mozambique, Coal India Africana Limitada ("CIAL"), to pursue coal mining opportunities in Mozambique and have acquired prospecting licenses for two coal blocks in Mozambique. We have been conferred the Navratna status by the GoI, which provides us certain operational and financial autonomy. In addition, six of our wholly owned Subsidiaries, including CMPDIL, have also been accorded the Mini Ratna status by the GoI.

We continue to focus on maintaining a safe work environment through the implementation of our safety policies and a structured multidisciplinary safety organization that oversees our operations. We have established and continue to focus on various environmental initiatives including land reclamation and restoration in open cast mines, water harvesting, afforestation and rehabilitation at our mines. We have also implemented satellite surveillance for our land reclamation and restoration and afforestation and rehabilitation initiatives. We have also made significant investments in education, health and community development initiatives.

Our total income increased from Rs.340,087.99 million in fiscal 2006 to Rs.525,922.92 million in fiscal 2010, while our profit after tax, as restated, increased from Rs.61,136.01 million in fiscal 2006 to Rs.98,294.09 million in fiscal 2010. As of March 31, 2010, we had reserves and surplus of Rs.195,289.14 million, and our net worth was Rs.258,437.43 million. As of March 31, 2010, our cash and bank balances were Rs.390,777.60 million while total indebtedness was Rs.20,868.51 million. As of March 31, 2010, we had 397,138 employees, including 15,092 executives, 38,475 supervisors and 343,571 workmen.

Our Competitive Strengths

The largest coal producer and reserve holder in the world

We are the largest coal producing company in the world (Source: CRISIL Research), based on our raw coal production of 431.26 million tons in fiscal 2010. Our raw coal production increased from 343.39 million tons in fiscal 2006 to 431.26 million tons in fiscal 2010. In fiscal 2009, coal produced by us accounted for 81.9% of coal production in India. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) As of March 31, 2010, we operated 471 mines in 21 major coalfields across eight states in India. Our large scale of operations enables us to realize economies of scale in production, procurement and sales.

We are also the largest coal reserve holder in the world (Source: CRISIL Research). As of April 1, 2010, we had total coal resources of 64,786 million tons, comprising, as classified under the ISP Guidelines, Proved Geological Reserves of 52,546 million tons, Indicated Geological Reserves of 10,298 million tons and Inferred Geological Reserves of 1,942 million tons. As of April 1, 2010, from our total coal resources of 64,786 million tons, 30,356 million tons had been considered for mining studies (mine planning and feasibility studies), and the remaining coal resources of 34,430 million tons had not yet been considered for mining studies. From the 30,356 million tons of coal resources that had been considered for mining studies as of April 1, 2010, 21,754 million tons has been estimated as our Extractable Reserves. For further information, see “ – Reserve and Resource Base Information” beginning on page 75. We have also recently undertaken various initiatives for the acquisition of coal assets outside India and have acquired prospecting licenses for two coal blocks in Mozambique.

Well positioned to capitalize on the high demand for coal in India

We believe we are well positioned to capitalize on the high demand for coal in India, particularly in the thermal power, iron and steel, cement and other manufacturing and industrial sectors. As a result of the high demand for coal in the thermal power sector and the iron and steel industry, demand for non-coking coal in India is projected to grow at a CAGR of 11.3% from 508 million tons in fiscal 2009 to approximately 868 million tons in fiscal 2014, while the demand for coking coal is likely to increase at CAGR of 9.7% in the same period (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook).

Most of our raw coal production is supplied for use in the thermal power sector in India. Raw coal dispatched to customers in the power sector (including to captive power plants in other industries) represented 82.7%, 81.4% and 79.9% of our total raw coal dispatch in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. The relatively low per capita consumption of power in India compared to the world average and the continuing power deficit in India presents significant potential for growth in the demand for power in India, and demand for non-coking coal in the thermal power sector is projected to grow at a CAGR of 11.3% between fiscal 2009 and fiscal 2014 (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). Because of our pre-eminent position in the coal industry in India, the continuing dependence of the power sector on coal as a cost effective source of fuel and our long standing relationship with significant customers such as NTPC and other government-owned and controlled power utilities, we believe we play a strategic role in the development of India's thermal power sector, which continues to be a key driver for growth in the Indian economy.

Track record of growth and cost efficient operations

We have achieved significant growth in our operations in recent years, with a focus on increasing production and redeployment of resources and workforce from less productive units to more productive units. We have increased production from 343.39 million tons in fiscal 2006 to 431.26 million tons in fiscal 2010, which represents a CAGR of 5.9%.

We believe that our cost efficient operations enable us to enjoy cost competitiveness with other international coal producers. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, our average cost per ton of raw coal produced (calculated on the basis of total expenditure, as adjusted for restatement adjustments other than restatement for tax impact, divided by total raw coal production in these periods) was Rs.714.81, Rs.737.88 and Rs.745.06, respectively. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Unit Cost of Production” on page 185 and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Results of Operations – Adjustment for Restatements” on page 195.

We benefit from favorable geographic and geological conditions of many of the coalfields in which we operate, including relatively thick flat-lying coal seams located at shallow depths, stable ground conditions, relatively simple geological structures and low stripping ratio which enables us to bring into operation large open cast mines within relatively short time frames with relatively low specific investment. In addition, a majority of our raw coal production is from open cast mines where cost of production is significantly lower than in underground mines due to favorable geo-economic conditions and lower employee and equipment cost. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, raw coal produced from open cast mines represented 88.5%, 89.1% and 90.0%, respectively, of our total raw coal production. We have upgraded our technologies and equipment for our open cast mines, including high capacity surface miners, shovels, dumpers and draglines. In fiscal 2008, 2009, 2010, the average cost per ton of raw coal produced from our open cast mines (calculated on the basis of total expenditure for raw coal produced from open mines, as adjusted for restatement adjustments other than restatement for tax impact, divided by total raw coal production from open mines) was Rs.476.42, Rs.506.87 and Rs.520.06, respectively, while the average cost per ton of raw coal produced from underground mines (calculated on the basis of total expenditure for raw coal produced from underground mines, as adjusted for restatement adjustments other than restatement for tax impact, divided by total raw coal production from underground mines) was Rs.2,583.84, Rs.2,660.37 and Rs.2,795.98, respectively. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Unit Cost of Production” on page 185. Employee costs represent the largest component of our operating expenditure and we benefit from India’s relatively low employee and labor costs as compared to other industrial nations.

Since the price of coal has significant ramifications on the Indian economy in general and the thermal power sector in particular, we have followed a strategy of focusing on improving cost efficiencies. We have increased the price of our raw coal from time to time to primarily address increases in production costs that were not possible to be offset by productivity and efficiency improvements. Consequently, our raw coal price increases have been lower than average inflation rates in India and are significantly less than the landed cost of imported coal in India. The annualized rate of increase in the price of our raw coal since January 2000 when the price of coal was completely deregulated until March 31, 2010 was 4.9%. We believe that the price of our raw coal is lower than the price of coal sold in international markets and the landed cost of imported coal in India, even on adjustment for respective GCV values. For information on price of our coal compared to Indonesian and South African coal on an equated energy basis, See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Sales Volume and Pricing – Pricing” beginning on page 179.

Strong track record of financial performance

We believe that our strong track record of financial performance and steady cash flows from our existing operations provide us with sufficient resources to fund our projects, support our working capital requirements, service our existing debt on a timely basis and maintain a healthy level of cash on our balance sheet. Our total income increased from Rs.340,087.99 million in fiscal 2006 to Rs.525,922.92 million in fiscal 2010, while our profit after tax, as restated, increased from Rs.61,136.01 million in fiscal 2006 to Rs.98,294.09 million in fiscal 2010, representing profit margin after tax of 18.0% and 18.7% in fiscal 2006 and 2010, respectively. As of March 31, 2010, we had reserves and surplus of Rs.195,289.14 million, and our net worth was Rs.258,437.43 million.

As of March 31, 2010, our cash and bank balances were Rs.390,777.60 million while total indebtedness was Rs.20,868.51 million. Our working capital as of March 31, 2010 was Rs.129,419.04 million and current ratio (current assets divided by current liabilities) was 1.31.

Strong capabilities for exploration, mine planning, research and development

Our wholly-owned Subsidiary CMPDIL is an established exploration and coal mine design and planning institute in India and provides technical and consultancy services for our operations as well as to third party clients for geological exploration and drilling, mine planning and design, coal beneficiation and utilization, allied engineering services, human resource development, environmental engineering, information and communication technology, research and development and laboratory and field services. CMPDIL has significant knowledge of geological and geo-mining conditions in India and is a repository of information relating to coal blocks in India, which enables us to implement effective mine development and mine planning activities. CMPDIL has received certifications such as the ISO-9001: 2000. CMPDIL has undertaken a number of integrated coal exploration projects in varying geological and terrain conditions and executed drilling operations in various coal blocks spread across India.

In fiscal 2010, we achieved approximately 0.47 million meters of drilling operations under the supervision of CMPDIL and intend to continue to introduce modern technologies and advanced equipment to achieve a higher targeted drilling capacity. We believe that the strong research and development capabilities and technical expertise of CMPDIL is an important strength that has enabled sustained growth in our operations, increase production, the introduction of technological and equipment initiatives to improve operating efficiencies, as well as identify and formulate new projects.

Experienced senior management team and large pool of skilled employees

Our senior management team has extensive experience in the coal industry, and brings to our Company industry experience and knowledge of exploration and production, cost and operational efficiencies, financial structuring, coal marketing and business development initiatives. Several members of our senior management team have been with our Company or our Subsidiaries for more than 30 years and are knowledgeable about our operations. We also have a large pool of skilled employees, including technically qualified professionals, with relevant industry experience. As of March 31, 2010, we had 397,138 employees, including 15,092 executives, 38,475 supervisors and 343,571 workmen.

Business Strategies

Continue to increase production and capitalize on the significant demand-supply gap for coal in India

We seek to steadily increase our raw coal production and provide accessibility of our resources by increasingly deploying advanced equipment, including those developed by our research and development initiatives, in our coal mining and production process. As of March 31, 2010, the gross rated production capacity of our current operations was 461.86 million tons per annum. As contemplated in the Annual Plan 2011 of the MoC, we intend to increase our production to 460.50 million tons in fiscal 2011 and to 486.50 million tons in fiscal 2012. Our future plans focus on mining deeper seams of comparatively better quality coal and our capital equipment program has been formulated with a view to increasing our production.

- Expand capacity of existing mines and develop new projects. We continue to focus on the expansion of our existing mine capacities and the development of new mines. As of March 31, 2010, 45 expansion and new projects had received relevant investment approval and were in various stages of mine planning and development: (i) 25 projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 47.51 million tons per annum, were at various stages of implementation as of March 31, 2010, and are expected to become operational by the end of fiscal 2012; and (ii) 20 projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 33.27 million tons per annum, involve longer gestation periods and are expected to become operational during the 12th Five-Year Plan (fiscal 2013-2018). We continue to assess various factors relating to the commercial viability of these proposed projects, including the quantity and quality of resources, equipment requirements, applicable permits, and the time and cost involved.
- Increase productivity of our underground mines and revive abandoned mines. Historically coal produced from our underground mines has contributed a small percentage of our total raw coal production. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010 raw coal produced from our underground mines represented 11.5%, 10.9% and 10.0%, respectively, of our total raw coal production in these periods. We intend to focus on increased production from our underground mines, including large reserves below 300 meters depth, by deploying advanced production equipment and technologies. We have also identified, and propose to re-work mining operations at 18 underground mines that were abandoned in the past primarily because of safety issues and due to lack of adequate technology. We believe that these underground mining projects present significant production potential and we have undertaken initiatives for the selection of suitable international mining companies as technology partners to re-work these mines as joint venture initiatives. We have also entered into an agreement with DVC and BEML for the acquisition of the assets of Mining and Allied Machineries Corporation ("MAMC") at Durgapur, which intends to manufacture a range of mining equipment specifically for underground mines.

Improve realizations through increased sales of beneficiated coal and higher quality coal, and the use of E-Auction pricing mechanisms

In order to capitalize on the increasing demand for beneficiated coal, we intend to expand our existing coal beneficiation infrastructure which is currently comprised of 17 coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate designed feedstock capacity as of March 31, 2010 of 39.40 million tons per annum, by developing an additional 20 coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate additional proposed feedstock capacity of 111.10 million tons per annum. We intend that all new open cast mines with coal production capacities greater than 2.5 million tons per annum, which are not linked to pit head customers will be equipped with dedicated coal beneficiation facilities. Although the cost of production of beneficiated coal is not significantly higher than the cost of production of non-beneficiated coal, because of its higher calorific value, reduced ash content and associated benefits, as well as lower environmental pollution, beneficiated coal commands significantly higher prices than non-beneficiated coal. The price of beneficiated non-coking coal is determined on the basis of cost of production and an appropriate margin for the value addition provided. The price of beneficiated coking coal sold under specific memorandum of understandings are negotiated directly with the customer and is fixed at a price that is generally at a discount to the prevailing landed cost of comparative quality imported coal. In terms of calorific value, our beneficiated coal is comparable to imported coal, and we believe that the difference between the cost of our beneficiated coal and the landed cost of imported coal in India presents potentially significant opportunity for increased sales of our beneficiated coal, which will enable us to improve our margins. In addition, under applicable Indian regulations, all power plants located at a distance greater than 1,000 kilometers from the coal mines or located in urban areas and other specified areas are required to use coal with ash percentage not exceeding 34.0% on an annual average basis for power generation, and we believe that this will enhance the demand of our beneficiated coal.

We intend to increase the sale of higher quality non-coking coal (Grade A, B and C coal with GCV greater than 5,597 Kcal/Kg) under specific memorandum of understandings negotiated with the customer. The price of such coal is fixed at a price that is generally at a discount to the prevailing landed cost of comparative quality imported coal, and is typically significantly higher than the notified price of non-coking coal of the same grades sold pursuant to our FSAs.

We also propose to pursue market driven pricing mechanisms in order to achieve better realizations for our coal. In this connection, we operate a spot electronic auction scheme known as "E-Auction scheme" for providing a source of coal to all kinds of customers. We have also implemented a forward E-Auction scheme to provide access to coal for customers that wish to have an assured supply of coal over a period of time through the E-Auction scheme to enable them to plan their operations and coal consumption. The reserve price of raw coal sold pursuant to our E-Auction scheme is determined on the basis of prevailing market prices. The price of raw coal sold under our E-Auction scheme is significantly higher than the price of raw coal sold pursuant to our FSAs as notified by us from time to time. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, the volume of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme was 28.79 million tons, 48.87 million tons and 45.73 million tons, respectively. As a percentage of total volume of raw coal sold in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, the volume of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme was 8.1%, 12.9% and 11.6%, respectively. The average price of raw coal allotted through the E-Auction scheme, calculated as value of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme divided by the total volume of raw coal allotted through the E-Auction scheme, was Rs.1,346.73 per ton, Rs.1,480.76 per ton, and Rs.1,582.80 per ton in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. As a percentage of total sales in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, the value of raw coal allotted under E-Auction scheme was 11.9%, 18.7% and 16.2%, respectively.

Enhance our profitability and maintain our competitiveness by improving operating and cost efficiencies

We intend to enhance our profitability and maintain our competitiveness by improving our operating efficiencies by increasing productivity, reducing per unit production costs, implementing advanced mechanized production technologies and equipment and expanding and integrating our transportation and logistics infrastructure.

We believe that the use of advanced equipment and technology will enable us to achieve significant productivity enhancements. We plan to introduce modern mine planning technologies for our underground mines, deeper open cast mines and mines with high quality thin seams. We intend to increase the use of higher capacity surface miners for efficient coal recovery from our open cast mines and advanced equipment such as "PSLWs" and "continuous miners" for our underground mines wherever geo-mining conditions permit.

We also intend to continue to improve operating efficiencies by undertaking strategic cost reductions, reviving non-performing projects, reallocating and redeploying our workforce from non-performing projects to new projects or more productive projects, and continuing to work with our employee unions to improve labor productivity. We also intend to continue to selectively outsource certain of our operations to enable us to achieve better operating efficiencies.

We intend to further integrate our transportation and logistics infrastructure including through the increase of mechanized rapid loading facilities and the implementation of automated truck dispatch systems for efficient fleet management for internal coal transportation. We continue to evaluate various initiatives for the upgradation of our current railway infrastructure in consultation with RITES Limited ("RITES"). We have invested in railway sidings to connect our coalfields to dedicated freight corridors and other evacuation centers. We are also currently evaluating proposals for the development of dedicated berths for coal unloading facilities at the Vishakhapatnam port in Andhra Pradesh, India, which will facilitate supply of imported as well as domestic coal to our customers. The facility is expected to be used for coastal shipment of domestic coal from the Talcher and IB Valley coalfields to our customers in the southern and south-eastern regions of India and result in reduction of transportation time and costs. We intend to enter into strategic JVs for the establishment of such dedicated berths and continue to evaluate suitable joint venture opportunities.

Continue to increase our reserve base in India

We continue to leverage our strong exploration capabilities and technical expertise related to mining activities to strengthen our reserve base. We utilize a systematic exploration plan to implement our reserve strategy, which is focused on enhancing productivity and increasing the size of our reserve base. We continue to invest in updating our equipment and technology to develop a geological database of our resources to optimize the development and utilization of our resource base. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, we incurred approximately Rs.988.82 million, Rs.1,738.62 million and Rs.2,486.51 million, respectively, in exploration and drilling expenses related to our coal mining activities. We intend to significantly increase exploratory drilling targets for our existing mines to assess the viability of our resources and maximize the development of our resource base on a continuous basis.

Acquire strategic international resources or mining rights and identify joint development opportunities

We intend to continue to build our coal resources through the identification of suitable investment opportunities outside India particularly in Africa, Indonesia and the Asia Pacific region, that we believe will enhance our revenue growth, operations and profitability. Consistent with this strategy, we have acquired prospecting licenses for, and intend to enter into strategic joint ventures for the development of, two coal blocks in Mozambique.

As part of our strategy for international expansion, we plan to make equity investments in strategic brownfield and greenfield coal assets and enter into long-term off take arrangements for the import of coal into India. We have initiated the process of selecting coal companies as prospective strategic partners for our international initiatives in Australia, the United States, South Africa and Indonesia, countries from which coal is currently imported into India. We have commenced the due diligence process and are currently evaluating proposals for the acquisition of coal assets in Australia, Indonesia and the United States. We have also established a strategic joint venture ICVL with four large Indian public sector companies across diverse industries, namely, SAIL, NTPC, NMDC and RINL for the acquisition of coal assets outside India.

Continue to focus on developing environmentally and socially sustainable operations

We seek to continue to focus on developing environmentally and socially sustainable operations.

Health and Safety. We seek to continue to focus on maintaining a safe work environment through the implementation of our safety policy and a structured multidisciplinary internal safety oversight body to oversee safety in our operations. We continue to focus on reducing employee injury incident rates and avoid lost time injuries. We continue to invest in advanced equipment and technology for increased mechanization of our coal mining operations to enhance the safety of our workforce.

Environment. We have implemented and seek to continue to implement various environmental initiatives such as land reclamation/restoration of open cast mines, ground water re-charge/water harvesting, reforestation and rehabilitation of mining areas during and after mining activities. We seek to continue the implementation of our satellite surveillance program to monitor the land reclamation and reforestation of major open cast mines. We have initiated the process of integrating environment management system (ISO:14001) along with quality management system (ISO:9001) and as of June 2010, 53 of our projects including one coal beneficiation have been accredited with ISO:14001 certification. We intend to integrate these systems in all our mines in phases.

We continue to implement more environment-friendly mining technologies and coal beneficiation facilities and use of more environment-friendly equipment such as surface miners in open cast mines, which reduces noise pollution. We continue to provide effluent treatment facilities for treatment of effluent generated from our mines, workshops, colonies and coal handling plants at our various mining areas. We continue to implement mine reclamation and reforestation initiatives at our mines and we believe we have achieved success in these areas in various coalfields. We maintain environmental management systems to facilitate our compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

Community development. We continue to focus on the development of communities that are affected by our projects through our corporate social responsibility ("CSR") initiatives, including the provision of employment and cash compensation for land acquisition. Under our CSR policy, 5.0% of retained earnings of the previous fiscal year, subject to a minimum of Rs.5.00 per ton of raw coal production, is allocated for our CSR budget. Accordingly, our CSR budget for fiscal 2011 is Rs.2,622.80 million. We have made significant investments in education, health and community development initiatives for our employees and communities affected by our projects.

Our corporate environmental and social management systems, and resettlement and rehabilitation policies comply with all applicable Indian laws and regulations. We believe these policies are consistent with internationally accepted standards.

We were established in 1973 as a wholly-owned enterprise of the GoI. We have 11 direct and indirect Subsidiaries. Nine of our Subsidiaries are involved in coal production in India: SECL, MCL, NCL, CCL, WCL, ECL, BCCL, MNS and MJSJ. Another Subsidiary, CMPDIL, provides technical and consultancy services for our operations as well as third party clients for coal exploration, mining, processing and related activities. We have also established CIAL to pursue coal mining opportunities in Mozambique.

We have established a joint venture, ICVL, with SAIL, NTPC, NMDC and RINL for the acquisition of coal assets outside India. SAIL and our Company each holds a 28.7% equity interest in ICVL and NTPC, RINL and NMDC each hold a 14.3% equity interest. In addition, we have also entered into a joint venture with NTPC to establish CIL NTPC Urja Private Limited ("CIL NTPC Urja"), a company formed primarily to jointly undertake the development, operation and maintenance of certain coal mine blocks in Jharkhand, and integrated coal-based power plants. NTPC and our Company each hold 50.0% equity interest in CIL NTPC Urja. We have also entered into an agreement with DVC and BEML to acquire the assets of MAMC at Durgapur, which manufactures a range of mining equipment specifically for underground mines. Our Company and DVC each hold a 26.0% equity interest in MAMC and BEML holds the remaining 48.0% equity interest. We have also entered into a memorandum of understanding with GAIL (India) Limited ("GAIL") in January 2008 ("GAIL MoU") for the joint development of a surface coal gasification project for the production of synthesis gas to be used as a feedstock for fertilizer production. Further to the GAIL MoU, we entered into a memorandum of intent in December 2009 with GAIL and Rashtriya Chemicals and Fertilizers Limited ("RCF") to jointly set-up a coal gasification based ammonia urea and ammonium nitrate complex. GAIL is required to co-ordinate all pre-project activities, RCF is responsible for engaging a consultant for the detailed feasibility report and technology selection services, while we are to facilitate coal availability. For further information, see "History and Certain Corporate Matters - Material Agreements" beginning on page 356.

We have been conferred the Navratna status by the GoI, which provides us with certain operational and financial autonomy, including for the approval of capital investment without any limit for projects in India and the formation of joint ventures or wholly owned subsidiaries within India and outside India up to 30.0% of our net worth. In addition, our Subsidiaries SECL, MCL, CCL, NCL, WCL and CMPDIL have also been accorded Mini Ratna status by the GoI. Under our MoU, we have received an "excellent" rating for fiscal 2008 and 2009 and have also received a provisional rating of "excellent" from the MoC for fiscal 2010.

The chart below sets out our corporate structure:

Presentation of Reserve and Reserve Base Information

We follow the Indian Standard Procedure guidelines (the ISP Guidelines) for coal resource estimation and reporting. The methodology followed for coal resource estimation and the resource classification under the ISP Guidelines is different from, and may not be comparable to that followed under certain international codes such as the 2004 Australasian Code for Reporting of Exploration Results, Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves (JORC Code) and the Combined Reserves International Reporting Standards Committee Code (CRIRSCO Code).

In connection with this Offer, SRK Mining Services (India) Private Limited and SRK Consulting (UK) Limited (collectively, SRK), independent mining and geological consultancy firms, have reviewed our technical assessment and reserve and resource reporting practices and the integrity of the reserve and resource estimates we produce. The executive summary of the report prepared by SRK in August 2010 (the "SRK ISP Report") is annexed to this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

We follow the following classification for our coal resource estimation in accordance with the ISP Guidelines:

- Proved Geological Reserves. Proved Geological Reserves represent resource base with the highest confidence. The delineated tonnage within an area falling within a radius of 200 meters around boreholes is categorized as Proved Geological Reserves. Proved Geological Reserves can be produced only on the completion of detailed exploration.
- Indicated Geological Reserves. Indicated Geological Reserves comprise that material occurring within a radius of 1,000 meters around boreholes taken up for regional and detailed exploration. While estimating Indicated Geological Reserves, qualitative information obtained from the regional exploratory boreholes are projected in the Indicated Geological Reserve category.
- Inferred Geological Reserves. Inferred Geological Reserves comprise that material occurring within the influence area of beyond 1,000 meters and up to two kilometers from the point of observation.

Extractable Coal Reserves. Extractable Coal Reserves is the term we use to indicate the portion of a resource for which extraction is established to be technically and economically feasible through mining studies (mine planning and feasibility studies).

In this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, unless otherwise indicated, a reference to our “resource” base information is a reference to our Proved Geological Reserves, Indicated Geological Reserves and Inferred Geological Reserves under the ISP Guidelines and a reference to our “reserve” base is a reference to our “Extractable Coal Reserves” estimated by us.

Under the JORC Code and the CRIRSCO Code, the following classification is followed:

Reserves Category

- Proved Reserves. The economically mineable part of a Measured Mineral Resource. It includes diluting materials and allowances for losses which may occur when material is mined. Appropriate assessments, which may include feasibility studies, have been carried out, and include consideration of and modification by realistically assumed, mining, metallurgical, economic, marketing, legal, environmental, social and governmental factors. These assessments demonstrate at the time of reporting that extraction could be reasonably justified.
- Probable Reserves. The economically mineable part of an Indicated Mineral Resource, and in some cases Measured Mineral Resource. It includes diluting materials and allowances for losses which may occur when material is mined. Appropriate assessments, which may include feasibility studies, have been carried out, and include consideration of and modification by realistically assumed, mining, metallurgical, economic, marketing, legal, environmental, social and governmental factors. These assessments demonstrate at the time of reporting that extraction could be reasonably justified.

Resources Category

- Measured Mineral Resource. That part of a mineral resource for which quantity, grade or quality, densities, shape, physical characteristics are so well established that they can be estimated with confidence sufficient to allow the appropriate application of technical and economic parameters, to support production planning and evaluation of the economic viability of the deposit. The estimate is based on detailed and reliable exploration, sampling and testing information gathered through appropriate techniques from locations such as outcrops, trenches, pits, workings and drill holes that are spaced closely enough to confirm both geological and grade continuity.
- Indicated Mineral Resource. That part of a mineral resource for which quantity, grade or quality, densities, shape and physical characteristics, can be estimated with a level of confidence sufficient to allow the appropriate application of technical and economic parameters, to support mine planning and evaluation of the economic viability of the deposit. The estimate is based on detailed and reliable exploration and testing information gathered through appropriate techniques from locations such as outcrops, trenches, pits, workings and drill holes that are spaced closely enough for geological and grade continuity to be reasonably assumed.
- Inferred Mineral Resource. That part of a mineral resource for which tonnage, densities, shape, physical characteristics, grade and mineral content can be estimated with a low level of confidence. It is inferred from geological evidence and assumed but not verified geological and/or grade continuity. It is based on information gathered through appropriate techniques from locations such as outcrops, trenches, pits, workings and drill holes which may be limited or of uncertain quality and reliability.

As concluded in the SRK ISP Report:

- our definition of Proved Geological Reserves under the ISP classification is in line with “Measured Mineral Resources” under the JORC Code and CRIRSCO Code;
- our definition of Indicated Geological Reserves under the ISP classification straddles the definition between “Indicated Mineral Resources” and “Inferred Mineral Resources” under the JORC Code and CRIRSCO Code;

- our Inferred Geological Reserves under the ISP classification in part matches the definition of “Inferred Mineral Resources” under the JORC Code and CRIRSCO Code; and
- except in cases when based on our definition of Inferred Geological Reserves or where a mine is being operated for non-commercial reasons, our definition of “Extractable Reserves” is largely in line with that of “Reserves” as defined under the JORC Code and CRIRSCO Code.

For further information, see the SRK ISP Report at Annexure to this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Reserve and resource base information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus does not include information relating to certain legacy mines that were acquired at the time of nationalization of the coal industry.

In connection with this Offer, we intend to procure a JORC equivalent reserve and resource statement and an independent expert report relating to such statement is proposed to be included in the Red Herring Prospectus to be issued in connection with this Offer.

Open Cast and Underground Mines

As of March 31, 2010, we operated 163 open cast mines, 273 underground mines and 35 mixed mines (which include both underground mines and open cast mines). Most of our current raw coal production is from our open cast mines. Master Plan for Jharia Coalfields

The mining area in the Jharia coalfields, operated by BCCL, has faced and continues to face mine fires and land subsidence issues due to non-scientific mining carried out by the mine owners prior to nationalization of the coal industry. We inherited 70 mine fires at the time of nationalization. Currently, there are 67 mine/coal fires out of which nine underground fires have been sealed and now are dormant. The MoC approved the Master Plan Dealing with Fire, Subsidence and Rehabilitation in the Jharia coalfield ("Jharia Master Plan") in 1999. The Jharia Master Plan was implemented to address various issues relating to fires, subsidence, rehabilitation and diversion of surface infrastructure within the area operated by BCCL. The Jharia Master Plan subsequently revised in 2008 and was approved by the GoI in August 2009 and scheduled an initial two year period for pre-implementation activities and implemented within 10 years, in two phases of five years each.

According to the Jharia Master Plan, 79,159 houses are to be rehabilitated. The rehabilitation and resettlement of the affected people from the areas affected by fire and subsidence includes identifying the affected areas, identifying the resettlement sites and assessment of tentative fund requirement. Implementation of rehabilitation of BCCL houses/structures will be the responsibility of BCCL, whereas rehabilitation of non-BCCL houses/structures will be the responsibility of state Government. The Jharia Rehabilitation & Development Authority, a State Government agency has been entrusted with the job of implementing the rehabilitation of non-BCCL houses/structures.

The 67 existing mine fires are grouped into 45 mine fire projects, of which 28 mine fires are proposed to be implemented in the first phase (after pre-implementation activities). As of June 30, 2010, CMPDIL has prepared plans to deal with five fire schemes, which have received the relevant approval. In addition, we have initiated the land acquisition process for resettlement and have already acquired certain land for such re-settlement. We have also completed the demographic survey of families to be resettled in the first phase and have completed the construction of some houses/structures and have initiated the tender process for the construction of the remaining houses/structures under the first phase. The total approved capital expenditure by the GoI for the Jharia Master Plan is Rs.71,121.10 million. We are required to contribute Rs.3,500.00 million per annum by allocating Rs.6.00 per ton of raw coal dispatched by our Subsidiaries (excluding BCCL, ECL and NEC) and the balance will be funded through a cess charged under the stowing excise duty ("SED") of Rs.10.00 per ton of raw coal produced by us and the other private coal producers in India. The funding arrangement for the implementation of the Jharia Master Plan over a period of 12 years will be met through our internal resources and collection of SED under the Coal Conservation and Development Act, 1974 (the "CCDA"). Also see "Risk Factors - The Jharia and Raniganj coalfields are susceptible to fire and land subsidence and pose a serious environmental, health and safety risk. The implementation of the rehabilitation plan involves significant capital expenditure and resources." beginning on page xxv.

Master Plan of Raniganj Coalfields

The mining area in the Raniganj coalfields, operated by ECL, also suffer from fires and land subsidence due to non-scientific mining carried out by the mine owners prior to nationalization of the coal industry. The Raniganj Master Plan for Raniganj coalfields dealing in fires, subsidence and rehabilitation and diversion of surface infrastructure was approved by the MoC and scheduled to be implemented within 10 years.

A total of 139 sites are proposed to be rehabilitated under the Raniganj Master Plan, including ongoing schemes are scheduled to be implemented in two phases of five years each. However, in ECL, the fires are confined to a very small area. Fire schemes and diversions of railway lines and roads are scheduled to be completed during the first phase. A total 33,196 house owners are proposed to be resettled in four developed satellite townships with basic amenities and infrastructural facilities. Each township is envisaged to accommodate approximately 8,000 house owners. Implementation of rehabilitation of ECL houses/structures will be the responsibility of ECL, whereas rehabilitation of non-ECL houses/structures will be the responsibility of state Government. The Asansol Durgapur Development Authority ("ADDA"), a state Government agency has been entrusted with the job of implementation of the rehabilitation for the non-ECL persons.

The total approved capital expenditure by the GoI for the Raniganj Master Plan is Rs.26,617,30 million. We are required to contribute Rs.3,500.00 million per annum by allocating Rs.6.00 per ton of coal dispatched by our Subsidiaries (excluding BCCL, ECL and NEC) and the balance will be funded through a cess charged under the SED of Rs.10.00 per raw ton of coal produced by us and the other private coal producers in India. The funding arrangement for the implementation of the Raniganj Master Plan over a period of ten years will be met through our internal resources and collection of SED under the CCDA. Also see "Risk Factors - The Jharia and Raniganj coalfields are susceptible to fire and land subsidence and pose a serious environmental, health and safety risk. The implementation of the rehabilitation plan involves significant capital expenditure and resources." beginning on page xxv.

Expansion of Our Coal Mines

We continue to increase our coal production to meet the growing demand for coal in India. As of March 31, 2010, 77 projects with an aggregate proposed capacity addition of 184.78 million tons per annum, involving an aggregate proposed capital expenditure of Rs.110,064.60 million had received project investment approval from our Board and the board of directors of the relevant Subsidiaries for the implementation of these projects.

Of the 77 projects for which requisite investment approval had been received as of March 31, 2010, 32 projects, with an aggregate capacity of 104.00 million tons per annum had been implemented by March 31, 2010, and have contributed 57.04 million tons towards our production during fiscal 2010.

As of March 31, 2010, 45 identified projects (comprising 22 capacity expansion projects for existing mines and 23 new mine projects) had received the requisite investment approval and were in various stages of mine planning and development:

- 25 projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 47.51 million tons per annum, and involving an aggregate estimated capital expenditure of Rs.33,857.10 million, were at various stages of implementation as of March 31, 2010, and are expected to become operational by the end of fiscal 2012; and
- 20 projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 33.27 million tons per annum, and involving an aggregate estimated capital expenditure of Rs.25,762.79 million, involve longer gestation periods and are expected to become operational during the 12th Five-Year Plan (2013-2018) period.

We continue to assess various factors relating to the commercial viability of these proposed projects, including the quantity and quality of reserves, equipment requirement, applicable permits and the time and costs involved in such projects.

We also intend to develop an additional 20 coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate additional proposed feedstock capacity of 111.10 million tons per annum to increase our production of beneficiated non-coking coal and beneficiated coking coal. In addition, we intend that all new open cast mines with coal production capacities greater than 2.5 million tons per annum not linked to pit head customers will eventually be equipped with dedicated coal beneficiation facilities. For further information, see "- Coal Production Process - Coal Processing - Beneficiation Facilities" beginning on page 91.

Mining Rights and Acquisition of Land

The mines in which we carry out mining activities were granted to us pursuant to either (i) the grant of deemed mining lease pursuant to the Coal Mines (Nationalisation) Act, 1973; or (ii) grant of mining rights pursuant to the Coal Bearing Areas (Acquisition & Development) Act, 1957 (CBA Act).

We have been granted mining rights for certain of our mines pursuant to Section 5(2) of the Coal Mines (Nationalization) Act, 1973, under which we enjoy the status of a deemed lessee of the concerned State Government in relation to all the nationalized coal mines. Prior to nationalization, the coal mines were vested in private lessees. Pursuant to the nationalization of the coal industry under the Coal Mines (Nationalisation) Act, 1973 and the vesting of the land, our Company and respective Subsidiaries were granted mining rights replacing the erstwhile lessees under the Mineral Concession Rules, 1960, as amended ("MC Rules").

We have also been granted mining rights for certain of our mines pursuant to Section 11(1) of the CBA Act. Under the CBA Act, we acquire ownership on the surface rights and mining rights on the coal-bearing areas. However, in certain circumstances where the rights which are originally granted through a mining lease are acquired pursuant to the CBA Act, we are deemed to have become the lessee of the state government from the date of such vesting. A majority of the mines we inherited during nationalization of the coal industry were underground mines leased under the MMDR Act. However, currently, a majority of our production is derived from open cast mines that were acquired pursuant to the CBA Act, for which we own the surface rights and the mining rights.

We are required to acquire the land and associated surface rights overlying our coal reserves prior to commencing mining activities on such land. Surface rights are acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, ("Land Acquisition Act"). Prior to acquiring surface rights, we are required to obtain coal mining leases from the relevant State Governments under the Mines and Minerals (Development and Regulation) Act, 1957 ("MMDR Act"). As coal is a mineral listed in the first schedule of the MMDR Act, the State Governments can grant coal mining leases only with the prior approval of the Central Government accorded under the proviso to Section 5 (1) of MMDR Act.

Prior to the approval of the GoI, we are required to get the mining plan for the proposed coal mining area approved by the GoI. The coal mining leases under the MMDR Act are typically granted for a period of 20 to 30 years initially which can be renewed for a further period of 20 years with the approval of the GoI. The coal mining leases granted under the MMDR Act ordinarily delineates an area of ten square kilometers for each mining project.

Surface land is acquired by us under the Land Acquisition Act, which enables acquisition of land by public sector companies such as us for a "public purpose". Land acquired under the Land Acquisition Act vests in us as freehold land.

The procedure for acquisition of coal-bearing land under the CBA Act involves: (i) issuance of a preliminary notification of the intention to prospect for coal in a particular area; (ii) receipt of objections, if any, from the public that has an interest in the land; (iii) issuance of declaration for acquisition of land; (iv) vesting of land or rights in or over such land in our Company or the relevant Subsidiary; and (v) payment of compensation for the land acquired determined on the basis of various factors, including market value of the land and damages or losses sustained on account of such acquisition. Although there may be objections relating to the compensation awarded, the acquisition of the relevant land for a "public purpose" cannot be challenged following a declaration to that effect issued by the relevant regulatory authorities. For further information, see "Regulations and Policies" beginning on page 111.

The procedure for acquisition of land in accordance with the Land Acquisition Act is as follows: (i) issuance of the notification for the acquisition of such land; (ii) issuance of the declaration for the acquisition of such land; (iii) acquisition of the land; and (iv) payment of compensation and ownership of land.

In addition to the Land Acquisition Act and the CBA Act, the MMDR Act, together with the Mineral Conservation and Development Rules, 1988, as amended, (the "MCD Rules") and the MC Rules empower the State Governments to develop and regulate mines and minerals, including the grant of the prospecting licences (also known as reconnaissance permits) and mining leases. As stipulated in the MMDR Act, for the minerals specified in the first schedule of the MMDR Act, the State Governments are required to obtain approval of the GoI before entering into the mining lease. The GoI typically grants such approvals on the basis of the recommendations of the State Governments, following which the State Government grants the final mining lease and prospecting licence. A reconnaissance permit for any mineral or prescribed group of associated minerals is granted for a maximum period of three years and is subject to renewal. The MMDR Act also provides for the payment of royalty in respect of any mineral removed or consumed, payment of dead rent as specified by the third schedule to the State Government and payment of surface rent. For further information, see "Regulations and Policies" beginning on page 111.

In the event that forest land is involved, the mining lease can be executed only after forest clearances have been obtained in accordance with the Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980, as amended (the "Forest Act") from the MoEF. In addition, any project involving an area greater than five hectares may commence operations only following the receipt of environment clearances from the MoEF under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986, as amended (the "Environment Act"). For the issuance of the environmental clearance, the State Government conducts "public consultations" and the recommendations thereof are incorporated in the final Environment Management Plan ("EMP") and submitted to the MoEF for its final approval. In order to issue the forest clearances within a period of 300 days from the date of application, the MoC and MoEF have decided to delineate the mine working areas in the forest land and thereby reduce the process of rigorous scrutiny and inspection.

In addition, to the MoC and the MoEF, certain other permissions are required prior to mining, such as clearance for mining and blasting from the Director General for Mines Safety ("DGMS"). Once the site clearance has been granted for a sanctioned capacity, we can commence the construction, operation or mining activities. For further information see "Regulations and Policies" beginning on page 111.

Exploration Activities

Exploration of coal deposits in India is carried out in two stages: regional exploration and detailed exploration. In the first stage, regional exploration for coal is carried out by government organizations such as Geological Survey of India ("GSI") of the MoM, while in the second stage detailed exploration is typically undertaken by the relevant coal companies.

We conduct our detailed exploration and drilling activity through CMPDIL. CMPDIL is required to obtain all applicable permits and licenses prior to carrying out detailed exploration. Based on data collected from regional/promotional exploration conducted by GSI or MECL and other available data, we plan our exploration activities in potential coal blocks taking into account long term regional and national demand forecasts. We use an integrated exploration methodology using various exploration tools including mapping, regional modeling, exploratory drilling, surface geophysical surveys and borehole geophysics to generate data for a comprehensive assessment of our resources and reserves with respect to its structural frame work, reserve potential and quality of coal.

Our exploration personnel include qualified geologists and surveyors. We intend to continue to invest in efficient equipment and technology to develop a comprehensive geological database of our resources and reserves. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, we incurred Rs.988.82 million, Rs.1,738.63 million and Rs.2,486.51 million, respectively, in exploration and drilling expenses.

We are currently conducting detailed exploration activities in 12 coalfields through CMPDIL and exploring potential open cast deposits (including expansion projects) in 14 blocks. In addition, we are studying the feasibility of mining underground coal deposits in 14 coal blocks. We intend to increase exploratory drilling targets for our existing mines to assess the viability of our resources and reserves and maximize the development of our resource and reserve base on continuous basis. We expect our drilling and exploration costs to increase as we increase our exploration and associated drilling activities.

Coal Production Process

Mine Planning

Detailed project reports for mining projects are prepared on the basis of available geological information in the geological reports, anticipated customer demand, surface features such as habitat, forest area, railway lines, roads and rivers. These detailed project reports address various issues, including mine size, selection of appropriate technology, broad equipment specification, project implementation schedule, production schedule, environmental impact and surface infrastructure requirement as well as the economic evaluation of the project. For open cast projects, these detailed project reports also address the pit limit, mine geometry and the areas for, and coordination of, disposal of overburden during the mining process and reclamation and rehabilitation of mined areas. For underground projects, location, size and service duty of mine entries, size and orientation of mine panels, ventilation, pumping, transportation of coal, workmen and material and power supply, are covered in detail in the project reports. In these detailed project reports, we also provide the amount and quality of coal to be produced during the period covered by the project report.

Detailed operations plans are prepared for short-term planning of large mines. These operations plans take into consideration the latest geological/ geographical factors, unanticipated circumstances at the mine, including differences between the projected and the actual stripping ratio, the configuration of the coal seam, equipment failures and malfunctions, operating costs and weather conditions and suggest corrective actions to modify the project report as required.

Following relevant internal approvals, our mining plans are provided to our sales and marketing department to formulate a sales and marketing plan which address various coal allocation, distribution and logistics issues as well as the linkage of appropriate quality and quantity of coal produced to the customer.

Coal Extraction

Open cast mines

Most of our open cast mines use shovel and dumper technology and blasting to strip the overburden as well as for excavation and transportation of coal. We also use in-pit crushing equipment in certain of our mines. Draglines are used for overburden removal in large open cast mines. Surface miners, which limit noise pollution, drilling and crushing or blasting and enable production of sized coal, have been introduced in several of our open cast mines. Coal is transported from the open cast mines by dumpers, trucks or conveyors to dispatch points, our coal preparation and handling plants or our coal beneficiation facilities.

Underground mines

We primarily employ two types of mining methods at our underground mines. The specific mining method or combination of methods chosen for each underground mine is dependent on the particular geo-mining conditions and design of each mine:

- Bord and pillar mining. Bord and pillar mining is the traditional mining method used in India which is employed where geo-mining conditions are complex and not suitable for longwall mining methods. Coal is removed from the coal faces initially by developing a set of galleries leaving pillars in between to support the roof. Thereafter, the pillars are extracted by a process known as depillaring. At first, only approximately 30.0% of the coal can be extracted, while most of the remaining coal is extracted during de-pillaring.
 - Semi-mechanized method: Currently, most of our mines using this method of mining remove coal from the face by blasting and deploy side discharge loaders or load haul dumpers for loading and transport of coal in the active working areas. Coal transportation to surface is either by a series of belt conveyors or rope haulage drawn coal tubs. This mining system requires comparatively less investment, but is more labor-intensive than the continuous mining method and powered support longwall method.
 - Continuous mining method. In many of our new underground mines, bord and pillar mining is carried out using the continuous miner method wherever geo-mining conditions permit. This method affords greater productivity and is used in coal properties that have geological discontinuities which precludes the use of longwall technology. The coal is mined by a continuous miner unit and loaded on to shuttle cars which deliver coal to a feeder-breaker linked with belt conveyor for onward transport to surface.

- Longwall mining. Longwall mining is a fully mechanized underground mining method where the roof at the coal face is supported by self-advancing powered supports (with steel canopies mounted on hydraulic jacks) and the coal is mined by a shearer. Armored face conveyor and stageloader-crusher are used for transport of coal at the longwall face while a series of belt conveyors is used to transport coal to the surface. When the mining of a longwall panel has been completed, the equipment is moved to a new longwall face. The key characteristics of longwall mining include high productivity, comparatively high reserve recovery, safety and reliability.

Equipment

We conduct a significant portion of our mining operations using our own equipment, materials, supplies and labor. We have a large fleet of mining equipment of various specifications. As on April 1, 2010, for open cast mining operations, we had 40 draglines, 747 shovels, four surface miners 3,366 dumpers, 991 dozers and 713 drills. We also use SDLs, LHDs, road headers, continuous miners, PSLWs and shortwall equipment package. We conduct a portion of our mining operations through third party contractors that provide equipment and services, including road headers, continuous miners and PSLWs and the operation of such equipment is primarily the responsibility of the third party contractor. In addition, we enter into maintenance and repair contracts ("MARC") with our equipment suppliers for our higher capacity equipment used in open cast mines to provide supply of equipment.

Contractors

We conduct a part of our coal mining and overburden removal operations through third party contractors. We also engage third party contractors for transportation of coal from pit head to loading points, transportation of materials, loading of coal on wagons and a range of activities ancillary to our mining operations. Under some of our contract mining arrangements, the contractor assumes total operational responsibility for mining at the site and for transporting the coal to the beginning of the coal chain for a fee based upon the actual amount of coal delivered and the extraction costs incurred.

Coal Conveying

Coal produced from working faces in open cast mines is loaded into dumpers. It is transported out of the mine into a coal handling plant/feeder breaker for further processing and dispatch to the customer. We also transport coal from the mine/working face and/or from the dispatch points to different internal consumption centers such as beneficiation facilities and boilers. In addition, in one of our mine we have an in-pit crushing facility. In some places, for dispatch of coal to customers a dedicated MGR system is used, which is owned and operated by our customers. We also use silos in many of our mines to facilitate rapid loading and dispatch of coal through MGR and railway wagons.

Within underground mines, the coal produced from the working faces is transported within the mining district by pony belts, chain conveyors and a combination of rope haulages using coal tubs. For further transport haulages, belt conveyors and/or vertical transport system with winders is used. This coal is further transported to the customer by rail or road transport.

Coal Processing

As of March 31, 2010, we had 209 coal handling plants with capacities varying between 0.03 million tons per annum and 20.00 million tons per annum. Our mines that have dedicated coal processing and handling plants are connected to adjacent railway tracks. In order to maintain the quality of our coal, we have established and implemented quality control systems in accordance with applicable Indian industrial standards and ISO 9001 systems. Our quality control measures include regular inspections of the coal quality at mining faces, monitoring of coal quality throughout the production, preparation and transportation process and promptly responding to customer feedback regarding our coal quality.

Beneficiation Facilities

We currently operate 17 coal beneficiation facilities, comprising five non-coking coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate designed feedstock capacity as of March 31, 2010 of 17.22 million tons per annum and 12 coking coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate designed feedstock capacity as of March 31, 2010 of 22.18 million tons per annum. We also produce middling, as a by-product of our beneficiation of coking coal. We supply beneficiated non-coking coal to thermal power plants, cement plants and other customers, beneficiated coking coal to iron and steel plants, and sand middling to thermal power plants from our coking coal beneficiated facilities.

We generally provide washed or beneficiated coal to our customers based on their requirements. Our coal beneficiation facilities are generally located in close proximity to our mines to cater to our customers' requirements.

Capacity utilization at our beneficiation facilities and production of beneficiated coal has been constrained by the older technology at some of our existing beneficiation facilities. In order to enhance the capacity utilization and improve the performance of our existing beneficiation facilities, several of our beneficiation facilities are being modified and/or upgraded. As part of our expansion plans, we also intend to develop 20 additional coal beneficiation facilities, comprising 15 non-coking coal beneficiation facilities and five coking coal beneficiation facilities. We intend to develop 18 of these proposed facilities on a BOM basis and the remaining two facilities on a turnkey basis. We expect that these 20 additional coal beneficiation facilities, with an aggregate additional proposed feedstock capacity of 111.10 million tons per annum, will be completed in phases during the 12th Five-Year Plan (2013-2018) period. The estimated capital expenditure for our these proposed 20 beneficiation facilities is approximately Rs.23,275.00 million.

Tenders for seven of our proposed beneficiation facilities under the BOM scheme are currently under evaluation. Of these seven facilities, we have issued a letter of award for the proposed beneficiation facility at Madhuband and are currently awaiting environmental clearance before entering into a formal agreement. We have also issued a global tender for RFQs (request for qualification) for the remaining 11 proposed beneficiation facilities under the BOM scheme, and expect to issue the request for proposal ("RFP") documents to the qualified RFQ bidders for most of these proposed beneficiation facilities by December 2010.

We also intend that all new open cast mines with coal production capacities greater than 2.5 million tons per annum, which are not linked to pit head customers will be equipped with dedicated coal beneficiation facilities.

Transportation, Infrastructure and Logistics

Following the extraction of coal from a mine/working face, coal is transported to dispatch points primarily through conveyor belts and tipping trucks. In case of certain pit head customers coal is transported directly from the mine face through conveyor belts or rope-ways. Coal is delivered to the customers from the dispatch points primarily through rail, road or dedicated rail MGR systems owned and operated by the customers. We also transport coal from the mine/working face and/or from the dispatch points to different internal consumption centers such as our beneficiation facilities, coke-oven plants and boilers.

For long distance transportation, coal is loaded onto either trucks or rail cars at our sidings connecting our mines with railway lines. All consignments dispatched are weighed at weighbridges available at all our dispatch points.

Our sales are either "free on rail" or "free on road" from the designated dispatch points, and transportation is arranged by the customers at their cost. Customers may choose the mode of transport between rail and road. In India, rail transportation is generally less expensive than road transportation. The cost of transportation of coal from the mines to designated dispatch points (either at rail-head or at road-head) is borne by us provided such dispatch points are located within three kilometers from the mines. If the dispatch point from our mines is more than three kilometres but within 20 kilometres, the customers bear such transportation cost at specified rates as notified by us from time to time, which may not directly correspond to our costs incurred with respect to such transportation and may result in under-recovery of transportation costs from our customers. In circumstances where the distance from the dispatch point is greater than 20 kilometres from our mines, the customer is responsible for the actual cost of transportation.

The following table sets forth certain information relating to various modes of transportation utilized for raw coal dispatch (raw coal dispatch includes raw coal sold to customers and raw coal used as feedstock for production of beneficiated coal) from our mines in the periods indicated:

1. Includes movement of coal by rail to ports for coastal shipment.

2. Includes coal transported directly through conveyor belts / rope ways to pit head customers.

Our dispatch is dependent on the availability of adequate coal transportation capacities and the efficiency of coal handling and loading infrastructure at our mines. The success of our expansion projects will also depend on our ability to access or develop adequate additional coal transportation and coal handling and loading infrastructure.

Rail transportation operated by the Indian Railways is the main mode of transportation utilized for the transportation of our coal. Our dispatch volumes have historically been constrained by inadequate transportation capacities, including non-availability of adequate rail. We believe that the development of dedicated freight corridors under implementation by the Indian Railways will result in increased transportation capacities for our coal. We have entered into a memorandum of understanding with RITES, a subsidiary of Indian Railways, in June 2010, pursuant to which RITES provides us project management and consultancy services in connection with the upgradation of existing and development of additional railway track connectivity. We continue to implement various initiatives for the improvement of railway track connectivity between our existing and new mines, coal processing plants and respective dispatch points, including a broad-gauge line between Tori - Shivpur and Hazaribagh connecting the North Karanpura coalfields, a railway line between Gopalpur and Manoharpur for evacuation of coal from the Basundhara- Garjanbahal area of the IB Valley coalfield and a railway track in the Mand Raigarh coalfield.

We are also dependent on third party road transportation providers, including truckers, for the supply of materials, the supply of coal from our stockpiles and coal crushing and handling plants to the dispatch points and for the supply of our coal to customers.

We are currently evaluating proposals for the development of dedicated berths for coal unloading facilities at the Visakhapatnam port, which we believe will facilitate supply of imported coal to our customers. The facility is expected to be used for coastal shipment of coal in India from the Talcher and IB Valley coalfields to our customers in the southern and south-eastern regions of India and reduce transportation time and costs. We intend to enter into strategic JVs for the establishment of such dedicated berths and are currently evaluating suitable joint venture partners.

Materials, Energy and Water

We purchase various materials and other supplies required for our operations, including high speed diesel, explosives, tires, wire rope and safety materials. We incur significant expenditure on diesel fuel, explosives and tires. Procurement is carried out through tenders.

High speed diesel is primarily used for the operation of major equipment for coal mining and processing operations and represents a significant portion of our operating expenditure. We source high speed fuel from several public sector oil companies.

We require bulk and cartridge explosives and accessories for blasting of overburden and coal. We source our explosives from vendors selected through an open tender from various vendors in India. We typically enter into contracts for the supply of bulk and cartridge explosives and accessories with vendors determined through the tender process for a period of one year. In addition, we have entered into an agreement with IBP (IOCL) for a period of five years for the supply of bulk explosives which caters to approximately 20.0% of our annual requirement.

Spare parts are primarily procured from original equipment manufacturers or from authorized agents. We require various sizes of “off the road” (“OTR”) tires for our heavy equipment used in coal and overburden transportation. We source OTR tires from certain vendors in India and internationally. We have entered into certain medium term agreements for the purchase of tires. We have also entered into an agreement with BEML until May 8, 2020, for the supply of certain sizes of OTR tires required for various equipment used by us. BEML has identified two tire manufacturers to manufacture specific sizes of OTR tires to meet the supply requirements of BEML and us and we have agreed to partly fund (through a loan to BEML) the capacity expansions of the two tire manufacturers to the extent of Rs.1,000.00 million each, or 75.0% of the project cost, whichever is lower. In addition, we have entered into an agreement for a period of five years expiring in 2012 with an international company to purchase Bridgestone tires, to meet a portion of our annual OTR tire requirement.

We require electricity for our mining operations for the operation of various equipment and facilities and for lighting of our facilities and offices. We source electricity primarily from relevant state electricity power boards and other supply agencies.

We require water for our beneficiation facilities, in the dust suppression systems to suppress the coal dust generated during transfer of coal at feed/discharge points of conveyors at various transfer points, in our coal handling plants, at haul roads in open cast mines and for the washing and cooling systems for our equipment. Our main source of water for our underground mines is from water accumulated in our underground mines and for our open cast mines from quarries created during our mining operations.

Coal Sales

Our sales and marketing division headquartered at Kolkata formulates sales procedures and coordinates sales activities and distribution of coal and coal products produced by us in accordance with prevailing policies and regulations. See "- Distribution of Coal" beginning on page 97. We have 12 regional sales offices across India.

The following table provides certain information relating to volume of raw coal dispatch (dispatch includes raw coal sold to customers and raw coal used as feedstock for the production of beneficiated coal) in the periods indicated:

Coal is sold to our customers pursuant to long-term FSAs, separate memoranda of understanding entered into with customers or under our E-Auction scheme. Raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme is approximately 10.0% of our annual total raw coal production. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, the volume of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme was 28.79 million tons, 48.87 million tons and 45.73 million tons, respectively. As a percentage of total volume of raw coal sold in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, the volume of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme was 8.1%, 12.9% and 11.6%, respectively.

Customers

Our customers include large companies, including thermal power generating companies, steel producers and industrial companies both in the public and the private sector with whom we have long-standing relationships. A significant majority of our coal is used in, and we believe we play a strategic role in the development of, the thermal power sector in India.

The following table sets forth, for the periods indicated, raw coal dispatch by industry:

1. Includes coal sold to small customers through state and central agencies and e-auction, open sales scheme and brick sector

2. Does not include dispatch to cement captive

3. Includes dispatch to captive cement plants

Other than certain insignificant quantities of coal sold in Nepal and Bangladesh, we sell all of our coal in India.

Non-coking coal used in the thermal power industry constitutes most of our coal production. Coal sold to government-owned and controlled power generation companies and utilities contribute a substantial majority of our total sales. Volume of raw coal sold to our five largest customers in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, as a percentage of total volume of raw coal dispatch in these periods, was 50.8%, 49.9% and 47.9%, respectively. Historically, our five largest customers have all been public sector thermal power generation companies. NTPC, which is a public sector power generation company and power utility, has historically been our most significant customer. Volume of raw coal sold to NTPC in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, as a percentage of total volume of raw coal dispatch in these periods, was 27.7%, 26.7% and 26.7%, respectively.

Distribution of Coal

The GoI introduced the New Coal Distribution Policy (NCDP) in October 2007 to provide a comprehensive framework for the distribution of coal in India. The NCDP classifies various industries and sectors taking into account government policy initiatives, the relevance of such industry in the development of the Indian economy as well as the prevailing regulatory regime applicable to such industries and sectors. Following is a discussion of the salient features of the NCDP as applicable to sales and distribution of our coal:

Allocation Process under the NCDP

Under the NCDP all valid linked customers as on the date that the NCDP was introduced, i.e., October 18, 2007, were entitled to enter into long term FSAs with us in accordance with the applicable model of FSA. Most of such customers have already entered into FSAs with us.

All new customers are allocated coal through a process of issuance of a letter of assurance ("LOA") under which they are required to meet certain project milestones within a specified period.

For Central or State Government power utilities, independent power producers, captive power plants and customers in the fertilizer, cement and sponge iron and steel industries, an LOA is issued by us on the basis of the recommendation of an inter-ministerial Standing Linkage Committee (Long-Term) (the "Linkage Committee"), which take into account various factors in assessing such application, including LOAs or linkages already granted to customers in the relevant sector, as well as existing capacities and proposed capacity additions for such sector. For customers in other industries, LOAs are required to be issued by us on the basis of prevailing norms for such sector and recommendations of the relevant administrative ministry. We may also engage independent government or other reputed institutions to ascertain coal requirements of the applicant in the event that there are no prevailing norms for such sector. The Linkage Committee is an inter-ministerial committee under the aegis of MoC that includes representatives from our Company, our coal producing subsidiaries and CMPDI, the Ministry of Steel, the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, the Ministry of Railways, the Ministry of Surface Transport, the Central Electricity Authority of India ("CEA") and SCCL (another public sector coal company in India).

The LOA provides an assurance of future coal supply subject to the fulfilment of certain conditions and project milestones by the customers as specified in the LOA. The LOA issued for GoI or State power utilities, independent power producers and captive power plants are valid for a period of 24 months while LOAs for all other customers are valid for a period of 12 months. On the fulfilment of conditions and project milestones stipulated in the LOA, the LOA holders are entitled to enter into long-term FSAs with us for the supply of coal. In the event that such conditions and applicable project milestones are not met within the stipulated period, the LOA will stand terminated and the commitment guarantee deposit is forfeited.

The NCDP also contemplates, following the execution of an FSA, the execution of a fuel supply and transport agreement, a tripartite agreement among us, the customer and transportation provider involved.

Customer Classification and Entitlement under the NCDP

The defense and railways are entitled to receive their full normative coal requirement in accordance with the prevailing system at the price notified by us.

Other consumers are classified into two categories, based upon their entitlement through the FSAs:

- Power utilities, including independent power producers and captive power plants, and customers in the fertilizer sector are entitled to receive their full normative coal requirement through FSAs;
- All other customers are entitled to receive 75.0% of their normative coal requirements through FSAs, while the remaining 25.0% of their requirement may be met by such customers, at their option, through our e-Auction scheme or through import of coal.

Coal Distribution through FSAs and through State Nominated Agencies

The NCDP stipulates that customers with coal requirements more than 4,200 tons per annum are required to enter into FSAs with us.

Valid linked existing customers as of the date of introduction of the NCDP with annual coal requirements up to 4,200 tons per annum were provided with an option to either:

- enter into FSAs with us directly for the supply of coal; or
- access their coal requirements through the applicable agencies and associations nominated by the respective State Governments ("State Nominated Agencies").

All new customers with coal requirement up to 4,200 tons per annum will receive coal through State Nominated Agencies only.

E-Auction Scheme

The E-Auction scheme of coal has been introduced to provide access to coal for customers who were not able to source their coal requirement through the available institutional mechanisms under the NCDP for various reasons, for example, due to a less than full allocation of their normative requirement under NCDP, seasonality of their coal requirement and limited requirement of coal that does not warrant a long-term linkage. The quantity of coal to be offered under E-Auction is reviewed from time to time by the MoC. Currently approximately 10.0% of our aggregate raw coal production may be offered under the E-Auction scheme. The E-Auction scheme also provides an avenue for additional coal procurement by some of our existing industrial customers.

Fuel Supply Agreements

As contemplated in and in accordance with the terms of the NCDP, we enter into legally enforceable FSAs with our customers or with State Nominated Agencies that in turn enters into appropriate distribution arrangements with end customers. Our FSAs can be broadly categorized into:

- FSAs with customers in the power utilities sector, including State power utilities, private power utilities ("PPUs") and independent power producers ("IPPs");
- FSAs with customers in non-power industries (including captive power plants ("CPPs")); and

- FSAs with State Nominated Agencies.

FSAs with Customers in Power Utilities

Under the NCDP, we have developed model FSAs for our customers in the power utilities sector: (i) FSAs with State power utilities; and (ii) FSAs with IPPs and PPUs. The terms of our model FSAs for State power utilities and that for IPPs and PPUs are substantially similar.

We have developed a model FSA applicable for power utilities existing as on March 31, 2009 (the “Existing Power FSA”), under which the annual contracted quantity (“ACQ”) for entering into the FSA was determined by the CEA.

The ACQ for power projects which were commissioned after March 31, 2009 is to be determined by the CEA from the incremental annual coal production projection provided by us on an annual basis. These power projects have an option to either (i) accept the ACQ allocated by the CEA, in which case the Existing Power FSA form will be applicable; or (ii) it can opt for a separate model FSA (“New Power FSA”) which will entitle the customer to the ACQ at the level indicated in the relevant LOA.

➤ Existing Power FSAs

Existing Power FSAs are valid for a period that is earlier of (i) 20 years with effect from April 1, 2009 (the “Effective Date”) and (ii) life of the power generation facility, with provision for review of terms of the agreement every five years from the Effective Date or in the event of any material change in our coal distribution system resulting from any regulatory or policy changes. We agree to supply an annual contracted quantity, or ACQ, of coal and in case of a shortfall in the ACQ, we are entitled to arrange coal from alternate sources in India, to be supplied directly to customer, at the cost of the customer. The shortfall in supply may also be met through imported coal subject to mutual agreement, and if a customer declines an offer to provide imported coal, it is not considered a default by the customer.

The Existing Power FSAs stipulate that the delivered price of our coal includes: (i) the base price of our coal; (ii) other charges, including transportation charges for delivery beyond three kilometers from the pit head, sizing/crushing charges and rapid loading charges; (iii) statutory charges comprising royalties, cess, duties, taxes, levies etc. Under the terms of our Existing Power FSAs, we are entitled to stipulate the base price and other charges from time to time, while statutory charges are to be charged as specified by the relevant statutory authorities. Coal supplied under our FSAs is required to be used in the relevant specified facility or other facility of the customer subject to certain conditions, and the sale or transfer of coal to other parties constitutes a breach of the terms of the FSA.

Under the terms of our Existing Power FSAs, we are liable to compensate our customers for any short delivery of the ACQ, while the customer is liable to compensate us for any short lifting of the ACQ. Compensation for short delivery of ACQ by us and compensation for short lifting of ACQ by the customer is payable at the following rates: (i) 90.0% and above of ACQ: no compensation; (ii) 85.0% to below 90.0% of ACQ: 10.0% of price of shortfall quantity below 90.0%; (iii) 80.0% to below 85.0% of ACQ: 20.0% of price of shortfall quantity below 85.0%; (iv) below 80.0% of ACQ: 40.0% of price of shortfall quantity below 80.0%.

We are also entitled to a performance incentive for delivery in excess of 90.0% of ACQ at the following rates: (i) 90.0% to below 95.0% of ACQ: 10.0% of price of quantity in excess of 90.0%; (ii) 95.0% to below 100.0% of ACQ: 20.0% of price of quantity in excess of 95.0%; and (iii) above ACQ: 40.0% of price of quantity in excess of ACQ. Performance incentive is payable by the customer on the basis of the weighted average of base prices of various grades of coal supplied.

Transfer of title and risk to coal supplied passes on the delivery of coal at agreed delivery point, i.e., the colliery sidings and colliery loading points in the designated coal mine (for coal produced by us) and/or the locations or ports identified by us (for imported coal).

The Existing Power FSAs may be terminated under the following circumstances: (i) in the event of any force majeure event resulting in the inability by a party to perform its obligations under the FSA for a period of nine continuous months or for a period of 12 months (on a non-continuous basis) within a period of two years, by the non-affected party; (ii) in the event of a material breach of the terms of the FSA by the other party by providing prior written notice of 30 days and such material breach has not been cured or rectified; (iii) insolvency, dissolution and similar circumstances affecting the other party; (iv) by the customer in case of our failure to supply at least 30.0% of the ACQ; (iv) by us in case of the customer's failure to lift at least 30.0% of the ACQ; and (v) by the customer if it is prevented under law from using the coal supplied for reasons beyond its control as a result of changes in environmental law or other regulations.

➤ New Power FSAs

The New Power FSA is valid for a term of five years from the date on which all conditions precedent under the New Power FSA have been met, unless otherwise agreed. A review of the terms of the New Power FSA may be undertaken (i) following the completion of three years of the first delivery date or (ii) in the event of any material change in our coal distribution system resulting from any regulatory or policy changes.

Under the New Power FSA, certain conditions precedent must be met within a period of 24 months from the date of execution of the New Power FSA or such further period as may be extended (subject to a maximum of 180 days) on account of any force majeure events. At the request of the customer, we may extend such period at our discretion. In the event the customer fails to meet such conditions applicable to the customer within such period due to any reason other than force majeure events, the security deposit may be forfeited by us. Our obligations under the New Power FSAs are subject to the following conditions precedent: (i) with respect to our own coal production, we must have received (a) all requisite regulatory and other approvals relating to land acquisition and environmental clearances for the specified coal block and (b) achieved financial closure for the operation of the specified coal block; and (ii) with respect to imported coal, we must have (a) acquired a definitive right under the fuel supply agreements with the relevant international supplier; and (b) completed all requisite shipping and port arrangements for delivery of imported coal. The customer is required to comply with the following within the conditions precedent period: (i) all requisite regulatory and other approvals for the construction, commissioning, operation and maintenance of the power facility must have been received; (ii) order for boiler turbine generator main package for the plant must have been placed; (iii) construction of at least 50.0% of the plant must have been completed in accordance with the stipulated implementation schedule submitted within the LOA period and (iv) a power purchase agreement for sale of at least 50.0% of the installed capacity of the plant (in case the customer is not an integrated utility) must have been executed.

Under the New Power FSA, we are required to supply an annual contracted quantity, or ACQ, of coal; there is however no fixed quantity for coal supply during the “build up period” of six months commencing on the “first delivery date” (the actual first date of delivery of coal or the last day of the “target start period” (the 18 month period commencing on the date that the New Power FSA is effective). In case of a shortfall in the ACQ, we are entitled to arrange coal from alternate sources in India, to be supplied directly to customer, at the cost of the customer. The shortfall in supply may also be met through imported coal at the cost of the customer. The customer has no right to decline the offer for supply of imported coal in case of shortfall.

The price terms and end use terms under the New Power FSA are similar to those under the Existing Power FSA.

Under the New Power FSA, compensation for short delivery of ACQ by us and compensation for short lifting of ACQ by the customer is payable at the following rates: (i) 50.0% and above of ACQ: no compensation; (ii) below 50.0% of ACQ: 10.0% of price of shortfall quantity below 50.0%.

We are also entitled to a performance incentive for delivery in excess of 90.0% of ACQ at the following rates: (i) 90.0% to below 95.0% of ACQ: 15.0% of price of quantity in excess of 90.0%; and (ii) 95.0% and above of ACQ: 30.0% of price of quantity in excess of 95.0%. Performance incentive is payable by the customer on the basis of the simple average of base prices of various grades of coal supplied.

The New Power FSA may be terminated under circumstances that are similar to those stipulated in the Existing Power FSAs. In addition, the New Power FSA may be terminated (i) by either party in the event that no agreement is reached on the review of terms undertaken after the completion of three years of the first delivery date; and (ii) by us in the event that no agreement is reached on the review of terms undertaken as a result of any material change in our coal distribution system resulting from any regulatory or policy changes. Under the New Power FSAs for PPU's, in addition to these termination events, we are entitled to terminate the FSA (i) on the diversion or breach of the end use condition of coal supplied has led to the suspension of coal supplies and the customer has failed to resolve the matter to our satisfaction; and (ii) if the customer fails to replenish the encashed security deposit/ bank guarantee within the stipulated notice period.

FSAs with Customers in Non-Power Industries (including Captive Power Plants)

Under the NCDP, we have developed model FSAs for customers in industries other than power, including for supply of coal to captive power plants. We have entered into FSAs with our existing non-power customers as on the date of the announcement of NCDP (the "Existing Non-Power FSAs"). For all projects of our non-power customers commissioned or to be commissioned subsequent to the date of announcement of the NCDP, a separate model FSA has been developed (the "New Non-Power FSAs").

➤ Existing Non-Power FSAs

The Existing Non-Power FSAs are valid for a period of five years from the date of execution. A review of the terms of the Existing Non-Power FSAs may be initiated by either party following completion of three years of the first delivery date by written notice; if no agreement is reached on review terms within nine months of such notice, the FSA may be terminated by providing three months written notice. In addition, the ACQ for the remaining two years may be revised as per the highest of the yearly quantities of the previous three years subject to the average level of lifting by the customer. However, no such revision will take place if the average level of lifting is greater than 80.0%.

We agree to supply an ACQ of coal and in case of shortfall in ACQ, we are entitled to arrange coal from alternate sources in India as well as imported coal to be supplied directly to customer at additional cost to the customer.

The Existing Non-Power FSAs stipulate that the delivered price of our coal includes (i) the base price; (ii) other charges, including transportation charges for delivery beyond three kilometer from pit head, sizing/crushing charges and rapid loading charges; (iii) statutory charges comprising royalties, cess, duties, taxes, levies etc. Under the terms of our Existing Power FSAs, we are entitled to stipulate the base price and other charges from time to time, while statutory charges are to be charged as specified by the relevant statutory authorities. Coal supplied under our FSAs is required to be used in the relevant specified facility or other facility of the customer subject to certain conditions, and the sale or transfer of coal to other parties constitutes a breach of the terms of the FSA.

Compensation for short delivery of ACQ by us and compensation for short lifting of ACQ by the customer is payable at the following rates: (i) 60.0% and above of ACQ: no compensation; and (ii) below 60.0% of ACQ: 10.0% of price of shortfall quantity below 60.0%.

We are entitled to a performance incentive for delivery in excess of 90.0% of ACQ: (i) 90.0% to below 95.0% of ACQ: 15.0% of price of quantity in excess of 90.0%; and (ii) 95.0% and above of ACQ: 30.0% of price of quantity in excess of 95.0%. The performance incentive is payable by the customer on the basis of the base price of the highest grade of coal supplied.

The Existing Non-Power FSA may be terminated under the following circumstances: (i) force majeure event resulting in inability by a party to perform its obligations under the FSA for a period of nine continuous months or for a period of 12 months (on a non-continuous basis) within a period of two years, by the non-affected party; (ii) material breach of terms of the FSA by the other party by providing prior written notice of 30 days and such material breach has not been cured or rectified; (iii) insolvency, dissolution and similar circumstances affecting the other party; (iv) by the customer in case of our failure to supply at least 30.0% of the ACQ; (iv) by us in case of the customer's failure to lift at least 30.0% of the ACQ; and (v) by the customer if it is prevented under law from using the coal supplied for reasons beyond its control as a result of changes in environmental law or other regulations. In addition, the FSA may be terminated (i) by either party in the event that no agreement is reached on the review of terms undertaken after the completion of three years of the first delivery date; and (ii) by us in the event that no agreement is reached on the review of terms undertaken as a result of any material change in our coal distribution system resulting from any regulatory or policy changes. We are also entitled to terminate the FSA (i) if the diversion or breach of the end use of coal has led to suspension of the deliveries of coal and the customer has failed to resolve the matter to our satisfaction, we may terminate the FSA without any liabilities or damages payable to the customer and (ii) if the customer fails to replenish the encashed security deposit/ bank guarantee within the stipulated notice period.

➤ New Non-Power FSAs

The New Non-Power FSAs are valid for a period of five years from the date of execution. A review of the terms of the New Non-Power FSAs may be initiated by either party following the completion of three years of the first delivery date by written notice; if no agreement is reached on review terms within nine months of such notice, the FSA may be terminated by providing three months written notice. In addition, the ACQ for the remaining two years may be revised as per the highest of the yearly quantities of the previous three years subject to the average level of lifting by the customer. However, no such revision will take place if the average level of lifting is greater than 80.0%. The terms of the New Non-Power FSAs may be reviewed in the event of any material change in our coal distribution system resulting from any regulatory or policy changes; if no agreement is reached on review terms within 30 days of notice to commence the review process, we may terminate the FSA by providing three months written notice.

Certain conditions are required to be met by the parties within the later of (i) 12 months and (ii) the period specified in the FSA not exceeding two years, or such further period as may be extended (subject to a maximum of 180 days) on account of any force majeure events. At the request of the customer, we may extend such period at our discretion. If any of the conditions precedent are not satisfied or waived within such period or any extended period, the non-defaulting party may extend such period at its discretion or terminate the FSA by providing 30 days written notice subject to the completion of conditions precedent applicable to such party. In the event the customer fails to meet the conditions precedent applicable to customer within such period due to any reason other than force majeure events, the security deposit may be forfeited by us. Our obligations under the FSA are subject to the following conditions precedent: (i) with respect to our own coal production, we must have received (a) all requisite regulatory and other approvals relating to land acquisition and environmental clearances for the specified coal block and (b) achieved financial closure for the operation of the specified coal block; and (ii) with respect to imported coal, we must have (a) acquired a definitive right under the fuel supply agreements with the relevant international supplier; and (b) completed all requisite shipping and port arrangements for delivery of imported coal. The customer is required to comply with the following within the conditions precedent period: (i) all requisite regulatory and other approvals for the construction, commissioning, operation and maintenance of the facility must have been received; and (ii) construction of at least 50.0% of the plant must have been completed in accordance with the stipulated implementation schedule submitted during the validity of the LOA, as certified by an independent engineer.

Under the New Non-Power FSA, we agree to supply an ACQ of coal and in case of shortfall in ACQ, we are entitled to arrange coal from alternate sources in India and imported coal to be supplied directly to customer, at additional cost to customer.

The price terms and end use restrictions under the New Non-Power FSA are similar to that provided in the Existing Non-Power FSA.

Under the New Non-Power FSAs, compensation for short delivery of ACQ by us and compensation for short lifting of ACQ by the customer is payable at the following rates: (i) 50.0% and above of ACQ: no compensation; and (ii) below 50.0% of ACQ: 10.0% of price of shortfall quantity below 50.0%.

We are entitled to a performance incentive for delivery in excess of 90.0% of ACQ: (i) 90.0% to below 95.0% of ACQ: 15.0% of price of quantity in excess of 90.0%; and (ii) 95.0% and above of ACQ: 30.0% of price of quantity in excess of 95.0%. The performance incentive is payable by the customer on the basis of the base price of the highest grade of coal supplied.

The New Non-Power FSAs may be terminated under circumstances similar to that specified for the Existing Non-Power FSAs.

Memorandum of Understandings related to LOAs/ New Power FSAs/ New Non-Power FSAs

In addition to the model FSAs applicable for new customers coming under FSA through the LOA route, we also enter into a memorandum of understanding with our customers that forms an integral part of such FSAs. Pursuant to such memorandum of understanding, our customers agree (i) that the ACQ stipulated in the applicable LOA/ New Power FSA / New Non-Power FSA is to be met through either coal produced by us or through imported coal and supply of coal produced by us shall not exceed 50.0% of the ACQ; and (ii) to accept imported coal at the landed cost of such imported coal and handling and service charges that are subject to revision by us from time to time. In addition, pursuant to such memorandum of understanding the customers agree to indefinitely defer the conditions precedent period stipulated in the FSA until (i) domestic coal can be supplied through an alternative source to the customer on a cost plus basis and (ii) we are able to finalize a source for international coal supply and establish the relevant import infrastructure for such imported coal. Customers are also entitled to opt out from the supply of imported coal and accept only indigenous coal supplied by us pursuant to the FSAs. In such event we are entitled to reduce/revise the ACQ stipulated in the FSAs to the extent of entitled component of domestic coal of the original ACQ.

FSAs with State Nominated Agencies

We also enter into FSAs with State Nominated Agencies for the supply of coal to such entities which in turn enter into appropriate distribution arrangements with end customers.

FSAs with State Nominated Agencies are typically valid for a term of two years from the date on which the FSA has been executed, unless otherwise agreed between the parties. We agree to supply an ACQ of coal either from indigenous coal or through imports. The coal is supplied to the ultimate customers by the State Nominated Agencies at the "as declared price of coal" plus up to 5.0% margin over the base price as service charges. The State Nominated Agencies may also charge any taxes, levies and any other statutory dues as may be applicable to such sale to the end customer.

The ACQ of coal supplied is revised by us annually taking into account the coal quantities lifted by the State Nominated Agency in the immediately preceding operative year. The State Nominated Agencies are required to supply coal only to end consumers and must ensure that the coal supplied is not resold or traded.

Compensation for short delivery by us and compensation for short lifting by the customer is payable at the following rates: (i) 60.0% and above of ACQ: no compensation payable; (ii) below 60.0% of ACQ: 5.0% of price of shortfall quantity below 60.0%.

The delivered price of coal includes: (i) base price; (ii) other charges, including transportation charges up to delivery point, sizing/crushing charges and rapid loading charges; (iii) statutory charges comprising royalties, cess, duties, taxes, levies etc. The base price and other charges are notified by us from time to time. Statutory charges are charged as specified by the relevant statutory authorities.

The FSAs with the State Nominated Agencies may be terminated under the following circumstances: (i) the FSA stands automatically terminated if the nomination of the State Nominated Agency is withdrawn or cancelled by the relevant State Government; (ii) by the State Nominated Agency, in case of our failure to supply at least 30.0% of the ACQ; (iii) by us, in case of the State Nominated Agency's failure to lift at least 30.0% of the ACQ; (iv) by us, if the State Nominated Agencies fail to supply coal in accordance with the end user stipulations; (v) by us, in the event that no agreement is reached on the review of terms undertaken as a result of any material change in our coal distribution system resulting from any regulatory or policy changes; and (vi) in case of any force majeure event resulting in inability by a party to perform its obligations under the FSA for a period of not less than 90 days within a continuous period of 180 days, by the non-affected party.

Pricing of Coal

Under the Colliery Control Order of 1945 and the Essential Commodities Act, 1955, as amended, the price of coal in India was regulated by the GoI. Beginning in March 1996, the GoI gradually deregulated, in phases, the price of various types and grades of coal. The pricing of coal in India was completely deregulated pursuant to the Colliery Control Order, 2000 with effect from January 1, 2000, subsequent to which we were entitled to fix the price of our coal.

The principal factors that affect the price of our raw coal and beneficiated coal are the quality of our raw coal (grade of coal) and the mode of sale, i.e. whether such coal is sold under our FSAs, under our E-Auction scheme or under specific memoranda of understanding entered into with the customer.

The price of non-coking coal and coking coal to be supplied under our FSAs is fixed by us in consultation with the GoI and notified from time to time. We fix the price of our raw coal primarily on the basis of general inflation levels, increase in production costs that cannot be offset through efficiency improvements, the need for generating internal resources to ensure viability of projects and, to a lesser extent, the landed cost of comparative imported coal. In accordance with the terms of our FSAs, we have the right to revise the price of our coal sold under the FSAs from time to time. Since the complete deregulation of pricing of coal with effect from January 1, 2000, there have been four significant revisions in our coal prices: with effect from January 31, 2001, June 15, 2004, December 12, 2007 and October 16, 2009, when the average price increase was approximately 8.5%, 16.2%, 10.0% and 11.0%, respectively. In addition, we have increased the price of certain grades of non-coking coal and coking coal from certain coalfields from time to time. The annualized increase in the price of our coal since January 2000 when the price of coal was completely deregulated until March 31, 2010 was 4.9% which is lower than average inflation rates in India in this period. The price of raw coal sold under our FSAs does not fully reflect market prices for coal in India or in international coal markets.

The current prices of our various types and grades of coal are specified in our notification dated October 15, 2009 which came into effect on October 16, 2009 and are summarized in the table below. The price of our raw coal within the same grade varies depending on the coalfield from which such coal is produced. For further information on various grades of coal, see "Industry – Grades of Raw Coal" on page 66:

Non-coking Coal	Price Range (Rs. per ton) with effect from October 16, 2009
A	Rs.1,280 to Rs.2,580
B	Rs.1,130 to Rs.2,120
C	Rs.950 to Rs.1,860
D	Rs.790 to Rs.1,610
E	Rs.620 to Rs.1,090
F	Rs.480 to Rs.870
G	Rs.350 to Rs.700
Coking Coal
Steel Grade I	Rs.3,750
Steel Grade II	Rs.3,140
Washery Grade I	Rs.1,710 to Rs.2,740
Washery Grade II	Rs.1,410 to Rs.1,990
Washery Grade III	Rs.1,200 to Rs.1,480
Washery Grade IV	Rs.1,120 to Rs.1,370
Others (SC-I/II/SLV)	Rs.1,450 to Rs.2,150

As specified in our FSAs, the delivered price of coal comprises (i) the basic price of coal; (ii) other charges such as transportation charges for delivery beyond three kilometers from the pit head, sizing and crushing charges and rapid loading charges; and (iii) statutory charges comprising royalties, cess, duties, taxes (including sales tax) and other levies. The basic price and other charges are notified by us from time to time. We notify additional charges payable for slack coal and steam coal, and sizing and crushing charges depending on the top size required by the customer. Customized coal sizing charges are negotiated with the customer. Additional charges are payable for high capacity loading facilities with a nominal capacity of 3,500 tons or more per hour.

We charge additional fixed transportation costs for transportation of coal to dispatch points beyond three kilometers from the pit head, based on the distance involved. We currently charge fixed transportation charges for: (i) dispatch points located between three and ten kilometers from the pit head and (ii) dispatch points located between ten and 20 kilometers from the pit head. In circumstances where the distance from the dispatch point is greater than 20 kilometers from our mines, the customer is responsible for the actual cost of transportation, and pays such transportation costs.

Statutory levies are applicable as specified by the relevant statutory authorities.

We also sell raw coal through our E-Auction scheme. The reserve price of raw coal sold pursuant to our E-Auction scheme is determined on the basis of prevailing market prices. The price of raw coal sold under our E-Auction scheme is significantly higher than the price of raw coal sold under our FSAs as notified by us from time to time.

We sell a significant portion of our higher quality non-coking coal (Grade A, B and C coal with GCV greater than 5,597 Kcal/Kg) under specific memoranda of understanding negotiated with the customer. The price of such coal is fixed at a price that is generally at a 15.0% discount to the prevailing landed cost of comparative quality imported coal, and is typically significantly higher than the notified price of non-coking coal of the same grades sold under our FSAs.

The price of beneficiated non-coking coal is determined on the basis of cost of production and an appropriate margin for the value addition provided. The price of beneficiated coking coal sold under specific memoranda of understanding is negotiated directly with the customer and is fixed at a price that is generally at a 15.0% discount to the prevailing landed cost of comparable quality imported coal.

We believe that the price of our raw coal is lower than the price of coal sold in international markets and the landed cost of imported coal in India, even on adjustment for respective GCV values. For information on price of our coal compared to Indonesian and South African coal on an equated energy basis, See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Sales Volume and Pricing – Pricing” beginning on page 70.

International Initiatives

We have established a specific division, Coal Videsh, to streamline our activities related to sourcing of coal from international sources to bridge the demand-supply gap in India. We have successfully bid in a global tender floated by the Government of Mozambique and acquired prospecting licenses in August 2009 for two coal blocks in Mozambique for further exploration and development of these coal blocks over a period of five years. In this connection, we have established a wholly owned subsidiary CIAL in Mozambique.

As part of our strategy for international expansion, we plan to make equity investments in strategic brown field and green field coal mining projects and enter into long-term offtake arrangements for the import of coal into India. We have initiated the process of selecting coal companies as prospective strategic partners for our international initiatives in Australia, the United States, South Africa and Indonesia, countries from which coal is currently imported into India. We have commenced the due diligence process for and are currently evaluating the proposals for acquisition of coal assets in Australia, Indonesia and the United States. In our annual plan for fiscal 2011, we have earmarked Rs.60,000 million for the acquisition of international coal assets.

We have established a joint venture company, ICVL, with NTPC, SAIL, RINL and NMDC for the acquisition of metallurgical and thermal coal assets outside India to provide supply of coal from international sources to meet part of the requirements of SAIL and RINL and also to serve the organizational aspirations of our Company, NTPC and NMDC. For details, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters - Material Agreements” beginning on page 356.

The GoI has also formed an empowered committee of secretaries, comprising the secretaries of the Ministries of Steel, Mines, Power, Finance, Coal, External Affairs, Law and Justice and the Department of Public Enterprises, to approve overseas investment proposals of CIL and ICVL for the acquisition of metallurgical and thermal coal assets exceeding Rs.10,000 million and Rs.15,000.00 million in each instance, respectively, with the committee's recommendation being presented to the Cabinet of Ministers of the GoI directly for approval.

CBM, CMM and Underground Coal Gasification Initiatives

Coal Bed Methane ("CBM") and Coal Mine Methane ("CMM")

CBM is methane gas formed during the coalification process and stored within the coal seams. Its composition is similar to natural gas, and is a clean energy resource. We have implemented a CBM project funded by the GoI, United Nations Development Programme ("UNDP") and Global Environment Facility at the Jharia coalfield and are currently recovering CBM gas which is utilized to generate electricity through a gas-based generator at Moonidih to provide electricity to our mine colony. Based on the viability of this project, we plan to implement similar projects in other coalfields. In addition, we have entered into operating agreements with Oil and Natural Gas Corporation Limited (“ONGC”) in February 2003, to undertake prospecting, exploring and drilling of CBM in Jharia and Raniganj coalfields. These projects are being implemented as per the work program envisaged in the contract with the GoI. The commercial production of CBM in the Jharia coalfield is expected to commence by December 2010, however sale of incidental gas produced from the Jharia coalfield commenced in January 2010.

In order to expedite CMM development, a research and development project has received relevant approval to settle several technical issues associated the commercialization of CMM within the coalfields in which we operate. Five CMM blocks in the Jharia and East Bokaro coalfields have been identified and an expression of interest (“EoI”) was floated in January 2010 to identify a suitable project developer. We are currently in the process of formulating the draft Notice Inviting Tender (“NIT”) incorporating the views of the respondents to our EoI for the CMM blocks. We have also undertaken certain initiatives to identify mines for the implementation of ventilation air methane projects, for which data has been generated in selected mines of the Raniganj and Jharia coalfields.

A CMM/CBM clearing-house has been established at CMPDIL under the aegis of the MoC and United States Environmental Protection Agency ("USEPA") in November 2008 to facilitate commercial development of CMM projects in India. The CMM/CBM clearing-house is funded by USEPA and by us on behalf of the MoC.

Underground Coal Gasification

Underground coal gasification ("UCG") is a process that enables coal to be converted in-situ into syngas that may be used as a chemical feedstock or fuel for power generation. We have entered into a memorandum of understanding with ONGC to jointly pursue UCG initiatives and have collected data for five prospective UCG sites, of which the Kasta block in the Raniganj coalfield has been identified for collection of additional data to examine the possibility of undertaking a pilot scale UCG project. Drilling of boreholes to generate the UCG specific additional data commenced in April 2009 and 12 boreholes have been completed and assessment of data has been undertaken.

Competition

In fiscal 2009, coal produced by us accounted for 81.9% of coal production in India. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) We do not believe we have any directly comparable competitor in India. As we do not export any coal and we do not expect to export coal in the short or medium term, we do not consider international coal companies in international markets as direct competitors. However, international coal companies, particularly coal companies from Indonesia and Australia, that supply coal to India, may be considered as our competition.

Health and Safety Standards

Although mining is an inherently hazardous activity due to varying geology and geo mining conditions, we seek to minimize the risk of accidents, injuries and illness to our employees and our contractors' employees by improving health and safety standards and closely monitoring our operations. We continue to focus on maintaining a safe work environment through the implementation of our safety policy and a structured multidisciplinary "Internal Safety Organization" to oversee safety in our operations. Our system for the safe operation of our mines, includes safety management plans, rules, codes of practice, manuals and procedures with which our employees and our contractors' employees are required to comply.

We have implemented various safety programs, safety training of our workforce, technologically advanced mining methods and use of advanced equipment. We believe that our commitment to safety and avoidance of lost time injuries fosters good relationship with our employees, regulatory agencies and regional administrative authorities, which ultimately enhance our business. We have invested and continue to invest in advanced equipment and technology for increased mechanization of extraction and enhance the safety environment of our workforce.

We have completed risk assessment for most of our mines and identified potential hazards associated with mining activities, including those resulting from geo-mining conditions and mining operations. Time-bound action programs have been implemented for the elimination, reduction and avoidance of identified risks for each mine. These programs are reviewed from time to time. We conduct safety audits in our mines to identify deficiencies and recommend remedial measures. In addition, we have developed rescue service organizations staffed by trained rescue personnel and equipped with modern rescue equipment. We also maintain periodical medical examination centers staffed with doctors trained in occupational health services in accordance with International Labor Organization specifications.

In addition to the statutory safety monitoring carried out by the DGMS, Pit Safety Committee and Workman Inspectors, our safety standards are also monitored by various agencies including the Standing Committee for Safety in Coal Mines, safety audits and various Parliamentary Committees. Several of our mines have received the National Mine Safety Awards in recognition for maintaining superior safety standards. We also periodically organize safety-related informational programs in our mines to educate workers on mine safety.

Environmental Matters and Mine Reclamation

Our operations are subject to numerous environmental laws and regulations relating to air emission, water discharge, hazardous substances, waste management, mining site reclamation and restoration, and ground water quality and availability. Our corporate environmental and social management systems, and resettlement and rehabilitation policies comply with all applicable Indian laws and regulations. We believe these policies are consistent with internationally accepted standards.

We seek to follow environmentally responsible practices and abide by relevant environmental laws and regulations in all aspects of our business. We conduct environmental feasibility studies and environmental impact assessment for all our mining and coal washery projects. Installation for the prevention and control of pollution at mining and washery projects are designed, built and commissioned together with the project.

We have developed mine reclamation and rehabilitation strategies for our mines. The geological characteristics of each of our mines are taken into account in developing and implementing these strategies. Reclamation of mined out areas is carried out in accordance with the Environmental Management Plan approved by the MoEF. When overburden is removed, the initial overburden is dumped out of the pit while subsequent overburden is dumped into the pit as back-filling. Erosion control systems, perimeter drains and water-settling ponds are constructed to intercept and treat water discharged from the mining site. Topsoil is first removed and dumped in an identified site and subsequently utilized for reclamation. Topsoil is provided on overburden, which has been graded and contoured for plantation with native multi species of plants comprising of fruit bearing, medicinal and commercial categories. Concurrent reclamation and rehabilitation of mined out areas (subject to technical feasibility as per geo-mining conditions) are carried out for gainful land use. The reclamation and rehabilitation planning of mines are reviewed at regular basis. Under normal circumstances this system allows us to restore a mined out area within five or six years.

As reclaimed areas reach their design profile, they are graded, topsoil is spread on the surface and rapidly growing trees are planted. We also have implemented afforestation programs to improve the environmental conditions in certain areas in which we have ceased our mining activities. We have initiated the process of integrating environment management system (ISO:14001) along with quality management system (ISO:9001) and as of June 2010, 53 of our projects including one coal beneficiation plant have been accredited with ISO:14001 certification. We intend to integrate these systems in all our mines in phases.

We have also implemented satellite surveillance for land reclamation and restoration and reforestation and rehabilitation activities. The satellite surveillance system was introduced in fiscal 2009 to monitor the land reclamation and reforestation of our major open cast mines. Of the 163 open cast mines currently operated by us, our satellite surveillance has identified 49 open cast projects producing more than 5.0 million cu.m. (which includes coal and the overburden) per annum, which will be monitored once a year whereas the remaining 114 open cast projects producing less than 5.0 million cu.m. (which includes coal and the overburden) per annum will be monitored once in three years. Our monitoring indicates that we have made significant reclamation of the mined out areas of 49 major open cast mines.

Mine closure forms an important aspect of land restoration. We seek environment clearance in accordance with our mine closure plans and intend to allocate funds for such mine closure plans in accordance with the guidelines of the MoC. We have also reclaimed and restored certain of our abandoned/mined-out areas.

We continue to implement more environment friendly mining technologies such as surface miners in open cast mines, which reduces the drilling, blasting and crushing operations in coal production and hence limits pollution caused due to these operations. In addition, we work towards conserving water resources by means of ground water re-charging and rainwater harvesting. Some of our open cast mine voids act as water bodies and a major source of ground water re-charge after cessation of mining. We also have effluent treatment facilities to clean the water and try to re-use the water after treatment.

Some of our mines, have, in the past, suffered from adverse environmental conditions such as air pollution, fires and subsidence and depletion of ground water level. For details see, "- Description of Significant Coalfields and Mines - Jharia Coalfield - Master Plan for Jharia Coalfield", "- Description of Significant Coalfields and Mines - Raniganj Coalfield - Master Plan for Raniganj Coalfield" and "Risk Factors - The Jharia and Raniganj coalfields are susceptible to fire and land subsidence and pose a serious environmental, health and safety risk. The implementation of the rehabilitation plan involves significant capital expenditure and resources." beginning on pages 86, 88 and xxv respectively.

Social and Community Welfare Programs and Resettlement and Rehabilitation

We actively promote various programs for the enhancement of the health, education and economic well-being of the communities located near our mines. Our corporate social responsibilities ("CSR") initiatives are principally focused on project affected persons and persons living within a radius of 15 kilometers of our project sites to provide welfare measures based on immediate and long term social and community development programs. In addition, we have developed a policy for community and peripheral development, pursuant to which we support infrastructure programs, including for sports facilities, roads, schools, places of worship, clinics and water facilities near our mines. We also provide skills development and capacity building programs such as vocational training programs, income generation programs and entrepreneurship development programs. In addition, we conduct awareness programs and community activities such as health camps, medical aides, family welfare camps, AIDs awareness programs, sports and cultural activities and immunization camps. We also conduct literacy programs, adult education programs, assist in the formation of village working groups and other women groups. We work with local non-governmental organizations to develop farming and cottage industries which provide economic independence to the local communities near our mines.

In addition, as part of our CSR initiatives for education, we support technical and vocational educational institutions, provide assistance to primary, middle and higher secondary school, provide parental counseling, run awareness programs for education of girls, and provide scholarships. We have also established educational institutions that offer courses in engineering, nursing, management studies, medicines and other technical courses. As of March 31, 2010, we supported 590 educational institutions, provided 85 hospitals with 1,565 doctors and 5,835 hospital beds and 424 dispensaries. We also provide water supplies (including drinking water supplies) by installing hand pumps, tube wells, rain-water harvesting schemes, digging or renovating wells.

In order to fund our CSR activities under each subsidiary, we allocate 5.0% of the subsidiary's profit in the previous fiscal year (subject to a minimum of Rs.5.00 per ton of raw coal production in the previous fiscal year), of which 4.0% is allocated towards CSR activities within a radius of 15 kilometers of the project site and the balance 1.0% is allocated towards CSR initiatives to be carried out by the respective Subsidiaries in the state in which they operate. In order to fund our Company's CSR activities, 2.5% of the retained profit of the previous fiscal year is allocated for CSR activities, of which 1.5% is allocated towards CSR activities in the states that are not covered by our Subsidiaries as well as for supporting CSR activities of Subsidiaries that may not have recorded a profit in the previous fiscal year, and the remaining 1.0% is allocated towards local CSR initiatives.

In March 2008, we adopted a rehabilitation and resettlement policy. The main objectives of our resettlement and rehabilitation policies are to improve the standard of living of the project affected persons by providing them educational, medical and other facilities, to avoid disturbance to local communities and to resettle project affected persons in close association with non-governmental organizations. The policy also aims to pursue best practices for CSR initiatives in the vicinity of coalfields and to ensure community involvement and participation. Our resettlement and rehabilitation activities involve offering project affected persons employment and rehabilitation packages, compensation to persons whose houses are acquired, self employment to sharecroppers, land lessees, tenants and day laborers, self employment to landless tribals who are dependent on forest produce and community facilities and activities under our CSR initiatives.

Research and Development

Our wholly owned subsidiary CMPDIL is an established coal mine design and planning institute in India and provides comprehensive technical and consultancy services for our operations as well as third party clients for geological exploration and drilling, mine planning and design, coal beneficiation and utilization, allied engineering services, human resource development, environmental engineering, information and communication technology, research and development and laboratory and field services.

The Standing Scientific Research Committee ("SSRC") administers the research and development activities in the coal sector which includes planning, programming and supervising the implementations of the research projects for the overall development of the coal sector. A technical sub-committee headed by the chief managing director of CMPDIL assists SSRC amongst other things, for scrutiny of the research proposals, in processing government approvals for these proposals and monitoring progress of the implementation of the projects.

The research and development ("R&D") board of our Company has been established to promote research and development efforts funded by our Company. The projects are formulated and implemented by educational institutes, research/technical organizations, other PSEs, international technical service providers/research organizations. CMPDIL acts as a nodal agency for coordination of the research activities, disbursement of funds as well as monitoring of progress of our research and development activities. Our R&D team has conducted trials of mining methods such as "blasting gallery and cable bolting", for recovery of coal from thick seams and

"shortwall mining", which was introduced successfully at SECL. "Controlled blasting", which was also introduced through our R&D initiatives is now being used for removal of overburden rocks and coal in open cast mines close to surface structures without endangering the safety of the inhabitants.

Our R&D department has also developed a quantified assessment of roof strata called rock mass rating ("RMR"), which is currently being used for support design in underground mines. Our R&D department has recently developed a 4x800 ton capacity chock shield at a lower cost than what it would have cost us to import similar equipment. Other research projects conducted include projects on land reclamation after mining and utilization of fly ash. Further, a number of research projects have been taken up in the area of environment and ecology to integrate coal mining activities with ecological conservation and hazards due to mining.

We are currently conducting 43 research projects with total planned capital expenditure of Rs.1,829.10 million. Certain of CMPDIL's mine sites are ISO-9001:2000 certified by Certification International (UK) Limited for activities such as consultancy in mineral exploration and environmental management and planning and design in mining.

Vigilance Measures

We have established a Vigilance Division in our Company and in each of our Subsidiaries which is headed by a Chief Vigilance Officer ("CVO"), appointed by the GoI in consultation with Central Vigilance Commission ("CVC") of the GoI on tenure basis. The Chief Vigilance Officers act as special assistants or advisors to the respective chief executives of our Company and Subsidiaries. The functions of the CVOs include the collection of intelligence regarding corrupt practices; investigating verifiable allegations; processing investigation reports for further consideration of the disciplinary authority concerned; and referring matters to the CVC. The Vigilance Divisions of our Subsidiaries and the Vigilance Division of our Company work in co-ordination with the CVC, the MoC and the Central Bureau of Investigation. The CVC has established various procedures and directives with respect to allegation of corrupt practices. We also enter into "integrity pact" contracts with our vendors aimed at eliminating corrupt practices and establishing transparency and credibility to the respective organizations.

In addition, we have taken various measures to reduce losses due to pilferage and illegal mining, including collection of intelligence reports relating to illegal coal depots and illegal movement of coal from the district authorities; erection of barriers to prevent illegal mining; construction of watch towers and provision of lighting arrangements; fencing of the pit head depots; and security training to identify unauthorized transportation trucks. We have also established committees and task forces at various levels (block level, district level and state level) at certain of our Subsidiaries in order to identify authorized coal transportation trucks. In addition, regular unannounced raids/checks are conducted.

Insurance

We only maintain insurance for our cash-in-transit insurance and fidelity insurance. We do not maintain typical industry standard insurance coverage and do not have any insurance coverage for any potential risks associated with our operations. In particular, we do not have insurance for environmental hazards, such as pollution or other hazards arising from our disposal of waste products. We do not generally maintain any insurance against losses relating to our assets, including plant, equipment, business interruption, third party insurance against fire earthquake, freight insurance or any insurance for our employees. The occurrence of a significant adverse event, the risks of which are not fully covered by insurance, could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations. For details, see "Risk Factors - Our operations are subject to various risks and we do not maintain insurance coverage in accordance with applicable industry standards." beginning on page xix.

Information Technology

We have invited tenders for the implementation of SAP enterprise resource planning ("SAP-ERP") system to cater to various functions of our operations. For details, see "Risk Factors - We have invited tenders for the implementation of an enterprise resource planning system to manage our operations and an inability to implement such system within the expected time frame or at all could adversely affect our business." beginning on page xxxvi.

Regulatory Environment

For a description of the regulatory environment in which we operate in India, see “Regulations and Policies” beginning on page 111.

The majority of our employees are members of several unions including Indian National Trade Union Congress, the All India Trade Union Congress, the Hind Mazdoor Sabha, the Bhartiya Mazdoor Sangh and the Confederation of Indian Trade Unions. The MoC on February 28, 2007 authorized us to constitute the Joint Bipartite Committee for Coal Industry ("JBCCI")-VIII in consultation with the members of JBCCI-VII. Accordingly, JBCCI-VIII was constituted providing adequate representation to the major labor unions. The Wage Settlement under the National Coal Wage Agreement (NCWAVIII) was signed on January 24, 2009 at New Delhi and covers all the categories of our employees other than executive employees for a period of five years from July 1, 2006. As a public sector undertaking, salaries, wages and benefits of our executive employees are determined by the GoI and are fixed for a period of ten years. The current compensation level for our executive employees was finalized in May 2009 and is effective for a period of ten years from January 1, 2007.

Training

We aim to provide continuous training for our employees. We established the Indian Institute of Coal Management ("IICM") in 1994 to provide training and development opportunities to our middle and senior management executives, other level officers and our management trainees. IICM offers training programs such as advanced management programs, leadership development programs, general management programs and young managers' programs. The areas covered included advanced maintenance practices, general management program, management development program, training and coaching, career development for junior officers and communication skills. In addition, our company has arranged for a significant number of executives to attend external training programs and sent our employees (including directors, senior executives and non-executive employees) for a number international training sessions abroad.

Laws relating to Coal Mines

We are governed by the following legislations in respect of acquisition of land, mining rights of the coal mines and the conduct of coal mining operations in India:

- Coal Mines (Nationalization) Act, 1973, as amended, (“Coal Nationalization Act”);
- Coking Coal Mines (Nationalization) Act, 1972, as amended, (“Coking Coal Nationalization Act”);
- Coal Mines (Taking Over of Management) Act, 1973, as amended, (“Coal Mines Takeover Act”);
- Coking Coal Mines (Emergency Provision) Act, 1971 as amended, (“CCME Act”);
- Land Acquisition Act, 1894, as amended, (“Land Acquisition Act”);
- Coal Bearing Areas (Acquisition and Development) Act, 1957, as amended, (“CBA Act”);
- Coal India (Regulation of Transfers and Validation) Act, 2000, as amended, (“Coal Mines Transfer and Validation Act”);
- Mines and Minerals (Development and Regulation) Act, 1957, as amended, (“MMDR Act”); and
- Coal Mines (Conservation and Development) Act, 1974, as amended (“Conservation and Development Act”).

Nationalization of Coal Mines

The Coal Nationalization Act was enacted for the purposes of the acquisition and transfer of the right, title and interest of the owners in respect of coal mines. Under the Coal Nationalization Act, on and from May 1, 1973, the right, title and interest of the owners of coal mines were transferred to the Government of India and the Government of India is required to pay a specified amount for such transfer to the owner. The Coal Nationalization Act prohibits any person from carrying on coal mining operations in India, except for: (a) the Government of India or a Government Company including corporations owned, managed or controlled by the Government of India; (b) a person to whom a sub-lease has been granted by the Government of India or such company or corporation mentioned in (a) above; or (c) a company which is engaged in the production of iron and steel, generation of power, washing of coal obtained from a mine, or such other end use as the Government of India may notify. Also, the Coal Nationalization Act provides the Government of India with an option of vesting in a Government Company the right, title and interest of an owner of a coal mine by passing an order in writing. Where the Government of India passes an order in writing for vesting of such coal mines in the Government Company, such Government Company is deemed to be the lessee. The general superintendence, direction, control and management of the affairs and business of a coal mines is vested in the Government of India or such other person appointed by the Government of India.

Further, the Coal Nationalization Act provides that all property vested in the Government of India or the Government Company, as the case may be, shall be free from any encumbrances including mortgages, charges, liens, etc. Any liability of the erstwhile owner that arose prior to May 1, 1973 could not be passed to the Government of India or a Government Company.

Pursuant to the Coal Nationalization Act, the Government of India notified the Coal Mines (Intimation Regarding Mortgage, Charges, Lien or Other Interests) Rules, 1974, under which every mortgagee of any property which has vested under the Coal Nationalization Act in the Government of India or a Government Company, and every person holding any charge, lien or other interest in relation to such a property was required to give an intimation of the same within 30 days from the date stipulated by the Government of India.

Prior to the Coal Nationalization Act, the Government of India had also enacted the Coking Coal Nationalisation Act, which provides for the acquisition and transfer of the right, title and the interest of owners of the coking coal mines specified in the First Schedule of the enactment with effect from May 1, 1972. Pursuant to the Coking Coal Nationalisation Act, the Government of India notified the Coking Coal Mines (Intimation Regarding Mortgage, Charges, Lien or Other Interests) Rules, 1973, under which every mortgagee of any property which has vested under the Coking Coal Nationalisation Act in the Government of India or a Government Company, and every person holding any charge, lien or other interest in relation to such a property was required to give an intimation of the same within 30 days from the date stipulated by the Government of India.

During the period 1971, and pending the completion of nationalisation of coal mines, the Government of India enacted the Coal Mines Takeover Act and the CCME Act, for the taking over of the management of all the coal mines and coking coal mines and coke oven plants respectively. Under the Coal Mines Takeover Act, on and from January 31, 1973, the management of coal mines specified in the Schedule to the enactment was vested with the Government of India. The enactment has further empowered the Government of India to take over the management of any coal mine which to the knowledge of the Central Government may also come within the ambit of this enactment at a later point of time. The Government of India may appoint any person including any Government Company as the custodian for the purpose of taking over the management of such coal mines and the person so appointed shall carry on the management of such mines for and on behalf of the government. Similarly, the CCME Act has empowered the Government of India, on and from October 17, 1971, to take over the management of coking coal mines and coke oven plants. The acquisitions under the Coal Mines Takeover Act and the CCME Act mandate the Government of India to make payment in cash.

Acquisition of Coal Bearing Land

Though the Coal Nationalization Act vested all the coal mines in the Government of India, acquisition of additional land where coal is likely to be obtained is governed by the CBA Act and the Land Acquisition Act, read with the MMDR Act.

Unlike the Land Acquisition Act which grants general power to the GoI to acquire land, the CBA Act specifically grants power to the Government of India to acquire coal bearing land by notifying in the Official Gazette such land, besides, empowering the Government of India to vest in the Government Company such rights in or over the land. The procedure under the CBA Act envisages the following process:

- a preliminary notification of the intention to prospect for coal in an area;
- objections from the public;
- a declaration for acquisition of land;
- vesting of land or rights in or over the land in the Government of India or a Government Company, as the case may be; and
- payment of compensation for such acquisition, the value of which, depends on various factors, such as, market value of the land, damage to be sustained by the person, etc.

Further, a government company that has been vested with the right under the CBA Act would become the owner from the date of vesting of such right by the Government of India. However, where the rights under mining lease are acquired under the CBA Act, then from the date of such vesting, the acquirer is deemed to have become the lessee of the State Government.

Where the acquisition of land takes place under the Land Acquisition Act, the following procedure shall be followed:

- identification of land;
- notification of land;

- declaration of land;
- acquisition of land; and
- payment and ownership of land.

However, any person having an interest in such land has the right to object to such acquisition and has the right to receive compensation. The value of compensation for the property acquired depends on several factors, which, among other things, include the market value of the land and damage sustained by the person in terms of loss of profits. The land owner can raise objections in relation to the amount of compensation but cannot challenge the fact that any particular land is needed for a “public purpose” or for a company once a declaration to the same effect has been issued by the appropriate government. The term “public purpose” has been defined to include, among other things:

- the provision of village sites, or the extension, planned development or improvement of existing village sites;
- provision of land for town or rural planning;
- provision of land for the planned development of such land from public funds pursuant to any scheme or policy of the government and subsequent disposal thereof in whole or in part by lease, assignment or outright sale with the object of securing further development as planned;
- the provision of land for a corporation owned or controlled by the state;
- the provision of land for any other scheme of development sponsored by the government, or, with the prior approval of the appropriate government, by a local authority; and
- the provision of any premises or building for locating a public office, but does not include acquisition of land for companies.
- the provision of land for a corporation owned or controlled by the state.

In addition, certain states have amended the central statute and framed their own rules for compulsory land acquisition. The Company has to abide by the State legislations in those states in which it conducts its business, in addition to the Central legislation.

Reconnaissance Permit, Prospecting Licence and Mining Lease

Whereas the aforementioned legislations deal with the process of acquisition of coal bearing land, the MMDR Act, along with the Mineral Conservation and Development Rules, 1988, as amended, (“MCD Rules”) and the Mineral Concession Rules, 1960, as amended (“MC Rules”) deal with the mining rights and the operations of mines in India, the MMDR Act empowers the State Governments to develop and regulate mines and minerals, which includes powers in relation to the granting of reconnaissance permits, prospecting licences and mining leases.

A reconnaissance permit or a prospecting licence for any mineral or prescribed group of associated minerals is granted by the relevant State Government for a maximum period of three years. A prospecting licence may be renewed for a longer period by the relevant State Government, if it is satisfied that a longer period is required to enable the licensee to complete prospecting operations subject to such renewal period not exceeding five years. However, the MMDR Act does not provide for renewal of the reconnaissance permit and also a person can be granted a maximum area of 10,000 square kilometers in one or more reconnaissance permits. Similarly, a person can be granted a maximum area of 25 square kilometers in one or more prospecting licences, but if the Government of India is of the opinion that in the interest of development of any mineral it is necessary to do so, the maximum area limit can be relaxed. A person may obtain a prospecting licence in various states simultaneously up to the state-wide area limits. The person who undertakes prospecting under a prospecting licence enjoys preferential right for the grant of the mining lease over any other person, subject to the satisfaction of the relevant State Government in respect of certain conditions. Further, no licence can be granted unless there is evidence to show that the area for which the lease is applied for has been prospected earlier and there is a mining plan approved by the relevant State Government.

Further, where any person has made an application for a mining lease in respect of mineral(s) not specified in the existing mining lease(s) by another, then the State Government shall notify such fact to the person who already holds mining leases in the land applied for. If the existing lessee applies for a prospecting licence or mining lease for another mineral in respect of the newly discovered mineral(s) within six months of the date of communication of such information by the State Government, then the existing lessee shall get preference in respect of such grant.

Moreover, the MCD Rules provide that every holder of a mining lease shall take all possible precautions for the protection of the environment and control of pollution while conducting prospecting, mining, beneficiation or metallurgical operations in the area. The environmental protection measures that are required to be taken in any mining operation includes, among others, removal and utilization of top soil, storage of overburden, waste rock, etc., reclamation and rehabilitation of lands, precaution against ground vibrations, control of surface subsidence, precautions in respect of air pollution and noise levels, discharge of toxic liquid and impact on flora. Pursuant to the Supreme Court judgment in M.C. Mehta v. Union of India, environmental clearance from the Ministry of Environment and Forest, Government of India (“MoEF”) is also required at the time of renewal of a mining lease if the area under the lease is in excess of five hectares and the mining lease is in respect of a major mineral.

In respect of coal, as mentioned in the First Schedule of the MMDR Act, prior approval of the Government of India is required to be obtained by the State Government for entering into the mining lease. The approval of the Government of India is granted on the basis of the recommendations of the State Governments, though the Government of India has the discretion to overlook such recommendations. On receiving the clearance of the Government of India, the State Government grants the final mining lease and prospecting licence. The mining lease can be executed only after obtaining the mine plan approval, along with the progressive mine closure plan approval from the Indian Bureau of Mines (IBM). Such plans are required to be in formats as prescribed by the Indian Bureau of Mines (IBM) in this regard.

The mining lease agreement governs the terms on which the lessee can use the land for the purposes of mining operations. If the land on which the mines are located belongs to private parties, the lessee would have to acquire the surface rights from such private party. If such private party refuses to grant such surface rights, the lessee is to inform the same to the State Government and deposit the compensation for the acquisition of the surface rights with the State Government, and if the State Government deems that such amount is fair and reasonable then the State Government will order the private occupier to permit the lessee to enter the land and carry out such operation as may be necessary for the purpose of the mining lease. In case of government land, the surface right to operate in the lease area is granted by the Government upon application and as per the norms of that State Government. Surface rights of private land can be directly negotiated with the owner and the rights obtained.

If the mining operation in respect of any mining lease leads to displacement of people, the mining project can become functional only after ensuring resettlement and rehabilitation of the persons displaced by the mining operations and payment of other benefits have been carried out in accordance with the guidelines of the relevant State Governments, including payment for the acquired land, owned by those displaced persons.

In case forest lands are involved, the mining lease can be executed only after obtaining the forest clearances from the MoEF as per the Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980, as amended, (“Forest Act”). In a State, a person can be granted one or more mining leases for a mineral or prescribed group of associated minerals for a total area not exceeding 10 square kilometres. However, if the Government of India is of the opinion that it is necessary in the interest of development of any mineral to do so, it may relax the aforesaid requirement. Further, in order to determine the total area of 10 square kilometres, the area held under a mining lease by a person in his capacity as member of a co-operative society, company or any other corporation, or a Hindu undivided family or a partner of a firm shall be deducted from the area held under a mining lease in his own name so that the sum total of the area held under the mining lease does not exceed 10 square kilometres.

The maximum term for which a mining lease may be granted is 30 years provided that the minimum period shall not be less than 20 years. A mining lease may be renewed for further a period of 20 years or for a lesser period as per the request of the lessee. The renewals are subject to the lessee not being in default of any applicable laws (including environmental laws) and in respect of certain specified minerals, the previous approval of the Government of India. The MMDR Act provides that if the holders of a mining lease are using the mineral for their “own industry”, then such holder would be entitled to a renewal of his mining lease for a period of 20 years unless he applies for a lesser period. The lessee has to apply to the relevant State Government for renewal of the mining lease at least one year prior to the expiry of the lease. However, the State Government can condone the delay in submitting an application for renewal of a lease provided that the application is made before the expiry of the lease. In the event that the State Government does not pass any orders in relation to an application for renewal prior to the expiry of the lease, the lease period will be deemed to be extended until the State Government passes its orders on such application for renewal.

Under the MC Rules, the approval of the Government of India is required for the transfer of a mining lease, including assignment, subletting or transfer of right, title or interest in any other manner. Further, the transferee must accept all the conditions and liabilities to which the transferor was subject in respect of such lease.

Royalty Payable

Royalty on the mineral removed or consumed from a leased area at a specified rate, or the dead rent, whichever is higher, is payable to the State Government by the lessee in accordance with the MMDR Act. The mineral royalty is payable in respect of an operating mine that has started dispatching and is computed in accordance with the stipulated rates. The Government of India has broad powers to change the royalty rates but cannot do so more than once every three years.

In terms of the Second Schedule to the MMDR Act, the royalty currently payable with respect to iron ore lumps, fines and concentrates of all grades is at a rate of 10% on an ad valorem basis, on the sales price.

In addition, the lessee will be liable to pay the occupier of the surface of the land over which he holds the mining lease an annual compensation determined by the Central Government, which varies depending on whether the land is agricultural or non-agricultural.

Conservation and Development of Coal Mines

The Conservation and Development Act authorizes the Central Government to take measures for conservation of coal and development of coal mines. Under the Conservation and Development Act, the Government of India is also empowered to direct any person to take measures which may be necessary for conservation of coal and the development of coal mines, including stowing for safety, washing of coal with a view to beneficiating and reducing the ash-contents of coal. It lays down specific duties which the owner is mandated to carry out for the conservation of coal and the development of the coal mine. Further, the owner is required to pay excise and customs duty as specified. The provisions of the enactment requires Central Government to distribute a part of the collection of customs and excise duties to the owner of the coal mines, who are required to open a separate account. The funds to the credit of this account are required to be used by the owner of the coal mines to further the objects of the Conservation and Development Act.

Transfer and Validation in relation to Coal India Limited

The Coal Mines Transfer and Validation Act empowers the Government of India to transfer of land, or of rights in and over lands or of the right, title, interest in relation to a coal mine, coking coal mine or a coke oven plant which is vested in our Company or in a Subsidiary incorporated under the Companies Act (“Indian Subsidiaries”) company to any other Indian Subsidiary. The transferee Indian Subsidiary would be required and willing to comply, or has already complied, with such terms and conditions as the government may think fit to impose. Prior to the Coal Mines Transfer and Validation Act, an Indian Subsidiary which was operating or, was in control of, any coal mine, coking coal mine, or coke oven plants which was vested in our Company or an Indian Subsidiary shall be deemed to have been vested with the land, or rights, title, interest in relation to a coal mine, coking coal mine or a coke oven plant with the Government of India, with the Government of India having the power to retrospectively validate such transfers.

Laws relating to Mines Safety

The Mines Act, 1952, as amended, (“Mines Act”), along with the rules and regulations therein, seeks to regulate the working condition in mines by providing for measures to be taken for the safety of the workers employed. The Mines Act has been enacted with the objective of providing for the health, safety and welfare of workers employed in the mines against industrial and occupational hazards. The enactment provides duties, guidelines and standards that are to be maintained during mining operations and management of mines; hours and limitation of employment; leave with wages of mine workers. It empowers the Central Government to appoint qualified persons as inspectors and chief inspectors of mines who shall have the power to inspect and examine any part of the mine at any time, in order to ascertain whether the provisions of the Mines Act, and the rules and regulations therein, are being followed. General disobedience of orders or non compliance of provisions of the Mines Act may result in both criminal and civil penalties.

The Mines Act is administered through the DGMS, with the objective of reduction in risk of occupational diseases and casualty to persons employed in mines, is the regulatory agency for safety in mines and oversees compliance with the Mines Act and the rules and regulations thereunder.

The Mines Rules, 1955, (“Mines Rules”), which were notified pursuant to the Mines Act, provides for, inter alia, detailed guidelines regarding Committees, Court of Inquiry constituted under the Mines Act, requirements for initial and periodical medical examinations of persons employed or to be employed in mines, constitute a workmen’s inspector and safety committee, provide health and sanitation standards, provisions related to first aid and medical appliances, employment of persons, leave with wages and overtime and welfare amenities.

Also, the Government of India notified the Mines Rescue Rules, 1985 (“MR Rules”), under the Mines Act, in order to empower the Chief Inspector (established by the Mines Act, 1952) to permit or require the owner of a below ground mine or a group of below-ground mines to establish and maintain rescue station(s) which shall: (a) provide both initial and refresher training in rescue and recovery work; (b) provide support in case of major accidents or long lasting rescue and recovery operations; and (c) carryout the functions of rescue room in respect of these below ground mines where there is no rescue room. A rescue room has the facility for the storage, assembly, testing and adjustments of rescue equipment and for their speedy transport to mines.

Pursuant to the powers under the Mines Act, the Government of India also enacted the Coal Mines Regulations, 1957 (“CM Regulations”), under the Mines Act. The CM Regulations lay down the duties and the responsibilities of the workmen, the officials and the other people looking after the working of the coal mines; the general requirements about mine plans; requirements regarding health and safety of workers. The CM Regulations also requires, in pursuance of Section 16 of the Mines Act, the submission of a notice of opening to the regional inspector accompanied by a plan showing the boundaries of the mine and shafts and openings of the mines and other prominent and permanent surface features.

Regulations on Coal Distribution and Quality Control

Quality Control

In exercise of the powers conferred by the Essential Commodities Act, 1955 and the MMDR Act, the Government of India issued the Colliery Control Order, 2000, as amended, (“CC Order”) and the Colliery Control Rules, 2004, as amended, (“CC Rules”). Both the CC Order and the CC Rules empowers the Central Government to prescribe the criteria for categorization of coal and the Coal Controller for prescribing the procedure for the categorization of coal, inspection of collieries and quality surveillance, etc. The Coal Controller has also been empowered to issue directions to any colliery owner regulating disposal of stocks of coal, prohibiting or limiting the mining or production of any grade of coal and the requirement of prior permissions to open a coal mine.

Distribution of Coal

The MoC issued the New Coal Distribution Policy, 2007, as amended (“NCD Policy”) in order to regulate the distribution of coal. This policy removed the classification of consumers into consumers of the core and the noncore sectors and instead, stated that each sector consumers would be treated on merit keeping in view, inter alia, the regulatory provisions applicable thereto and other relevant factors. The NCD Policy also deals with the (a) distribution and pricing of coal to different consumers or sectors like the defence sector, railways, power utilities, integrated steel plants, etc.; (b) exclusive distribution policy for the consumers in small and medium sector, replacement of the linkage system with enforceable Fuel Supply Agreements; and (c) laying down of policies for new consumers and a fresh scheme for e-auctioning of coal. The NCD Policy also lays down that discipline and economy should be maintained in the usage of coal since it is considered a scarce fuel. The policy requires our Company to undertake verification of consumers of erstwhile non-core sector consumers to check the veracity of their claim of being bonafide consumers of coal and empowers our Company to cancel the allocation of the consumers who are not found to be bonafide.

Environmental Laws

Clearances under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986, as amended, (“Environment Act”), the Forest Act, if any forest land is involved, and other environmental laws, such as, Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981, as amended, (“Air Act”), the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974, as amended, ("Water Act"), and Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Cess Act, 1977, as amended, ("Water Cess Act") are required before commencing the operations of the mines. Mining activity within a forest area is not permitted in contravention of the provisions of the Forest Act. The final clearance in respect of both forest and environment is given by the Government of India, through the MoEF. However, all applications have to be made through the respective State Governments who then recommend the application to the Government of India. The penalties for non-compliance range from closure or prohibition of mining activity in respect of the mines as well as the power to stop supply of energy, water or other service and monetary penalties on and imprisonment of the persons in charge of the conduct of the business of the company in accordance with the terms of the Environment Act and the Forest Act.

Environment Act

The Environment Act has been formulated by the Central Government for the protection and improvement of the environment in India and for matters connected there with. The Environment Act is an umbrella legislation designated to provide a framework for the Central Government to co-ordinate activities of various state and central authorities established under previous environmental laws. The scope of the Environment Act is very broad with the term "environment" being defined to include water; air and land; human beings; and other living creatures, plant, micro-organisms and property. Section 7 of the Environment Act specifies that no person carrying on any industry, operation or process shall discharge or emit or permit to be discharged or emitted any environment pollutants in excess of such standards as may be prescribed.

Under Section 3 and 5 of the Environment Act, the Government of India is empowered to give directions to ensure remedial measures in the event there are damages to any of the constituents of "environment" defined under the Environment Act. The power to adjudge the account of compensation is with the Central Government. The Supreme Court in Indian Council for Enviro-Legal Action and Ors. v. Union of India and Ors., observed that it was the Central Government which is responsible for determining the amount of compensation required for carrying out the remedial measures, its recovery/ realization and undertaking the remedial measures in light of the provisions of the Environment Act.

The Central Government has been provided with broad rule making powers, such as, (a) the standards of quality of air, water or soil for various areas and purposes; (b) the prohibition and restriction on the location of industries and the carrying on process and operations in different areas; and (c) the procedures and safeguards for the prevention of accidents which may cause environmental pollution and for providing for remedial measures for such accidents. The Environment Act also prohibits any person carrying on any industry, operation or process from discharging or emitting or permitting to be discharged or emitted any environmental pollutants in excess of such standards as may be prescribed.

Pursuant to notification No. 60(E) issued by the MoEF dated January 27, 1994, project authorities in mining projects are required to intimate the location of the project site to the MoEF while initiating any investigation and surveys. The MoEF then conveys a decision regarding suitability or otherwise of the proposed site within a maximum period of thirty days. Such site clearance is granted for a sanctioned capacity and is valid for a period of five years for commencing the construction, operation or mining. The mine can be operational only when the project (greater than 5 hectare area) receives the Environment Clearance from the MoEF under the Environment Act, as amended. The notification made it mandatory for any person undertaking any new project or expanding or modernizing any existing industry or project listed in the Schedule I of this notification to submit an application along with a project report to the MoEF.

Subsequently, the Government of India issued another Notification No. S.O. 1533(E) dated September 14, 2006, as amended, ("2006 EIA Notification"), whereby, the earlier notification dated January 27, 1994 (including the amendments thereto) were superseded. The 2006 EIA Notification changed the entire procedure for granting of environmental clearances. According to the 2006 EIA Notification, all new projects, expansion of existing projects, product-mix activities and projects require prior environment clearance if they are listed in the schedule to the said notification. The projects and activities listed under 'category A' of the schedule require clearance from the regulatory authority constituted by the Central Government, whereas, the projects and activities listed under 'Category B' are required to obtain clearance from State Environment Impact Assessment Authority, ("SEIAA").

The SEIAA will base its decision of granting prior environment clearance on the basis of the recommendations of the State Expert Appraisal Committee ("SEAC") while the Central Government will grant prior environmental clearance for category A projects on the basis of the recommendations of the Expert Appraisal Committee (“EAC”) to be constituted as per this notification. If the SEIAA or the SEAC is not constituted in any state then the Category B project will be deemed to be Category A project.

The notification provides for four stages for prior environment clearance. However not all stages apply to all projects. The four stages are:

- 1) Screening: During this process the appraisal authority shall determine whether there is a requirement of Environment Impact Assessment Report to be submitted as per the guidelines given by the Central Government in this context.
- 2) Scoping: During this process the appraisal committee will determine the Terms of Reference (“TOR”) for each of the category (i.e. category A and B 1 projects). TOR will be conveyed to the applicant within 60 days of receipt of the application in prescribed format.
- 3) Public Consultancy and Public Hearing: This process involves obtaining and receiving objections and other concerns of local affected persons and others who have a stake in the project and its impact. Public Hearing should be conducted by the State Pollution Control Board or the Union Territory Pollution Control Committee within 45 days from the date of receiving the application from the project proponent to this effect.
- 4) Appraisal: SEAC or EAC accordingly shall consider the final Environment Impact Assessment report and the outcome of public consultation and other documents and make recommendations to the regulatory authority. They may recommend granting prior environmental clearance on stipulated terms and conditions or rejecting the applications recording the reasons for the same.

Further, as per the 2006 EIA notification, the management of the project which obtained prior environmental clearance shall submit to the regulatory authority compliance report every six months. All the compliance reports shall be public documents.

Air Act

Under the provisions of the Air Act, under which any individual, industry or institution responsible for emitting smoke or gases by way of use as fuel or chemical reactions must apply in a prescribed form and obtain consent from the state pollution control board prior to commencing any mining activity. The board is required to grant consent within four months of receipt of the application. The consent may contain conditions relating to specifications of pollution control equipment to be installed.

For ensuring the continuation of the mining operations, a yearly consent certification from the state pollution control board is required both under the Air Act and Water Act, as discussed above.

Forest Act

In case forest lands are involved, the mining lease can be executed only after obtaining the forest clearances as per the Forest Act. The Forest Act provides that no State Government or any other authority shall authorize, without the prior approval of the Central Government, that any forest land or any portion thereof may be used for any non-forest purpose where ‘non-forest’ purpose refers to the breaking up or clearing of any forest land or portion thereof for:

- the cultivation of tea, coffee, spices, rubber, palms, oil-bearing plants, horticultural crops or medicinal plants; or
- any purpose other than reforestation but does not include any work relating or ancillary to conservation, development and management of forests and wildlife.

Water Act

The Water Act, which aims at the prevention and control of water pollution as well as restoration of water quality, through the establishment of state pollution control boards. Under the provisions of the Water Act, any individual, industry or institution discharging industrial or domestic wastewater is required to obtain consent of the state pollution control board. The consent to operate is granted for a specific period after which the conditions stipulated at the time of granting consent are reviewed by the state pollution control board. Even before the expiry of the consent period, the state pollution control board is authorized to carry out periodic checks on any industry to verify if the standards prescribed are being complied with by the concerned person/company. If the standards are not being complied with, the state pollution control board is authorized to serve a notice to the concerned person/company. In the event of non-compliance, the state pollution control board may mandate closure the mine or withdraw its water supply to the mine or cause magistrates to pass injunctions to restrain such polluters.

Water Cess Act

Mining is a specified industry under the Water Cess Act and a lessee is required to pay the surcharge as stipulated on the basis of water consumed. The assessing authority at the state level levies and collects the surcharge based on the amount of water consumed by such industries. The rate is also determined on the basis of the purpose for which the water is used. Based on the surcharge returns to be furnished by the industry every month, the amount of cess is assessed by the relevant authorities. A rebate of up to 25% on the surcharge payable is available to those industries which install any plant for the treatment of sewage or trade effluent, provided that they consume water within the quantity prescribed for that category of industries and also comply with the effluents standards prescribed under the Water Act or the Environment Act.

Regulation of Foreign Investment in India

Foreign investment in Indian securities is governed by the provisions of the FEMA read with the applicable FEMA Regulations. The DIPP has issued 'Circular 1 of 2010' ("FDI Circular") which consolidates the policy framework on FDI, with effect from April 1, 2010. The FDI Circular consolidates and subsumes all the press notes, press releases, and clarifications on FDI issued by DIPP as on March 31, 2010. All the press notes, press releases, clarifications on FDI issued by DIPP as on March 31, 2010 stand rescinded as on March 31, 2010.

Foreign investment is permitted (except in the prohibited sectors) in Indian companies either through the automatic route or the approval route, where approval from the Government of India or RBI is required, depending upon the sector in which foreign investment is sought to be made.

Under the automatic route, the foreign investor or the Indian company does not require any approval from the RBI or Government of India for investments. However, if the foreign investor has any previous joint venture/tie-up or a technology transfer/trademark agreement in the "same field" in India as on January 12, 2005, prior approval from the FIPB is required even if that activity falls under the automatic route, except as otherwise provided. 100% FDI is allowed under the automatic route in coal and lignite mining for captive consumption by power projects, iron and steel and cement units and other eligible activities permitted under and subject to the provisions of the Coal Nationalization Act.

Under the approval route, prior approval of the Government of India through FIPB is required. FDI for the items or activities that cannot be brought in under the automatic route may be brought in through the approval route.

Where FDI is allowed on an automatic basis without the approval of the FIPB, the RBI would continue to be the primary agency for the purposes of monitoring and regulating foreign investment. In cases where FIPB approval is obtained, no approval of the RBI is required except with respect to fixing the issuance price, although a declaration in the prescribed form, detailing the foreign investment, must be filed with the RBI once the foreign investment is made in the Indian company.

Investment by FIIs

FIIs including institutions such as pension funds, mutual funds, investment trusts, insurance and reinsurance companies, international or multilateral organizations or their agencies, foreign governmental agencies, sovereign wealth funds, foreign central banks, asset management companies, investment managers or advisors, banks, trustees, endowment funds, university funds, foundation or charitable trusts or societies and institutional portfolio managers can invest in all the securities traded on the primary and secondary markets in India. FIIs are required to obtain an initial registration from the SEBI and a general permission from the RBI to engage in transactions regulated under the FEMA. FIIs must also comply with the provisions of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Foreign Institutional Investors) Regulations, 1995, as amended from time to time ("FII Regulations"). The initial registration and the RBI's general permission together enable the registered FII to buy (subject to the ownership restrictions discussed below) and sell freely, securities issued by Indian companies, to realize capital gains or investments made through the initial amount invested in India, to subscribe or renounce rights issues for shares, to appoint a domestic custodian for custody of investments held and to repatriate the capital, capital gains, dividends, income received by way of interest and any compensation received towards sale or renunciation of rights issues of shares.

FII's are permitted to purchase shares of an Indian company through public/private placement under:

- i. Regulation 5 (1) of the FEMA Regulations, subject to terms and conditions specified under Schedule 1 of the FEMA Regulations (“FDI Route”).
- ii. Regulation 5 (2) of the FEMA Regulations subject to terms and conditions specified under Schedule 2 of the FEMA Regulations (“PIS Route”).

In case of investments under FDI Route, investments are made either directly to the company account, or through a foreign currency denominated account maintained by the FII with an authorised dealer, wherein Form FC-GPR is required to be filed by the company. Form FC-GPR is a filing requirement essentially for investments made by non-residents under the ‘automatic route’ or ‘approval route’ falling under Schedule 1 of the FEMA Regulations.

In case of investments under the PIS Route, investments are made through special non-resident rupee account, wherein Form LEC (FII) is required to be filed by the designated bank of the FII concerned. Form LEC (FII) is essentially a filing requirement for FII investment (both in the primary as well as the secondary market) made through the PIS Route.

Foreign investment under the FDI Route is restricted/ prohibited in sectors provided in part A and part B of Annexure A to Schedule 1 of the FEMA Regulations.

Ownership Restrictions of FIIs

The issue of securities to a single FII under the PIS Route should not exceed 10% of the issued and paid-up capital of the company. In respect of an FII investing in securities on behalf of its sub-accounts, the investment on behalf of each sub-account shall not exceed 10% of the total issued and paid-up capital. The aggregate FII holding in a company cannot exceed 24% of its total paid-up capital.

The said 24% limit can be increased up to 100% by passing a resolution by the board of directors followed by passing a special resolution to that effect by the shareholders of the company. As on the date of filing of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, no such resolutions have been passed either by our Board or the shareholders of our Company.

Subject to compliance with all applicable Indian laws, rules, regulations guidelines and approvals in terms of Regulation 15A(1) of the FII Regulations, an FII may issue, deal or hold, offshore derivative instruments such as “Participatory Notes”, equity-linked notes or any other similar instruments against underlying securities listed or proposed to be listed on any stock exchange in India only in favour of those entities which are regulated by any relevant regulatory authorities in the countries of their incorporation or establishment subject to compliance of “know your client” requirements. An FII or their Sub-Account shall also ensure that no further downstream issue or transfer of any instrument referred to hereinabove is made to any person other than a regulated entity. FIIs and their Sub-Accounts are not allowed to issue offshore derivative instruments with underlying as derivatives.

HISTORY AND CERTAIN CORPORATE MATTERS

Brief History of our Company and our Subsidiaries

In order to provide for a higher growth in coal sector to meet the growing energy needs of the country, the Government in 1973, nationalized the coal mines by enacting the Coal Nationalization Act. Pursuant to the nationalization of coal mines, our Company was incorporated as a private limited company with the name of 'Coal Mines Authority Limited', under the Companies Act on June 14, 1973, and in terms of notification no. G.S.R. 345(F) dated July 9, 1973, issued pursuant to the provisions of Section 5 of the Coal Nationalization Act certain nationalized coal mines were vested in our Company by the Central Government.

Thereafter in 1975, Department of Coal, Ministry of Energy, GoI, with a view to integrate and streamline the structural set up in a manner which could be conducive to a more efficient administration, issued letter no. 38011/1/1/74-CAF dated September 27, 1975, providing for the re-organisation of 'Coal Mines Authority Limited' as 'Coal India Limited', which was to be responsible for the entire coal mining sector owned and controlled by the Central Government. Further, to the above direction from the Ministry of Energy, Department of Coal, the following steps were undertaken to re-organize our Company:

- (a) BCCL was made a Subsidiary of our Company.
- (b) 'National Coal Development Corporation' was renamed as 'Central Coalfields Limited' and made a Subsidiary of our Company. Further, the central division of our Company was transferred to CCL.
- (c) CMPDIL was incorporated as a private limited company and made Subsidiary of our Company. Further, the mine planning division of our Company was transferred to CMPDIL.
- (d) ECL was incorporated as a private limited company and made a Subsidiary of our Company. Further, the eastern division of our Company was transferred to ECL.
- (e) WCL was incorporated as a private limited company and made a Subsidiary of our Company. Further, the western division of our Company was transferred to WCL.

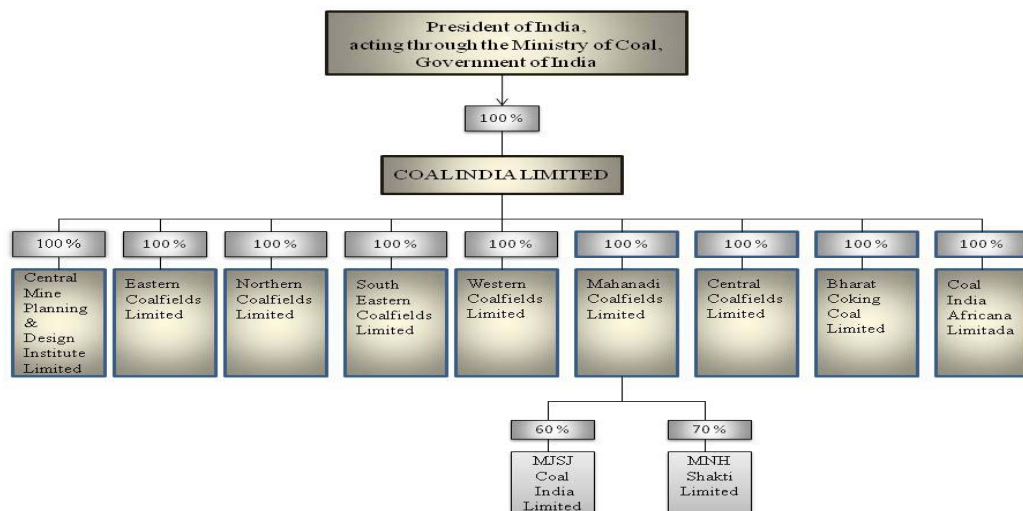

In compliance with the above direction from the Ministry of Energy, Department of Coal, and pursuant to a resolution of our shareholders dated October 15, 1975 and approval of the Ministry of Law, Justice and Company Affairs (letter no. RD/T/5226) dated October 21, 1975, the name of our Company was changed to 'Coal India Limited' and we received a fresh certificate of incorporation dated October 21, 1975 from the RoC, consequent upon such change of name.

Pursuant to the nationalization of coal mines and during the period upto 1991, our Company was able to enhance the growth rate of coal production from a CAGR of 2.18% at the time of nationalisation in Fiscal 1974 to a CAGR of 5.63% by Fiscal 1991. However during this period, due to certain macro-economic and socio economic factors, our Company continued to operate certain legacy mines inherited pursuant to the nationalization and to operate certain new projects irrespective of financial viability. Further, on account of certain internal reasons and policy issues, our Company's accumulated losses in Fiscal 1991 and overdue liabilities to the Government in Fiscal 1993, reached Rs. 24,989.80 million and Rs. 23,113.10 million respectively. Thereafter, post 1991 upon our Company achieving certain milestones and certain policy changes initiated by the Government our Company endeavoured to consolidate its financial position. For details in relation to milestones achieved by our Company and the financial conditions of our Company, please see the sub section titled "Major Events and Milestones" and the section titled "Financial Statements", respectively at pages 122 and 176.

For further details in relation to our business including description of our activities, services, market of each segment, our growth, research and development, managerial competence and capacity build-up, our standing with reference to our prominent competitors, see the sections titled "Our Business" and "Management's Discussion of Financial Conditions and Results of Operational" page 68 and 177.

Subsequently to the corporate re-organization of our Company in 1975, pursuant to a letter no. 38011/1/83-OA dated November 1, 1985 from the Ministry of Energy, Department of Coal, NCL and SECL were incorporated as private limited companies and made Subsidiaries of our Company, to manage mines in certain areas hitherto managed by CCL and WCL. Thereafter, pursuant to a letter dated March 26, 1992 from the MoC, MCL was incorporated as private limited company and made a Subsidiary of our Company, to manage mines in Talcher and IB valley in the state of Orissa. Thereafter, pursuant to a resolution passed by our shareholders on February 16, 2010 and approval of MoC (letter no. 38038/1/96-CA-II (Vol. II)) dated July 31, 2009, with effect from February 24, 2010, our Company was converted into a public company. Pursuant to the corporate reorganization and the subsequent acquisition of Subsidiaries by our Company, the structure of our Company and our Subsidiaries, as on the date of the DRHP is as follows:

For details of raising of capital in the form of equity and debt, see the sections titled “Capital Structure” and “Financial Indebtedness” on pages 26 and 220, respectively.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion of our financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with our audited consolidated financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, prepared in accordance with the Companies Act and Indian GAAP and restated in accordance with the ICDR Regulations, including the schedules, annexures and notes thereto and the reports thereon, included in the section titled "Financial Statements" beginning on page 176 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Unless otherwise stated, the financial information used in this section is derived from our audited consolidated financial statements, as restated.

Indian GAAP differs in certain material respects from U.S. GAAP and IFRS. We have not attempted to quantify the impact of IFRS or U.S. GAAP on the financial data included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, nor do we provide a reconciliation of our financial statements to those under U.S. GAAP or IFRS. Accordingly, the degree to which the Indian GAAP financial statements included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader's level of familiarity with the Companies Act, Indian GAAP and ICDR Regulations.

This discussion contains forward-looking statements and reflects our current views with respect to future events and financial performance. Actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors such as those set forth in the sections titled "Risk Factors" and "Forward Looking Statements" beginning on page xv and page xiii, respectively.

In this section, unless the context otherwise requires, a reference to "our Company" is a reference to Coal India Limited and a reference to "we", "us" and "our" refers to Coal India Limited and its subsidiaries and joint venture companies, on a consolidated basis.

Overview

We are the largest coal producing company in the world (Source: CRISIL Research), based on our raw coal production of 431.26 million tons in fiscal 2010. We are also the largest coal reserve holder in the world (Source: CRISIL Research) based on our reserve base as of April 1, 2010. For further information on our reserve and resource base, see "Business – Coal Reserve and Resource Information" on page 75.

As of March 31, 2010, we operated 471 mines in 21 major coalfields across eight states in India. We produce non-coking coal and coking coal of various grades for diverse applications. In fiscal 2010, we produced 395.13 million tons of non-coking coal and 36.13 million tons of coking coal. Some of our raw coal production is used for the production of beneficiated coal. In fiscal 2010, we produced 11.62 million tons of beneficiated non-coking coal and 2.97 million tons of beneficiated coking coal.

India is the world's third largest producer and consumer of coal. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) Coal produced by us accounted for approximately 81.9% of coal production in India in fiscal 2009 (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook). According to CRISIL Coal Outlook, the power generation sector in India consumed 77.0% of the non-coking coal produced in fiscal 2009. Further, in fiscal 2009, coal met 52.4%, while oil and natural gas met 41.6%, of the total primary energy requirement of India. (Source: BP Statistics)

Because of our pre-eminent position in the coal industry in India, the continuing dependence of the power sector on coal as a cost effective source of fuel and our long standing relationship with significant customers such as NTPC and other government owned and controlled power utilities, we believe we play a strategic role in the development of India's thermal power sector which continues to be a key driver for growth in the Indian economy.

Following the complete deregulation of coal prices in January 2000, we were permitted to determine the price of our coal and coal products. Since the price of coal has significant ramifications on the Indian economy in general and the thermal power sector in particular, we have followed a strategy of focusing on improving cost efficiencies to avoid increasing prices, particularly for our lower grade coal. While we have followed a strategy of developing cost competitiveness of our lower grade coal, we have followed a strategy of pricing our higher quality coal that is comparable to imported coal at approximately a 15.0% discount to the landed cost of comparative quality imported coal. We seek to follow a similar strategy for the pricing of our beneficiated coal that is comparable to the quality of imported coal and have commenced significant expansion plans for the development of our coal beneficiation infrastructure. See “- Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Coal Production and Expansion – Beneficiated Coal” and “- Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Sales Volume and Pricing – Pricing” beginning on pages 178 and 179, respectively.

We have a large employee base, most of them engaged in our mining operations. We had 439,343, 426,077, 412,350 and 397,138 employees as of March 31, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. The total number of employees has decreased steadily in recent years as a result of natural attrition.

We have been conferred the Navratna status by the GoI, which provides us with certain operational and financial autonomy. Our total income increased from Rs.340,087.99 million in fiscal 2006 to Rs.525,922.92 million in fiscal 2010, while our profit after tax, as restated, increased from Rs.61,136.01 million in fiscal 2006 to Rs.98,294.09 million in fiscal 2010. As of March 31, 2010, we had reserves and surplus of Rs.195,289.14 million, and our net worth was Rs.258,437.43 million. As of March 31, 2010, our cash and bank balances were Rs.390,777.60 million while total indebtedness was Rs.20,868.51 million.

Factors Affecting our Results of Operations

Various factors have affected our results of operations in the past and may continue to do so in the future, including:

Coal Production and Expansion

Raw Coal

Our ability to generate revenue is dependent on the amount of raw coal produced by us. Our coal production volumes are based primarily on the performance of our mining activities and our coal handling and processing capacities.

The following table sets forth certain information relating to our raw coal production by grade in the periods indicated. For further information on various grades of coal, see "Industry – Grades of Raw Coal" on page 66:

2. In fiscal 2010 we reclassified a portion of non-coking coal of Grade D and Grade E into Washery Grade IV coking coal, as Grade D and E non-coking coal can be washed to yield limited quality beneficiated coking coal for use in steel plants.

3. Less than 0.01 million tons.

4. Less than 0.1%.
5. Includes semi-coking coal and weakly coking coal.

The increase in our raw coal production since fiscal 2007 is primarily the result of the expansion of mining capacities and increased mining activities, particularly in the Korba, Singrauli, Talcher, IB Valley, Jharia and East Bokaro coalfields. For further information, see “Business – Coal Production – Production by Coalfield” on page 78.

We continue to expand our raw coal production capacities. As contemplated in the Annual Plan for fiscal 2011 of the MoC, we intend to increase our production to 460.50 million tons in fiscal 2011 and to 486.50 million tons in fiscal 2012. As of March 31, 2010, 45 projects (comprising 22 capacity expansion projects for existing mines and 23 new mine projects) had received relevant investment approval (of our Board and the board of directors of relevant Subsidiary companies) and were in various stages of mine planning and development:

- 25 projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 47.51 million tons per annum and involving an aggregate estimated capital expenditure of Rs.33,857.10 million, were at various stages of implementation and are expected to become operational by the end of fiscal 2012; and
- 20 longer gestation projects, with an aggregate estimated capacity of 33.27 million tons per annum and involving an aggregate estimated capital expenditure of Rs.25,762.79 million, are expected to become operational during the 12th Five Year Plan (2013-2018).

We continue to assess various factors relating to the commercial viability of these projects, including quantity and quality of resources, equipment requirements, applicable permits, and the time and cost involved. For further information on our expansion projects, see “Business – Expansion Projects” beginning on page 89.

Beneficiated Coal

Historically we have produced small quantities of beneficiated coal, which commands higher prices than raw coal. We currently operate 17 coal beneficiation facilities with an aggregate designed feedstock capacity as of March 31, 2010 of 39.40 million tons per annum. The following table provides certain information relating to production of beneficiated coal in the periods indicated:

	Fiscal
	(million tons)
Beneficiated Non-coking Coal	10.31	10.46	11.28	11.62
Beneficiated Coking Coal	3.81	3.83	3.68	2.97

Capacity utilization at our beneficiation facilities and production of beneficiated coal has been constrained by the older technology at some of our existing beneficiation facilities. Production of beneficiated coking coal has been particularly constrained by the limited volume of coking coal produced by us. We are currently implementing various measures to increase capacity utilization at some of our existing beneficiation facilities. We also intend to develop 20 additional coal beneficiation facilities, including 15 non-coking coal beneficiation facilities and five coking coal beneficiation facilities, with an aggregate additional proposed feedstock capacity of 111.10 million tons per annum, to be completed progressively in phases within the 12th Five Year Plan (2013-2018) period. In addition, as a policy all our new open cast mining projects with coal production capacities greater than 2.5 million tons per annum and not linked to pit head customers are proposed to be equipped with dedicated coal beneficiation facilities. For further information relating to our coal beneficiation facilities, see “Business – Coal Production Process - Coal Processing – Beneficiation Facilities” beginning on page 91.

Sales Volume and Pricing

Sales Volume

The primary factors affecting our revenues are sales volume and the price of our raw coal, beneficiated coal and other coal products. The following table sets forth certain information relating to our sales by type of coal and coal product in the periods indicated:

Raw Coal Dispatch

Raw coal dispatch includes raw coal sold to customers and raw coal used as feedstock for the production of beneficiated coal. The following table provides certain information relating to the volume of various grades of raw coal dispatched in the periods indicated. For further information on various grades of coal, see "Industry – Grades of Raw Coal" on page 66:

Pricing

General. Under the Colliery Control Order of 1945 and the Essential Commodities Act, 1955, as amended, the price of coal in India was regulated by the GoI. Beginning in March 1996, the GoI gradually deregulated, in phases, the price of various types and grades of coal. The pricing of coal in India was completely deregulated pursuant to the Colliery Control Order, 2000 with effect from January 1, 2000, subsequent to which we were entitled to fix the price of our coal.

Since the price of coal has significant ramifications on the Indian economy in general and the thermal power sector in particular, we have followed a strategy of focusing on improving cost efficiencies to avoid increasing prices, particularly for our lower grade coal. We have increased the price of our raw coal from time to time to primarily address increases in production costs that were not possible to be offset by productivity and efficiency improvements. Consequently, our raw coal price increases have been lower than average inflation rates in India and are significantly less than the landed cost of imported coal in India.

While we have followed a strategy of developing significant cost competitiveness for our lower grade coal, we have followed a strategy of pricing our higher quality coal that is comparable to imported coal at approximately a 15.0% discount to the landed cost of comparative quality imported coal. For example, the price of our higher grade (Grade A and B) coal produced at the Raniganj coalfield is comparable to the landed cost of comparative imported coal. We also currently produce small amounts of beneficiated coal. We seek to follow a similar strategy for the pricing of our beneficiated coal that is comparable to the quality of imported coal and have commenced significant expansion plans for the development of our coal beneficiation infrastructure. In addition, approximately 10.0% of our raw coal is sold through the E-Auction scheme to customers.

In fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, our average price per ton of raw coal, calculated as total sales of raw coal divided by the volume of raw coal sold, was Rs.811.77 per ton, Rs.841.14 per ton, Rs.925.73 per ton and Rs.1,045.26 per ton, respectively. This reflects the impact of additional realization on account of raw coal sold under the E-Auction scheme and import parity base pricing for our higher grade non-coking coal introduced in October 2009.

In fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, our average price per ton of beneficiated coal, calculated as total sales of beneficiated coal divided by the volume of beneficiated coal sold, was Rs.1,944.49 per ton, Rs.1,890.25 per ton, Rs.2,267.49 per ton and Rs.2,134.21 per ton, respectively.

The price of our raw coal and beneficiated coal varies based on the quality of our raw coal (grade of coal) and the mode of sale, i.e., whether such coal is sold under our FSAs, under our E-Auction scheme or under specific memoranda of understanding entered into with the customer.

Pricing under FSAs. The price of non-coking coal and coking coal to be supplied pursuant to our FSAs is fixed by us in consultation with the GoI and notified from time to time. We fix the price of our raw coal primarily on the basis of general inflation levels, increase in production costs that cannot be offset through efficiency improvements, the need for generating internal resources to ensure viability of projects and, to a lesser extent, the landed cost of comparative imported coal. Our obligations under the Jharia and Raniganj Master Plans of allocating Rs.6.00 per ton of coal dispatched by our Subsidiaries (excluding BCCL and ECL) is taken into account in the base price of coal notified by us from time to time.

In accordance with the terms of our FSAs, we have the right to revise the price of our coal sold under the FSAs from time to time. Since April 1, 2005, we have made two significant revisions to the prices of coal sold under our FSAs: with effect from December 12, 2007 when the average price increase was approximately 10.0%; and with effect from October 16, 2009 when the average price increase was approximately 11.0%. In addition, we have increased the price of certain grades of non-coking coal and coking coal from certain coalfields from time to time. The annualized increase in the price of our raw coal since January 2000 when the price of coal was completely deregulated until March 31, 2010 was 4.9%, which is less than the rise in inflation rates in India during this period.

We believe that the price of our raw coal is lower than the price of coal sold in international markets and the landed cost of imported coal in India, even on adjustment for respective GCV values, providing us with significant cost competitiveness. Grade E raw coal from NCL is representative of the weighted average GCV of our total raw coal production at 4,704 Kcal/Kg. The table below sets forth certain information relating to the energy price of pit head (including sizing, transportation and statutory levies) Grade E raw coal from NCL, as compared to Indonesian and South African coal on an equated energy basis (Rs. per million Kcal), calculated on the basis of prevailing currency exchange rates:

1. Calculated based on the price of Indonesian coal of calorific value of 4,900 Kcal/Kg (assumed as net calorific value) as indicated by McCloskey Marker. GCV has been calculated on the basis of the formula net calorific value = GCV – (10.02 x moisture percentage). GCV of 5,160.52 has been rounded up to 5,200 Kcal/Kg.
2. Calculated based on the price South African coal of net calorific value of 6,000 Kcal/Kg as indicated by globalCOAL® RB Index™. GCV has been calculated on the basis of the formula net calorific value = GCV – (10.02 x moisture percentage). GCV of 6,120.24 Kcal/Kg has been rounded up to 6,200 Kcal/Kg.
3. Price of Grade E non-coking coal from NCL has been taken as representative of our raw coal price as the weighted average GCV of our total raw coal production is 4,704 Kcal/Kg which corresponds to Grade E non-coking coal, and NCL contributes the largest percentage of our Grade E non-coking coal.
4. Calculated on the basis of IMF exchange rates as on the last working day in January 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 of Rs.44.07, Rs.44.17, Rs.39.39, Rs.49.02 and Rs.46.37, respectively, per U.S.$1.00.

Pricing under E-Auction Scheme. We also sell raw coal through our E-Auction scheme. The reserve price of raw coal sold pursuant to our E-Auction scheme is determined on the basis of prevailing market prices. The price of raw coal sold under our E-Auction scheme is significantly higher than the price of raw coal sold under our FSAs as notified by us from time to time.

In fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, the volume of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme was 30.58 million tons, 28.79 million tons, 48.87 million tons and 45.73 million tons, respectively. As a percentage of total volume of raw coal sold in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, the volume of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme was 9.3%, 8.1%, 12.9% and 11.6%, respectively. Depending on the enhancement of our raw coal production levels, the proportion of raw coal allocated under the E-Auction scheme may increase in the future. In fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, value of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction scheme was Rs.38,772.50 million, Rs.72,371.14 million and Rs.72,384.78 million, respectively. As a percentage of total sales in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, the value of raw coal allotted under E-Auction scheme was 11.9%, 18.7% and 16.2%, respectively.

Our average price of coal allotted through the E-Auction scheme, calculated as value of raw coal allotted under our E-Auction Scheme divided by the total volume of raw coal allotted through the E-Auction scheme, was Rs.1,148.29 per ton, Rs.1,346.73 per ton, Rs.1,480.76 per ton, and Rs.1,582.80 per ton in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Pricing for Higher Quality Coal. We sell a significant portion of our higher quality non-coking coal (Grade A, B and C coal with GCV greater than 5,597 Kcal/Kg), under specific memoranda of understanding negotiated with the customer. The price of such coal is fixed at a price that is generally at approximately a 15.0% discount to the prevailing landed cost of comparative quality imported coal, and is typically significantly higher than the notified price of non-coking coal of the same grades sold under our FSAs. During fiscal 2010, the price of Grade A, B and C non coking coal sold under specific memorandum of understanding was approximately 92.0%, 99.0% and 96.0%, respectively, higher than the notified price of such grades of non coking coal.

Pricing for Beneficiated Coal. The price of beneficiated non-coking coal is determined on the basis of cost of production and an appropriate margin for the value addition provided. The price of beneficiated coking coal sold under specific memoranda of understanding is negotiated directly with the customer and is fixed at a price that is generally at a 15.0% discount to the prevailing landed cost of comparative quality imported coal.

Expenditure

Our most significant expenditures are our employee costs, costs relating to materials used in our coal mining and processing operations, including diesel, explosives and spares for our heavy earthmoving machinery and other plant and machinery, electricity costs and various contractor expenses relating to coal mining and overburden removal, coal transportation and loading activities.

- Employee Remuneration and Benefits

General. We had 439,343, 426,077, 412,350 and 397,138 employees as of March 31, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010 and, consequently, employee remuneration and benefits represent the most significant component of our expenditure. Our employee remuneration and benefits expenses were Rs.100,975.32 million, Rs.126,351.59 million, Rs.197,420.85 million and Rs.166,555.22 million in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively, which constituted 38.2%, 41.4%, 48.9% and 43.2% of our total expenditure in these periods, respectively. As a percentage of total income, employee remuneration and benefits expenses were 28.8%, 32.7%, 42.9% and 31.7% in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. Although we experienced increases in employee remuneration and benefits during fiscal 2007, fiscal 2008 and fiscal 2009, employee remuneration and benefits decreased in fiscal 2010. The significant increase in employee remuneration and benefits we experienced in fiscal 2009 was in large part due to provisions made for expected retroactive increases in employee remuneration and benefits, which is discussed below.

Retroactive Increases for Non-executive Employees. Salaries, wages and benefits for our non-executive employees is governed by the National Coal Wage Agreement which is fixed from time to time for a period of five years. The National Coal Wage Agreement VIII (NCWA VIII), which was finalized in January 2009, is effective for a period of five years from July 1, 2006.

Retroactive Increases for Executive Employees. As a public sector undertaking, salaries, wages and benefits of our executive employees are determined by the GoI and are fixed for a period of ten years. The current compensation level for our executive employees was finalized in May 2009 and is effective for a period of ten years from January 1, 2007 (Executive Pay Revision).

Retroactive Revision for Increase in Gratuity Ceiling. Pursuant to a notification of the Ministry of Heavy Industries and Public Enterprises, GoI, dated November 26, 2008, the ceiling of gratuity for our employees was revised from Rs.0.35 million to Rs.1.00 million with effect from July 1, 2007.

Provisions for Retroactive Increases and Revisions. In anticipation of the implementation of higher salaries and wages under the NCWA VIII and the Executive Pay Revision, the related increases in gratuity and other employee benefits as a result of the increase in such base salaries and wages, as well as the increase in the gratuity ceiling:

- In fiscal 2008 we made an interim provision of Rs.17,560.78 million relating to salaries and wages; and
- In fiscal 2009 we made an additional provision of Rs.41,157.80 million relating to salaries and wages, and a provision of Rs.39,997.01 million on account of the increased liability towards gratuity and other employee benefits.
- In fiscal 2010, we wrote back Rs.2,640.00 million of provisions made in prior years on the basis of final adjustment following the implementation of the NCWA VIII and the Executive Pay Revision.

As part of our restatement adjustments, we have restated arrears of salaries and wages to allocate such arrears in the respective fiscal year for which such expenses were incurred, as well as the current and deferred tax impact of such restatement adjustments. Restatement adjustments on account of arrears in salaries and wages resulted in a decrease of Rs.14,601.72 million, a decrease of Rs.8,535.04 million, an increase of Rs.20,951.28 million and an increase of Rs.2,185.48 million to our profit after tax under our audited consolidated financial statements in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. For further information, see “– Results of Operations – Adjustments for Restatement” beginning on page 195. However, restatement adjustments in the respective fiscal year have not been made for (i) the increase in the ceiling of gratuity and (ii) the effect of the increase in gratuity and other employee benefits resulting from the increase in base salaries and wages under the NCWA VIII and the Executive Pay Revision. For further information, see “– Results of Operations – Adjustments for Restatement” beginning on page 195.

Taking into account the applicable restatement adjustments as specified in “– Results of Operations – Adjustment for Restatement” beginning on page 195, employee remuneration and benefits were Rs.115,577.04 million, Rs.134,886.63 million, Rs.176,469.57 million and Rs.164,369.74 million in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Manpower Productivity. Although our workforce decreased from fiscal 2007 to fiscal 2010 as a result of natural attrition, output per manshift, calculated as total raw coal production divided by manshift (of eight hours per day) was 3.54 tons, 3.79 tons, 4.09 tons and 4.47 tons in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Legacy Mines. A significant portion of our employees are deployed in manual underground mines that were vested with us at the time of nationalization, primarily operated by ECL and BCCL. A significant percentage of our employee remuneration and benefits are attributable to our underground mining operations, particularly several legacy mines at ECL and BCCL where production is relatively low. ECL and BCCL contributed 38.8%, 39.3%, 40.1% and 36.4% of our total employees' remuneration and benefits in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively, although raw coal produced from ECL and BCCL represented 15.2%, 13.0%, 13.3% and 13.4% of our total raw coal production in these periods.

- Cost of Fuel and Other Materials

We use significant quantities of petroleum-based fuel and lubricants, explosives, tires, steel and other materials, as well as spare parts and other consumables in our operations, which we account for as consumption of stores and spares. Consumption of stores and spares represented 15.6%, 14.3%, 12.1% and 12.8% of our total expenditure in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. As a percentage of total income, consumption of stores and spares was 11.8%, 11.3%, 10.6% and 9.4% in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. The general decrease in consumption of stores and spares relative to our total expenditure and total income has been primarily driven by increased efficiencies resulting from new higher capacity equipment and machinery and an increase in outsourced operations.

We use significant quantities of petroleum oil and lubricant for our mining machinery and coal handling plants. In fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, expenses for petroleum oil and lubricants represented 40.2%, 37.1%, 35.6% and 35.0%, respectively, of our consumption of stores and spares in these periods. The general decrease in expenses for petroleum oil and lubricants relative to our consumption of stores and spares has been primarily driven by increased efficiencies resulting from new higher capacity equipment and machinery. However, fluctuations in global oil prices may result in an increase in our expenditure and expose us to fluctuations in our purchase of fuel. We have not historically hedged and currently do not hedge, our fuel price risk.

Explosives represented 13.1%, 14.9%, 17.3% and 18.9% of consumption of stores and spares in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. The price of explosives has increased significantly in recent years due to consolidation in the industry, which in some cases has resulted in lower competition among the suppliers from whom we source explosives. If the price for explosives continue to increase, our costs of production could increase.

Spare parts for heavy earthmoving machinery and other spares, most significantly tires, also represent a significant percentage of our consumption of stores and spares. Due to worldwide increases in the price of steel and rubber, prices for spares for our mining equipment and coal handling plant machinery has increased significantly in recent years. A significant increase in the cost of spare parts for mining equipment and machinery may increase our cost of production and adversely affect our profitability.

- Contractor Expenses

We conduct a portion of our coal mining and overburden removal operations through third party contractors. We also engage third party contractors for transportation of coal from pit head to loading points, transportation of materials, loading of coal on wagons and a range of activities ancillary to our mining operations. In fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, contractual expenses, representing expenses for such third party contractors, was Rs.20,934.03 million, Rs.26,332.58 million, Rs.33,398.54 million and Rs.37,318.37 million, respectively, and represented 7.9%, 8.6%, 8.3% and 9.7%, respectively, of our total expenditure in these periods. As a percentage of total income, contractual expenses were 5.9%, 6.8%, 7.3% and 7.1% in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Transportation charges for coal and coke, principally consisting of transportation charges we pay to third party contractors for transportation of coal from the pit head to dispatch points, represented 4.5%, 4.1%, 3.7% and 4.1% of our total expenditure in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. Hiring of plant and machinery/heavy earthmoving machinery, which represents expenses for coal mining and overburden removal operations through third party contractors, represented 1.3%, 3.4%, 3.6% and 4.3% of our total expenditure in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. Coal mining and overburden removal operations through third party contractors have generally increased in recent years. We have also experienced a gradual, general increase in the cost of third party contractors in recent years, resulting from, among other factors, increases in the cost of machinery and equipment and fuel costs incurred by these contractors.

Unit Cost of Production

Most of our historical coal production has been from open cast mines where employee costs and cost of equipment is significantly lower than that involved in underground mines. The cost of production of raw coal from open cast mines differs significantly from cost of production of raw coal from underground mines, and our results of operations are affected by the relative proportion of coal produced from open cast and underground mines. As we revive old underground mines and set up new underground mines, our cost of production may increase. The following table sets forth certain information relating to the relative cost of raw coal production from open cast mines and underground mines in the periods indicated:

	(Rs. per ton)
Cost per ton of raw coal produced from open cast mines ^{1,2}	446.56	476.42	506.87	520.06
Cost per ton of raw coal produced from underground mines ^{1,2}	2,254.34	2,583.84	2,660.37	2,795.98
Average cost per ton of raw coal produced¹	660.34	714.81	737.88	745.06

1. Calculated on the basis of total expenditure in the relevant periods, as adjusted for restatement adjustments other than tax implications. For further information on restatement adjustments, see “- Results of Operations – Restatement Adjustments” beginning on page 185.

2. Coal production from open cast mines and underground mines within our mixed mines have been included under production from open cast mines and underground mines, respectively.

As part of our strategy, we intend to increase production from underground mines, increase production of beneficiated coal and increase our use of advanced mining technologies and equipment. Additionally, as our expansion plans come into production, we may rely more heavily on third party contractors to accommodate such expansion. Consequently, if we are unable to implement cost efficiency measures, such as redeployment of resources and workforce from less productive units to more productive units, and increase the capacity utilization of our mining operations, we may experience higher cost per unit of production.

Transportation Charges

Our sales are either "free on rail" or "free on road" to the designated dispatch points. The cost of transportation of coal from our mines to designated dispatch points (either at the rail head or at the road head) is borne by us for dispatch points located within three kilometers from the pit head. If the dispatch point from our mines is more than three kilometers but within 20 kilometers, the customers bear such transportation cost at specified rates as notified by us from time to time, which may not directly correspond to our costs incurred with respect to such transportation and may result in under-recovery of transportation costs from our customers. In circumstances where the distance from the dispatch point is greater than 20 kilometers from our mines, the customer is responsible for the actual cost of transportation. Although transportation charges form a significant component of the total cost of our coal to the customer, we recoup all or a portion of transportation charges beyond three kilometers from our customers, and therefore transportation charges have not significantly affected our results of operations. Our results of operations may, however, be impacted if we are unable to pass on any increase in transportation costs to the customers.

We account for transportation charges with respect to our sales of coal as well as transportation for internal consumption as part of our contractual expenses and the extent of our recovery of such transportation charges from our customers as other income.

Transportation Capacities and Coal Handling and Loading Infrastructure

Our sales are dependent on the availability of adequate coal transportation capacities and the efficiency of coal handling and loading infrastructure at our mines. The success of our expansion projects will also depend on our ability to access or develop adequate additional coal transportation and coal handling and loading infrastructure.

Rail transportation operated by the Indian Railways is the main mode of transportation utilized for the transportation of our coal. In fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, raw coal dispatch (raw coal dispatch includes raw coal sold to our customers and raw coal used for production of beneficiated coal) by rail represented 51.6%, 50.5%, 47.9% and 46.7%, respectively, of our total raw coal dispatch in these periods. Our sales volumes have historically been constrained by inadequate transportation capacities, including non-availability of adequate rail infrastructure. Coal dispatch from our mines has also been constrained by inadequate coal handling and loading infrastructure, including non-availability of rapid loading systems at some of our mines. Coal dispatch constraints resulting from inadequate coal handling and loading infrastructure and coal transportation capacities are generally exacerbated during the third and fourth quarters of our fiscal year which typically experience higher freight transportation activities as well as increased power generation by utilities resulting in higher demand for our coal.

We continue to implement various initiatives for the upgradation and development of additional railway track connectivity between our existing and new mines, coal processing plants and respective dispatch points. We believe that the development of dedicated freight corridors under implementation by the Indian Railways will result in increased transportation capacities for our coal. We are also evaluating proposals for the development of dedicated berths at Vishakhapatnam port, to improve coal transportation from our mines to southern and south-eastern regions of India and for the import of coal in the future. We intend to strengthen our internal coal handling and loading infrastructure to improve the efficiency of our dispatch systems, through increased utilization of automated loading facilities and automated truck dispatch systems for efficient fleet management. For further information, see “Business – Transportation, Infrastructure and Logistics” beginning on page 94.

Demand for Coal in the Power Sector

Most of our non-coking coal is supplied for use in the thermal power industry in India. Raw coal dispatch to customers in the power sector (including to captive power plants in other industries) represented 82.7%, 82.7%, 81.4% and 79.9% of our total raw coal dispatch in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively. As of the date of the CRISIL Coal Outlook report, the estimated energy consumption in India was 468.9 mtoe per year. The relatively low per capita consumption of power in India compared to the world average presents significant potential for growth in the demand for power in India. Further, as a result of the high demand for coal in the thermal power, iron and steel industries, demand for non-coking coal in India is expected to increase at a rate of 11.3% from 508 million tons in fiscal 2009 to approximately 868 million tons in fiscal 2014 while the demand for coking coal is likely to increase at the rate of 9.7% in the same period. (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) We expect to continue to benefit from these industry trends and the high demand for coal in India.

Historically our most significant customers have primarily been public sector thermal power generation companies and utilities. Our business, operations and prospects may therefore be affected by various policies and statutory and regulatory requirements and developments that affect the thermal power industry in India in general or public sector power utilities in particular. The amount of coal consumed by the power sector in India is also affected by, among other things, (i) the location, availability, quality and price of alternative energy sources for power generation, such as natural gas, fuel oil, nuclear, hydroelectric, wind and solar power; and (ii) technological developments, including those related to alternative energy sources.

Anticipated Capital Expenditures

Our budgeted capital expenditure for fiscal 2011 is Rs.38,000 million and we anticipate capital expenditure of Rs.46,500 million in fiscal 2012 for, among others, the expansion of our production capacities, improvement of our coal handling and loading infrastructure, upgradation and expansion of our coal beneficiation capacities, expansion of transportation capacities, and improvements to our coal mining operations through introduction of advanced technologies and higher capacity equipment. The costs associated with these expansion and upgradation plans and the revenue we expect to derive from them could have a significant impact on our future financial condition and results of operations. For further information on our capital expenditure plans and expansion projects, see “- Capital Expenditure” beginning on page 215 and “- Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Coal Production and Expansion” beginning on page 178.

Acquisition of heavy earthmoving machinery used in our operations constitutes the largest component of our capital expenditure. We intend to invest in additional advanced technologies and higher capacity equipment. In addition, a significant part of our existing equipment is old and requires maintenance, upgrading, revamping or replacement. We have introduced various programs to modernize, replace and expand our mining equipment fleet and procure higher capacity equipment. Acquisition of mining equipment is capital intensive, and if such equipment is not utilized in a productive and efficient manner, we may not realize the benefits we expect from such equipment. Between late 2003 and early 2009, due to worldwide shortages of steel and rubber, prices for mining equipment, machinery and related spare parts, and rental payments for operating and financing leases of such equipment and machinery, materially increased. Increase in the cost of spares for our mining equipment and machinery may increase our cost of production and adversely affect our profitability. In addition, as we acquire additional mining equipment and plant and machinery for our operations, our depreciation expenses could increase.

Statutory Levies

Indirect taxes and statutory levies such as royalty, cess and stowing excise duty levied are an important component of the cost of our coal and coal products to our customers. These statutory levies and taxes are paid by our customers. We present our sales net of such statutory levies and taxes. Changes in royalty, cess, stowing excise duty and sales tax and other fiscal levies may affect our results of operations if we are unable to pass on such levies and taxes to our customers. Statutory levies payable were Rs.55,257.83 million, Rs.62,225.87 million, Rs.69,962.11 million and Rs.75,725.36 million in fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Royalty is payable to relevant State Governments. Royalty (i) at specified rates per ton of coal production as notified by the GoI, based on the relevant grade of coal (currently ranging from Rs.55 per ton for Grade F and G non-coking coal to Rs.180 per ton for coking coal of Steel Grade I and II and Washery Grade I); plus (ii) an ad valorem rate of 5.0% of the pit head price of raw coal reflected in our invoice. Royalty rates were last revised by the GoI with effect from August 1, 2007.

Various cess on coal is payable to certain State Governments at rates per ton as stipulated by the respective State Government which typically ranges from Rs.1.00 per ton to Rs.7.00 per ton of coal produced, except in the State of West Bengal where cess is payable on an ad valorem basis. There may be multiple cesses payable to certain State Governments. The cess on coal is significantly higher in the State of West Bengal, where we operate several mines in the Raniganj coalfield which produces high quality coal. The rural employment and primary education cess in West Bengal is currently payable at an ad valorem rate of 25.0% of the raw coal price notified by us from time to time. In addition, the GoI has recently introduced an environmental cess on coal at Rs.50 per ton of production, with effect from July 1, 2010, which will result in a further increase in our statutory levies in fiscal 2011.

Stowing excise duty is a duty payable to the Coal Controller, GoI at the rate of Rs.10.00 per ton of coal produced.

Central and State sales taxes are also payable on our coal sales at rates notified by the GoI and State Governments from time to time. Central sales tax rates currently applicable is 2.0% for registered dealers (4.0% for unregistered dealers) and State sales tax rates currently applicable is 4.0%.

Regulatory Developments

The GoI and State Governments through various regulatory authorities regulate or are involved in the development of policy guidelines for various matters, including: the grant and renewal of coal exploration rights and mining rights; acquisition of land and surface rights; environmental matters associated with mining operations, including forest land related approvals; approval of mining plans; conditions relating to continuing mining operations; safety and health standards; labor matters; distribution of coal produced by us in accordance with applicable GoI policies including allocation of coal linkages and coal supply under long-term FSAs and under the E-Auction scheme; and royalty, dead rent, cess and other duties, and taxes payable. The compliance costs, liabilities and requirements associated with existing and any new policies and statutory and regulatory requirements can have a significant impact on our operations.

The MoEF is currently in discussion with the MoC regarding the demarcation of certain coal-bearing forest areas in India into various categories, which is proposed to include a category in which mining activities will be prohibited. These discussions are currently at a preliminary stage. For further information, see "Risk Factors - The recent proposal of the GoI to demarcate certain coal-bearing forest areas in India into various categories, which is proposed to include a category in which mining activities are prohibited, may adversely affect our business prospects, results of operations and financial condition." beginning on page xxiv.

Critical Accounting Policies

Our financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention in accordance with Indian GAAP and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act. We have restated our financial statements for each of fiscal 2006, fiscal 2007, fiscal 2008, fiscal 2009 and fiscal 2010 included elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus in accordance with the ICDR Regulations.

Preparation of financial statements in accordance with Indian GAAP and the provisions of the Companies Act, as well as their restatement to reflect guidance as per ICDR Regulations, require our management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of our assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent liabilities and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. These judgments, assumptions and estimates are reflected in our accounting policies, which are more fully described in the auditors' report in "Financial Statements—Significant Accounting Policies" in Annexure E to our restated consolidated financial statements beginning on page F-69.

Certain of our accounting policies are particularly important to the presentation of our financial position and results of operations and require the application of significant assumptions and estimates of our management. We refer to these accounting policies as our "critical accounting policies". Our management uses its historical experience and analyzes the terms of existing contracts, historical cost conventions, global industry practices and information provided by outside sources, as appropriate when forming its assumptions and estimates. However, this task is inexact because our management is making assumptions and providing estimates on matters that are inherently uncertain.

While we believe that all aspects of our financial statements should be studied and understood in assessing our current and expected financial condition and results of operations, we believe that the following critical accounting policies warrant particular attention.

Recognition of Income and Expenditure

Income and expenditure are generally recognized on accrual basis and provision is made for all known liabilities.

Fixed Assets

Land. The value of land includes the cost of acquisition, cash rehabilitation expenses and resettlement costs incurred towards the displaced persons. Other expenditure incurred on acquisition of land such as compensation in lieu of employment, are, however, treated as a revenue expenditure.

Plant and machinery. Plant and machinery includes the cost and expenses incurred towards the erection or installation and other attributable costs incurred to bring those assets to working conditions for their intended use.

Railway sidings. Pending commissioning, payments made to the railway authorities for the construction of railway sidings are reflected as capital work-in-progress.

Development. Expenses net of income of the mines under development are booked to the development account and grouped under capital work-in-progress until the mines are brought to the revenue account. Unless, otherwise stated in the relevant project report to determine the commercial readiness of the project to yield production on a sustainable basis and completion of required development activity during the period of constructions, projects or mines under development are brought to revenue on the earliest of: (i) from the beginning of the financial year immediately following the year in which the project achieves physical output of 25.0% of rated capacity in accordance with the approved project report; or (ii) two years of touching of coal; or (iii) from the beginning of the financial year in which the value of production is greater than total expenses.

Prospecting, Boring and Other Development Expenditure. The cost of exploration and other development expenditure incurred in a particular five year plan period is kept under capital work-in-progress until the end of subsequent two five year plan periods for formulation of projects before it is written-off, except in the case of blocks identified for sale or proposed to be sold to outside agencies, which will be kept in inventory till finalization of sale.

Inventories

Book stock of coal or coke is considered in the accounts where the variance between book stock and measured stock is up to +/- 5.0%, and in cases where the variance is beyond +/- 5.0% the measured stock is considered. Such stock is valued at net realizable value or cost whichever is lower. If the difference between book stock and measured stock exceeds +/-5.0%, the measured stock is taken into account and the resultant adjustment is reflected in the profit and loss account.

Depreciation

- Depreciation on fixed assets is provided on straight line method at the rates and manner specified in Schedule XIV of the Companies Act other than for: (i) the earth science museum: 5.15%; (ii) high volume samplers and respiratory dust: 33.33%; (iii) telecommunication equipment: 15.83%; and (iv) general communication/instrumentation systems: 10.55%. Depreciation on equipment is charged over their technically estimated life, at higher rates. Further, depreciation on certain equipment/HEMM is charged over their technically estimated life at higher rates, i.e. 11.88%, 13.57% and 15.83% as applicable. Depreciation on the assets added or disposed-off during the year is provided on a pro-rata basis with reference to the month of addition or disposal, except on those assets which attract 100.0% depreciation per annum (on a straight line method basis), which are fully depreciated in the year of their addition.
- Value of land acquired under the CBA Act is amortized on the basis of the balance life of the project. Value of leasehold land is amortized on the basis of the lease period or balance life of the project, whichever is earlier.
- Prospecting, boring and development expenditure is amortized from the year when the mine is brought under revenue, in 20 years, or the working life of the project, whichever is less.
- Depreciation on SDL and LHD equipment is charged at the rate of 19.0% per annum and 15.83% per annum, respectively.
- Depreciation after major overhauling of the helicopter is charged at the rate of 47.5% per annum, based on its expected year of life or flying hours.

Foreign Currency Transactions

Year-end balance of foreign currency transactions is translated at the year-end rates and the corresponding effect is given in the respective accounts. Transactions completed during the year are adjusted on actual basis. Transactions covered by cross currency swap option contracts to be settled on future dates are recognized at the year-end rates of the underlying foreign currency. Effects arising out of such contracts are taken into accounts on the date of settlement.

Retirement Benefits /Other Employee Benefits

- Defined contribution plans. We make contributions towards provident fund and pension fund to a defined contribution retirement benefit plan for qualifying employees. The provident fund and pension fund are operated by the Coal Mines Provident Fund ("CMPF") Authorities. According to the rules of these schemes, we are required to contribute a specified percentage of pay roll costs to the CMPF authorities to fund the benefits.
- Defined benefit plans. The year-end liability on account of gratuity and leave encashment is provided for on actuarial valuation basis by applying projected unit credit method. Further, we have created a trust with respect to establishment of a funded group gratuity (cash accumulation) scheme through the Life Insurance Corporation of India for a portion of our total liability. Contributions have been made to the said fund based on actuarial valuation.
- Other employee benefits. Further, year-end liability of certain other employee benefits, such as benefits on account of LTA/LTC; Life Cover Scheme, Group Personal Accident Insurance Scheme and Settlement Allowance, Retired Executive Medical Benefit Scheme and compensation dependants of deceased in mine accidents, are also valued on actuarial basis by applying projected unit credit method.

Taxation

Provision of current income tax is made in accordance with the IT Act. Deferred tax liabilities and assets are recognized at substantively enacted tax rates, subject to the consideration of prudence, on timing difference, being the difference between taxable income and accounting income that originates in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods.

Provision

A provision is recognized when an enterprise has a present obligation as a result of past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefit will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are not discounted to present value and are determined based on best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date.

Contingent Liability

Contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events and the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the enterprise or a present obligation that arises from the past events but is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefit will be required to settle the obligations or reliable estimate of the amount of the obligations cannot be made. Contingent liabilities are not provided for in the accounts and are disclosed by way of notes to the financial statements.

Overburden Removal Expenses

In open cast mines, with rated capacity of one million tons per annum and above, the cost of overburden removal expenses is charged on technically evaluated average ratio (coal: overburden) at each mine with due adjustment for advance stripping and ratio variance account after the mines are brought to revenue. The net of balances of advance stripping and ratio variance at the end of the relevant period is shown as cost of removal of overburden under the head current assets or current liabilities, as applicable.

The reported quantity of overburden as per our record is considered in the calculation of the ratio for overburden removal. Accounting where the variance between reported quantity and measured quantity is within the lower of the two alternative permissible limits, as detailed hereunder:

Annual Quantum of OBR of the Mine	Permissible limits of variance, whichever is lesser
Less than one million cu.m.	+/-5.0%	0.03
Between one and five million cu.m.	+/-3.0%	0.20
More than five million cu.m.	+/-2.0%	-

Components of Income and Expenditure

Income

Our income comprises (i) sales, (ii) coal issued for other purposes, (iii) accretion in stock, if any and (iv) other income.

Sales

Sales comprise revenues from sales of our various coal products: raw coal (non-coking coal and coking coal), (ii) beneficiated coal (beneficiated non-coking coal and beneficiated coking coal), (iii) coke and (iv) other by products produced during our coal mining and beneficiation operations, such as slurry, slack, middlings, coal gas and coal tar. We discontinued production of coke during fiscal 2010.

Sales is presented as gross sales net of (i) various statutory levies comprising royalty, cess on coal and stowing excise duty; and (ii) sales tax.

Coal Issued for Other Purposes

Coal issued for other purposes include primarily (i) raw coal used in production of beneficiated coal, (ii) raw coal used for internal consumption at our workshops, boilers and coal processing and beneficiation facilities, and (iii) free coal issued to our employees. Coal issued for other purposes is presented net of statutory levies such as royalty, cess on coal and stowing excise duty payable on such coal.

Coal issued for other purposes do not represent external sales but represent coal that is used for internal purposes. Other than free coal issued to employees, income from coal issued for other purposes is therefore almost entirely offset by internal consumption of coal. Free coal issued to employees is reflected in our social overhead. Free coal issued to employees is accounted for on basis of basic value of the raw coal issued to employees.

Accretion (Decretion) in Stock

Accretion (decretion) in stock reflects any accretion or decretion in a particular fiscal period to our inventory of raw coal, calculated as the difference between closing stock of raw coal at the end of such fiscal period and the opening stock of raw coal at the beginning of such fiscal period. Accretion and decretion in stock is presented net of (i) raw coal inventory at our beneficiation facilities and coke oven; (ii) any grade slippage of raw coal inventory; (iii) any deterioration in the quality of coal inventory; and (iv) any related handling charges incurred in connection with our inventory.

Other Income

Other income primarily includes (i) interest income from banks, employees and others, (ii) interest on our investments in the 8.5% Tax Free RBI Power Bonds (which resulted from the securitization of our sundry debtors), (iii) recovery of transportation and loading charges that we charge our customers, (iv) any income from our workshops and press jobs, (v) any liquidated damages or penalty payments by our suppliers and third party contractors, and (vi) any profit on sale of coal block/geological reports on third party blocks relating to coal blocks renounced by us pursuant to direction of the MoC, GoI. Other income also includes stowing subsidies granted by the Coal Controller of India, rental income, any income from sale of scrap, and any profit on sale of assets.

Other income also includes any write back of provisions and liabilities made in previous years and any gain on foreign exchange variations relating to our operations, primarily relating to our financing arrangements and bank deposits denominated in foreign currencies. Other/miscellaneous income primarily includes income from water charges supplied to third party contractors and other miscellaneous income from our operations.

Expenditure

Our expenditure comprises: (i) internal consumption of coal; (ii) consumption of stores and spares; (iii) employee's remuneration and benefits; (iv) power and fuel; (v) social overhead; (vi) repairs; (vii) contractual expenses; (viii) miscellaneous expenses; (ix) interest; (x) overburden removal adjustments; (xi) finance and commitment charges; (xii) depreciation; (xiii) impairment and (xiv) provisions and write-offs.

Internal Consumption of Coal

Internal consumption of coal comprises (i) raw coal used in production of beneficiated coal and (ii) raw coal used for internal consumption at our workshops, boilers and coal processing and beneficiation facilities. Royalty, cess on coal and stowing excise duty payable on coal used for internal consumption is reflected under miscellaneous expenses.

Consumption of Stores and Spares

Consumption of stores and spares relate to materials used in our coal mining and processing operations, primarily petrol oil and lubricant (including diesel), explosives, and timber. Other consumables used in our coal mining operations include tires, spares for heavy earthmoving machineries, other plant and machinery relating to our coal handling plants and beneficiation facilities, vehicles, and other miscellaneous stores and spares.

Employees' Remuneration and Benefits

Employees' remuneration and benefits include salary, wages and allowances, any provisions relating to employees' remuneration and benefits, contributions to provident fund and gratuity, overtime payments, leave encashment, attendance bonus, productivity and performance linked bonus and other incentives, and other employee benefits.

Power and Fuel

Power and fuel represents cost of electricity consumed in our operations, including electricity purchased from external sources and cost of internal power generation relating to diesel generator sets.

Social Overhead

Social overhead represents various expenses associated with non-cash components of employee benefits, social welfare activities and expenses associated with medical facilities (including medical reimbursements) and educational institutions operated by us. Expenses towards community development and environmental expenditure are also reflected under social overhead expenses.

Repairs

Repairs consist of cost of repair and maintenance of plant and machinery relating to our operations, rehabilitation of heavy earthmoving machinery, office equipment, vehicles and other miscellaneous assets.

Contractual Expenses

Contractual charges primarily consist of transportation charges for coal, sand and materials carried out through third party contractors, contractor expenses relating to wagon loading operations, hiring charges for plant and machinery and heavy earthmoving machinery representing cost of coal extraction and overburden removal activities outsourced to third party contractors, and other miscellaneous works carried out through third party contractors such as for road maintenance and temporary lighting.

Miscellaneous Expenses

Miscellaneous expenses include various operational, selling and administrative expenses, most significantly under-loading expenses paid to Indian Railways, mine rehabilitation expenses, security expenses, royalty and cess payable on coal used for internal consumption and rent, rates and taxes. Miscellaneous expenses also include travelling expenses, employee training expenses, cost of printing and stationery, communication, advertisement and publicity related expenses, freight charges for equipment and machinery and materials, demurrage paid to Indian Railways and equipment and materials freight carriers, land/crop compensation and hire charges for office administration equipment. Other miscellaneous expenses include expenses incurred for land reclamation relating to rehabilitation and resettlement of affected communities.

Interest

Interest expenses include interest paid on our financing arrangements with IBRD and JBIC, transfers made to the Shifting and Rehabilitation Fund established by the GoI for the implementation of certain rehabilitation plans in the Jharia coalfield, interest on bank overdrafts and cash credit, interest on deferred credit arrangements with the Export Development Corporation of Canada and Liebherr France S.A. of France, and other interest expenses such as pension fund interest. Interest expenses are presented net of interest income received for any loans advanced.

Overburden Removal Adjustment

In open cast mines, with rated capacity of one million tons per annum and above, the cost of overburden removal expenses is charged on technically evaluated average ratio (coal: overburden) at each mine with due adjustment for advance stripping and ratio variance account after the mines are brought to revenue. The net of balances of advance stripping and ratio variance at the end of the relevant period is shown as cost of removal of overburden under the head current assets or current liabilities, as applicable.

Finance/Commitment Charges

Finance and commitment charges include fees paid to the GoI for guarantees issued by the GoI in connection with the IBRD and JBIC loans, and other bank expenses and charges.

Depreciation

Depreciation on our fixed assets is provided on straight line method at the rates and manner specified in Schedule XIV of the Companies Act and as specified in “– Critical Accounting Policies – Depreciation” beginning on page 187.

Impairment

Impairment loss is recognized wherever the carrying amount of an asset is in excess of its recoverable amount and the same is recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss and carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount. Reversal of impairment losses recognized in prior years is recorded when there is an indication that the impairment losses recognized for the asset no longer exist or have decreased.

Provisions/Write-off

Provisions/write-off include any provisions for doubtful debts and advances, provisions for stores and spares inventory, provisions relating to impairment of assets, provisions for any marked to market losses on our outstanding foreign currency derivatives, and any other miscellaneous provisions. We also make provision for any shortfall for land reclamation for open cast mines and stowing for underground mines as on the relevant balance sheet date.

Provisions made are presented net of any write back of provisions. Write-offs include write-offs for doubtful debts, doubtful advances and other write-offs.

Taxation

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and deferred tax expense or credit computed in accordance with the relevant provisions of the I.T. Act, as amended. Provision for current taxes is recognized based on the estimated tax liability computed after taking credit for allowances and exemptions in accordance with the I.T. Act. Fringe benefit tax has been discontinued from April 1, 2009.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to timing differences that result between the profits offered for income taxes and the profits shown in our financial statements. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and tax regulations enacted or substantively enacted up to the balance sheet date. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities due to a change in tax rates is recognized in the financial statement of the relevant fiscal year of change of rate. Deferred tax assets in respect of carry forward losses are recognized only to the extent that there is virtual certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax asset can be realized. Other deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is a reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed as at each balance sheet date and written down or written-up to reflect the amount that is reasonably /virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realized.

Following are the restatement adjustments carried out for the preparation of our restated consolidated financial statements in compliance with the ICDR Regulations:

- The prior period items in our Profit and Loss Account have been re-allocated to the respective years to which they relate.
- Certain arrears of expenses shown in the year of incurrence earlier have now been taken to the respective years to which they relate.
- We have in the past been providing for depreciation on fixed assets under the straight line method at the rates and manners prescribed in Schedule XIV of the Companies Act. However, in fiscal 2008 and 2009, we had changed the estimated useful life of certain of our plant and machinery based on technical evaluation, which resulted in the reduction of the economic life of such plant and machinery that was estimated earlier. Depreciation has been recomputed and adjusted accordingly in the restated financial statements.
- Arrears of expenses in respect of salary and wages paid to the executives and non-executives arising out of wage agreement under National Coal Agreement - VIII and pay revisions for our executives that was shown in the year of incurrence, have been restated and reflected in the respective years to which they relate.
- Provision for tax for earlier years has been bifurcated and considered under respective years.
- We have accounted for deferred tax assets and liabilities for earlier years in terms of Accounting Standard 22 - Accounting for Taxes on Income ("AS 22") issued by the ICAI. The impact of current and deferred tax on the adjustments has been computed on profit arrived after making the necessary adjustments and on the basis of rates applicable to respective years.

For further information, see Annexure F of our restated consolidated financial statements beginning on page F-73.

The following restatement adjustments have not been reflected in our restated consolidated financial statements for the reasons specified below:

- Pursuant to a notification of the Ministry of Heavy Industries and Public Enterprises, GoI, dated November 26, 2008, while reviewing pay scales of employees of public sector undertakings, the ceiling of gratuity was revised to Rs.1.00 million from Rs.0.35 million with effect from July 1, 2007. Accordingly, the liability towards gratuity in accordance with Accounting Standard 15 was accounted as employee costs in fiscal 2009 and such amounts have not been restated to the relevant earlier years as the same could not be ascertained. Further arrear liability on account of gratuity and other employee benefits arising out of the revision of salary and wages for executives and non-executives in fiscal 2009 has been accounted in fiscal 2009 and the restatement of these liabilities and the corresponding write-offs for the respective years has not been made as the same has not been ascertained.
- Transitional Provision: As required by Accounting Standard 15 (Revised 2005) employee benefits issued by the ICAI, the difference between the transitional liability and the liability that would have been recognized at the same date, as per the Accounting Standard 15 prior to such revision in 2005, should be adjusted against opening balances of revenue reserve and surplus. The transitional provision has been shown accordingly in compliance with the requirements of Accounting Standard 15 (Revised 2005).

For further information, see Annexure G of our restated consolidated financial statements beginning on page F-75.

Fiscal 2010 compared to Fiscal 2009

Income

Total income increased by Rs.65,282.27 million, or 14.2%, from Rs.460,640.65 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.525,922.92 million in fiscal 2010.

Sales

Sales increased by Rs.58,264.21 million, or 15.0%, from Rs.387,888.30 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.446,152.51 million in fiscal 2010, as a result of increase in sales volumes as well as the effect of the revision in price of our raw coal with effect from October 16, 2009. Overall production of non-coking coal increased by 4.8% from 377.19 million tons in fiscal 2009 to 395.13 million tons in fiscal 2010, while overall production of coking coal increased by 36.1% from 26.54 million tons to 36.13 million tons in fiscal 2010. Raw coal production in fiscal 2010 increased primarily due to the addition of production capacities at several of our existing mines as well as commencement of production at seven new mines.

In fiscal 2010, our average price per ton of raw coal, calculated as total revenue from sales of raw coal divided by the volume of raw coal sold, was Rs.1,045.26 per ton, as compared to Rs.925.73 per ton in fiscal 2009.

In fiscal 2010, our average price per ton of beneficiated coal, calculated as total revenue from sales of beneficiated coal divided by the volume of beneficiated coal sold, was Rs.2,134.21 per ton, as compared to Rs.2,267.49 per ton in fiscal 2009.

The following table sets forth certain information relating to sales of our coal and coal products in fiscal 2009 and 2010:

Sales contributed 84.2% and 84.8% of our total income in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Coal Issued for Other Purposes

Coal issued for other purposes increased by Rs.470.63 million, or 2.3%, from Rs.20,219.81 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.20,690.44 million in fiscal 2010. Coal issued for production of beneficiated coal increased by Rs.383.42 million, or 2.4%, from Rs.16,223.51 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.16,606.93 million in fiscal 2010. Coal issued for other purposes represented 4.4% and 3.9% of our total income in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Accretion in Stock

There was an accretion in stock in fiscal 2010 of Rs.6,671.58 million compared to an accretion of stock of Rs.1,336.07 million in fiscal 2009. The higher accretion in stock in fiscal 2010 compared to that in fiscal 2009 resulted from several factors that adversely affected our raw coal offtake, including inadequate transportation capacities and coal handling and loading infrastructure at some of our mines, adverse law and order situation and related security issues at some of the coalfields we operate in Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh and Orissa, as well as inadequate logistics infrastructure and non-availability of adequate coal stocking infrastructure at several thermal power plants of our customers. Accretion in stock represented 0.3% and 1.3% of our total income in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Other Income

Other income increased by Rs.1,211.92 million, or 2.4%, from Rs.51,196.47 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.52,408.39 million in fiscal 2010 primarily on account of certain write-backs of provisions and liabilities in fiscal 2010. Other income contributed 11.1% and 10.0% of our total income in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

We recorded write-backs of provisions and liabilities of Rs.4,417.95 million in fiscal 2010 compared to write-backs of provisions and liabilities of Rs.164.38 million in fiscal 2009. The significant write-back of provisions and liabilities in fiscal 2010 was primarily on account of excess provisioning for arrears in salaries and wages made in fiscal 2008 and 2009, which provisions were written back following settlement of such arrears in fiscal 2010 pursuant to the implementation of the wage settlement under the NCWA VIII and the Executive Pay Revision. For further information, see “- Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Expenditure – Employee Remuneration and Benefits” beginning on page 178.

Transportation and loading charges that we charge our customers decreased by Rs.2,438.21 million, or 16.6%, from Rs.14,697.93 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.12,259.71 million in fiscal 2010 primarily on account of variance in coal transportation distances to dispatch points.

These increases were offset in part by a decrease in interest income from banks, employees and others by Rs.1,304.40 million, or 4.8%, from Rs.27,103.08 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.25,798.68 million in fiscal 2010. Although there was an increase in fixed deposits with banks from Rs.283,654.11 million as of March 31, 2009 to Rs.359,839.43 million as of March 31, 2010 as a result of increased operations, interest income decreased due to a decrease in the average bank interest rates on deposits from 10.2% in fiscal 2009 to 7.5% in fiscal 2010.

Expenditure

Total expenditure decreased by Rs.17,794.08 million, or 4.4%, from Rs.403,531.12 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.385,737.04 million in fiscal 2010, primarily due to decreases in employees remuneration and benefits on account of provisions for salaries and wages made in fiscal 2009 with respect to earlier years as well as lower depreciation expenses. Total expenditure as a percentage of total income decreased from 87.6% in fiscal 2009 to 73.3% in fiscal 2010.

Internal Consumption of Coal

Internal consumption of coal decreased by Rs.200.40 million, or 1.0%, from Rs.19,921.53 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.19,721.13 million in fiscal 2010. Although there was an increase in consumption of raw coal for the production of beneficiated coal, this was offset by a decrease in internal coal consumption at our workshops and facilities including boiler consumption. Internal consumption of coal as a percentage of total income decreased from 4.3% in fiscal 2009 to 3.8% in fiscal 2010.

Consumption of Stores and Spares

Consumption of stores and spares increased by Rs.656.17 million, or 1.4%, from Rs.48,613.01 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.49,269.18 million in fiscal 2010 due to an increase in use of fuel, materials and consumable stores and spares as well as increases in price of diesel and explosives. Consumption of stores and spares as a percentage of total income however decreased from 10.6% in fiscal 2009 to 9.4% in fiscal 2010.

Employees Remuneration and Benefits

Employees remuneration and benefits, which represents the largest component of our expenditure, decreased by Rs.30,865.63 million, or 15.6%, from Rs.197,420.85 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.166,555.22 million in fiscal 2010.

The decrease in employees remuneration and benefits in fiscal 2010 compared to that in fiscal 2009 primarily reflected the adjustments on account of the implementation of the NCWA VIII and the Executive Pay Revision as well as the effect of increase in the gratuity ceiling for our employees. For further information, see “- Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Expenditure – Employee Remuneration and Benefits” beginning on page 178.

Output per manshift, calculated as total coal production divided by manshift (of eight hours per day), increased from 4.09 tons in fiscal 2009 to 4.47 tons in fiscal 2010.

Employees remuneration and benefits as a percentage of total income decreased from 42.9% in fiscal 2009 to 31.7% in fiscal 2010.

Power and Fuel

Power and fuel expenses increased by Rs.1,445.43 million, or 9.1%, from Rs.15,950.52 million in fiscal 2009 to

Rs.17,395.95 million in fiscal 2010. Although electricity consumption decreased in fiscal 2010 as a result of discontinuation of operations in certain unproductive underground mines and the increase in outsourced coal handling activities in some of our mines, power and fuel expenses increased in fiscal 2010 due to an increase in the price of electricity. Power and fuel as a percentage of total income however decreased from 3.5% in fiscal 2009 to 3.3% in fiscal 2010.

Social Overhead

Social overhead increased by Rs.1,323.65 million, or 7.0%, from Rs.18,851.22 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.20,174.87 million in fiscal 2010 primarily on account of an increase in salaries, wages and allowances for employees associated with our employee benefits and social welfare activities, and expenses associated with medical facilities (including medical reimbursements) and educational institutions operated by us. In fiscal 2010, we incurred environmental expenses of Rs.353.86 million, compared to Rs.345.66 million in fiscal 2009. In fiscal 2010, we incurred community development expenses of Rs.453.59 million, compared to Rs.380.57 million in fiscal 2009.

Social overhead as a percentage of total income however decreased from 4.1% in fiscal 2009 to 3.8% in fiscal 2010.

Repairs

Repairs increased by Rs.618.78 million, or 7.9%, from Rs.7,860.61 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.8,479.39 million in fiscal 2010 on account of an increase in repair costs for our plant and machinery, including our equipment, workshops, and our coal handling and beneficiation facilities. Repairs as a percentage of total income however decreased from 1.7% in fiscal 2009 to 1.6% in fiscal 2010.

Contractual Expenses

Contractual expenses increased by Rs.3,919.83 million, or 11.7%, from Rs.33,398.54 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.37,318.37 million in fiscal 2010. Contractual expenses as a percentage of total income however decreased from 7.3% in fiscal 2009 to 7.1% in fiscal 2010.

Hiring of plant and machinery and heavy earthmoving equipment, representing payments to third party contractors engaged for coal mining and overburden removal, increased by Rs.1,910.51 million, or 13.1%, from Rs.14,629.09 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.16,539.60 million in fiscal 2010 primarily on account of increase in mining work through third party contractors that reflected our increased production. The increase in third party contractor costs also reflected an increase in cost of third party contractor services and increased use of third party contractors for overburden removal. Hiring of plant and machinery and heavy earthmoving equipment represented 3.6% and 4.3% of our total expenditure in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Transportation charges for coal and coke increased by Rs.973.80 million, or 6.6%, from Rs.14,770.78 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.15,744.58 million in fiscal 2010 reflecting increased offtake and sales and increase in cost of third party contractor services. Transportation charges for coal and coke represented 3.7% and 4.1% of our total expenditure in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Expenses for other contractual work, which include ancillary activities such as haul road maintenance and temporary lighting, increased by Rs.989.30 million, or 30.9%, from Rs.3,207.89 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.4,197.19 million in fiscal 2010.

Miscellaneous Expenses

Miscellaneous expenses remained relatively steady at Rs.19,285.19 million in fiscal 2010 compared to Rs.19,335.99 million in fiscal 2009. Miscellaneous expenses as a percentage of total income decreased from 4.2% in fiscal 2009 to 3.7% in fiscal 2010.

Under/overloading charges increased by Rs.569.72 million, or 28.3%, from Rs.2,010.69 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.2,580.41 million in fiscal 2010 due to increased production and offtake in fiscal 2010. Security expenses paid to private entities increased by Rs.490.66 million, or 34.8%, from Rs.1,409.20 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.1,899.86 million in fiscal 2010, while security expenses paid to the CISF decreased by Rs.73.69 million, or 5.8%, from Rs.1,272.06 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.1,198.37 million in fiscal 2010.

Rehabilitation expenses remained relatively steady at Rs.2,163.28 million in fiscal 2010 compared to Rs.2,085.03 million in fiscal 2009. Rent, rates and taxes decreased by Rs.1,013.43 million, or 57.3%, from Rs.1,768.78 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.755.35 million in fiscal 2010. The higher rent, rates and taxes paid in fiscal 2009 was primarily on account of settlement of certain disputed service tax liabilities in fiscal 2009. Royalty and cess on internal consumption of coal remained relatively steady at Rs.1,514.07 million in fiscal 2010 compared to Rs.1,583.39 million in fiscal 2009. Demurrage costs, freight charges and land/crops compensation also decreased in fiscal 2010 compared to that in fiscal 2009.

Other miscellaneous expenses, which include expenses for land reclamation and provisions made for closure of mines, increased by Rs.406.61 million, or 12.0%, from Rs.3,380.14 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.3,786.75 million in fiscal 2010.

While we incurred loss on exchange rate variation relating to loans and bank deposits denominated in foreign currencies of Rs.325.72 million in fiscal 2009, we recognized a gain from exchange rate variation in fiscal 2010, which was reflected in other income.

Interest

Interest expenses decreased by Rs.200.38 million, or 12.8%, from Rs.1,564.97 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.1,364.59 million in fiscal 2010, primarily on account of decrease in interest expense relating to our IBRD and JBIC financing arrangements. Interest paid on our IBRD and JBIC financing arrangements decreased by Rs.187.51 million, or 41.5%, from Rs.451.62 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.264.11 million in fiscal 2010, on account of lower outstanding balances. Interest expenses as a percentage of total income remained relatively steady at 0.3% in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Overburden Removal Adjustment

Overburden removal adjustment increased by Rs.8,767.32 million, or 40.3%, from Rs.21,771.86 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.30,539.18 million in fiscal 2010 primarily on account of provision/liability created for lower overburden expenditure incurred on coal produced during fiscal 2010 compared to the standard overburden ratio contemplated under the relevant mining plans. Overburden removal adjustment as a percentage of total income increased from 4.7% in fiscal 2009 to 5.8% in fiscal 2010.

Finance and Commitment Charges

Finance and commitment charges decreased by Rs.28.88 million, or 12.9%, from Rs.223.83 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.194.95 million in fiscal 2010 primarily due to a decrease in guarantee fees paid to the GoI in connection with our IBRD and JBIC financing arrangements, from Rs.214.40 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.175.72 million in fiscal 2010, on account of a decrease in outstanding balances. Finance and commitment charges as a percentage of total income decreased from 0.1% in fiscal 2009 to 0.0% in fiscal 2010.

Depreciation

Depreciation expenses decreased by Rs.3,490.88 million, or 21.0%, from Rs.16,629.29 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.13,138.41 million in fiscal 2010. Depreciation expenses decreased in fiscal 2010 on account of (i) the full depreciation in prior years of certain older equipment and plant and machinery, particularly equipment we had acquired pursuant to the JBIC and IBRD financing arrangements and (ii) the notional decrease in valuation of certain equipment and plant and machinery funded by the Export JBIC and IBRD loans to reflect the effect of increase in exchange rates for the U.S. dollar and Japanese Yen against the Indian rupee in fiscal 2010 as required under Accounting Standard 11. Depreciation as a percentage of total income decreased from 3.6% in fiscal 2009 to 2.5% in fiscal 2010.

Impairment

Impairment charges decreased by Rs.123.62 million, or 44.2%, from Rs.279.74 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.156.12 million in fiscal 2010. Impairment as a percentage of total income decreased from 0.1% in fiscal 2009 to 0.0% in fiscal 2010.

Provision/Write-off

Provisions and write-offs increased by Rs.333.72 million, or 19.0%, from Rs.1,759.96 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.2,093.69 million in fiscal 2010, primarily on account of mark to market loss provided on outstanding foreign currency denominated derivatives. Provisions and write-offs as a percentage of total income was 0.4% in both fiscal 2009 and 2010.

Profit before Tax and Extraordinary Items

Profit before tax and extraordinary items increased by Rs.82,262.57 million, or 143.4%, from Rs.57,386.71 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.139,649.28 million in fiscal 2010. Profit before tax and extraordinary items as a percentage of total income increased from 12.5% in fiscal 2009 to 26.6% in fiscal 2010.

Provision for Taxation

Provision for income tax increased by Rs.7,471.35 million, or 20.3%, from Rs.36,861.12 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.44,332.47 million in fiscal 2010 on account of the increase in profit in fiscal 2010. We made additional write-back of provision for deferred tax in fiscal 2010 of Rs.336.23 million compared to Rs.1,032.34 million in fiscal 2009 on account of an increase in provision for doubtful debts and higher provision for gratuity and increase in the ceiling for gratuity for our employees, resulting in deferred tax assets increasing significantly in fiscal 2010 and withdrawal of provision for deferred tax in fiscal 2010 in accordance with Accounting Standard 22 on deferred taxes. Provision for income tax for earlier year was Rs.460.30 million and Rs.576.02 million in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively. Write-back of excess provision for income tax in earlier years was Rs.141.87 million and Rs.1,147.45 million in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

We incurred fringe benefit taxes of Rs.506.91 million in fiscal 2009. Fringe benefit taxes were discontinued in fiscal 2010 and accordingly we did not incur any fringe benefit taxes in fiscal 2010.

Our effective tax rate, calculated on the basis of net provision for tax for the relevant fiscal year on a consolidated basis divided by profit before tax, was 63.8% and 31.1% in fiscal 2009 and 2010, respectively.

Our effective tax rate in fiscal 2009 was significantly higher as in fiscal 2009 provisions made for employees remuneration and benefits relating to the proposed implementation of the NCWA VIII and the Executive Pay Revision as well as the increase in the gratuity ceiling for our employees resulted in significant losses for two of our subsidiaries, ECL and BCCL. As a result, the consolidated profit was lower in fiscal 2009 and the effective tax rate for other subsidiaries that made a profit was significantly higher. In fiscal 2009 ECL and BCCL incurred losses of Rs.21,090.89 million and Rs.13,804.67 million, respectively, compared to a profit of Rs.3,333.99 million and Rs.7,941.94 million, respectively, in fiscal 2010. In accordance with Accounting Standard 22, deferred tax assets were not created for such losses as there was no virtual certainty of the adjustments of assets against future profit.

Profit after Tax before Extraordinary Items

As a result of the foregoing, profit after tax before extraordinary items increased by Rs.75,470.18 million, or 363.6%, from Rs.20,754.29 million in fiscal 2009 to Rs.96,224.47 million in fiscal 2010.

Extraordinary Items (Net of Tax)

In fiscal 2009, we recognized extraordinary income (net of tax) of Rs.32.63 million in connection with the utilization of a grant received from the GoI relating to voluntary retirement scheme expenses for our operations in the North Eastern Coalfields. In fiscal 2010, we did not record any extraordinary items.

Profit after Tax, as Restated

Our profit after tax, as restated, was Rs.98,294.09 million in fiscal 2010, which was higher than our profit after tax in fiscal 2010 by Rs.2,069.62 million. The difference was primarily attributable to restatement adjustments for arrears in salaries and wages and other adjustments for prior period items, offset in part by the current tax impact on such adjustments.

Our profit after tax, as restated, was Rs.40,628.05 million in fiscal 2009, which was higher than our profit after tax in fiscal 2009 by Rs.19,841.13 million. The difference was primarily attributable to restatement adjustments

Restatement adjustments with respect to the provision of Rs.39,997.01 million made in fiscal 2009 on account of the increased liability towards gratuity and other employee benefits could not be allocated to the respective fiscal years (for fiscal 2008 and fiscal 2007) as the same could not be ascertained. For further information, see “– Results of Operations – Adjustment for Restatement” beginning on page 193 and “– Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Expenditure – Employees Remuneration and Benefits” beginning on page 178. Our profit after tax, as restated, in fiscal 2009 would have been higher if such restatement had been carried out.

Fiscal 2009 compared to Fiscal 2008

Income

Total income increased by Rs.74,473.68 million, or 19.3%, from Rs.386,166.97 million in fiscal 2008 to Rs.460,640.65 million in fiscal 2009.

In fiscal 2009, our average price per ton of raw coal, calculated as total revenue from sales of raw coal divided by the volume of raw coal sold, was Rs.841.14 per ton, as compared to Rs.925.73 per ton in fiscal 2008. In fiscal 2009, our average price per ton of beneficiated coal, calculated as total revenue from sales of beneficiated coal divided by the volume of beneficiated coal sold, was Rs.2,267.49 per ton, as compared to Rs. 1,890.25 per ton in fiscal 2008.

Accretion in stock represented 0.6% and 0.3% of our total income in fiscal 2008 and 2009, respectively.

Other Income

Other income increased by Rs.13,555.47 million, or 36.0%, from Rs.37,641.00 million in fiscal 2008 to Rs.51,196.47 million in fiscal 2009 primarily resulting from increases in interest from banks, employees and others and an increase in recovery of transportation and loading coal. Power and fuel expenses remained relatively steady at Rs.15,950.52 million in fiscal 2009 compared to Rs.15,937.00 million in fiscal 2008. Although electricity consumption decreased in fiscal 2009 as a result of discontinuation of operations in certain unproductive underground mines and the increase in outsourced coal handling activities in some of our mines, this was offset by an increase in the price of electricity. Power and fuel as a percentage of total income however decreased from 4.1% in fiscal 2008 to 3.5% in fiscal 2009.

contemplated under the relevant mining plans. Overburden removal adjustment as a percentage of total income increased from 4.1% in fiscal 2008 to 4.7% in fiscal 2009.

Finance and Commitment Charges

Finance and commitment charges increased by Rs.30.27 million, or 15.6%, from Rs.193.56 million in fiscal 2008 to Rs.223.83 million in fiscal 2009 primarily due to a decrease in guarantee fees paid to the GoI in connection with our IBRD and JBIC financing arrangements, from Rs.181.30 million in fiscal 2008 to Rs.214.40 million in fiscal 2009, on account of a decrease in outstanding balances. Depreciation expenses increased by Rs.1,329.84 million, or 8.7%, from Rs.15,299.45 million in fiscal 2008 to Rs.16,629.29 million in fiscal 2009 primarily on account of an increase in fixed assets, including equipment and heavy earthmoving machinery acquired for our operations and the notional increase in valuation of certain equipment and plant and machinery funded by the JBIC and IBRD loans to reflect the effect of decrease in exchange rates for the U.S. dollar and Japanese Yen against the Indian rupee in fiscal 2009 as required under Accounting Standard 11. Depreciation as a percentage of total income however decreased from 4.0% in fiscal 2008 to 3.6% in fiscal 2009.

The high impairment charges in fiscal 2008 were on account of major impairment of assets relating to certain loss making mines that were provided for in fiscal 2008. Impairment as a percentage of total income remained steady at 0.1% in both fiscal 2008 and 2009.

Provision/Write-off

Provisions and write-offs decreased by Rs.560.13, or 24.1%, from Rs.2,320.09 million in fiscal 2008 to Rs.1,759.96 million in fiscal 2009, primarily on account of write-back of excess provision for mine closure liability. Provisions and write-offs as a percentage of total income decreased from 0.6% in fiscal 2008 to 0.4% in fiscal 2009.

Profit before Tax and Extraordinary Items

Profit before tax and extraordinary items decreased by Rs.24,517.47 million, or 29.93%, from Rs.81,904.18 million in fiscal 2008 to Rs.57,386.71 million in fiscal 2009. There was a write-back of provision for deferred tax in fiscal 2009 of Rs.1,032.34 million in fiscal 2009 compared to Rs.2,488.39 million in fiscal 2008 on account of an increase in deferred tax assets. Provision for income tax for earlier year was Rs.764.61 million and Rs.460.30 million in fiscal 2008 and 2009, respectively. Write-back of excess provision for income tax for earlier periods was Rs.141.87 million in fiscal 2009 compared to Rs.0.33 million in fiscal 2008, resulting from settlement of certain disputed tax liabilities.

We incurred fringe benefit taxes of Rs.506.91 million in fiscal 2009 compared to Rs.483.70 million in fiscal 2008.

Our effective tax rate, calculated on the basis of net provision for tax for the relevant fiscal year on a consolidated basis divided by profit before tax, was 40.0% and 63.8% in fiscal 2008 and 2009, respectively.

Our effective tax rate in fiscal 2009 was significantly higher on account of the loss incurred in fiscal 2009 by ECL and BCCL of Rs.21,090.89 million and Rs.13,804.67 million, respectively, compared to a loss of Rs.10,299.35 million by ECL and profit of Rs.866.14 million by BCCL in fiscal 2008. As a result, the consolidated profit was lower in fiscal 2009 and the effective tax rate for other subsidiaries that made a profit was significantly higher. In accordance with Accounting Standard 22, deferred tax assets were not created for such losses as there was no virtual certainty of the adjustments of assets against future profit.

Profit after Tax before Extraordinary Items

As a result of the foregoing, profit after tax before extraordinary items decreased by Rs.26,404.42 million, or 56.0%, from Rs.47,158.71 million in fiscal 2008 to Rs.20,754.29 million in fiscal 2009.

Extraordinary Items (Net of Tax)

In fiscal 2008, we recognized extraordinary income (net of tax) of Rs.5,274.01 million relating to (i) waiver of interest on certain loans which were shown as an expense in the financial statements of earlier years; and (ii) utilization of a grant received from the GoI utilized for past losses relating to the North Eastern Coalfields.

In fiscal 2009, we recognized extraordinary income (net of tax) of Rs.32.63 million in connection with the utilization of a grant received from the GoI relating to voluntary retirement scheme expenses for our operations in the North Eastern Coalfields as this income was non-recurring in nature, in accordance with Accounting Standard 5.

Profit after Tax, as Restated

Our profit after tax, as restated, was Rs.40,628.05 million in fiscal 2009, which was higher than our profit after tax in fiscal 2009 by Rs.19,841.13 million. The difference was primarily attributable to restatement adjustments for arrears in salaries and wages.

Our profit after tax, as restated, was Rs.42,850.07 million in fiscal 2008, which was lower than our profit after tax in fiscal 2008 by Rs.9,582.65 million. The difference was primarily attributable to restatement adjustments for arrears in salaries and wages and other adjustments for prior period items, offset in part by the current tax impact on such adjustments.

Restatement adjustments with respect to the provision of Rs.39,997.01 million made in fiscal 2009 on account of the increased liability towards gratuity and other employee benefits could not be allocated to the respective fiscal years (for fiscal 2008 and fiscal 2007) as the same could not be ascertained. For further information, see “– Results of Operations – Adjustments for Restatement” beginning on page 193 and “– Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Expenditure – Employee Remuneration and Benefits” beginning on page 178. Our profit after tax, as restated, in fiscal 2009 would have been higher if such restatement had been carried out.

Fiscal 2008 Compared to Fiscal 2007

Income

Total income increased by Rs.36,112.90 million, or 10.3%, from Rs.350,054.07 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.386,166.97 million in fiscal 2008.

Overall production of non-coking coal increased by 5.0% from 336.63 million tons in fiscal 2007 to 353.29 million tons in fiscal 2008, while overall production of coking coal increased by 7.8% from 24.27 million tons in fiscal 2007 to 26.16 million tons in fiscal 2008. Raw coal production in fiscal 2008 increased due to the addition of production capacities at several of our existing mines as well as commencement of production at eight new mines.

In fiscal 2008, our average price per ton of raw coal, calculated as total revenue from sales of raw coal divided by the volume of raw coal sold, was Rs.841.14 per ton, as compared to Rs.811.77 per ton in fiscal 2007.

In fiscal 2008, our average price per ton of beneficiated coal, calculated as total revenue from sales of beneficiated coal divided by the volume of beneficiated coal sold, was Rs.1,890.25 per ton, as compared to

Rs.1,944.49 per ton in fiscal 2007.

Coal Issued for Other Purposes

Coal issued for other purposes increased by Rs.340.72 million, or 1.8%, from Rs.19,404.70 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.19,745.42 million in fiscal 2008. Coal issued for production of beneficiated coal increased by Rs.75.58 million, or 0.5%, from Rs.15,661.90 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.15,737.48 million in fiscal 2008. Accretion in Stock

There was an accretion in stock in fiscal 2008 of Rs.2,441.95 million compared to an accretion of stock of Rs.2,475.52 million in fiscal 2007. The marginally lower accretion in stock in fiscal 2008 compared to that in fiscal 2007 was principally on account of higher offtake of coal relative to our production in fiscal 2008. Accretion in stock represented 0.7% and 0.6% of our total income in fiscal 2007 and 2008, respectively.

Other Income

Other income increased by Rs.5,489.00 million, or 17.1%, from Rs.32,152.00 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.37,641.00 million in fiscal 2008 primarily resulting from an increase in interest from banks, employees and others and an increase in recovery of transportation and loading coal, offset in part by write-backs of provisions and liabilities in fiscal 2008. Other income contributed 9.2% and 9.8% of our total income in fiscal 2007 and 2008, respectively.

Interest from banks, employees and others increased by Rs.5,703.18 million, or 41.3%, from Rs.13,807.19 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.19,510.37 million in fiscal 2008, primarily on account of increase in fixed deposits with banks from Rs.144430.47 million as of March 31, 2007 to Rs.198,864.33 million as of March 31, 2008 resulting from increased cash from operations as well as an increase in average bank interest rates on deposits from 7.8% in fiscal 2007 to Rs.10.5% in fiscal 2008.

Recovery of transportation and loading coal, representing transportation and loading charges that we charge our customers, increased by Rs.1,410.73 million, or 18.3%, from Rs.7,720.53 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.9,131.26 million in fiscal 2008 on account of variance in coal transportation distances to dispatch points, increased sales and dispatch and an increase in transportation and loading charges we charge customers with effect from December 12, 2007.

These increases were offset in part by a decrease in write-backs of provisions and liabilities of Rs.640.57 million in fiscal 2008 compared to write-backs of provisions and liabilities of Rs.2,535.45 million in fiscal 2007. Higher write-backs of provisions and liabilities in fiscal 2007 was due to write-back of excess provision made earlier under various items of expenditure, including employees remuneration and benefits and interest.

Expenditure

Total expenditure increased by Rs.40,961.79 million, or 15.5%, from Rs.264,412.28 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.305,374.07 million in fiscal 2008, primarily due to increases in employees remuneration and benefits and depreciation expenses. For further information, see “- Factors Affecting Results of Operations – Expenditure – Employee Remuneration and Benefits” beginning on page 178.

Output per manshift, calculated as total coal production divided by manshift (of eight hours per day), increased from 3.54 tons in fiscal 2007 to 3.79 tons in fiscal 2008.

Hiring of plant and machinery and heavy earthmoving equipment representing payments to third party contractors engaged for coal mining and overburden removal increased by Rs.6,922.98 million, or 208.1%, from Rs.3,326.17 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.10,249.15 million in fiscal 2008 on account of increased mining activities and coal production in fiscal 2008 and significant increase in volume of outsourced mining contractor work. Hiring of plant and machinery and heavy earthmoving equipment represented 1.3% and 3.4% of our total expenditure in fiscal 2007 and 2008, respectively.

Finance and Commitment Charges

Finance and commitment charges decreased by Rs.38.24 million, or 16.5%, from Rs.231.80 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.193.56 million in fiscal 2008 primarily due to a decrease in guarantee fees paid to the GoI in connection with our IBRD and JBIC financing arrangements from Rs.207.25 million in fiscal 2007 to Rs.181.30 million in fiscal 2008, on account of a decrease in outstanding balances. Our effective tax rate in fiscal 2008 was higher primarily on account of the loss incurred in fiscal 2008 by ECL of Rs.10,299.35 million compared to a profit of Rs.1,106.01 million by ECL in fiscal 2007. As a result, the consolidated profit was lower in fiscal 2008 and the effective tax rate for other subsidiaries that made a profit was higher. In accordance with Accounting Standard 22, deferred tax assets were not created for such loss as there was no virtual certainty of the adjustments of assets against future profit.

Our profit after tax, as restated, was Rs.42,850.07 million in fiscal 2008, which was lower than our profit after tax in fiscal 2008 by Rs.9,582.65 million. The difference was primarily attributable to restatement adjustments for arrears in salaries and wages and other adjustments for prior period items, offset in part by the current tax impact on such adjustments.

Our profit after tax, as restated, was Rs.42,052.69 million in fiscal 2007, which was lower than our profit after tax in fiscal 2007 by Rs.15,034.59 million. The difference was primarily attributable to restatement adjustments for arrears in salaries and wages.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Historically, our primary liquidity requirements have been to finance our working capital requirements and our capital expenditure. To fund these costs, we have relied on cash flows from operations and short term and long term borrowings. As of March 31, 2010, our cash and cash equivalents amounted to Rs.390,777.60 million. We believe that our anticipated cash flow from operations, together with our existing cash, will be sufficient to meet our operating and capital expenditure requirements for fiscal 2011 and 2012. Our anticipated cash flows are however dependent on several factors beyond our control. See "Risk Factors" beginning on page xv.

We had outstanding capital commitment as of March 31, 2010 of Rs.17,956.93 million.

Related Party Transactions

We have entered into and expect to enter into transactions with a number of related parties in the course of our business. For further information regarding our related party transactions, see “Related Party Transactions” beginning on page 174 and Annexure J of our restated consolidated financial statements on page F-86.

Qualitative Disclosure about Market Risk

Commodity risk

The price of our raw coal and products sold at negotiated prices pursuant to our memoranda of understanding with customers and the price of raw coal sold under our E-Auction schemes, and consequently our revenues, are subject to the risk of fluctuation in prices of coal and coal products in the international markets. In addition, we use significant quantities of petroleum-based fuel and lubricants, explosives, tires, steel and other raw materials and consumables in our mining operations, and are exposed to fluctuations in the prices of these materials. We do not enter into any derivative transactions to hedge against our exposure to movements in such commodity prices.

Operating risk

Our operations are subject to various operating risks that may materially increase our cost of mining operations and delay or disrupt production at particular mines either permanently or for varying lengths of time, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. We currently only maintain insurance for our business premises and cash-in-transit insurance. We may not maintain insurance coverage in accordance with applicable Indian and international industry standards and do not have full coverage for all risks facing our operations and facilities discussed above. We also do not maintain insurance coverage for loss of our assets such as our equipment, plant and machinery nor do we maintain third party insurance. For further information relating to operating risks that we are exposed to, see “Risk Factors - Our operations are subject to various risks inherent to mining activities and we do not maintain insurance coverage in accordance with applicable industry standards.” beginning on page xix.

Currency exchange risk

Changes in currency exchange rates may affect our results of operations. Approximately 77.8% of our total indebtedness of Rs.20,868.51 million as of March 31, 2010 was denominated in foreign currencies, most significantly the U.S. dollar and the Japanese Yen, and we expect that a portion of our future indebtedness will continue to be denominated in foreign currencies. We also expect our future capital expenditure in connection with our proposed expansion plans to include expenditure in foreign currencies for imported equipment and machinery. Depreciation of the Indian rupee against the U.S. dollar, the Japanese Yen and other foreign currencies may adversely affect our results of operations by increasing the cost of financing any debt denominated in foreign currency or any proposed capital expenditure in foreign currencies.

Our foreign currency exposure is not significant. We however selectively enter into hedging transactions to minimize our currency exchange risks. There can be no assurance that such measures will enable us to avoid the effect of any adverse fluctuations in the value of the Indian rupee against the U.S. dollar, the Japanese Yen or other relevant foreign currencies. For further information relating to hedging transactions that we have entered into, see “- Off Balance Sheet Arrangements” beginning on page 216. In addition, since we enter into transactions in derivative financial instruments that are sensitive to movements in certain interest and currency exchange rates, and changes in the fair values of our derivative financial instruments are recognized in our financial statement at the end of each financial reporting period, any resulting decrease in the fair value of such derivative financial instruments could adversely affect our results of operations.

Interest rate risk

Changes in interest rates could affect our results of operations and financial condition. As of March 31, 2010, Rs.14,643.00 million, or 70.2% of our total indebtedness were at floating rates of interest. If the interest rates for our existing or future borrowings increase significantly, our cost of funds will increase. We do not enter into any derivative transactions to hedge against our exposure to interest rate risks.

Effect of Inflation

During fiscal 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, the All India Consumer Price Index increased by 5.88%, 6.59%, 7.57% and 10.34%, respectively. (Source: RBI Bulletin). We set the price for our products sold in India based on various factors, including inflation. Inflation has not had a significant impact on the results of our operations.

Analysis of Certain Changes

Known Trends or Uncertainties

Other than as described in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, particularly in the sections titled “Risk Factors” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on pages xv and 177, respectively, to our knowledge, there are no trends or uncertainties that have or had or are expected to have a material adverse impact on our income from continuing operations.

Unusual or Infrequent Events or Transactions

Except as described in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, to our knowledge, there have been no events or transactions that may be described as “unusual” or “infrequent”.

Seasonality of Business

Our operations may be adversely affected by difficult working conditions due to high temperatures during summer months and rain during monsoon that restrict our ability to carry on mining activities and fully utilize our resources, particularly during the second quarter of our fiscal year. During periods of curtailed activity due to adverse weather conditions, we may continue to incur operating expenses, but our revenues from operations may be delayed or reduced. Although such adverse weather conditions do not typically have a material impact on our revenue from operations, abnormally hot summer months or rainy monsoon could have a material impact. We have also in the past faced an increase in the shortage of adequate rail transportation facilities for coal supplies during the third and fourth quarters of our fiscal year, when India tends to experience higher freight transportation activities, which may result in our inability to meet fully the typically higher demand for our coal by the power sector during these quarters.

Future Relationship between Costs and Income

Other than as described in the sections “Risk Factors” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on pages xv and 177, respectively, to our knowledge, there are no known factors which will have a material adverse impact on our operations and finances.

Significant Regulatory Changes

To the best of our knowledge, except as described in the section entitled “Regulations and Policies”, and elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there have been no significant regulatory changes that could affect our revenue from continuing operations.

Significant Dependence on a Single or Few Customers

Non-coking coal used in the thermal power industry constitutes most of our coal production. Coal sold to government-owned and controlled power generation companies and utilities contribute a substantial majority of our total sales. Volume of raw coal sold to our five largest customers in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, as a percentage of total volume of raw coal dispatched in these periods, was 50.8%, 49.9% and 47.9% , respectively. Historically, our five largest customers have all been public sector thermal power generation companies. NTPC, which is a public sector power generation company and power utility, has historically been our most significant customer. Volume of raw coal sold to NTPC in fiscal 2008, 2009 and 2010, as a percentage of total volume of raw coal dispatched in these periods, was 27.7%, 26.7% and 26.7%, respectively. As a result of our customer concentration and the long term nature of our coal supply arrangements with our customers, particularly in the thermal power industry, the business policies, capacity expansion and capital expenditure plans as well as procurement strategies of our significant customers have had and will continue to have a significant impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Competitive Conditions

In fiscal 2009, coal produced by us accounted for 81.9% of coal production in India (Source: CRISIL Coal Outlook) We do not believe we have any directly comparable competitor in India. As we do not export any coal and we do not expect to export coal in the short or medium term, we do not consider international coal companies in international markets as direct competitors. However, international coal companies, particularly coal companies from Indonesia and Australia, that supply coal to India, may be considered as our competition.

Significant Developments Subsequent to Date of Latest Financial Statements

Except as stated in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, to our knowledge no circumstances have arisen since March 31, 2010, the date of the last financial statements as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, which materially and adversely affect or are likely to affect, the operations or profitability of our Company, or the value of our assets or our ability to pay our material liabilities within the next 12 months. Except as stated in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there is no development subsequent to March 31, 2010 that we believe is expected to have a material impact on the reserves, profits, earnings per share and book value of our Company.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

There are no recent accounting pronouncements that are expected to impact our accounting policies or the manner of our financial reporting. However, the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India has announced a road map for the adoption of, and convergence of Indian GAAP with, IFRS, pursuant to which certain public companies in India will be required to prepare their annual and interim financial statements under IFRS beginning with financial year commencing April 1, 2011. Because there is significant lack of clarity on the adoption of and convergence with IFRS and there is not yet a significant body of established practice on which to draw in forming judgments regarding its implementation and application, we have not determined with any degree of certainty the impact that such adoption will have on our financial reporting.

These cases include two material cases, one of which involves an amount in excess of Rs. 100 million. Brief description of the case is provided below:

1. Our Company had agreed to supply low-ash Assam Coal to Mahabir Coke Industries in September 20, 1989, pursuant to a letter of allocation, on a 50:50 basis from Tirap and Tikak Mines at prices notified by the GoI. However, following notifications dated January 9, 1996 and March 11, 1996, the liberalized sale scheme was notified, which empowered our Company to fix the price of coal in respect of non-linked consumers. Further, on November 16, 1996, a meeting was held of the Non-Core Sector Linkage Committee of our Company, which deemed coking units as linked units, provided the pricing of coal to be sold to such units would still be determined by our Company. Our Company followed the liberalized sale scheme and determined price for Mahabir Coke Industries accordingly. Against such action, Mahabir Coke Industries filed writ petition (no. WP(C) 656 of 1997). Further, writ petition (no. WP(C) 807 of 1997) was filed before the High Court of Judicature at Kolkata against supply of coal to Mahabir Coke Industries from only Tirap colliery, and not Tikak colliery. Stay order dated March 27, 1997 was passed in writ petition (no. WP(C) 656 of 1997) on charging of higher price by our Company during the pendency of the proceedings. However, such interim orders were vacated by order dated September 20, 2001, which declared the price charged by our Company as valid. Thereafter, by order dated July 12, 2006 in writ petition (no. WP(C) 807 of 1997) and order dated January 14, 2009 in writ petition (no. WP(C) 656 of 1997), the High Court of Judicature at Kolkata directed Mahabir Coke Industries to pay the difference in price of coal supplied for the period between April 1, 1997 and August 2001 with interest. Special leave petition (no. 13980 of 2007) was filed by Mahabir Coke Industries against the order dated July 12, 2006 and was dismissed by the Supreme Court by order dated December 14, 2007. Special leave petition (no. 5169 of 2009) was filed against the order dated January 14, 2009 and is currently pending.

The amount demanded by our Company is Rs. 87.88 million as principal and Rs. 67.44 million as interest, totaling Rs. 155.33 million. Mahabir Coke Industries has claimed refund of Rs. 12.74 million in separate e-Auction batch matters before the Supreme Court in refund proceeding (no. 100 of 2006).

Furthermore, writ petition (no. 1280 of 2010) was filed by Mahabir Coke Industries against our Company for discontinuation of supplies, in which interim order dated February 3, 2010 was passed directing Mahabir Coke Industries to deposit Rs. 37.5 million, against which special leave petition (no. 7837 of 2010) was filed, which was dismissed. Mahabir Coke Industries filed further appeal (no. 3892 of 2010) in which the Supreme Court passed order dated April 27, 2010 directing the deposit of Rs. 20 million as bank guarantee, which was done. Accordingly, order dated April 17, 2010 was passed for resumption of supplies, which has been complied with.

The amount involved in these matters is not ascertainable and the matters are all currently pending. There is one material case as detailed below:

1. BCCL has filed a case (C.A. No. 2325/06 arising out of the judgment and order dated December 6, 2005 in L.P.A. No. 77/05) against the State of Jharkhand and others, before the Supreme Court. The State of Jharkhand alleged that we have not paid an adequate amount of royalty cess on the amount of coal mined. The amount claimed amounts to Rs. 225.80 million. BCCL has claimed the royalty should be paid on the amount of coal that is removed from the mining area and not the coal that is taken out of the pit at the time of extraction. As many similar notices were being sent to BCCL for various areas, BCCL filed a civil appeal in the Supreme Court to decide on whether royalty should be paid on coal extracted from coal pit or leasehold area and praying that BCCL be allowed to pay royalty on the coal that is removed from the leasehold area. A stay dated April 3, 2010 was passed in the matter declaring that no coercive action should be taken against BCCL, for recovery of the royalty amounts, and the matter is currently pending.

Environment and Forest Cases

1. BCCL filed a writ petition (W.P. No. 4503/2003) against the State of Jharkhand before the Jharkhand High Court, Ranchi. The matter arose out of the order of the Divisional Forest Officer (“DFO”), in 1998, which asked BCCL to submit the lease document on the basis of which BCCL was mining in certain areas. BCCL appealed against the said order in the Patna High Court, Ranchi Bench (L.P.A. 203/2001) which was dismissed and remanded to the office of the DFO. A reply was filed by BCCL and in answer to the reply, the office of the DFO passed an order through a forwarding letter (No. 2837) dated August 19, 2003 alleging that there has been ongoing opencast mining in the forest land of Ghanuadih and Bera, and that the same was totally in violation of the order and spirit of the Supreme Court order dated December 12, 1996 in the case of T.N. Godavarman v. Union of India, regarding permission to mine on forest land. Secondly, the order claimed that as the land in question was forest land and compensation to the State Government had not been paid, either by the Central Government or BCCL at the time of nationalization. Thirdly, the order also stated that legitimate permission under Section 2 of the Forest Conservation Act, 1980, had not been obtained.

As BCCL had been mining in violation of said order of the Supreme Court for the past five years and committed other violations, the DFO ordered them to immediately cease the mining activity on the forest land of Bera and Ganuadih. Against this order, BCCL filed the present writ petition in the Jharkhand High Court. Through an order dated September 10, 2003, the High Court stayed the operation of the order of the DFO and allowed BCCL to continue mining, without felling any tree or timber during the pendency of the case. Claiming that BCCL had felled one tree, the DFO filed a contempt petition (No. 347/2007) in the Jharkhand High Court at Ranchi dated April 18, 2007, alleging wilful violation of the order dated September 10, 2003. The said contempt petition was subsequently dismissed on March 5, 2010 for non appearance. Aggrieved by the contempt petition, BCCL filed an interim application (I.A. No. 1774/2007) dated June 25, 2007, in the Jharkhand High Court at Ranchi, asking for a modification of the order dated September 10, 2003 and seeking permission for BCCL to cut trees in order to carry out mining activities. The Jharkhand High Court at Ranchi, passed an order dated August 16, 2007, asking BCCL to approach the Chief Secretary of Jharkhand for an amicable settlement of the disputes between the two parties. Pursuant to the order dated August 16, 2007, BCCL filed an application before the Chief Secretary and after hearings, the Chief Secretary passed an order dated January 21, 2008 stating that the amicable settlement was not possible. Aggrieved by the order, BCCL filed another application for amicable settlement and the Chief Secretary through a subsequent order dated December 1, 2008 asked BCCL to apply to the relevant authority for forestry clearance in respect of the land in question. Following this order, BCCL has filed an application which is pending before the Ministry of Environment and Forests. The writ petition is also pending the grant of this approval.

Anti Dumping Cases

1. India Ferro Alloy Producers Association and BCCL have filed a special leave petition (S.L.P. (C) Nos. 9781-90 of 2000) against the Union of India and others, before the Supreme Court against the final findings of the designated authority (“DA”) dated August 8, 1998 and corrigendum dated September 2, 1998 with regard to the imposition of anti-dumping duty on the import of metallurgical coke from China. The DA came to the conclusion that metallurgical coke originating in or exported from China had been exported to India below normal value resulting in dumping which had caused material injury to the domestic industry. Accordingly DA recommended provisional anti-dumping duty of Rs. 1,800 per metric tonne and after confirming the preliminary findings imposed an anti-dumping duty calculated at a rate as equivalent to the difference between Rs. 4,673 per metric tonne and the landed value of metallurgical coke. The importers, including BCCL filed an appeal before the Customs Excise and Gold (Control) Appellate Tribunal (“CEGAT”). Vide order dated January 21, 2000, the CEGAT upheld the order of the DA dated August 8, 1998 and set aside the order dated September 2, 1998. It is against this order that the importers further filed the current appeal before the Supreme Court under Section 130E (b) of the Customs Act and under Order XX-B of the Supreme Court Rules, 1996 praying for quashing of the order of CEGAT. BCCL is only a pro-forma party to this appeal. The matter is currently pending and is yet to be listed.

for declaration of their title over 137.89 acres of land acquired under the CBA Act vide Notification No. 3894 dated December 29, 1962 and for enhancement of compensation. CCL filed an application before the JSERC for fixation of tariff payable by it to DLF Power in terms of the power purchase agreement entered into between the parties on February 8, 1993. Separately, DLF Power also filed an application to the JSERC for fixation of capital expenditure/tariff. The JSERC vide tariff order dated December 4, 2004 determined/fixes the tariff payable by CCL to DLF Power for the two power plants (Rajrappa and Giddi). CCL filed an appeal (no.166/2005) before the Appellate Tribunal of Electricity against the order dated December 4, 2004. The Appellate Tribunal, vide order dated May 11, 2006 stated that it had no jurisdiction to entertain an appeal under Section 111 of the Electricity Act, 2003 and that the resolution of disputes between the parties pursuant to invitation in terms of the arbitral clause is an award in terms of the power purchase agreement. DLF Power and CCL filed appeals (civil appeal nos. 3109/2006 and 3561/2006, respectively) before the Supreme Court against this order. DLF Power in its written statement (to appeal no. 3561/2006) stated that the arrears as per JSERC's operative tariff order dated March 7, 2008 passed by the Chairman was Rs. 2,079.20 million (the differential amount payable by CCL to DLF Power in respect of the power tariff for a period from January 2000 to January 2009) and the arrears as per the Member (Technical)'s dissenting note in the said tariff order was Rs. 1,253.20 million. The interim relief sought was Rs. 1,250 million, which is the arrears as per the Member (Technical)'s dissenting note. The Supreme Court vide order dated July 11, 2007 stated that the capitalization costs quoted by DLF Power would be required to be verified independently by the cost accounts wing of M/s. Ernst and Young in terms of the formula specified in the power purchase agreement and relevant copies of the same were to be forwarded to CCL, DLF Power and JSERC. CCL filed an interim application apprising the Supreme Court of the irregularities committed by the JSERC in fixing the tariff. The Supreme Court vide order dated April 1, 2009 accepted the contention of CCL and directed the Appellate Tribunal for Electricity to consider any appeal filed by CCL in this regard. CCL filed an appeal (appeal no. 83/09) before the Appellate Tribunal for Electricity for setting aside the order dated March 4/7, 2008. The Appellate Tribunal for Electricity vide order dated July 31, 2009 dismissed the appeal and directed that all outstanding arrears payable by CCL to DLF Power arising out of this judgment along with delayed payment charges in terms of the power purchase agreement be liquidated in twelve equal monthly installments from the date of issue of the judgment. Subsequently, CCL filed an appeal (civil appeal no. 7403 of 2009) against DLF Power and JSERC before the Supreme Court for setting aside the order dated July 31, 2009. The matter is currently pending.

Potential Material Litigation/ Notices Received

Except as stated below, there are no other potential material litigation or notices received by CCL:

1. CCL has received a legal notice dated March 16, 2009 on behalf of Mr. Dayal Mahto, resident of village Dhoori, Bokaro. According to the notice, Mr. Dayal Mahto is the legal heir of Mr. Hadi Mahto, who owned 3.68 acres of land which had been acquired by CCL, and hence, was entitled to get all kinds of benefits including employment from CCL. But, according to the notice, CCL was providing employment to only one of the descendants of Mr. Hadi Mahto, Mr. Prakash Mahto, and not any other descendants of Mr. Hadi Mahto. The notice informs CCL that if the employment is provided only to Mr. Prakash Mahto then Mr. Dayal Mahto shall file a case against CCL. The matter is currently being negotiated.
2. CCL has received a legal notice dated March 4, 2009 on behalf of villagers of Sawang and Pipradih. The notice challenges the decision of CCL to close the local sale point located at Sawang and transfer the same to Govindpur because any such transfer would cause the villagers to lose the means of earning their livelihood. CCL in its reply to the notice has stated that Pipradih siding had been closed and dismantled twenty years back because it was not full rake siding and that furthermore, the local sale in Sawang colliery had also been stopped twenty years back. Hence, the question of closing Sawang sale point did not arise at all. The matter is currently being negotiated.

Criminal Cases

There are five criminal cases pending against ECL, details of which are as follows:

1. The Labour Enforcement Officer, Bankura and in charge of Ukhra filed a criminal case (C.C. No. 555/2004) against Mr. Chakrabarti, the then CMD of ECL, before the Chief Judicial Magistrate of Burdwan. The case was filed under Section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act, alleging non implementation of the award of the CGIT Asansol in order dated February 24, 2003 (in reference number 8/2002), awarding reinstatement to Mr. Gunomoy Bauri. Mr. Bauri has since been reinstated and ECL has filed a criminal revision application under Section 384 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (No. CRR 1357/ 2007) in the Calcutta High Court. The matter is currently pending.
2. Mr. Ananda Chatterjee, then Director (Personnel) of ECL has filed an appeal in the Calcutta High Court in Complaint Case No. 686 of 2006 (CRR No. 4319 of 2009). The complaint was a case filed for non-payment of gratuity as found by the Labour Enforcement Officer (“LEO”) on inspection of our Sodepur Area Office. BCCL immediately paid the dues but did not inform the LEO of the same. As a result, a criminal case was filed. Against this, ECL approached the High Court asking for a stay in their appearance and has also filed a criminal revision petition asking to quash the proceeding. The appellants were granted a stay in the proceedings and the matter is currently pending.

3. Mr. Sahadeo Singh, filed a case (RE 02/2009-2010) before the Court of the Sub Divisional Judicial Magistrate, Madhupur, Jharkhand against ECL and others, alleging that ECL had conducted mining activities on his land. The Padhadhikari directed the Circle Officer to make an inspection of the land, and submit a report in this regard. ECL is still awaiting the report and the case is pending.

ECL has filed a criminal revision petition (CR 1137/06) in the Jharkhand High Court, asking that the case be quashed. The same was disposed off by stating that we may repeat the same in a discharge petition at the time of filing of charge and the matter is currently pending.

Case No. 93/2001 and 94/2001 which arises out of the same occurrence) against Mr. Hare Kant Jha, the Chief General Manager of the Rajmahal group of mines, before the Sessions Court, Gudda. The complaint alleged that the entire establishment of ECL at Rajmahal was aware of illegal mining, but did not take steps to prevent the same. The state alleged that this led to one part of the Rajmahal mine collapsing and killing a few individuals who had entered the mine and started removing coal on September 26, 2001. A case was registered under Section 304, 114 and 120B of the Indian Penal Code and Section 21 and 23 of the MMDR Act. 1. Mr. Sanat Kumar Paul and others filed a writ petition by way of a public interest litigation (W.P. No. 26414/2007) against the Union of India, ECL, and others before the Calcutta High Court, alleging that ECL had not taken any action regarding the illegal mining and winning of coal. Mr. Paul prayed for a writ of mandamus asking ECL to extract coal according to laws and keep the mining zone peaceful and undisturbed. He also prayed for a writ of prohibition directing ECL to not allow the illegal extraction and a writ of certiorari commanding ECL to produce relevant records before the Court. The matter is currently pending.
2. Mr. Diltanjan Singh, filed a writ petition (W.P. No. 1178 of 2009) against CIL, ECL and others, before the Calcutta High Court in relation to compensation for a mining accident. Mr. Singh claimed Rs. 0.5 million as ex-gratia payment for the death of his father in a mine accident in 2006. The payment was claimed, based on a declaration by a Minister of the State Government and an appropriate circular was issued in November 2007. ECL contended that as the accident happened before the circular they were not bound to pay the same to Mr. Singh. The High Court by an order dated April 8, 2010, held against the Company and has asked us to give retrospective effect to the circular. ECL is in the process of filing an appeal in this regard.
3. Mr. M.C. Mehta filed a writ petition by way of a public interest litigation (W.P. No. 3727/1996) against the Union of India, BCCL and others, before the Green Bench of the Calcutta High Court, alleging that the actions of public sector undertakings, among others, were destroying the environment and contributing to pollution. Further, some orders were passed regarding the issue of mining in forest land. The matter is currently pending.

The total amount involved in these cases is Rs. 762.56 million and the matters are currently pending. These cases include three cases which involves amounts in excess of Rs. 100 million. Brief description of the cases is provided below:

1. The Superintendent of Central Excise, Kulti Range, Asansol Div –II has sent a notice (No. C. No.V(15)147/Adj/CE/Bol/08/624 dated March 26, 2009) for a demand of Rs. 131.72 million. ECL approached the Commissioner of Central Excise, Bolpur Division for relief and the Commissioner has provided relief for Rs. 22.92 million. As ECL is paying service tax under the head of 'goods transportation by road' ECL has availed an abetment to the extent of 75% of the transportation charges as per the relevant Central Excise notification. One of the conditions of the abetment is that the service recipient has to obtain a declaration from the transporter that they did not avail CENVAT credit on the capital goods utilized for transportation of goods. BCCL has submitted this declaration as obtained from the transporters in a separate statement, but the Excise department has demanded that the declaration be provided at the back of the consignment note. Since neither ECL nor the transporters have issued any consignment notes, it is not possible to obtain the declaration on the back of the consignment note. ECL has received the order of the Commissioner of Central Excise, Bolpur Division, being SCN No. 4/Commr/ST/BOI/09 dated March 25, 2009, which directed ECL to pay service tax of Rs. 108.80 million along with interest and penalty amounting to Rs. 180.80 million under Sections 76 and 77 of the Finance Act, 1994, as amended, and ECL is in the process of filing an appeal petition before the Central Excise Appellate Tribunal for the remaining demand of Rs. 361.60 million.
2. The Government of West Bengal has filed a certificate case (Certificate Case No. (7)1 to (7) 9 of 1999-2000) against the CMD, ECL before the Certificate Officer, Dumka. The Government of West Bengal alleged that ECL had defaulted in the payment of certain dues and cess relating to the mining of coal and filed the certificates of demand amounting to Rs. 128.10 million in this regard. ECL approached the Calcutta High Court praying for a stay, stating that ECL was a BIFR company and as such was unable to pay the demand raised. The Calcutta High Court, through an order dated July 25, 2002 granted a stay for as long as ECL was a BIFR company. The matter is pending for as long as ECL is a BIFR company.
3. The State of Bihar, represented by the Assistant Mining officer Godda, has filed a certificate case (Certificate Case No. 1/98-99) against ECL before the Certificate Officer, Dumka. The State of Bihar alleged that ECL had defaulted in the payment of certain dues and cess relating to the mining of coal and filed the certificate of demand amounting to Rs. 109.43 million in this regard. ECL lost the case in the court of the Certificate Office Dumka, and filed a writ petition in the Patna High Court (C.W.J.C. No. 2550/1999) against the order of the Certificate Officer, Dumka. While proceedings were going on, the Patna High Court stayed the recovery, as ECL had gone into BIFR proceedings.

In the writ petition, the Petitioner has alleged that the abovementioned mines are virtually closed for operation and that upon extraction of coal by MCL, the vacuum areas have not been adequately filled up with sands, thereby endangering the lives of 50,000 residents living in the vicinity to these mines in Talcher, Orissa. The petitioner has further alleged that as Talcher is in a seismically active zone, the inadequate filling of sands in the underground mines by MCL has further heightened the risks posed due to an earthquake. The petitioner has prayed for the constitution of an expert committee to look into the issue and has also sought from the court a writ prohibiting MCL from any further mining until adequate safety measures are undertaken. The matter is currently pending.

The petitioner has alleged that MCL has not adequately filled sand in the underground mines in the area, resulting in a threat to people living in the vicinity of the mines. He has further alleged that the mining of coal by MCL has resulted in depletion of the underground water levels and that MCL is extracting sand from the banks of river Brahmani in a manner causing the embankment to weaken, thus causing a danger to flooding. The petitioner has sought from the court the constitution of a high level committee to look into the issue. The matter is currently pending.

The petitioners have argued that the establishment of the coal mines, inter alia, is likely to cause damage to surrounding environment, cause shortage of drinking water, blockage of irrigation facilities and disruption of communications due to construction of new roads, in and around the villages of Solada, Birabarpur and Nakepasi. Claims and Notices by Statutory Authority

There are 126 pending proceedings before various forums including the Orissa High Court and the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal and outstanding notices and claims from various statutory authorities pending against MCL. The proceedings and the outstanding notices relate to claims against the Company under various provisions of the Income Tax Act, the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, Orissa Sales Tax Act, 1947 and the Orissa Entry Tax Act, 1999. Of the 126 pending proceedings and notices against the Company, 115 cases involve amounts of Rs. 7,194.58 million, and for the remaining proceedings and notices, the amounts are not ascertainable. These 126 proceedings also include assessment orders dated November 20, 2009 under Sections 251/254/143(3) of the Income Tax Act imposing an income tax liability (including interest), calculated as Rs. 126.24 million, Rs. 356.83 million and Rs. 112.85 million on MCL for the assessment year 2002-2003, 2002-2001 and 2000-2001 respectively. These cases include eight cases which involve amounts in excess of Rs. 100 million. Brief description of some of these cases is provided below:

1. MCL has filed a writ petition (W.P (C) No. 13924 of 2007) before the Orissa High Court challenging the assessment order dated August 17, 2007 of the Assistant Commissioner of Sales Tax, Cuttack –II Range, Cuttack, Orissa raising a demand of tax (including penalty) of Rs. 202.66 million on MCL, under the Orissa Entry Tax Act, 1999 for the period between April 1, 2005 to March 31, 2007. The matter relates to the sale of coal by MCL to NTPC's Talcher Super Thermal Power Project at Kaniha and the Thermal Power Station at Talcher, in respect of which MCL collected an entry tax under Orissa Entry Tax Act, 1999 at a concessional rate of 0.5%. In the assessment order, it was held that the sale of coal by MCL to NTPC in the present instance is not eligible to avail of the concessional rate of entry tax, as there is a specific entry for 'coal' and the same should not be treated as a raw material under the Orissa Entry Tax Act, 1999. Challenging the assessment order, MCL, in the writ petition, has argued inter alia, that the assessing officer has not allowed MCL to sufficiently demonstrate that the entry tax at full rate has been made (under protest) by NTPC in respect of the coal purchased from MCL and further that the liability to pay the differential amount of tax, if any, is on the purchaser i.e. NTPC. By an interim order dated November 14, 2007, the Orissa High Court has held that if the relevant amount towards entry tax has already been deposited, no further recovery is to be made from MCL and further, NTPC was impleaded as a party to the case. The petition is currently pending.

2. MCL has filed an appeal (submitted vide serial number 3039 of book number 31) before the Office of Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Cuttack, Orissa against an assessment order under Section 154 of the Income Tax Act dated March 31, 2010 of the Deputy Commissioner of Income Tax, Circle 2(1), Sambalpur, Orissa, imposing an income tax liability (including interest) calculated at Rs. 1,131.99 million from MCL for the assessment year 2008-2009. Appealing against the order, MCL has argued that the assessing officer has raised the demand due to non credit of certain amounts paid as tax deducted at source and advance tax as proof of payment for the amounts could not be located on the NSDL website. MCL has also argued in the appeal that the amounts were subsequently incorrectly recognized as self-assessed tax instead of advance tax. By an earlier attachment order dated March 30, 2010, a sum of Rs. 3300.98 million was demanded by the income tax department from MCL, against which MCL filed a writ petition (W.P. (C) No. 6357 of 2010) before the Orissa High Court, and the court by an order dated April 6, 2010 ordered that the matter should be placed before the Commissioner of Income Tax, Sambalpur, and further ordered MCL to deposit a sum of Rs. 250 million. Pursuant to the passing of a subsequent attachment order dated March 31, 2010, MCL had filed a writ petition (W.P. (C) 6937 of 2010), assailing the order. Thereafter, Orissa High Court, by an order dated April 15, 2010, modified the earlier order dated April 6, 2010 and directed that an appeal be filed before the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), and further a sum of Rs. 100 million be deposited. Accordingly, MCL has filed the present appeal before the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Cuttack, Orissa and the appeal is currently pending.
3. MCL has filed an appeal (IT Appeal No. 0230/2009-10) before the Office of Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Cuttack, Orissa against an assessment order under Section 143 (3) of the Income Tax Act dated December 22, 2009 of the Deputy Commissioner of Income Tax, Circle 2(1), Sambalpur, Orissa, imposing an income tax liability (including interest), calculated at Rs. 703.73 million on MCL for the assessment year 2007-2008. Appealing against the order, MCL has argued that assessing officer has disallowed deductions in respect of certain expenses incurred by MCL such as prospecting and boring expenditure, development expenditure, reclamation of land and amortization of depreciation on leased land and thereby attributed an increase in the taxable profit of MCL. The appeal is currently pending.
4. MCL has filed an appeal (IT Appeal No. 0405/2008-2009) before the Office of Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Cuttack, Orissa against an assessment order under Section 143 (3) of the Income Tax Act dated December 30, 2008 of the Deputy Commissioner of Income Tax, Circle 2(1), Sambalpur, Orissa, imposing an income tax liability (including interest), calculated at Rs. 797.74 million on MCL for the assessment year 2006-2007. Appealing against the order, MCL has argued that the assessing officer has disallowed deductions in respect of certain expenses incurred by the MCL such as expenditure on assets not belonging to the company, community development expenditure, prospecting and boring expenditure, development expenditure, reclamation of land and amortization of depreciation on leased land and thereby attributed an increase in the taxable profit of MCL. The appeal is currently pending.
5. MCL has filed an appeal (IT Appeal No. 0210/2007-2008) before the Office of Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Cuttack, Orissa against an assessment order under Section 143 (3) of the Income Tax Act dated December 28, 2008 of the Deputy Commissioner of Income Tax, Circle 2(1), Sambalpur, Orissa, imposing an income tax liability (including interest), calculated at Rs. 1167.70 million on MCL for the assessment year 2005-2006. Appealing against the order, MCL has argued that the assessing officer has disallowed deductions in respect of certain expenses incurred by the MCL such as expenditure on assets not belonging to the company, community development expenditure, prospecting and boring expenditure, development expenditure, reclamation of land, amortization of depreciation on leased land and community development expenditure and thereby attributed an increase in the taxable profit of MCL. The appeal is currently pending.

6. MCL has filed an appeal (IT Appeal No. 227/CTK/2009) before the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal, Cuttack Bench, Cuttack, Orissa against an order of the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Cuttack dated July 3, 2009. The appeal relates to an initial order dated December 27, 2006 of the Commissioner of Income Tax, Circle 2(1), Sambalpur, imposing an income tax liability, calculated at Rs. 471.75 million on MCL for assessment year 2004-2005, against which MCL appealed to the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Cuttack. By the impugned order dated July 3, 2009, the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Cuttack, confirmed the disallowance of certain deductions in respect of expenses incurred by MCL such as donations and subscriptions, expenditure on assets not belonging to the company and amortization of depreciation on leased land. Cases Relating to Other Levies

There are 27 appeals relating to Madhya Pradesh Commercial Tax, Madhya Pradesh Sales Tax and Entry Tax from year 1999-98 to 2007-08 filed before the Assistant Commissioner, Satna, District Commissioner, Satna, and Central Tribunal. The total amount involved in the aforesaid cases is approximately 173.02 million. There are 4 cases relating to income tax appeals which are pending with the High Court and Income Tax Appellate Tribunal for demands amounting to Rs. 131.25 million and there is one case relating to a SSADA (Shaktinagar Special Area Development Authority) cess on sale of coal where the demand amounts to Rs. 29.94 million. All the above matters are currently pending.

1. NCL has filed 12 appeals against the Sales Tax Authority of the Government of Madhya Pradesh alleging that the coal excavated in M.P. and transferred to U.P. for dispatch should not be considered as an inter-state sale from M.P. and instead should be treated as a stock transfer to U.P. These proceedings related to various assessment years (i.e. 1997-98 to 2007-08), and for each assessment years the amount demanded by the relevant Sales Tax Authority is more than Rs. 100 million. NCL has paid the requisite amount of tax to the U.P. Government and a claim has been raised on the same transfer by the M.P. Government. There are various pending appeals relating to this matter where NCL has claimed that since the transfer of coal is a stock transfer from M.P., it should not be considered as sale from M.P. to U.P., but only as sale from U.P. and the aggregate amount involved is approximately Rs. 2,329.07 million. The matters are currently pending.
2. NCL has filed a case against the Sales Tax Authority, Government of Madhya Pradesh, before the Deputy Commissioner, Satna regarding the claiming of entry tax on spares used in equipment plying from U.P. to M.P. by the M. P. Sales Tax Authority amounting to Rs. 178.25 million. Additionally, the following case in relation to dispute regarding the payment of stamp duty involves an amount in excess of Rs. 100 million. Brief description of the case is provided below:

The Government of Madhya Pradesh has initiated a case, pursuant to six separate notices (5B/103/01-02 and 6B/102/01-02, dated December 19, 2001; and 7B/103/01-02 to 10B/103/01-02 dated December 22, 2001) against NCL, under Section 33 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899. The notices alleges that the lease deed pursuant to which NCL is conducting mining operations, has not been stamped adequately and therefore, NCL is required to pay the stamp duty along with the penalty which is 10 times the stamp duty payable in accordance with Sections 35 and 40 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, amounting to approximately Rs. 607.70 million. The Government of Madhya Pradesh has demanded the amounts towards stamp duty on the vesting order (issued by the Central Government under Section 11 of CBA Act), as these vesting orders shall be treated as lease deeds. NCL has disputed payment of such stamp duty (together with the penal amounts) arguing that the vesting order cannot be treated as lease deed. The matter is pending before the authority for decision.

Service Tax Cases

NCL has received a demand notice from the Service Tax Authority regarding transportation of coal by road for the period January 1, 2005 to September 30, 2006 in respect of M.P. Projects of NCL assessing service tax of Rs. 9.08 million, penalty of Rs.18.16 million and interest at applicable rate on the service tax amount. NCL has filed an appeal dated April 10, 2008 before the Appellate Tribunal. NCL has contended that no service tax is payable on account of transportation of coal by the company under “goods transport by road service” and as such an appeal has been filed before the Tribunal against the above order. However, the company has deposited the relevant amounts on account of service tax “under protest”, for the period January 1, 2005 to March 31, 2010 in respect of both U.P. and M.P. projects. The total amount deposited, along with the interest claim and penalty not deposited amounts to Rs.115.28 million.

Brief description of the case is provided below:

1. NCL filed a special leave petition (S.L.P. (C) 27646 of 2008) against Heavy Engineering Corporation Limited (“HEC”) and Rampur Engineering Company Limited (“RECL”) before the Supreme Court. NCL issued a tender for construction of a Coal Handling Plant at the Bina Project. The construction was to be carried out in two contracts: (i) the contract for works and services; and (ii) the contract for equipment and spares, and both the contracts were awarded to HEC. Clause 13 of the contract documents prohibited HEC from subletting whole contract or any part thereof, without the prior written consent of NCL within 45 days from the date of the contract (being November 4, 1988). However, HEC had sub-let the entire work to RECL. The contract was to be completed by January 2, 1991 but the same was executed and commissioned after a prolonged delay of more than five years, i.e. on November 31, 1996. As such the payment to HEC was withheld by NCL. Thereafter, HEC approached Permanent Machinery of Arbitration against their grievance. The Arbitrator awarded a sum of Rs. 168.7 million in favour of HEC payable within two weeks from the date of receipt of copy of arbitral award failing which NCL was to pay interest at the rate of 18% of the awarded amount till the date of actual payment. NCL preferred an appeal against this award before the Law Secretary, Ministry of Law, Govt. In the appeal, the Secretary restricted the awarded amount, payable to HEC, to Rs. 155.9 million. HEC and NCL jointly agreed to settle the claim for total contract for Rs. 140 million. Aggrieved by this decision, RECL approached the Delhi High Court and restricted HEC and NCL from any direct settlement. In the meantime, NCL also approached the Delhi High Court and filed a suit (No. 1709 of 2000) and obtained stay for non-implementation of arbitral award as well as a stay on the arbitration proceedings in equipment contract (the second contract). NCL also filed another suit (No. 2030 of 2001) in the Delhi High Court in which they claimed damages totaling approximately Rs. 700 million from both HEC and RECL. The first case lodged by NCL was dismissed by the Delhi High Court on July 10, 2007. NCL thereafter preferred an appeal before the Division Bench of the Delhi High Court. The Division Bench of the Delhi High Court dismissed the appeal and held that the arbitral award was valid. Against the order of the Division Bench of the Delhi High Court, NCL filed this special leave petition and prays for setting aside the order of the Delhi High Court. The amount involved in the case is approximately Rs.168.7 million and it is currently pending for final hearing on September 10, 2010.

Cases Filed by NCL

Cases relating to other levies

There are four cases relating to certain levies filed by NCL, involving an amount in excess of Rs. 100 million, the details of which are as follows:

1. The State of Madhya Pradesh has filed a special leave petition (S.L.P. (C) 6956 of 2008) against NCL and others, before the Supreme Court. NCL challenged the constitutional validity of the Madhya Pradesh Transit (Forest Produce) Rules, 2000 by which fees for issue of Transit Pass in relation to mining of coal was imposed. NCL also challenged the notification dated May 28, 2001 for issuance of transit passes for coal at the rate of Rs. 7 per metric tonne. NCL had previously filed a writ petition (W.P. No. 2309 of 2002) and a judgment was passed on May 14, 2007 vide which the M.P. High Court held the notification to be ultra vires and directed that the amount collected be refunded. By an order dated April 27, 2008, the Supreme Court issued notice to the respondents and granted stay in the meantime. The State of Madhya Pradesh prays for setting aside of the judgment of the M.P. High Court, whereby, the rules framed by the State Government were held to be ultra vires. The amount involved in the case is not ascertainable and the matter is currently pending. The case was subsequently clubbed with four other similar matters before the Supreme Court.

2. NCL has filed a writ petition (W.P. No. 4892 of 2006) against the State of Madhya Pradesh and others, before the M.P. High Court, challenging the legality and validity of the M.P. Government to levy a Rural Infrastructure and Road Development Tax up to 20% of the annual value of the mineral bearing land held for carrying mining operation, based on which State of Madhya Pradesh imposed tax at the rate of 5% on price of coal. The M.P. High Court vide its order dated April 5, 2006 granted interim protection to NCL to the effect that in case no payment of tax along with return is filed by NCL the respondent will not take any coercive measures to recover the tax from NCL. NCL prays for declaration of the M.P. Gramin Avsanchana Tatha Sadak Vikas Adhiniyam, 2005 ultra vires and unconstitutional. A similar matter (S.L.P. (C) No. 5264 of 2006) is currently pending before the Supreme Court and NCL has filed a transfer petition (T.P. No. 722 of 2006) to get the matter tagged with it. The Supreme Court vide order dated September 18, 2006 has ordered the matter to be clubbed, but the case has not been requisitioned as of yet. The amount involved in the matter (W.P. No. 4892 of 2006) for the period 2005-2006 to December 2009 is Rs. 6,265.9 million. The case is currently pending for final hearing and disposal.
3. NCL filed a special leave petition (S.L.P. (C) No. 5850/2010) against the State of Madhya Pradesh and others before the Supreme Court. Pursuant to the notification (with respect to the Terminal Tax Rules) dated August 30, 2002 issued by the M.P. Government, the Commissioner, Municipal Corporation, Singrauli imposed terminal tax at the rate of Rs. 5 per metric tonne of coal being transported outside the municipal area of Singrauli with effect from September 1, 2002. NCL filed a writ petition (W.P. No. 1729 of 2003) against the aforesaid notification. During the pendency of the above mentioned writ petition, NCL deposited Rs. 50 million in furtherance of the order dated August 14, 2007 of the M.P. High Court. Also, NCL deposited Rs. 113.64 million under protest. The High Court, by its judgment dated January 21, 2010, upheld the validity of the aforesaid notification. Against the judgment of the M.P. High Court, NCL filed a special leave petition (S.L.P. (C) No. 5850 of 2010) before the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court vide its order dated February 18, 2010 directed that the parties to maintain status-quo until the matter is heard and disposed of. The Supreme Court vide another order dated February 22, 2010 issued a notice in the matter and also directed that until further orders, interim order passed by the Supreme Court the notification would continue to operate. In the special leave petition (S.L.P. (C) No. 5850 of 2010) NCL prays for granting of special leave against the impugned order dated January 21, 2010 by the M.P. High Court in W.P. No. 1729 of 2003. The amount involved in the matter as per demand bill dated January 18, 2006 was Rs. 568.19 million for the period between September 2002 and December 2005 and for the period between January 2006 and March 2007 the amount was Rs. 237.37 million. Further, please note that the writ petition filed by NCL at the M.P. High Court was clubbed with an identical matter preferred by Hindalco Industries Limited (W.P. No. 1588 of 2006). The matter is currently pending for final hearing.
4. NCL filed a case (W.A. No. 1037 of 2007, W.A. No. 968 of 2007, W.A. No. 1089 of 2007) against the State of Madhya Pradesh and others before the M.P. High Court. In the present matter the applicability of the Madhya Pradesh Municipal Corporation Act, 1956 in the areas of NCL, whereby, the property tax was imposed, is under challenge and petition thereof is pending in the M.P. High Court. The payment of property tax has also been disputed from time to time by filing writ petitions in the M.P. High Court. Considering the threat of coercive action by the Municipal Corporation, Singrauli for recovery of such property tax, substantial payment has been released "under protest" from time to time. As on date, NCL has paid Rs. 160.79 million against Rs. 173.81 million to the Municipal Corporation against the bills raised for the period 1976-1977 to 2005-2006. NCL prays for setting aside the order passed in the writ petition. The amount involved in the case is Rs. 114.27 million and the matter is currently pending.

Also, NCL filed another similar case (W.A. No. 1088 of 2007) against the State of Madhya Pradesh and others before the M.P. High Court. The Municipal Corporation, Singrauli vide letter dated June 15, 1999 claimed Rs. 98.06 million towards licence fee (i.e. Rs. 1.93 million) and 50 times penalty on it. Since the applicability of Municipal Corporation Act, 1956 in the area of NCL itself was under challenge therefore the permission for construction of building was not obtained. NCL filed an application for stay in the M.P. High Court but it was rejected vide order dated January 23, 2003 passed in L.P.A. 20 of 2002. Thereafter, NCL approached the Supreme Court and filed a special leave petition (S.L.P. (C) No. 6421 of 2002) in which the Supreme Court vide orders dated April 5, 2002 and May 9, 2002 directed NCL to deposit a sum of Rs. 60 million and in case NCL ultimately succeeds in its case the amount would be refunded to NCL with 9% interest. The Municipal Corporation was granted liberty to withdraw the above amount by giving an undertaking and accordingly it was deposited by NCL. NCL prays for setting aside the order passed in the writ petition. The amount involved in the case is Rs. 0.98 million and the matter is currently pending.

The matters mentioned above have been clubbed.

4. WCL has filed writ petitions (W.P. No. 1396/06 and WP No. 1402/06) before the Bombay High Court at Nagpur against notices received from the Tahsildar, Chandrapur area. The two notices were issued on March 4, 2005 (on account of non payment of non-agricultural assessment tax) and March 5, 2005 (on account of occupation charges, land revenue penalty and non agricultural assessment) and raised an amount of Rs. 81.47 million and Rs. 71.79 million respectively. The High Court, pursuant to its order dated December 21, 2006, held that WCL may file a fresh writ petition before the High Court challenging the demand raised against it by the State Government and directed WCL to deposit an amount of Rs. 13 million for all the lands against which such demand had been raised. WCL subsequently filed a writ petition bearing No. 1161/ 2007 before the High Court, Nagpur praying for setting aside the orders dated March 4, 2005 and March 5, 2005 and direct the Tahsildar to refund the entire amount paid by WCL on account of non agricultural assessment tax. The High Court, pursuant to order dated January 5, 2009 partly allowed the writ petition and quashed the imposition of non agricultural assessment on the lands covered under mining leasehold area under form K of Mineral Concession Rules, 1960. Further, the High Court set aside the penalty and fine levied by the state authorities for conversion of land for non agricultural use. Aggrieved by the order of the High Court, WCL filed a Letters Patent Appeal (no. 82/2009) challenging the imposition of non agricultural assessment on the lands acquired under the provisions of CBA Act. WCL's contention is that the said land continues to be owned by the central government and could not be subject to non-agricultural assessment. Further, the lands which have been purchased by direct negotiation and situated outside the mining lease area also cannot be subjected to any taxation including the non-agricultural assessment tax. The matter is currently pending.

5. WCL has filed two writ petitions (no. 4916 of 2008 and no. 528 of 2008) before the Bombay High Court at Nagpur in relation to eight notices received from Senior Sales Tax Inspector (Entry Tax), Nagpur alleging non-payment of entry tax under the Maharashtra Tax on Entry of Motor Vehicles into Local Areas Act, 1987 for entry of motor vehicles (Heavy Earth Moving Machineries ("HEMMs")) in the local area and liability to pay tax for the same for the periods commencing from 1988 to 1996 and raising an aggregate demand of Rs. 784.63 million. Aggrieved by the demand under the notices, WCL filed several appeals before the Deputy Commissioner, Sales Tax (Appeals), Nagpur for setting aside the abovementioned assessment orders. The Deputy Commissioner (Appeals), pursuant to its order dated July 26, 2009, upheld the assessment orders and aggrieved by this order, WCL filed several appeals pertaining to the relevant financial years before the Maharashtra Sales Tax Tribunal. The tribunal, pursuant to its order dated March 26, 2002, imposed a part duty of 25% for the financial years and remanded the case back to the assessing authority for reassessment. Aggrieved by the order, WCL filed a writ petition (No. 4900 of 2002) before the Bombay High Court for setting aside the order of the tribunal. The High Court, pursuant to order dated February 21, 2003 set aside the orders of the tribunal along with the assessment orders and remanded the case back to the assessing authority for fresh consideration. Subsequently, the entry tax officer issued orders for reassessing the demand by way of additional interest amounting to Rs. 179.02 million. Aggrieved by the reassessment orders, WCL filed a writ petition (No. 9651 of 2003) before the Bombay High Court for setting aside the reassessment orders and restraining the tax authorities from execution of the impugned orders. The High Court pursuant to its order dated February 23, 2004 directed WCL to deposit a bank guarantee amount to Rs. 120 million, being the basic entry tax excluding the interest and penalty for the 5 financial years and advised WCL to file fresh appeal before the Deputy Commissioner Sales Tax (Appeals) and directed him not to enforce the demand and review the reassessment orders. WCL filed an appeal before the Deputy Commissioner Sales Tax (Appeals) and deposited the abovementioned bank guarantee. The Deputy Commissioner vide its order dated May 27, 2004 confirmed the reassessment orders. Meanwhile, WCL received a certificate from the Automotive Research Association of India, Pune ("ARAI") stating that the HEMMs do not fall under the category of motor vehicle under the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988. Aggrieved by the order of the Deputy Commissioner, WCL filed five appeals before the Maharashtra Sales Tax Tribunal for setting aside the reassessment orders and the order dated May 27, 2004. The Sales Tax Tribunal, pursuant to its order dated February 14, 2008, restored the appeals pertaining to financial years 1988-89, 1989-90, 1993-94, 1994-95 and 1995-96 before the Deputy Commissioner Sales Tax (Appeals) and directed him to decide afresh on consideration of the ARAI certificate. WCL filed fresh submissions along with the copy of ARAI certificate before the Joint Commissioner Sales Tax (Appeals) and the Joint Commissioner pursuant to order dated September 11, 2008 reconfirmed the reassessed demand of the Entry Tax officer for the relevant financial years. Further, vide his order dated October 15, 2008 reconfirmed the assessment order of the entry tax officer for the years 1990-91, 1991-92 and 1992-93. Aggrieved by this additional demand, WCL filed these two writ petitions for setting aside the order of the Joint Commissioner Sales tax against WCL. The Bombay High Court passed an order dated December 15, 2008 directing the Joint Commissioner Sales Tax not to take any coercive action against WCL for the financial years stipulated in the order. 6. WCL has filed a letters patent appeal (no. 90/2009) before the Bombay High Court at Nagpur, against certain tax demand raised by the State Government in relation to non-agricultural assessment tax. Aggrieved by the actions of the State Government, WCL filed a writ petition no. 975/2007 on October

7, 2009 before the Bombay High Court at Nagpur on the ground that acquisition of land for the purpose of coal mining itself amounts to sanctioning the use of land for non-agricultural purpose. Pursuant to an order dated January 5, 2009, the court partly allowed the petition and WCL was required to pay a certain portion of the non-agricultural tax to the State Government. Subsequently, WCL filed this appeal. The government filed an affidavit claiming that an amount of Rs. 237.48 million was required to be paid by WCL as a part of its non-agricultural assessment tax upto the year 2005. The amount of tax to be paid by WCL from 2005 to date was yet to be calculated by the State Government and would be subsequently submitted before the Bombay High Court. The matter is pending.

The imposition of such tax was challenged by the consumers and WCL by a writ petition (No. 1306 of 2006) before the High Court, Jabalpur on the ground that the state legislature had no competence to impose such taxes as it was the subject of the Union List. The High Court vide its interim order dated February 15, 2006 directed WCL to collect the tax from the consumers from the sale of coal and deposit the same in a fixed deposit bank account. WCL has from the date of filing of the suit till March 2010 collected tax amounting to Rs. 1,780 million and deposited the same in the bank account. Upon being blacklisted by WCL, the respondent challenged the action in the Bombay High Court at Nagpur and the Court, by its order dated December 17, 2007, directed WCL to supply the coal that had been already booked by the respondent. Aggrieved by this order WCL and the Company filed this special leave petition before the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court, by an interim order dated February 15, 2008, stayed the order of the High Court but subsequently, by its order dated September 29, 2009, quashed its interim order and asked WCL to supply the coal booked by the respondent. Mining related approvals

We are required to obtain certain approvals from various central and state government departments and other authorities for undertaking mining activities. We apply for approvals, permits, licenses, clearances, consents and registrations at the appropriate stage of development of a mine and when granted, such approvals, permits, licenses, clearances, consents and registrations contain certain conditions for continuous compliance.

We are currently in possession of 471 operating mines. The requirements for central and state government approvals, permits, licenses and registrations for our mines vary depending upon the state in which each mine is located.

The mining related approvals can be classified into three broad categories for operation of our mines:

(a) Approvals for mining rights

Mining rights can be obtained by entering into mining lease with relevant state government or by way of a notification by MoC under the CBA Act.

- (i) A mining lease is executed with the relevant state government in relation to the geographical location of the concerned mine. Such mining lease governs the terms on which the lessee can use the land for the purposes of mining operations. Under the Coal Nationalization Act, the Company is the deemed lessee of all nationalized mines vested with the Company. As the ordinary period of validity of a mining lease in India ranges between 20-30 years, the Company is required to file applications for renewal of such mining leases in relation to the nationalized mines; and
- (ii) Mining rights may also be acquired under the CBA Act, where the Central Government declares the land or the rights in or over the land to vest in a government company. The mining rights under the CBA Act are finally acquired after a chain of notifications are issued under various provisions of the CBA Act including notifications issued under Section 4, 7 and 9 of the CBA. Final vesting of mining rights and surface rights over the land takes places pursuant to the notification issued under Section 11 of the CBA Act. Notification issued under the CBA Act does not contain any renewal obligations.

(b) Environmental and forest clearances

We require certain environmental and forest clearances from Ministry of Environment and Forest, for establishment and continuous operation of our mines. Such clearances are in the nature of environmental clearance under Environment Impact Assessment Notification, consent to establish and operate our mines under the Air Act and the Water Act approval under Hazardous Waste (Management and Handling) Rules, permission from central and state government for undertaking mining activities in or over the forest land. While environmental clearances are need to be taken afresh in case of increase in mining capacity or mining area, consent to operate the mines are normally required to be renewed on an yearly basis. Further, forest clearances from Central Government are normally valid for a period of 20 years.

(c) Approvals from the Director General Mines and Safety ('DGMS')

To operate a mine, several approvals are required from DGMS under CM Regulations. Depending upon the circumstances of a mine, DGMS issues approvals or relaxation from obtaining approvals under different provisions of the CM Regulations. These approvals or relaxations are required for depillaring, opencast working, haulage roadways provisions, development working, underground inundations, blasting, and shelter during blasting, deployment of machinery, appointment of assistant managers and surveyors, etc. Except in certain cases, approvals issued under Regulation 98(1) and (3) and 100(1) of CM Regulations normally do not impose any renewal obligations.

From the abovementioned broad categories of approvals, we consider the following as key approvals required for operation of our mines:

- (a) For grant of mining rights: Mining lease and notification issued under Section 11 of the CBA Act;
- (b) Environmental and forest clearance: Environmental clearance, consent to operate under Air Act and Water Act and approval from the Central Government for mining in or over the forest land;
- (c) For DGMS approvals: Relaxation issued under Regulations 98(1) and (3) of the CM Regulations for open cast mines and approval under Regulation 100 or 100A of the CM Regulations for underground mines.

In relation to our 70 major mines (i.e. which produced more than one million tons during Fiscal 2010), we currently have key approvals required for their operation, except for the key approvals set forth in the table below for which applications are currently pending:

Since we are not in compliance with Regulation 26(1) of the SEBI Regulations, we are required to meet both the conditions detailed in Regulation 26(2)(a) and Regulation 26(2)(b) of the SEBI Regulations.

Regulation 26(2) of the SEBI Regulations states as follows:

“An issuer not satisfying any of the conditions stipulated in sub-regulation (1) may make an initial public offer if:

- (a) (i) the issue is made through the book building process and the issuer undertakes to allot at least fifty per cent of the net offer to public to qualified institutional buyers and to refund full subscription monies if it fails to make allotment to the qualified institutional buyers ;*
OR
(ii) at least fifteen per cent of the cost of the project is contributed by scheduled commercial banks or public financial institutions, of which not less than ten per cent shall come from the appraisers and the issuer undertakes to allot at least ten per cent of the net offer to public to qualified institutional buyers and to refund full subscription monies if it fails to make the allotment to the qualified institutional buyers;
- (b) (i) the minimum post-issue face value capital of the issuer is ten crore rupees;*
OR
(ii) the issuer undertakes to provide market-making for at least two years from the date of listing of the specified securities, subject to the following:
 - (A) the market makers offer buy and sell quotes for a minimum depth of three hundred specified securities and ensure that the bid-ask spread for their quotes does not, at any time, exceed ten per cent.;*
 - (B) the inventory of the market makers, as on the date of allotment of the specified securities, shall be at least five per cent of the proposed issue.”*

Accordingly, in compliance with Regulation 26(2) of the SEBI Regulations, this Offer is being made through the Book Building Process, with at least 50% of the Net Offer being proposed to be Allotted to QIBs. In case we do not receive subscriptions of at least 50% of the Net Offer from QIBs, we shall refund the subscription monies forthwith.

The post-Offer equity share capital of our Company at face value shall be more than the minimum requirement of Rs. 100 million. Hence, we are eligible under Regulation 26(2)(b)(i) of the SEBI Regulations.

In addition, in accordance with Regulation 26(4) of the SEBI Regulations, we shall ensure that the number of Allottees, i.e. persons to whom the Equity Shares will be Allotted under the Offer, shall be not less than 1,000; otherwise, the entire application money will be refunded forthwith. If such money is not repaid within eight days after the Selling Shareholder becomes liable to repay it (i.e., from the date of refusal or within 12 Working Days from the date of Offer Closing Date, whichever is earlier), then the Selling Shareholder shall, on and from expiry of eight days, be liable to repay the money, with interest at the rate of 15% per annum on application money, as prescribed under Section 73 of the Companies Act.

The post Offer share capital of the Company at Offer Price shall be Rs. [●] million, which is more than the minimum requirement of Rs. 40,000 million. Thus, in terms of Rule 19(2)(b)(ii) of the SCRR, this is an Offer for less than 25% of the post-Offer equity share capital.

This Offer is being made through the Book Building Process wherein at least 50% of the Net Offer shall be Allotted to QIBs. In case we do not receive subscriptions of at least 50% of the Net Offer from QIBs, we shall refund the subscription monies forthwith. The Selling Shareholder and our Company may, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers, allocate up to 30% of the QIB Portion to Anchor Investors at the Anchor Investor Price, out of which at least one-third will be available for allocation to Mutual Funds only. For further details, see the section titled “Offer Procedure” on page 311. In the event of under-subscription or non-Allotment in the Anchor Investor Portion, the balance Equity Shares in the Anchor Investor Portion shall be added to the Net QIB Portion.

5% of the Net QIB Portion shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to Mutual Funds only. The remainder of the Net QIB Portion shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to QIBs, subject to valid Bids being received from them at or above the Offer Price. In the event demand from Mutual Funds is greater than [●] Equity Shares, allocation shall be made to Mutual Funds proportionately, to the extent of the Mutual Fund Portion. The remaining demand by the Mutual Funds shall, as part of the aggregate demand by QIBs, be available for allocation proportionately out of the remainder of the Net QIB Portion, after excluding the allocation in the Mutual Fund Portion. However, in the event of under-subscription in the Mutual Fund Portion, the balance Equity Shares in the Mutual Fund Portion will be added to the Net QIB Portion and allocated to QIBs (including Mutual Funds) on a proportionate basis, subject to valid Bids at or above Offer Price.

Further, not less than 15% of the Net Offer shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to Non-Institutional Bidders and not less than 35% of the Net Offer shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to Retail Individual Bidders, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price. Further, up to 63,163,644 Equity Shares shall be available for allocation on a proportionate basis to the Eligible Employees under the Employee Reservation Portion, subject to valid bids being received at or above the Offer Price.

Under-subscription, if any, in the Employee Reservation Portion will be added to the Net Offer. Under-subscription, if any, in any category shall be met with spill-over from other categories, at the sole discretion of the Selling Shareholder and our Company, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Managers. In case of under-subscription in the Net Offer, spill-over to the extent of under-subscription shall be permitted from the Employee Reservation Portion.

INDEPENDENT STUDY OF CIL'S RESOURCE AND RESERVE ESTIMATION PRACTICES

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

SRK Consulting (SRK) has been appointed by Coal India Limited (CIL) to conduct an Independent Study of CIL's existing exploration, technical assessment and resource/reserve reporting practices and review of the integrity of the resource and reserve estimates produced and to prepare an Independent Report commenting on these for inclusion in the Red Herring Prospectus (the Prospectus) which is intended for public issue.

The report summarises SRK findings and conclusions with respect to:

- CIL's exploration processes, the techniques used and the quality and quantity of data collected for use in the resource determination process
- The methods and techniques CIL uses to convert resources to reserves and in particular the depth of any associated technical and economic studies carried out
- Benchmarking CIL's resource and reserve estimation procedures against international good practice
- CIL's expansion plan and the sustainability thereof and
- Validate to the extent possible the defined resources and reserves within CIL.

SRK has based its assessment on site visits to exploration camps and operating mines, discussions with CIL officials, examination of CIL guideline documents for resource-reserve assessment & reporting and on technical information including Geological Reports (GR) and Project Reports (PR) and maps.

SRK has based its findings on CIL's resource-reserve base upon information known to it as at July 2010 and has satisfied itself that all material information in the possession of CIL has been fully disclosed to SRK.

SRK has reviewed CIL's present practice of exploration, technical assessment and resource and reserve reporting and commented upon the sufficiency of this to support the reporting of resources and reserves as these are defined and reported internationally.

EXPLORATION

Exploration for coal in India is carried out in two stages. In the first stage, the Geological Survey of India (GSI) undertakes regional exploration aimed at locating the potential coal bearing areas. This work is undertaken on a continuous basis. In the second stage, Detailed Exploration is carried out by the operating company, in this case CIL's Central Mine Planning & Design Institute (CMPDI) in consultation with its operating subsidiaries.

Detailed Exploration is planned based on data available from regional exploration and knowledge of sub-surface geology available from adjacent coal blocks or opencast or underground operating mines. The aim of this work is to firmly establish the continuity, orientation and geometry of the coal seams within the defined areas, prepare detailed seam profiles, make a confident assessments of the coal tonnage and quality potentially amenable to exploitation, determine the likely mining methods and calculate the volume of the overburden required to be removed or excavated through.

In SRK's opinion, extensive and appropriate guidelines are in place within CIL that govern exploration practices and reporting, which are followed in a consistent manner at different operations. However, there is flexibility such that more appropriate work can be undertaken, if needed and SRK is of the opinion that sufficient data of sufficient quality is collected to support reliable estimates of tonnes and grade and resource estimates as defined by international reporting codes.

RESOURCE ESTIMATION AND REPORTING

CIL follows the Indian Standard Procedure (ISP) for coal resource estimation and reporting. ISP is a guideline defining a procedure for coal resource estimation and reporting in existing and closed mines and in virgin leased and unleased areas (ISP 1989). The ISP guideline is different both in principle and in detail from the principal reporting codes used internationally, such as the JORC Code, the SAMREC Code and the CIM Code.

The basis of all of these 'international' codes is a recognition of the diversity of mineral deposits, the types of data available, and the economic factors which are to be applied. These codes place ultimate responsibility for reports on a competent person or qualified person, whose professional judgment in applying the codes is the principal determinant in the figures which are presented. Notably, the reporting codes themselves do no more than provide a consistent framework for reporting and do not give guidelines on estimation methodology.

The ISP guideline, developed initially in 1957, aims to achieve total objectivity by prescribing the entire process of exploration, resource computation, and reporting. CIL follows ISP guideline, which sets a minimum requirement for exploration, but when required, CIL generates more data during detailed exploration which ultimately decides quantity and quality of the work and also distinguishes between material that is in the ground and that has potential to be mined.

ISP also provides a guideline to classify the resource, based on the borehole spacing. Resources are classified in order of increasing geological confidence into “Inferred Geological Reserve”, “Indicated Geological Reserve” and “Proved Geological Reserve”. Table 1 presents an overview of ISP Resource categories.

Table 1: ISP Resource Categories and SRK’s Interpretation

ISP Resource Categories	SRK Interpretation
Proved Geological Reserve	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Coal that fall within a radius of 200m around boreholes 2 Based on Detailed Exploration only 3 Data are sufficient to undertake technical and economic appraisal and to enable an evaluation of economic viability with a high level of confidence 4 High level of confidence in, and understanding of the geology and the controls of the mineral deposit
Indicated Geological Reserve	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Coal that fall within a radius of 1000m around boreholes 2 Based on Detailed Exploration and Regional Exploration and considered to be reasonably prospective 3 Only a portion of the data are considered to undertake the technical and economic appraisal 4 Lower level of confidence than that applying to a Proved Geological Reserve, but has a higher level of confidence than that applying to an Inferred Geological Reserve
Explored Inferred Reserve	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Material occurring within the influence area of beyond 1 km and up to 2 km from the point of observation 2 Based on Regional Drilling 3 Data are not considered to undertake technical and economic evaluation 4 Lower level of confidence than that applying to an Indicated Geological Reserve
Unexplored Inferred Reserve	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Material occurring within the influence area of beyond 1 km and up to 2 km from the point of observation 2 Based on Geological Mapping 3 Data are not considered to undertake technical and economic appraisal 4 Lower level of confidence than that applying to an Inferred Geological Reserve

A detailed evaluation of the ISP guideline and CIL's practice both for exploration and reporting has enabled SRK to believe that it is possible to translate reports prepared by CIL into broadly equivalent terms defined within the international codes. SRK considers, for example, that CIL's definition of Proved Geological Reserves is in line with that of Measured Resources as defined internationally. Further, SRK considers that CIL's definition of Indicated Geological Reserves straddles the definition between Indicated and Inferred Resources as defined internationally. Finally, SRK considers that CIL's definition of Inferred Geological Reserves in part matches the definition of Inferred Resources as defined internationally.

CRIRSCO/ JORC Resource Category	Measured	Indicated	Inferred	Unclassified
ISP "Geological Reserve" Category	Proved Geological Reserve
		Indicated Geological Reserve
			Explored Inferred Geological Reserve
				Unexplored Inferred Geological Reserve

RESERVE ESTIMATION AND REPORTING

Extractable Reserves, as these are defined by CIL, are estimated following the completion of a detailed technical assessment and planning exercise based on the resource reported within the Geological Reports, prepared by CIL and are reported in Project Reports following the application of modifying factors to reflect the quantity and quality of coal that will be extracted in practice and either sold directly or upgraded following washing/processing.

SRK considers the Project Reports to be analogous to the feasibility studies that are typically produced for international projects and which form the basis of reserve reporting internationally and provide the basis of requests for debt or equity finance.

CIL typically only considers the material classed as a "Proved Geological Reserve" in undertaking the above work though on occasions Indicated and/or Inferred category reserves are also considered in which case capital provisions are separately made for further exploration for updating these to the Proved category as part of mine development. Once such Indicated/ Inferred Reserves (after additional exploration) can be re-classified as Proved, the relevant Project Reports are updated for planning and extraction of such “Proved Geological Reserves”.

SRK consider that CIL’s definition of Extractable Reserves, where these are based on Proved, and in some cases Indicated Geological Reserves, as defined by CIL, is in line with that of Reserves as defined internationally and consequently that these should be able to be relied upon for mine valuation purposes.

RESOURCE & RESERVE OF CIL

SRK has reviewed CIL’s existing practices of resource-reserve estimation and evaluation process and certifies that the methodology followed is in line with international good practices. There are three types of projects for which resource and reserve figures are estimated:

- Projects that have been subject to an appropriate mining study including consideration of and modification by realistically assumed mining, metallurgical, economic, marketing, legal, environmental, social and governmental factors and which were considered viable based on this with an Internal Rate of Return (IRR) estimated to be more than 12% at 85% of the targeted capacity
- Projects that have been subject to an appropriate mining study and were considered to be marginal or even uneconomic based on this but went into economic operation on a cost-plus basis, and
- Underground mines which were inherited following nationalization and have not been subject to an appropriate mining study.

SRK is of opinion that the process followed by CIL to derive its estimates of Proved Geological Reserves, Indicated Geological Reserves and Inferred Geological Reserves as defined in ISP Guidelines appear appropriate and the resulting estimates should therefore be reliable. Further, the work done by CIL to estimate Mineable Reserves and then Extractable Reserves is both thorough and appropriate. Apart from those Extractable Reserves reported for the mines in production at the time CIL took over the operations and those which are being mined for non-profit making reasons, the resulting Extractable Reserve estimates should therefore provide a reliable estimate of the material available to be mined at a profit.

Table 2 provides an estimate of coalfield wise resource and reserve as of 01 April 2010; these figures include projects for which detailed exploration were undertaken by CIL and for which Project Reports were subsequently prepared.

Out of the total Coal Resources of 64,786 Mt as in Table 2, 30,356 Mt of Resources has so far been considered for mining studies out of which 21,754

Mt is estimated to be the Extractable Reserve. Balance Coal Resource 34,430 Mt is yet to go through an appropriate mining study.

Typically, only the “Proved Geological Reserve”, is considered for Mining Studies. Occasionally, where small adjoining patches/ zones containing indicated and/or inferred category reserves would be appropriate to be mined these are also considered in which case capital provisions are separately made for further exploration for updating the category of these to Proved as part of the mine development. As per the normal practice, these indicated/ inferred category reserves have not been taken into account while estimating the Extractable Reserves of the concerned geological blocks during projectization

In addition to the resource presented in Table 2, CIL has an estimated additional resource base of 4315 Mt from those underground mining areas, which were inherited during nationalization. These projects were subsequently evaluated by subsidiary companies from information collected during mine operation and mine survey.

CIL EXPANSION PLAN

CIL continues to increase its coal production to meet the growing demand for coal in India. As of March 31, 2010, 77 projects have been approved, amounting a total investment of Rs.110,064.60 million.

CIL is undertaking certain initiatives to increase its production capacity to meet the growing demand of coal in India and as of March 31, 2010, 77 projects have been approved to meet increase demand of coal. Of the 77 projects, 32 projects, has already been implemented within March 31, 2010. Balance 45 projects are in the various stages of mine planning and development. Subject to the acquisition of the necessary land, SRK considers that the reserve base upon which CIL's expansion programmes are based is sufficient to support its expansion plan.

CONCLUSIONS

SRK has concluded that:

- CIL routinely collects sufficient data of sufficient quality to enable it to prepare reliable in situ estimates of coal tonnes and quality.
- The process followed by CIL to derive its estimates of Proved Reserves, Indicated Reserves and Inferred Reserves as defined in ISP Guidelines are appropriate and the resulting estimates should therefore be reliable and presented in accordance with ISP.
- The work done by CIL to derive estimates of Extractable Reserves from the above is both thorough and appropriate and, apart from those Extractable Reserves reported for the mines in production at the time CIL took over the operations and those which are being mined for non profit making reasons, the resulting Extractable Reserve estimates should therefore provide a reliable estimate of the material available to be mined at a profit.
- CIL's definition of Proved Geological Reserves is in line with that of Measured Resources as defined internationally; CIL's definition of Indicated Geological Reserves straddles the definition between Indicated and Inferred Resources as defined internationally and CIL's definition of Inferred Geological Reserves in part matches the definition of Inferred Resources as defined internationally.

- Except in the case when based on Inferred Geological reserves as defined by CIL or where a mine is being operated for non commercial reasons, CIL's definition of Extractable Reserves is largely in line with that of Reserves as defined internationally.
- Subject to the acquisition of the necessary land, SRK considers that the reserve base upon which CIL's expansion programmes are based is sufficient to support the expansion plan.
